

New Vote Asked On Lincoln PTA

A group of parents is petitioning for another meeting at the new Abraham Lincoln School in Corona del Mar to determine whether to continue with the PTA or to form an independent parent-faculty group.

Organization of a PTA was voted 27 to 14 at an afternoon meeting last Thursday, Oct. 19, over the protests of several parents and charges of "railroading."

LaBorde, 38, of 295 Camellia St., Costa Mesa, was not damaged.

The petition circulated yesterday, requesting an evening meeting, points out that only 41 voted last Thursday, and that the afternoon meeting time made it difficult for fathers, teachers and mothers with small children to attend.

Mrs. H. O. Boyvey of Balboa, PTA organizer, presided at the Oct. 19 meeting; Mrs. Robert Olander served as secretary, and Mrs. Harvey Pease was parliamentarian.

Mrs. John McCabe of Corona del Mar told of the Parent-Faculty Organization at Harbor View School. Mrs. Terrence Sweeney of Balboa Island said she had understood the meeting was called for discussion and not for a decision, and she moved that the matter be tabled. No action was taken on her motion.

When the vote to organize as a PTA was taken, the top officials of the Harbor View PFO, who have children also in the Lincoln School, voted for the PTA.

Ione Sprague Dies, Age 91

Mrs. Sprague is survived by 2 daughters, Mrs. Helmer Dickey of Balboa Island and Mrs. Julian C. Brooks of Anaheim, a sister in Chicago, 3 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 1 p.m. today, Oct. 26, in the Balboa Corona del Mar Chapel with Dr. Edwin Hudson of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Cliff Haven, officiating. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Condemning Is Ordered by OCC Trustees

The Orange Coast College trustees have reaffirmed their original offer of $1,872,000 for 122½ acres of Huntington Beach property, including all mineral rights, from W. G. Lewis.

They turned down Mr. Lewis' counter offer to sell for $2,041,570, retaining half interest in the oil rights.

The board officially instituted condemnation proceedings on the property at Monday evening's meeting. The property, planned as the site of the Huntington Beach campus for OCC, is at Golden West and Edinger streets.

In a discussion of the proposed expansion of the OC junior college district, the trustees agreed to set the maximum size of OCC or any other campus in the district at 5,000 full-time day students during an 8-hour day; to finance the expansion on a pay-as-you-go basis, and to give careful consideration to extending the OCC boundaries to include other high school districts.

Mesa Trustees Protest Upper Bay Area Annex

Peninsula Rezoning Is Hot Issue

Tall buildings, Easter Week problems and parking meters are some of the potentially explosive topics for discussion at the membership meeting of the Central Newport Beach Community Assn. this evening, Oct. 26, at 7:45. Meeting place is the recreation headquarters, 1714 W. Balboa Blvd.

REZONING OPPOSED

About 10 communications have been received by City Clerk Margery Schroeder at the Newport Beach City Hall—all protesting the proposed rezoning of R-4 property on Balboa Peninsula to R-3. The protests will be referred to the Planning Commission by the City Council.

The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce directors added their voice Monday to the invitation to the Los Angeles Angels baseball club to locate in Orange County.

The directors adopted a resolution calling attention to the large number of Orange County residents who supported the Angels at Wrigley Field, the growing population of the county, now more than 750,000 and expected to increase to 2½ million in 1980, and the central location of the county midway between 3 metropolitan areas.

Director Marshall Duffield volunteered to discuss the matter with Robert Reynolds, president of the Angels and a personal friend.

Mr. Duffield pointed out that a baseball park could also be used for football games, rodeos, track meets, and special events such as Fourth of July celebrations. He estimated that 50 to

'HANG-OVER CURES' IN TEACHER'S GUIDE

Use of the term, "hang-over cures," in a teacher's guide for a proposed course in health and safety education drew fire from Dr. Ed Milum at Tuesday's meeting of Newport Harbor High School District trustees.

"I don't think it's necessary," Dr. Milum added as trustees listened to a report from Dr. Norman Loats on curriculum studies being made.

"There are things in here they must be exposed to," Dr. Loats said.

"I don't see anything wrong in teaching high school students the effects of hang-over," Trustee Donald Duncan said.

It was pointed out that 60,000-100,000 man days a year were lost because of drinking and there was no such thing as a hang-over cure except for time needed for it to clear up.

A language laboratory for Corona del Mar High School, due to open next Fall, is included in a high school district $45,000 improvement program, approved by trustees.

The state will be asked to provide half the cost of the program on a matching basis with no strings attached. Part of the money will go to rehabilitate the science wing of Newport Harbor High.

Dr. Forest S. Strayer was hired at $5.50 an hour as a counseling and guidance consultant for the point one program.

Trustees reluctantly agreed to authorize Supt. Max Russell to sign an agreement for the district to pay a share of the cost of point two program for the year.

Only one district student is in the program at a cost to the district of from $160 to $175, but 5 other students are in the elementary program. The code requires the high school district should pay for the instruction after the students reach the age of 15 years and 4 months.

N.H. CHAMBER INVITES L.A. ANGELS TO COUNTY

The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce directors added their voice Monday to the invitation to the Los Angeles Angels baseball club to locate in Orange County.

The directors adopted a resolution calling attention to the large number of Orange County residents who supported the Angels at Wrigley Field, the growing population of the county, now more than 750,000 and expected to increase to 2½ million in 1980, and the central location of the county midway between 3 metropolitan areas.

Director Marshall Duffield volunteered to discuss the matter with Robert Reynolds, president of the Angels and a personal friend.

Mr. Duffield pointed out that a baseball park could also be used for football games, rodeos, track meets, and special events such as Fourth of July celebrations. He estimated that 50 to 60 acres of land would be needed, to provide plenty of parking and a stadium that could seat up to 40,000.

Here is a summary of other discussion at the directors' meeting:

• President Dick Richard, back from a trip to the east and midwest, expressed concern over the campaign to remove mention of God in governmental affairs, such as the elimination of "In God We Trust" from the dollar bills.

• Mrs. Duncan Hardesty, chairman of the Woman's Division, reported 123 paid up members, continuation of the member drive through this month, and a charter dinner Nov. 29. She said Principal Louise Elwell of the Corona del Mar School is coordinating a beautification program, and that awards will be presented Dec. 13.

• Charles Bond, retail committee chairman, reported that Friday night is being considered for a weekly city wide shopping night, consideration is being given toward setting up a better business bureau, and that Christmas promotion plans are under way.

• David Hill said that the following have been named to the advisory board of the Greater Harbor Industry Council: James Van Dyke of United California Bank, president Harry Frederick of the Realty Board, Dr. Basil Peterson of Orange Coast College, Burdett Harrison of Crowell, Weedon & Co., John Porter of the Irvine Co., and planning directors Jerry Drowdy of Newport Beach and William Dunn of Costa Mesa. Kingery White, neck of the Harbor High School staff has been named head of the educational committee.

• Dr. Nolan Frizzelle explained the details of an "Action Course in Practical Politics," sponsored by the National Chamber, and the directors voted to support the program. The Commodores of the Chamber agreed to provide the $110 to pay for instructional pamphlets and tapes.

• The new dues schedule, which raises the basic dues from $25 to $36, was made effective as of Nov. 1 instead of Jan. 1 as originally planned.

• The directors approved a motion suggesting that the University of California Regents recognize the name of the land donors, the Irvine Co., in naming the campus to be established inland of Corona del Mar.

• Bill Spurgeon reported that he had obtained a 3-hour tape recording of recollections of early Newport and Orange County history from pioneer A. J. McFadden.

• The directors authorized financial support to George Rodda's plan for a Cabrillo Week historical celebration in the fall of 1982.

Redistrict Decision Is Due Nov. 7

The Costa Mesa Union School District trustees officially entered the Upper Bay annexation controversy Tuesday evening with a protest against the proposed annex to the Newport Beach Elementary School District.

The Mesa trustees recommended a revision in the boundaries of the proposed annex, so that the area on the westerly side of the Upper Bay would remain in the Costa Mesa District, and the east bluff area adjacent to the Aeronautic site, plus a small area at Irvine Ave. and 22nd St. on the westerly side, would be annexed to Newport.

The motion adopted by the Mesa trustees said that the westerly side of the Upper Bay could be served better by the Costa Mesa district. Business Manager Merton Cameron cited the possibility of heavy cost to the Newport Beach district through inability for a portion of Costa Mesa state aid repayments.

Newport Beach Elementary District trustees also were meeting Tuesday evening, discussing the annex and also school districting problems.

President Mel Berry urged approval of the recommendations submitted last week by the Newport Beach Committee for Unification of Public Schools. This committee asked for support for the Upper Bay annex and recommended unification of the Newport Elementary District, including the annex, to provide one district for kindergarten through high school.

• "ONLY FEASIBLE PLAN" Mr. Berry said that the state master plan would not permit the present organization, that a unification plan must be prepared by Sept. 15, 1963, and must be voted on by Sept. 15, 1965, and that the only feasible plan is to unify on the elementary boundaries — kindergarten through high school. He said (Continued on page 8)

The Log Hop

● "UNIFY — OR ELSE..."

School unification — "to provide better educational facilities"—sounds altogether desirable and logical. But it is bound to be a step—however short and sweet—toward more and more consolidation, and therefore surrender of local control.

The tone of the legislative mandate appears to be "unify, or else..." There still is the pretense of local decision, because we are allowed to vote "yes" or "no" on whatever unification plan is drafted by the county committee. But do you suppose that the career people in public education who are pushing for this consolidation will accept a "no" vote? They're bound to be back with another nudge, and finally the club that will force us to give up some of our local rights—bit by bit.

The state-wide solution is to repeal the unification master plan legislation, and thus turn back the scheme for concentration of authority. Locally, let's keep our school districts and school boards the way they are now.

● IN GOD WE STILL TRUST

Take a look at your dollar bills, and you'll see evidence of the determined campaign to dethrone God and make man supreme. That pledge of devotion, "In God We Trust," is being removed from the bills, just as mention of Deity is gradually disappearing in governmental and public affairs. I do not believe this nation, or any other nation, can survive without belief in God.

● FINANCING OUR OWN DOOM

News item: Cheddi Jagan, British Guiana's new prime minister and an admitted Marxist, arrived in Washington to meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and is reported to be seeking for $25 million in U.S. assistance.

Are we again going to use our tax funds, provided by our free enterprise system, to finance socialism and communism? The answer is likely to be "yes," unless enough of you protest to Dean Rusk and to President Kennedy and tell them not to continue this treacherous scheme of financing our own destruction.

Letters to the Editor

• TRUTH MUST BE TOLD

Publisher of The Ensign

Dear Mr. Haapa:

We would like you to know how much we appreciate your fine newspaper and its patriotic editorial policy. Not only are you informative in content, but serve also as an inspiration to those of us who are seeking the right solutions to the many problems that confront our beloved Republic.

We resided in Corona del Mar during the year 1957, but we became aware of the seriousness of subversive activities as a result of the textbook inquiry that occurred in your school system two years later. Until that time, we, like many other Americans, were aware that communism was a bad thing, just as we were aware of the danger of eating too many hot dogs, but it was not until we became studiously involved that we had any conception of the gravity of the situation.

The truth about communism is shocking! Many refuse to believe the nature of the conspiracy in this country. The truth must be told as you are attempting to tell it in your fine editorials. You have no doubt been affected financially through the loss of advertising and subscriptions from those who disagree with your statements and policies as are others who value freedom above personal gain. You must, however, feel very proud of the confidence and respect of your readers both locally and afar.

You might also be interested to know that we are establishing a lending library in our office for those of our clients and truth. This came about as the result of stimulus of your activity in C. D. M.

Your problems in C. D. M. differ very little from those of any other community. The big difference is that you are taking the necessary steps to do something about them. Here's to more Ensigns, more Haapas, more people like those of you in C. D. M.

Very Truly Yours,
Arrold W. Clark, D.V.M.

• PROGRAM OF ACTION

Publisher of The Ensign

Today we are confronted with a masterful criminal intrigue that leaves our country always on the defensive, always guessing wrongly, always losing and other round to communism's advance.

There are dedicated people in this country determined that we shall remain apathetic—lulled into doing nothing about the internal threat of communism.

Have you considered the possibility that General Walker, the Senate Investigation Committee, the Loyalty Oath, Joe McCarthy, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and the John Birch Society have two things in common?

1. Each in turn has been viciously criticized and attacked (and is still under attack).

2. Each found THERE IS a present internal threat.

Can you see the possibility that every attack on ANY group or person never occurred until they began to resist communism?

Then realize that someone is fighting with dedication, to prevent us from learning that a deadly internal threat exists now.

Consider the following program for survival. After initial shock, what are your valid arguments against it? I would like to hear them.

1. Sever diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and all communist countries.

2. Cease all foreign aid to Russia and all communist countries.

3. Cease all commerce between the U.S. and all communist countries. (They say they will bury us and that their system is best, THEN, LET THEM LIVE WITH IT.) This will cause internal collapse.

4. Cease delivering free food, free medical supplies, gifts to all communist countries.

5. Cease all foreign aid to neutrals until or unless those free countries take identical action (39 nations are supporting the plan for total world conquest by feeding the Soviets and giving them aid).

6. Join with other Americans once again to fight for home and country. This could be the beginning of our finest hour.

A well known poem ends, "What their forefathers fought for, let their children safely keep."

That means you and I, my friend, not anyone else. Will you join in preserving America, the last great hope of freedom?

Very sincerely yours,
Richard V. Jackson

VIN SCHAIKET TELLS OF EUROPE, ASIA TRAVELS

A globe-trotting venture in these harried times isn't a matter of turning the clock to the wall and sailing to far away places.

Vin Schaiquet, Harbor business man for the past 6 years, and his wife, Pauline, found themselves representatives of the United States during a 5½-month tour of Europe and Asia and with the feeling "this ball rolls also for me".

Their fascination by the Orient was dimmed with the poverty and acute unrest in the cities of Formosa, Saigon, Singapore and Bombay. Besides noting the evidence of starvation and vagrant living, Mr. Schaiquet said the cities are blanketed by the fears of their people.

For example, Chiang Kai-Shek, famed generalissimo and statesman, owns 6 houses and 6 limousines. He never knows until bedtime which house he will sleep in and he changes from car to car in an effort to confuse the enemy.

Mr. Schaiquet, hoping to get a glimpse of Vice-President Lyndon Johnson on his recent visit to the Orient, said the vice president's cavalcade roared down the streets at 60 and 65 miles per hour.

"Our well-meant foreign policies in India, China and Indonesia are like traveling a road to nowhere," Mr. Schaiquet declared. "Not so long ago, over 2 million bushels of U.S. wheat, slated for distribution in the Orient, rotted on the docks at Bombay. And why? Because they have no means of distribution. Our state department policy toward these countries should be completely overhauled. Department representatives should be more thoroughly indoctrinated with the customs and living conditions of these places."

The lethargic attitude of the German people toward the Russian gate-closing episode was only slightly more disturbed than that of the economically absorbed English, he said. It seems that the English are devoting more front page newspaper space to their entry in the common market than to the Russian barrier. Meanwhile, Germany lolls uncomfortably, yet unaggressively, in the middle of the bitter conflict of her jailors.

"West Germans," according to Mr. Schaiquet, "expected the gate closing to occur after the treaty between East Germany and Russia was signed, but not before it was signed."

The former manager of the City Marina Park and Bayside Village Trailer Park settled back in the leathered arm chair and expressed a view shared by many world travelers: "This is the best place in the world to live."

"And," he added, "the one country I'd like to visit again is Switzerland. They have no slums, and no juvenile delinquency. The people are hard working and the food is excellent."

Hazard to Kids Cited

Children seeking pigeons on top of the city reservoir tank off 16th St., west of Monrovia Ave., face an extreme hazard, according to Newport police.

James Higson, 1418 W. Bay Ave., Balboa, notified police of the hazard. The open-topped tank has a walkway on top, dangerous to anyone on the walkway. Three Costa Mesa boys said they were looking for pigeons when found on the property.

LA HABRA NEXT AFTER 20 TO 13 WIN FOR TARS

Following the 20-13 homecoming-game win over the Garden Grove Argonauts last Friday in Pirate Stadium, the Newport Harbor Sailors journey tomorrow night, Oct. 27, to play La Habra there.

The Sailors scored their first league victory in their game against Garden Grove, their 20 points being the only score made so far this season against the Argos.

Gary Galusha, Sailor quarterback, scored the first Harbor T.D. in the second quarter in a 77-yard drive.

The Sailors stopped an Argo threat in the closing moments of the first half, holding them twice on the 1-yard line. But Garden Grove tied it up 6-6 in the third quarter on a 5-yard run. The Sailors came right back with the ensuing kick-off, returning to their own 42, then shaking Larry Brostedt loose for a spectacular 58-yard touchdown run. A P.A.T. pass made it 13-6.

Roger Grable sewed up the game for Harbor by plunging for 2½ yards to score in the fourth quarter. Sam Miller added the extra point.

Garden Grove scored in the closing seconds with a 53-yard pass play.

Bee Sailors Win 23 to 0

Sailor Bee football team won 23-0 against the Garden Grove Bee team last Friday afternoon on the Argonaut gridiron. The Sailors face La Habra at 3:15 p.m. tomorrow, Oct. 27, on Davidson Field.

George Twist intercepted a pass and ran 85 yards for the first T.D. against the Argos. He kicked a field goal to make the score 10-0 at the half. John DeRosa took a third-quarter kick-off and ran 80 yards for a T.D. for the Sailors. A fourth-quarter pass from Jeff Piersoe to End Pete Gendron was good for 75 yards and a touchdown in the final quarter.

Cee Team Tied 7-7

Cee football teams from Newport Harbor and Garden Grove battled to a 7-7 tie last Thursday on Davidson Field.

Sailor quarterback Steve Shedd piloted a 71-yard drive in the fourth quarter, with end Jim Hammond scoring on a 19-yard run. The Argos made their point in returning an opening punt; 85 yards in the first quarter.

The Sailor Cees journey to La Habra today, Oct. 26. Game time is 3:15 p.m.

FELLOWSHIP DINNER

The United Lutheran Church Women will hold a fellowship dinner at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10, at the Lutheran Church of the Master, Corona del Mar.

THIS TROPHY, being mounted by Sailor co-captains Bill Fielder, left, and Gary Galusha, won't be in the Harbor trophy collection after all. It's the perpetual trophy for the Harbor-Mesa football rivalry. Harbor won the inaugural game, but the discovery of an ineligible player on both teams resulted in a decision of no-contest. The trophy will stay in the district office until next year's game.

BUCS TO FACE MT. SAC AFTER 64 TO 7 DEFEAT

The Orange Coast College Pirates will travel to Mt. San Antonio to take on the twice-defeated Mounties this Saturday, Oct. 28. The game will be played at 2 p.m. instead of 8 as originally scheduled.

The Pirates are aiming to bounce back from last Saturday night's defeat in the OCC Stadium, where they were crushed 64-7 by Santa Ana.

Keith Luhnnow and the Dons—this extra potent combination hammered the OCC squad into an injured, hapless mass before an overflow homecoming crowd.

Luhnnow, a sure bet to make Don history and the JC All-American team, ran for a 122-yard carry average from his full-back spot while scoring 34 points. He ran for 5 touchdowns, ranging from 8 to 67 yards, and caught 2 passes for 2-point conversions.

Luhnnow started things off the first time Santa Ana got the ball, topping off a 65-yard drive with a 15-yard scoring run. Coast punted to start the second quarter. Warren Jackson fumbled Tom Cottle's kick, and the Pirates recovered on the Don 25. The Pirates punched out the first down on the 11 with Brian Robson and Roy Frazer running the ball. Rich Milledge threw a pass to halfback Bob Crissell on the 2. Chuck Smith plunged to the 1-foot line for another first down, and on the next play, Milledge sneaked in for the score. Smith converted, and the score was tied 7-7 with 8:43 left in the half.

The Dons scored twice more in the second quarter, but the Pirates were still in the competition.

On the kick-off following the third Don T.D., Roy Frazer electrified the Pirate rooters with a 90-yard return for a Pirate touchdown, only to have it called back by an offside penalty.

Another heartbreaker came for the Bucs in the third quarter, with the Dons leading 36-7. Dick Arthur stole the ball from the Dons near midfield and raced all the way for a 47-yard touchdown run. But this time a holding penalty nullified the score.

Ending in a tie for first place among the amateur golfers with 291 was Dennis Murphy, who led the Pirate golf team to the state JC crown in 1959. Another former Buc who qualified for the final 34 holes was Bob Roux, representing the Irvine Coast Country Club. Roux, a professional, carded 296.

The OCC water polo team played a two-night double header Friday at the Coast pool, and came out 2 wins richer by humbling Riverside 18-4 (an Eastern Conference league game), and the Alumni 18-6.

Tom Jewell (Newport Harbor) and Ralph Rodheim (Newport) were picked by coach Al Irwin as the outstanding offensive players, while Byron Clow (Newport) and Don Loomis were the tops defensively.

Dr. Max R. Flickinger, winner of Freedom Foundation's highest award, was the special guest speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Newport Unity Church in the Ebell clubhouse in Balboa last night, Oct. 25. He is the father of the church pastor, the Rev. Loren D. Flickinger, and pastor of the Unity Church in Pasadena.

Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president of Freedom Foundation, said of Dr. Flickinger, "Your work has been exemplary in the propagation of the American Way of Life, responsibility, citizenship and patriotism."

WITH THE Blue Scout rocket tucked beneath its fuselage, the X-15 leaves the B-52 aircraft below at 50,000 feet, and climbs toward an altitude of 156,000 feet to launch the Blue Scout into orbit. This new method for air-launching the rocket into deep space probe or into orbit was disclosed last week by Ford Aeronutronic, prime contractor for the Blue Scout, and North American's L.A. Division, where the X-15 was designed and built.

EARLY INJURY LED HER TO CAREER IN NURSING

Her own experiences as a patient influenced Janette Penelope Krust, the new director of nurses at Hoag Hospital, to enter the nursing profession. At the age of 9 she was terribly burned by a furnace blast. Third degree burns covered three-fourths of her body. For the next 7 years she underwent 25 successful plastic surgery operations. No one counted the failures. When her family moved to San Antonio, Texas, in 1943, she studied at the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, graduating with highest honors. She practiced nursing in every capacity from ward aid to registered nurse and then decided she wanted to know more about people, so she could nurse them better. So she majored in sociology at Trinity University, San Antonio, and earned B.A. and M.A. degrees. Miss Krust has held director's positions at these institutions: Bexar County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Baptist Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and Nix Memorial Hospital, all in Texas. She says she has been in hospitals all her life but none so quiet, neat and well designed as Hoag. "In Texas I worked once in a hospital with a pool, but never in one with an ocean," she said laughing. She spoke of the newness of Hoag despite its 10 years. "The obstetrics ward looks as if it were built yesterday. Also, there is a lack of institutional atmosphere that is most refreshing." The new director, who will be in charge of Hoag's nursing staff of 150, is slight, dark-eyed and vivacious. She speaks with a Texas accent but not a Texas drawl—her years in Michigan speeded up her conversation, she said. She was born in Detroit in 1920 and lived there until after her high school graduation. She will make her home with a younger brother in the Martini Apartments in Costa Mesa.

Phone Books Are Coming

A record of 231,000 new directories will be delivered in Orange County this week to subscribers of Pacific Telephone service—an increase of 26,000 over last year. Coincident with the deliveries, plans have been finalized for the elimination of the "116" emergency dialing code. Emergency calls consequently should be placed through the local operator, or simply by dialing the numeral "0." The new directories also will include all-numerical prefixes for official telephone numbers, such as the business offices. The correct time number also has been changed. Instead of UL 3-1212, the correct time will be 853-1212. This is part of the gradual swing to 7-figure phone numbers across the country. New phones and changes in phone numbers after Dec. 15 will be under the "all-number calling plan," or ANC. No changes are contemplated in the near future for existing phones.

200-Year-Old Tree Is Planted at Pacific View

A tree that started its life about 15 years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence has been given a new home at Pacific View Memorial Park in Corona del Mar.

It is a species of palm called Chamaerops Humilis, the only variety of Palm tree native to Europe. The tree was brought to South America from the Mediterranean coast and then, according to historical documents, was moved to a hacienda east of what is now San Diego about 150 years ago. It grew there until it was purchased from subdividers 10 years ago by La Fleur Nurseries of West Los Angeles, specialists in Palm and Tropical Plants. The tree has been held by them until its recent sale to Pacific View.

OCC DISTRICT GROWTH PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

During a recent informal meeting one member of the Garden Grove High School Board conferred with 3 members of the Orange Coast College Board on the college campus on the possibilities of expanding Coast College district. Those present included Carl J. Lehman, Garden Grove, and Donald G. Hoff, W. C. Rios and North Keene, Orange Coast College. Also present were Dr. Basil H. Peterson, president and district superintendent of Orange Coast College, and Dr. Norman E. Watson, vice president, Orange Coast College.

The purpose of the meeting was to explore in an informal manner the implications of the Orange County Junior College Survey, and to determine whether or not it might be possible to reach mutual agreement whereby Garden Grove would become a part of the Coast College district.

Some of the facts pointed out by Supt. Peterson included:

- Orange Coast College would probably look with disfavor on having Garden Grove join the college district unless some of the high school districts in the southern part of the county also joined at the same time. In other words, an expansion of the district should not include just Garden Grove, but also Laguna Beach, Capistrano and possibly Tustin high school districts.
- Orange Coast College would favor an expansion program which would include Tustin, Capistrano, Laguna Beach and Garden Grove high school districts.
- In order to secure the support of local voters it would be necessary for Coast College to present a plan of expansion which would not result in a substantial lowering of the present taxing power of the district.
- Orange Coast College does not favor adding areas to its district which do not wholly support the junior college program. It is the aim of the college to maintain support and harmony among the people of the district.
- Orange Coast College would

Decision Is Due Nov. 7

that the major problem was splitting the union high school district, but added that this problem was not insurmountable.

Dr. David Nielsen, chairman of the community identity sub-committee of the school board, said he favored the Upper Bay annex for reasons of community identity, since he felt that residents who moved into that area are within the city limits of Newport Beach and want to be in the Newport school district.

• TRUSTEES DEBATE
The evening's discussion revolved largely into a debate between Mr. Berry and trustee Harvey Pease, who asked that action be deferred until the implications of unification can be studied fully.

Mr. Pease cited the possible inequities of the annexation, saying that it could obligate the Newport district to paying $50,000 to $60,000 a year on the state aid indebtedness of the Mesa district, and pointing out that the residents requesting the annexation would not be liable for any of the present bonded indebtedness of the Newport district. He said also that the westerly Upper Bay area is already served by nearby Mesa schools.

"Should all citizens of the Newport district be required to assume a financial obligation, with no voice in the decision, and forced upon them by the decision of a few people?" Mr. Pease asked.

• ACTION DEFERRED
On Mr. Pease's motion, the board deferred action until the Nov. 7 meeting, when a decision on the annexation, and possibly also on district unification, will be made.

The Costa Mesa protest means that the county supervisors cannot approve the original annex request without submitting the matter to the vote of the people in the annex area.

This means further that the area cannot be annexed to the Newport district until July 1, 1963. By that time, Costa Mesa will be reassessed, and the increase in Mesa assessed valuations may give the Newport district a reprieve from assuming liability for repayment of Mesa indebtedness.

Math Courses Offered to Advanced Students

Supplementary mathematics courses for advanced students were outlined recently by instructor Webster Jones at the Newport Harbor High School faculty meeting, and counseling dates have been set by the school to aid juniors and seniors in college preparation and selection.

The 4-year math program will begin with a supplementary freshman text which will introduce set theory. During the sophomore and junior years students receive, in addition to the regular plane geometry and advanced algebra course, work in solid geometry and trigonometry. Seniors will be introduced to calculus and exploring areas in finite mathematics.

New York Regents Examination for the past two years has scored Newport Harbor classes well above average in the United States, with 2 Harbor seniors making a perfect score last year.
