CIVIC LEADERS BACKING RIDDERHOF CANDIDACY IN 3-MAN COUNCIL RACE

Stanley E. Ridderhof, Newport Heights, today filed his candidacy for the empty City Council post and simultaneously received support of Ralph Morris, Balboa, who filed yesterday but withdrew in favor of the retired Marine Corps brigadier general.

Morris said, "I am withdrawing my candidacy for City Council in favor of Stanley Ridderhof as I feel he will represent adequately the interests of the peninsula as well as the remainder of the city. Having talked with him, I discovered we see eye to eye on major city problems."

A resident of 229 Ocean View Ave., Ridderhof presently is vice-president of Rosan, Inc., a position he took 18 months ago, following his earlier connection as general manager of Croft and Neville for two years. Prior to filing as a candidate Ridderhof had served on Mayor Dora Hill's Easter Week Control Committee.

His other activities include chairmanship of Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee. He is a director of the chamber board. He also is a past president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, serving in that post during 1951-52. Following this post, he served as chairman of the Associated Chambers' sanitation committee, through whose efforts the County's Joint Outfall Sewer was completed.

Ridderhof is now a member of military affairs committee of the Associated Chambers and a member of the armed forces committee of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce.

"My only reason to run for the council seat was because of a number of requests from individuals and different groups in Newport Beach," Ridderhof stated. "I have no preconceived notion as to what should be done in municipal government. I hope to meet each issue as it arises and determine on the merits of the case."

Ex-City Attorney for Council Job

Harry Blodgett, who was dismissed by a majority vote of City Council as city attorney shortly after the new council was elected last spring, today filed nomination papers for the seat left open by Norman Miller's resignation. Blodgett resides on Balboa Island.

Signing his nomination papers were Isabel Andrews, George McFarland, John Kimble, Dean Bradford, Josephine Whyte, James S. Whyte, Joe H. Dixon, Todd Oviatt, Dorothy and George Yardley and Nelda L. Gibson. The candidacy was filed shortly before noon.

Blodgett could not be located by press time for a statement of candidacy, giving his views on city government.

Ahlstrom, Bacon Guilty; Mesa Cops Elated

Finding of guilty on all counts was returned last night by a jury which for three days heard testimony in the drunk driving charge against John David Ahlstrom and battery-drunk counts against his brother-in-law, John Willard Bacon.

The trial, lifted from routine by a claim for $20,000 filed with the city by the two men for damages allegedly suffered, at the hands of arresting Mesa police last July 12, was interpreted today by Costa Mesa police as vindication of their work when they arrested the pair in the 1500 block Santa Ana Ave. and later jailed them.

As soon as the jury returned the verdict at 8:15 o'clock last night, Max Hurwitz, attorney for Bacon and Ahlstrom, gave oral notice he would file an appeal.

Judge D. J. Dodge, in whose court the trial was held, set Monday, 9 a. m., as time for sentencing. Written notice of appeal will delay execution of the sentence. (Continued on Page 3)

Baxter Absolved of Evans Death by Inquest Jury

An inquest jury of three women and four men Tuesday absolved Theodore C. Baxter, 32, truck driver of 463 E. Magnolia Ave., Costa Mesa, of the death of John Evans, 19, of 203 1/2 40th St.

Young Evans was killed when his convertible car struck the truck broadside last Wednesday night at Orchid Ave. and Coast Highway. Gary Wilson, 19, Santa Ana Gardens, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and a simple fracture of the left leg. He is recovering in Hoag Hospital.

Officer Douglas Deim, Newport Beach police department, testified that Wilson made a statement to police the day following the accident indicating the pair had been drinking. Wilson's statement, read by Deim to the jury, said, "I had two shots and I think Johnny finished the pint of vodka. I do not think Johnny was drunk but he had been drinking."

Wilson's statement said he guessed the speed of the car was 70 miles per hour on the open road between Laguna Beach and Corona del Mar. He said he thought they made the stop at Poppy Ave. and Coast Highway.

The statement said, "I told him to slow down and to let me drive." Wilson said, "I only remember seeing the truck in front as he hit and I do not remember anything else until I woke up in the hospital."

Douglas Stowers, 17, 330 Orchid Ave., a witness to the accident, testified he saw the truck make a full stop at the intersection before crossing Coast Highway. He said the Evans car hit the truck at an estimated 45 miles per hour.

Baxter told the jury he made the full stop at the corner and looked both ways on Coast Highway before crossing. He said he saw no cars approaching. Stowers said the lights on Baxter's truck were on, but he saw no lights on Evans' car. The accident occurred at dusk. Baxter said he did not see the Evans car until it hit his truck.

Wally Fox, deputy coroner, told the jury a blood sample taken from Evans in his presence showed 22 per cent alcoholic content. He said 15 per cent is considered by police as sufficient normally to place a person under the influence of alcohol.

MESA STREET, DRAINAGE PROJECTS AT STAKE AS COUNCIL ORDERS SPEED

Every major improvement project in Costa Mesa hangs upon engineering and loss of $169,000 of state "Christmas tree" funds faces the city if those projects aren't presented within the next six months.

That was the realistic pill which City Manager George Coffey gave Mesa councilmen last night when they met informally to discuss the first real finance crisis they have faced.

Councilmen instructed the manager to obtain satisfactory design plans from the city engineer, R. L. Patterson, or the city will move to contract for services from an engineering firm large enough to complete the projects.

At stake is a drainage study of the whole city which would establish grades for builders, street improvements and flood control.

Also pending engineering completion are the Superior Ave. improvement project which will be aided by several spot street and intersection improvement projects chosen to alleviate critical flood dangers.

Under terms of the state fund grants voted by the legislature last year, Costa Mesa must submit (Continued on Page 3)

Sanford Loser in Eldred Deal, D. A. Reports

Trust deed manipulations in Santa Ana by the A. G. Eldred really office once again cast their shadow on the Newport Harbor area this week when W. W. Sanford, Balboa Island realtor, was revealed as one of Eldred's victims.

Thrown for a loss of $10,000 cash out of savings, is Sanford who made loans to Eldred and accepted as security and collateral for repayment a series of trust deeds. Eldred is charged with forging signatures to assignments to the documents.

According to Robert Kneeland, district attorney-elect of Orange County, "W. W. Sanford is a victim of Eldred and we find no other involvement than that with this Balboa Island resident."

Sanford has taken over the promotion of the industrial subdivision between Newport Blvd. and South Main St. at Dyer Road in Santa Ana. He will act as exclusive agent for that property and for the 5-acre development under construction by the Birchler Corporation of Corona del Mar in the industrial area. E. M. Harvey, formerly of the Eldred office, has removed his real estate operations to the Sanford office.

Mrs. Hartshorn Poisons Self, Police Report

A 34-year-old mother, Mrs. Harry Hartshorn, 610 Jasmine Ave., died in agony in front of her husband Monday night after swallowing a dose of strychnine poison, police said. She was pronounced dead at Hoag Hospital after her arrival at 9:30 p. m.

According to Deputy Coroner Wally Fox, Mrs. Hartshorn was watching television with her husband when her legs began twitching. "I've taken strychnine," she reportedly calmly informed her husband, Harry.

The two Hartshorn children were reported in bed at the time of the incident. Hartshorn contacted an ambulance service and asked for instructions. He was informed he should give his wife something to make her vomit, police said. (Continued on Page 3)

No Matching Land Deal Now Council Votes Inspiration Point Purchase with City, Private Cash

Use of privately subscribed funds to "save Inspiration Point" with the $27,000 state matching fund credit Newport Beach has brought whole-hearted support Monday night from City Council. Corona del Mar residents nearly $5000 and $7000 through private subscription to buy the view site. Councilman Gerald Bennett pointed out.

City Manager John Stairs advised the council the State Park Commission informed him it would make no decision on proposed appraisal and possible acquisition of the Newport ocean front lands previously considered as matching lands for 30 days.

This, he said, would go against the time limit the estate owning Inspiration Point and "probably would cost the city" the property. He suggested using some $7000 cash with current state credit to obtain the property.

Action Against P. E. Seen with Planners Note

Forshadowing possible future events, City Council Monday night ordered the city planning commission to notify South Coast Co. its use permit for storage space between Newport and Balboa Blvds. will terminate in six months. This is because the city has condemnation proceedings underway against the Pacific Electric Co. to take over the utility property in the area for street development.

The shipbuilding firm has leased a triangular piece bounded by 23rd St. and the street westerly of the Pacific Electric station for storage of lumber used in its minesweeper construction project for the Navy.

Advocates espousing removal of Pacific Electric Co. holdings in downtown Newport hailed the move to notify South Coast Co. as a good indication the present council intends to clean up what has been termed a chaotic traffic condition on both major boulevards.

13-Member Report Card Committee Named; Grading System Criticized

First meeting of the teacher-parent committee appointed to study the report card system in the Newport Beach Elementary School District got under way last night to find out what the report card should be for the parent and the child. Criticism of the present set-up was voiced by several parents.

The committee of seven parents, five faculty representatives and one member of the board of trustees chose William Spurgeon III as chairman. Others on the committee are parents, Mrs. Sam Hill, Mrs. Joseph Carver, Mrs. Jack M. Bradbury, Mrs. R. J. Villagrana, Mrs. A. L. Doesburg and Mrs. Robert L. Callis; James B. Stoddard, board member; Mrs. Robert E. Harbison, dean of girls, Newport Harbor Union High School; Mrs. Charles L. Mosseller and Mrs. Jane Pettit.

Horace Ensign teachers: William Ritter, principal of Horace Ensign and Mrs. Grace Sevier, principal of Corona del Mar school.

Superintendent Roy W. Anderson led into the discussion by outlining the reasons for the study as a necessity to re-evaluate from time to time the reporting system and to desire by the school district to listen to public wishes in order to analyze itself.

He urged the committee to arrive at its own conclusions and not those which they might feel others want. Anderson promised the complete cooperation of the entire school staff and facilities in aiding committee members to seek information and ideas.

Development Plan Outlined for Mesa Area

A two-pronged program of improvement for Costa Mesa's downtown business section was outlined early yesterday morning when members of the newly formed Downtown Business Association convened.

Citing the urgent need for free parking facilities in the area, the businessmen decided to ask the City of Costa Mesa to act as expeditiously as possible in setting up the parking district provided by ordinance.

In the other phase of improvement to be undertaken jointly, the association voted to implement a promotional program of four phases:

Sunday Morning Marks Extended Service Start for Orange County

Hands of a clock ticking over to 12:01 a. m. Sunday will signal the start of a new era for Pacific Telephone's Orange County subscribers.

District manager J. L. Richards said at that exact time three main events will take place:

1. Extended service will become effective for all the company's telephones in the county;

2. Orange telephones will be converted to automatic operation; and

3. Prefix names will be established for three exchanges. These include Kelliog-8 for Orange, Gypsy-6 for Dana Point and Hyacinth-2 for San Clemente.

Under extended service subscribers will be able to call a greatly increased number of Orange County telephones at local call rates.

Proposed rates for the service were approved by the state Public Utilities Commission on October 13 following a formal hearing in Santa Ana on Oct. 1.

Grand Jury Probe in Recess; Indictments in Record Number

SANTA ANA, Oct. 28 (OCNS) — The indictment-issuing Orange County Grand Jury, which has broken all records for the number of true bills returned by any previous session, has taken a recess in its deliberations but does not appear to have quit.

The jurymen will return to session tomorrow morning and seek a new contempt citation on what they reportedly feel is an illegal twist to the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution.

Santa Ana cafe man Charles Buchholz, arrested yesterday on a contempt citation issued by the jurors, showed up at the courthouse today and brought with him books and records subpoenaed earlier, but which the jury charged he had failed to bring yesterday. However, it was understood Buchholz refused to allow the jurors access to his records by saying "They might tend to incriminate me."

The Fifth Amendment allows a witness to refuse to testify before a court or investigative body if he feels his testimony may incriminate him. "It's the first time I've heard the Fifth Amendment used about books and records," District Attorney James L. Davis stated today.

The jurors will file into the courtroom of Superior Court Judge Robert Gardner at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow reportedly to ask for another contempt citation. Buchholz is presently free on $2,500 bail imposed on him when he was indicted for perjury before the grand jury, and another $1,000 bail following yesterday's contempt citation. Meanwhile, surrendering this morning.

Nixon to Visit County Tomorrow

Richard Nixon will return to the town of his birth Friday morning to talk from an improvised platform on Main St. in Yorba Linda. The talk of the Vice-president is scheduled for 10:30 a. m.

According to information released from the Vice-president's office today, his talk will be political as well as one of reminiscence.

Supervisors Get Upper Bay Plans

Plans for Upper Newport Bay access channel and recreation area Tuesday were submitted to the board of supervisors for study.

Harbor Engineer H. Morgan Noble handed the maps to the supervisors and explained the Harbor Commission's thinking in the proposal.

Noble explained it is hoped the county planning commission will utilize the plans in thinking of over all land use in Upper Bay.

The plans brought into focus by Noble include only a small portion of the long-range planning for the Upper Bay.

gained him and Orange County liquor chief Harman Pause yesterday.

Lockins is charged with conspiracy to commit acts injurious to the public morals and to prevent and obstruct justice and the administration of the law.

Pause accompanied the Santa Ana photographer businessman to jail. Dockins was released on $5000 bail after he was booked in county jail.

Pause surrendered himself to county jail yesterday on a bench warrant after his indictment earlier in the day by the grand jury.

It was the second time in as many days the dapper, chain-smoker was turned himself in on a grand jury-issued indictment. The charge yesterday was the same as was assessed to him Tuesday, which was conspiracy to commit acts injurious to the public morals and to prevent and obstruct the due administration of the laws.

Pause was released on $5000 bail at 4:30 p.m. There was no addition to the $5000 bond placed on him Tuesday.

Yesterday, Realtor Gordon Eldred surrendered within seconds after the jury returned two true bills against him, one charging eight counts of forgery and the other charging Eldred and the former insurance manager in the Eldred offices of committing burglary.

The insurance man, E. A. Berry of Santa Ana, surrendered with Eldred in the courtroom of Judge Gardner. Berry was released on $1000 bail and Eldred was increased $10,000.

Meanwhile, 11 persons indicted in the rampaging Orange County liquor probe will be arraigned before Superior Court Judge Robert Gardner at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

All defendants are free, pending their court action. Seven separate cases are involved.

Here's the list:

Ray Adams, of Glendale on charges of conspiracy and grand theft; Charles Devine and Harry Lehman, union officials of Garden Grove, two counts of conspiracy; Devine, Lehman, Sam E. Collins and Sam L. Collins of Fullerton on two counts of conspiracy and grand theft; The Collinses, George Avas of Santa Ana, Mickey Jones of Ojai and District Liquor Chief H. E. Mackenzie on conspiracy, bribery and grand theft; Herman Pause, Orange County liquor boss, conspiracy; Al Tossas, Long Beach bar keeper and Louis Trapani, Los Angeles businessman, on three counts of conspiracy.

Judge Gardner also will face a long criminal calendar in addition to the indictment proceedings.

grouped on pages in newspapers using the headings:

Preparation and distribution of questionnaires which will inform on number and types of business and services in the downtown area.

Preparation of a promotion budget for newspaper advertisements, circulars and signs, money to be used up until June 1, 1955, in "exploratory expenditures."

Release of weekly news and information articles covering facilities as they are now and as developed; the selection of nationally advertised merchandise available, and the regular release of information about progress and expansion of stores which are members of the association.

Robert A. Crawford, president of the association, pointed to the committee's assessment of opportunity as reasons why the association should undertake the broad program recommended.

"The promotion of trade in our business section presents many challenges," the statement said. "We are at the crossroads, where major highways divide, and where the Harbor area of nearly 50,000 people pass through as they move about in their daily life. We have all of the facts of trade and service to meet the complete need of our fast growing residential, recreational, business and industrial community."

The board of directors has set every Wednesday morning from 8 to 9 o'clock as meeting time in the office of the Chamber of Commerce. A general membership meeting will be held the morning of Nov. 9 at a place to be announced.

providing a swimming area free of speed boats.

Noble also pointed out the commission is seeking a high level bridge crossing the access on highway 101.

The plans revealed to supervisors by Noble were called studies.

Noble said the plan covers 24 acres of water and 58 acres of land.

The access channel is 750 feet wide.

Supervisors Heinz Kaiser, who detailed the proposals to Harbor League of Women Voters on Oct. 19, said the state's action on the high level bridge request will have a lot to do with the bay development.

Another plan has been prepared for the county by Engineer R. L. Patterson.

jumped into the report card purpose question by an examination of their own experiences as parents and teachers. Consensus of opinion was the cards should show the parent and child both what progress was being made and what the child's work might lack.

Spurgeon emphasized the need for more incentive and competitive spirit in the grading system. "I do not think the mark of satisfactory is anything to be proud of," he said. "If we do not want incentive in this country to report, then the satisfactory report card system is a good way to get rid of it." Spurgeon told the committee.

Stoddard said he felt the grading system should prepare the child for the "rigors of high school. I do not believe it does," he added, "and it would be best for the child to get sampling of what is to come."

Both parents and teachers agreed it is important to retain the conference contact between teacher and parent and to increase the use of conferences wherever possible. Mrs. Mossteller told the group that Horace Ensign teachers use incentive methods with eighth grade students to prepare them for the transition to the high school. A. B. C. grading system.

Mrs. Byron King, 501 San Bernardino Ave., told the committee that under the present system a child has no incentive. "As hard as a child works," she said, "he can only make an S. In the A. B. C. system he has something to strive for."

Mrs. Woodland commended the school board on calling upon the parents and teachers for their ideas in trying to arrive at a better grading system. The board requested the committee be formed to conduct the study and make its recommendations for possible board action.

Next meeting of the committee will be Tuesday, Nov. 9, 7:30 p.m. at Horace Ensign. The public is welcome to attend.

Ridderhof entered the Marine Corps in 1917 as a private. His service included World War I, the Nicaraguan Campaign, World War II. During the latter he was stationed at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, later serving throughout the Philippines where he was on duty when the war ended.

Ridderhof won the Navy Cross in the Nicaraguan Campaign for combat action against the rebel leader, Sandino. He has a number of other decorations for military service.

Drunk driving conviction can carry a $500 fine or six months in jail or both.

The police officers charged in their testimony that the two men had fought with them at the scene of arrest and in the police station.

Both Ahlstrom, 41, 411 Riverside Drive, Newport, and Bacon, 32, a soldier on leave from his Fort Hood station in Texas, leveled charges of police brutality in beating which they say they suffered the night of arrest.

Sgt. David Gregg and Officer James Green were the arresting officers. Officer John Maier was in the station when the pair were brought in.

Much of the testimony given by the officers under examination by Atty. Hurwitz for the defendants and DeWitte Chatterton, assistant district attorney, was contradicted by direct testimony of the pair.

Others testifying were Constable Frank Vaughn, who apprehended the two men but failed to see what kind of sobriety tests were given them on the scene, and K. C. Chung, physician who described injuries suffered by Ahlstrom.

Councilmen have determined the city could use its share of gas tax refunds for part of the matching monies needed.

At the discussion session held in the offices of the Newport Heights Irrigation District on 18th St., Coffey told councilmen that because of the short time left to prepare projects for submission it was his recommendation that an engineering firm be hired rather than employ a full-time city engineer and necessary assistants.

"We have a tremendous backlog of work now. After six months and if what we have on hand is completed, we might not have need for the full-time employees," he stated.

Appearing before the councilmen to discuss west side drainage problems were three members of the Segerstrom family, owners of approximately 3000 acres of farm land between Costa Mesa and Santa Ana.

Harold Segerstrom asked council about city plans to alleviate storm drainage out Harbor Blvd.

which finally empties on the Segerstrom ranch which limited storm drainage facilities cannot carry off the surplus water.

"As your city growth increases so will the amount of water coming out Harbor Blvd.," Harold Segerstrom told the councilmen.

Mayor Claude Nelson said until the drainage survey could be completed there was little that could be done now, but he assured the ranch owners that their problems would be considered in solutions to the drainage problem.

Liquor Chief Pause, MacKenzie Are Indicted as Sam Collins' Daughter Grand Jury Witness

SANTA ANA (OCNS) — The Orange County Courthouse reeled groggily this week under the onslaught of a battery of indictments handed down by the grand jury Monday, but the jury continued its sixth week of deliberations by calling the daughter of already-indicted Sam L. Collins as its first witness.

Principal witness of the day was Mrs. Jodeane Harrod of Fullerton. Mrs. Harrod is the daughter of Sam L. Collins, twice-indicted by the jury, along with his son, Sam E. Collins, on liquor charges. Mrs. Harrod told OCNS prior to going into the jury room that she was "going to talk about a liquor license issued for Capistrano Hot Springs." She said it was a license in which she was interested.

The jury returned two true bills Monday, naming six persons. The names of the indicted parties read like a roll call of "star witnesses" who have appeared before the grand jury in the current liquor license investigation.

The six parties named were identified as H. E. Mackenzie, district liquor chief of Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside counties; Herman Pause, veteran Orange County liquor control chief; Arthur Gordon Eldred, who testified Santa Ana realtor who was last week indicted on charges of grand theft; George Jones, alias Elmer Hein George, alias Mike O'Connor, George Avas, operator of a Santa Ana night club, and Taken Takakson, identified as a partner of Eldred in liquor license transactions that sought to have Japanese-issued permits transferred to Orange County.

First to be booked was Miss Jones. She was taken into custody in the Orange County courthouse by District Attorney's Office Investigator M. D. Williams, shortly after she appeared before the jury. She was charged with three counts of conspiracy to commit bribery and two counts of grand theft, also named on the same true bill were George Avas and H. E. Mackenzie. They were charged with the same counts.

Miss Jones was freed shortly after being booked at the jail on $5000 bail.

Second person to be booked Tuesday was the Orange County liquor chief, Herman Pause. He was released on $5000 bail after being booked at the jail on $5000 bail.

Pause was charged on the same true bill returned against Eldred and Taken Takakson. The charges reported were two counts of conspiracy to commit bribery and two counts of grand theft, also named on the same true bill were George Avas and H. E. Mackenzie. They were charged with the same counts.

In the meantime, Sheriff's deputies had been given a warrant for Eldred's arrest and also a subpoena to serve on him, calling for Eldred to appear in court before the grand jury yesterday.

The deputies caught up with Eldred just before noon at Superior Court Judge Kenneth E. Morrison's courtroom. They served him with the papers and, out Judge Morrison agreed to accept a preliminary arraignment in his court, in the custody of Judge Robert G. Gorman.

A bail bond reduction on the grounds that Eldred was already free on $10,000 bail on last week's indictment.

Judge Morrison allowed Eldred to remain free on the bail already posted.

Meanwhile, Santa Ana bar owner George Jerome Avas surrendered at county jail. He also was released on $5000 bail a short time later.

District Liquor Administrator H. E. Mackenzie surrendered himself at the Orange County jail shortly after noon Tuesday on an indictment handed down by the grand jury Monday. Mackenzie reportedly brought $5000 with him when he made his appearance before Sheriff's deputies.

About two surrendered parties, who the exception of Realtor Eldred, were ordered to answer for arraignment on Oct. 29.

$3834 Interest for State on Tideands

State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood said today the State is earning $3,834 a year in interest on investment of its accumulated tide-land fund which approximates $200,000.

The State Lands Commission, of which the Controller is Chairman, released the funds early this month, permitting investment of additional amounts, principally $22,041,584 previously impounded by the Federal Treasury where it drew no interest.

Kirkwood said that of this sum, approximately $1 million previously invested by the State boosted total interest earnings by $1215 a day.

BOOK BARTON AS DRUNK

Ray Nelson Barton, 36, 1527 Newport Blvd., Costa Mesa, was jailed Tuesday night by Costa Mesa police who said they found him in a staggering drunk condition at 11:05 p.m. in a parking lot to the rear of the Shamrock Club in Costa Mesa. Arresting officers said Barton was a partygoer who had been drinking and tried to hide behind two buildings. He was booked at Hewitt's court and held on a drunk charge in county jail on a drunk charge.

Harbor Woman Designs Prize-Winning Man's Sport Shirt

A smartly styled men's sport shirt originated by a former fashion design student at UCLA will be presented to some of America's most important manufacturers, designers and retailers of male apparel at a fashion show in New York tomorrow.

The design is the work of 25-year-old Mrs. William J. Schworer of 431 Iris Ave., a June 1954 graduate of the school's College of Applied Arts.

Mrs. Schworer designed the shirt for the Walles Design Award Project, conducted at UCLA last semester. The style captured first prize in the competition and will be presented as part of a luncheon fashion showing before approximately 500 members of the industry and representatives of the press who are expected to attend.

The shirt which Mrs. Schworer designed for the project is intended for golf and other active sports wear. Extra-long sleeves are set into squared, well-seamed armholes to permit the wearer complete freedom of movement; pockets are set into the lower lines of the sleeves.

The style has been executed in white basket-weave cotton and Dacron with black stitching around the sleeves. A slide fastener with black nylon teeth serves as a contrasting neck closure.

A smartly styled men's sport shirt that captured first prize for her in the Walles Design Award Project conducted at the school last semester will be included in a collection of new ideas for male apparel which the company will hold in New York tomorrow. Approximately 500 members of the industry and representatives of the press are expected to attend.

Other pages give special calling instructions. And then, of course, there are some pages—296 of them—which contain about 61,000 alphabetical listings.

Manager T. M. Hanbrook hefted the book and pointed out that altogether it contains 120 more pages and 7,000 more listings than the issue of a year ago. Changes since last year include new Gypsy 6 numbers for Dana Point, Liberty 6 numbers for Costa Mesa, Kellogg-8 for Orange and Hyacinth-2 for San Clemente.

To print the directory required 150 tons of specially-manufactured paper.

The manager said it's a good idea to shake out the old books before turning them over to deliverymen, just in case there's some forgotten paper—including money—fired there.

Lower Insurance Rates for Young Drivers Asked

Because experience has shown that young people given driver education and driver training are safer motorists, Assemblyman Earl W. Stanley Monday asked for lower insurance rates for properly-trained young people.

He made his request for reduced insurance premiums as the California Insurance Agency Association met at San Francisco to hear a report on the driver-education and driver-training plans for the state's secondary schools, asked for waiver of all excess premiums, and declared that the experience of a major companies underwriting policies has been that it would be safe to lift the extra premiums now demanded of drivers under 25 years of age.

He said one company offers a 15 per cent reduction in excess premiums for properly-trained young drivers, but maintained that is not enough of a reduction.

"Most California insurance companies recognize the value of driver training for young people," Assemblyman Stanley said, "and it is time they showed their faith by eliminating the excess premiums required for insuring young drivers."

NEWS PRESSMRS. DONALD B. AARVOLD
at Capilla de San Antonio

In a setting of white pom-pom chrysanthemums, satin ribbons, greenery and white candles, Miss Janice Lee Allen became the bride of Mr. Donald B. Aarvold in a two o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Donald Sapp, pastor of Balboa Island Community Methodist Church, in Capilla de San Antonio. It was a double-vow exchange which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, 313 Amethyst Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Aarvold, 878 West 18th St., Costa Mesa.

Janice, preceded by a bevy of pretty bridesmaids and escorted by her father, chose a favorite shade of pale pink for her bridal gown. Of starlight taffeta, it was fashioned with scoop-necked bodice which buttoned in back, shirred sleeves ornamented with pearls and full waltz-length skirt. Her short blush pink veil was confined by a pearl coronet and she carried an arm bouquet of pale pink spider chrysanthemums with satin bow.

In Copper Rose
In the attendant entourage were Mrs. Patricia Robinson, matron of honor and the bridesmaids, Miss Ann Allen, as maid of honor, Mrs. Joseph Tachell, Miss Laura Crisell and Miss Donna Price. All wore iridescent taffeta in copper-rose with scoop-necked bodices, cap sleeves and full ballerina length skirts. The honor matron and maid carried arm bouquets of green and copper chrysanthemums with copper ribbon, while maids carried bouquets of all green mums and ribbon.

Richard Aarvold stood with his brother as best man and with him were ushers Larry Johnson, Lee Jayved, Jay Carlisle and Wyatt Fitzgerald.

Wedding music included favorite songs, "Yours Is My Heart Alone," "Ave Maria" and "Indian Love Call."

A hundred and forty guests offered felicitations when the young couple received in the chapel garden.

COMPOUND THOSE EARNINGS

Early in the development of the American Savings and Loan Association, the plan of compounding earnings was established.

In 1843, the Charleston Savings Association of South Carolina notified its savers that their dividend earnings could be added to their accounts, and begin earning more dividends for them immediately. This compounding-earnings plan has become a tradition among American Savings Associations.

Your savings enjoy this same privilege at Newport Balboa Savings today. Twice-yearly dividends paid to you may be compounded and added to your account, and start earning the same high return.

Start your Savings Account today, and watch it grow with us. And remember, your savings deposited by the 10th of any month earn from the first.

New Supper Club Dances, Dines at NHYC Inaugural

By Ann Stewart

Young socialites of the newly formed Supper Club and their guests dined at the Newport Harbor Yacht Club Saturday night, Oct. 23. Sitting at tables made up of three to five couples arranged around the dance floor, the sophomore, junior and senior Harborites enjoyed full course turkey dinners topped off with chocolate sundaes. Pink, blue, and yellow stuffed dogs with pens for autographing on each table provided souvenirs for all the girls.

Dancing was enlivened by the enthusiastically received bunny hop, La Rapsa, and a jitterbug number played by Rojas' Harmonica. After the tempo of some of the faster numbers, the coolness of the veranda invited many couples to get some fresh air during intermission, and some even continued dancing outside.

The club was established through the ideas and efforts of Mrs. Moreland Leithold, Mrs. Howard B. Lawson, Mrs. Thomas C. Webster, and Mrs. John P. Hurdall. The club plans to hold a semi-formal dinner dance once a month, eight times during the year. Membership is invitational and members join on a yearly basis.

Young Members

At present members of the male set include: Taz Atwood, Bill Billinger, Artie Butcher, Steve Boice, John Bruning, David Brickner, Carlton Dawson, Jerry Farquhar, Jim Gilstrap, Larry Harper, Henry Hill, Ted Hirth, Grey Kello, Chuck Keith, Pete Lardner, Norman Lawson, Steve Lee, Mick Parton, Dave Powers, Mike Michaud, Don Redington, Jim Samsel, Tom Webster, and Eric Williams.

The girls are: Sharon Butler, Lester Clark, Linda Cleary, Merlin Conch, Nancy Corbett, Jane Enright, Joan Farquhar, Gail Frahm, Caroline Green, Jo-Ann Hagen, Mary Kay Hehn, Marilyn Hill, Julie Hurdall, Terry Jay, Elaine Knickerbocker, Melinda Leithold, Sally Plister, Ann Stewart, Gay White, and Jackie Watson.

Guests invited to the first party were: Tom Atkinson, Dennis Harwood, Jim Taylor, Eleanor Guthrie, Meg Andrews, Mike Valle, Ann Lardner, Dick Innerst, Larry Harper, Judy Sleeper, Johan Hirth, Gary Locker, John Murphy, Bob Kalloway, Sam Cooper, and Pat Ritchie.

This first party gave non-members a chance to find out whether they wished to join or not. "The main idea of the Supper Club is to establish something similar to the Fortnightly in Los Angeles," explained Mrs. Leithold.

Holiday Shop Of AGD Units

Mesans Attend Bridal Events

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harter, 335 Walnut Pl., Costa Mesa, spent last weekend at the home of Mrs. Harter's mother and father, the Henry Mesans, in Hawthorne.

While there, they attended the wedding and reception of July Marie Hess, and expect to occupy Hansen and Robert Owens in Hawthorne on Friday evening. The group also attended a bridal shower for the young bride, Gay, in July, now a freshman at U. C. Santa Barbara, at the home of Berkeley campus, and her younger sister, Mrs. August Mesans, who are at Harbor High.

Blum Family Back on Island

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Alan Blum, 122 Tapa Ave., returned recently to the Harbor from Fairborn, Ohio, where the Colonel was stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, and expect to occupy their own home at 126 Collins Ave. The move west pleases daughter Gay, in July, now a freshman at U. C. Santa Barbara, at the home of Berkeley campus, and her younger sister, Mrs. August Mesans, who are at Harbor High.

PROPOSITION 4 UNFAIR TO YOU!

Proposition 4 is the George McLain proposition to raise old age assistance payments. It sounds simple — BUT — Proposition 4's real effect would be to LURE HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF OLD PEOPLE FROM OTHER STATES TO CALIFORNIA — to enjoy our warm climate and the highest old age pension in the land.

It is unfair to ask that you support the needy aged from all the other 47 States.

Proposition 4 is a booby-trap, which would soon force us to take care of the aged from all over America, at the expense of our child welfare program, our other state needs.

Higher old age payments is a national problem. California can't do it alone. Proposition 4 invites America's aged into California — makes all of America's aged the problem of California.

Proposition 4 is UNFAIR TO YOU! VOTE NO!

Dr. Hornaday to Address Religious Science Group

Dr. William H. D. Hornaday, Minister of the First Church of Religious Science of Los Angeles, will speak Thursday, Nov. 4 at 8 p. m. in the Laguna Beach Art Gallery. His appearance in this city is under the auspices of Church of Religious Science of Laguna Beach.

In June 1954, Dr. Hornaday celebrated his third year as Minister of Religious Science, in which time he has stimulated a membership attendance growth from 200 to 2400.

On Palm Sunday, 1952, the church was moved to the spacious Wilshire Theatre at the corner of Wilshire Blvd. and Western Ave., Los Angeles, where his congregation represents all faiths, creeds and colors. Here is found a spiritual warmth and awareness, blending the inspirational music of the 100-voice vested choir and Dr. Hornaday's messages into a high level of spiritual consciousness for worship, meditation and prayer.

The workings of such a large regular congregation demand the assistance of over 250 lay personnel, functioning in 23 committees. There are nursery facilities under the direction of a registered nurse, to care for infants at each Sunday Service. A volunteer transportation corps of dozens of automobiles makes it possible for many to attend services who would be unable to do so otherwise.

The church maintains a very efficient and extensive Welfare and Air program which, in addition to its local work, sends hundreds of pounds of babywear all over the world.

A musician himself, Dr. Hornaday is a great proponent of music therapy. A student of the marimba, he did feature solo work with the Glee Club at Whittier College, and has enjoyed some acclaim as a concert artist.

Dr. Hornaday has long been interested and active in civic affairs. He is past president of the Monterey Park Lions Club, a member of the Pasadena Scottish Rites Consistory, of the Al Malikhah Shrine, of the Elks Club and of the Los Angeles Jonathan Club.

Richard's LIDO MARKET

WITH SALLIE

October 28, 1954

Vote first, then go to Cooking School next Tuesday, Nov. 2nd...

Orange Coast College Free Cooking School starts at the Lido Theater this Tuesday at 9:30 with Louise Thomas Rocky wielding the frying pan... She has added the Rocky since last year... The Lessons will continue for four weeks... and the prizes! A free trip by air for two to San Francisco with two nights at the Hotel Mark Hopkins... A Gaffers and Sattler Gas Range... Plus door prizes every Tuesday consisting of gifts from all Lido Shops... Plus all the food cooked during the lessons... Plus sacks of groceries... All this and learn too... I might add these lessons are just a sample of Orange Coast College's Classes in Foods... The first class will be on "Buffet Ideas for easy Hospitality" includes a Popcorn cake, moulded salads and a Rabbit Ragout, like no stew you've ever gotten involved in... Also flat open sandwiches...

Been trying to pin the kids down re: Halloween... "Just which night are you gonna ring door bells?" said I... "Sunday's Halloween... that's the night we're gonna come..." "But you can't on Sunday..." "OK then we'll come on Monday" they replied. Others said they couldn't wait till Monday... they thought they'd make it Friday... then maybe they'd come around Saturday too... Let your conscience be your guide... be prepared! Halloween's taken a swing to something good... Did you see Brande de Wilde rigged up in Halloween garb on Toast of the Town last Sunday... He was there to show 60,000,000 people that Halloween is being celebrated all over the world... as a night to be nice to kids!

Now we'd love to have you serve'em all Richard's own special Halloween Ice Cream brick... Spooky smooth layers of chocolate and vanilla Ice Cream along with orange sherbet... Bring the kids in to taste it this week-end... free samples for all...

Kids again! Buy a Girl Scout Calendar... the proceeds go directly to each child's troop... Juliette Low's birthday is October 31st... She founded the Girl Scouts in 1912... All Girl Scouts are honoring her by going to church this Sunday in uniform.

Joe in the Delicatessen is having a Giant Cheese Festival... Joe, I flatly refuse to get tangled up with your 150 varieties of cheese at this time... I'll just mention Baronet, English Stilton, Bel Paese, Ricotta, Koch Kaese, Sap Sago, Tyrolette so those looking for the unusual will come running... I'll also mention the new Hekman's Club crackers as ideal spreaders...

Cheese buys of the Cheese Festival! A 500-pound Wisconsin Cheddar cheese will be cut... 5500 quarts of milk went into this giant cheese which has a good old ripe two year age on it... Nippy! And it will melt in your mouth... Another Cheese Festival sale item are imported 2 and 4 pounds edams. You know the little round cheeses that are bright red on the outside... Joe has some Edams made up in the delicatessen as Jack-O-Lanterns... Gives you a sumptuous recipe for cocktail dip from the cheese scooped out and tells you how to serve it right from the Jack-O-Lantern...

Richard's Lido Market is one of the Lido Shops at the entrance to Lido Isle... Next time you stop for a grocery or two... take time to go in and out the doors across the street... You'll like what you see!

NEWPORT HARBOR

NEWPORT HARBOR NEWS PRESS

PARTY LINES won't decide control of Congress in the election Tuesday in the opinion of Ray Williams, 31, carpenter who lives at 200 E. Balboa Blvd. "Voters will ballot for individuals this time and I think the administration will keep control of government regardless of who wins." In the state and local races, Williams, who talked from a ladder perch, opined that Knight, Kuchel and Stanley would win, but believes the Utt-Endler race for Congress is a toss-up. He thinks the proposition to change liquor control ought to be defeated and is "pro" on No. 4 to give the aged $100 monthly in aid. He is undecided on the bond issues for the hospital and county civic center, saying that "we should not buy what we don't have money for."

"I THINK WE SHOULD HAVE AN ENTIRE change in the liquor administration," Mac Pelletier, Newport Beach pharmacist said, "I feel the attitude of the people indicates Bonelli should be replaced if the board is to continue operation," he prophesied. On the local front, Pelletier thinks Earl Stanley, Thomas Kuchel and James B. Utt will all be returned to office. "I still feel there are a lot of us Democrats who are still voting Republican," he said, "and I think the Republicans will keep the small margin of control in Congress for the next few years." As for bonds A and B, he feels they should carry inasmuch as they are improvements. To the old age pension increase, he gives a 50-50 chance. (All Staff Photos)

"CONGRESS MAY BE SPLIT — one branch Democratic, one Republican." That's the opinion of Costa Mesa Realtor Roy R. McCardle, who thinks Knight, Kuchel, Utt and Stanley will win their bids for return to their various state and national posts. "I'm soft on proposals to benefit the aged, but this Proposition 4 has me wondering," he said. He is definitely for the county bonds, believes they'll carry and cited endorsements by a group of 50 businessmen in Costa Mesa to back up his point. He said he was undecided on how to vote on the liquor control change.

MRS. HAROLD BIRD, Balboa merchant, is certain incumbents Earl Stanley, Thomas Kuchel and James B. Utt will be returned to office, but she is not so certain of Gov. Knight's chances for reelection. "If he can clear up the smog situation, he's in," she laughed. She believes liquor control should be established on a more equitable basis. "I think people are tired of promiscuous issuance of liquor licenses and the present liquor investigation will make people think twice before they vote." She gives a good chance to the old age pension increase. "This raise is not a crackpot idea this time, it is more practical."

"WE'LL GET A DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS THIS TIME — I hope," says Ed Stevenson, 68-year-old custodian of Newport Justice Court. On the individual races, Stevenson said he would have given the nod to Governor Knight, but his action on "this smog business may cost him the election." The Kuchel-Yorty, Utt-Endler races could go either way, he believes, and he thinks that Stanley's edge locally was wiped out on his zoning request near the high school. "Carriek may take him," he said. Stevenson is strong for Propositions A and B which would give the county a civic center and hospital improvement. He will vote to change the liquor control set-up but takes a "dim view of Proposition 4—"There's a McLain joker in that one somewhere which would make the thing too rigid if the economy should change."

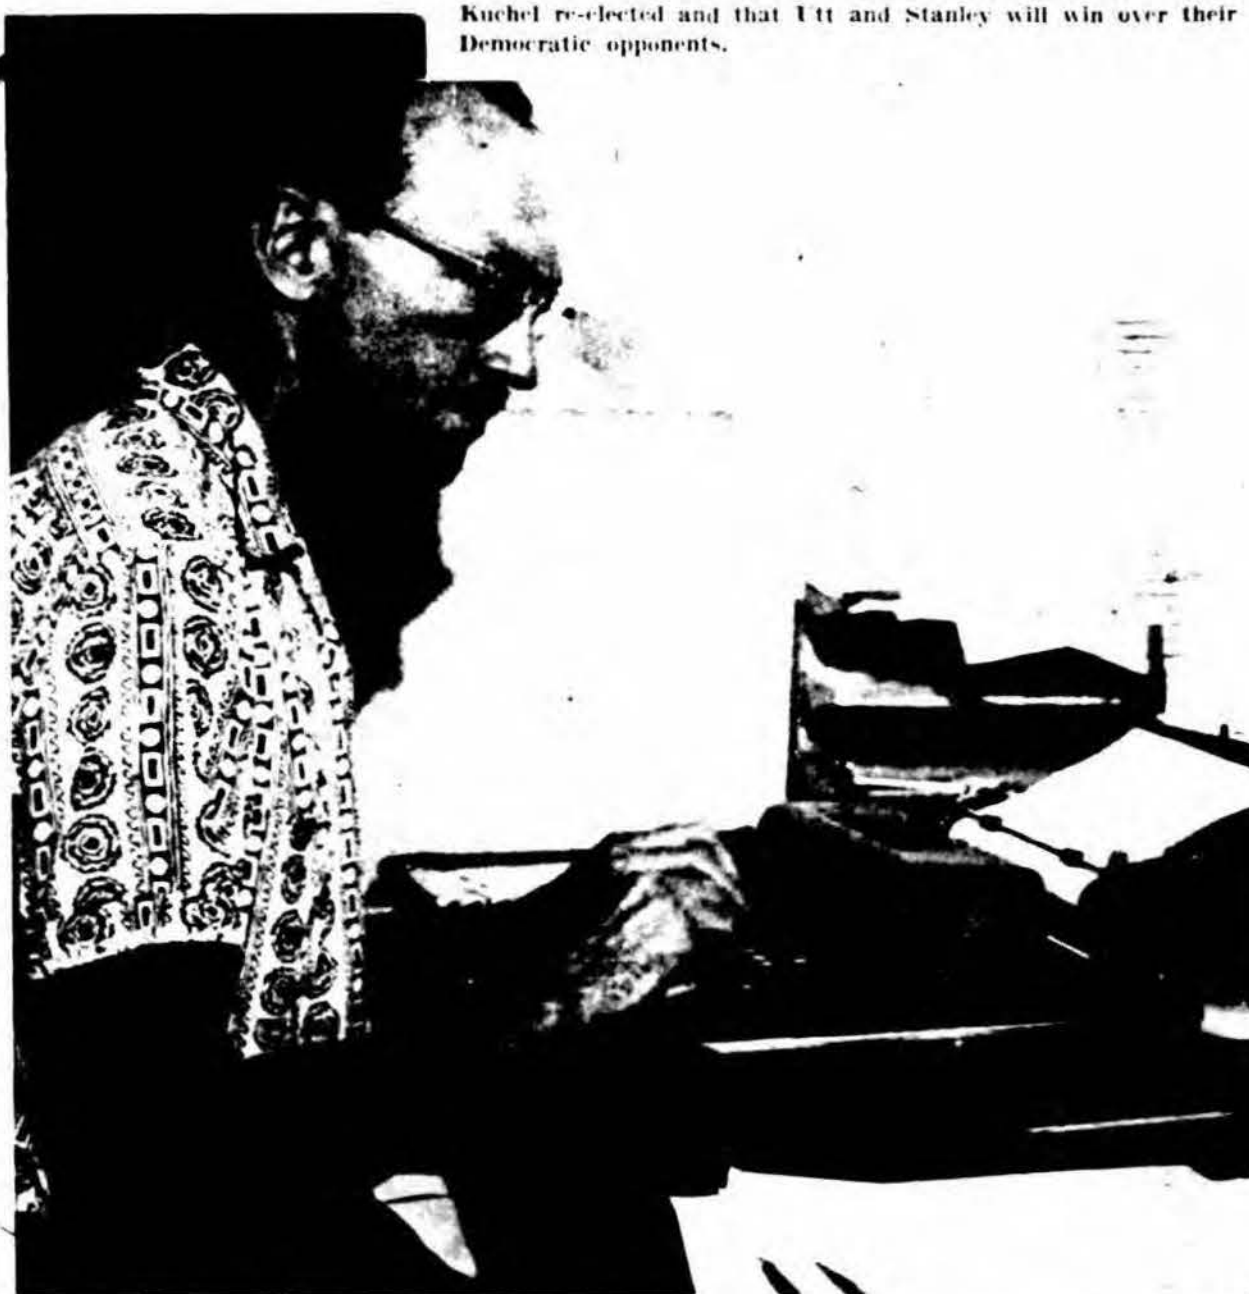

"ABOUT 61 PER CENT OF COSTA MESA voters will turn out Tuesday, and I think that composition of Congress will remain about the same — slight edge to the Republicans," Mesa City Clerk Arlie Swartz was doing the predicting—he's been uncanny in figuring the Mesa vote which is preponderantly Democratic but has voted Republican consistently since 1918. In California, Swartz believes that Governor Knight will be returned, Senator Kuchel re-elected and that Utt and Stanley will win over their Democratic opponents.

"THE REPUBLICANS WILL HANG ONTO control of Congress this election," prophesied Paul Vaughn, Newport Beach auto mechanic. He said he believes that in spite of the local liquor scandals, the voters will allow the control to remain a vote of the people and will defeat No. 3. "If the people make a bad choice on the board," he reasoned, "then they can't blame the governor. By popular vote there will be no favoritism shown by appointment," he said. Vaughn forecast that Gov. Knight will not be re-elected. "He's hitting too hard at the working people," Vaughn said. He holds very little hope for the increase of old age pension, but believes it should be voted through.

A HOUSEWIFE'S OPINION OF THE ELECTION gives victory to Gov. Knight, Earl Stanley, Thomas Kuchel and James B. Utt. "I don't think Graves is strong enough or well-known enough to win against Knight," she said. As for the control of Congress, Mrs. Robert Marshall of 107 Via Florence, believes it will be touch and go with voter apathy the greatest hurdle for the Republicans to overcome. As for a change in the liquor control, she does not think it will carry, due to lack of public efforts to put it over, but the liquor investigations should help to put No. 3 over. She feels McDavid has a greater chance to win the Board of Equalization seat from William G. Bonelli now than he did a few weeks ago. Mrs. Marshall does not give the increase in old age pension a chance, but feels the county bond issues should go over. There are things we have to have with a population increase," she observed.

DEMOCRATIC CONTROL OF CONGRESS and election of Knight and Kuchel were forecast by Richard Tregaskis, 421 Via Lido Blvd. The former war correspondent and book author views an almost unanimous Democratic victory in the House and slender victory in the Senate. "I think the Cabinet broadcast was a brilliant stroke of public relations on the part of the Republicans," he urges the liquor control board should remain elective, not appointive as proposed in No. 3, but believes that "something is wrong on the board and something should be done about it." In commenting on the gubernatorial race, Tregaskis believes Knight will win. "I'm afraid Graves will lose. Knight has such an incubus of backing and he and Kuchel both carry the Warren seal."

Matheny's Meanderings

By Jim Matheny

This week-end of activity offers so many attractive features of entertainment that Harbor area residents and their guests won't have any difficulty finding a good time close at hand.

Costume parties, fiestas, buffets, dances and gatherings of all sizes are scheduled for Halloween which seems to be pin-pointed for this Saturday night.

Chef's Inn, in Corona del Mar, wishes for its guests to come in costume. Might not be a bad idea at that for prizes will be awarded to winners of "best costumes." However, you'll be welcome as is in October if you don't want to costume!

At the sign of the sombrero on Coast Highway, Henry's will swing open its doors to masked guests. A prize will be awarded to the best-costumed couple. Senor Louie will present his Halloween Trick or treat entertainment and horns and hats will abound aplenty for those who wish to don attire appropriate to the occasion after arrival.

Reigning above Christian's Hut on Balboa Bay will be the stalwart patron of good time, Ramu. Hiding behind that Tahitian mask of his lies a kindly heart that bids all to come aboard and have a good time. Betcha he'd win a costume prize if he appeared at a Halloween party!

Dancing will be the order of the eve at Villa Marina come Saturday. The Honeybees are always on hand just when the dancing tempo is called for. In case you'd rather sip and listen to favorite melodies there's Adrian at the Organ-Piano bar at the Villa.

Woody Holder's staff at Villa Marina has been a busy one this week. Tuesday saw some 130 diners attending the third dinner-meeting of the Sunbeam Corporation. Chevrolet Motor Division had a luncheon-meeting with 100 guests and on the same day the Rotary Club had its weekly meeting.

Wednesday saw two dinner parties. One for the Orange County Escrow's 55 members and another for 25 guests of the Yacht and Ship Brokers. Orange County secretaries gather 125 strong for dinner tonight.

As usual, the Villa Marina is the sight for weekly gatherings of local Optimists and Kiwanis club members and their guests.

Oliver Scott holds forth behind the piano-down Hurley Bell way. Smooth Oliver manages to follow the melody of just about any old-time song that Hurley Bell patrons can dig-up out of the melodic past! Try him on an "oldie" and see.

Seafare Lodge and Restaurant has entertainment and dancing with Jo Lantz and Bill Skiles. If your Saturday night partying takes you down Laguna way swing into the driveway just south of the town and see what Seafare has to offer.

"Henry is still preparing those fine Louisiana-style dinners and Leo is still entertaining listeners and dancers," is the way Kate Dent sends word from the famous old Balboa Inn Cafe. She adds, "Let's not forget Dick who is my partner in making this a favorite spot for local residents right here on their own ocean front."

Francis Reynolds is in Utah. He is hunting. But hunting for Mexican food isn't too tough a job if you drive out Newport Blvd. in Costa Mesa. You'll find that Francis left his La Posta Restaurant right here for all to enjoy during his absence.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Newport Beach is having a buffet-dance at the American Legion Hall Saturday night. The hall is at 15th St. and West Bay Ave. and guests are invited to costume and mask. Prizes will be awarded for the most of the bestest in Halloween attire. Proceeds will go to aid veteran's programs.

The Port Theatre in Corona del Mar is presenting a full-length feature show at midnight Saturday. It's all in fun and the spook and pumpkin motive will be carried out in every detail.

"Suddenly," "It's a Woman's World!" Don't be alarmed. Those are the respective titles of the movies showing at the Mesa in Costa Mesa and the Lido in Newport Beach.

Association Claims Prop. No. 4 Would Increase Aged Aid

If Prop. No. 4 is not defeated, Orange County next year could expect an addition of some 1,385 people on its aged aid rolls, on top of the 5,669 already on the rolls—and without the influx of oldsters that could be expected to pour in to the county in the hope of getting on its aged aid rolls in the future—California Taxpayers' association predicted today.

Increase averaging about $134,845 a month in aged aid costs could be expected—on top of the $385,347 a month already being paid out in aged aid in the county, it was claimed.

Annual cost of this one kind of aid in the one county could go to $6,482,300—an addition of about $1,858,100 to the $4,624,000 already being paid in the county during the current year to its present aged aid recipients.

A $6,482,300 cost for this one kind of aid would be about 3 percent more than the $6,292,782 which the county levied in property taxes for all county purposes last year, the association pointed out.

Movie Highlights Elks, Boys' Club Halloween Party

A movie, "The Man Who Wouldn't Die" will highlight the Halloween party at Costa Mesa Park Saturday night which is being sponsored by the Newport Harbor BPOE 1767 and the Harbor Area Boys' Club for all boys 8-16 years of age. In addition, the several hundred boys will take part in games, contests and costume judging.

Boys 10 years and younger will take part in the activities from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., and the older boys will mix it up from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Each group will take part in the games, contests and costume judging during the first half of their session. The final hour and a half will be devoted to the movie and refreshments at the Boys' Club.

Contests and games slated for both groups include: pie eating, penny diving, peanut shelling, balloon battle, three-legged race, pop drinking contest, cycling contest, balloon blowing race, bean dip, bean drop and a sack race.

Elks members and senior Boys' Club members will supervise the activity on the baseball field and aid in serving the boys at the Boys' Club. All boys over 8 years of the greater Newport Harbor area may take part in the party. Parents and friends may watch the outdoor part of the show from the grandstands at the park.

Education Course for Instructors Starts Tomorrow

An education course for instructors in adult education methods, offered by the Extension Division of the University of California, will start tomorrow night at Orange Coast College, according to Lin Thomas A. Blakely.

The organization meeting for the class will be held at 7 p.m. in the Administration Building of the college. The class will hold three week-end sessions for a total of 30 hours. Two units of college credit will be awarded by the University of California, it was revealed.

A tuition fee of $6 will be charged. The course units will be accepted for renewal of adult teaching credentials, as well as for credit in obtaining salary increments.

Boys' Club Flag Footballers to Play Huntington This Week

Harbor Boys' Club fourth and fifth grade flag footballers see their first interclub competition this week against Huntington Beach.

Today, they faced a Huntington Beach team during half-time of a lightweight game at the high school and Saturday they return to the Oil City to do battle with a recreation department all star group. The local sixth grade club will also get into action Saturday at Huntington Beach. Lone seventh and eighth grade action this week is at Long Beach Wednesday against John Marshall Junior High.

Intramural play scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday for the various 18 local teams will continue and is a prerequisite for inter club play.

Last Saturday the local seventh and eighth grade group avenged a 6-6 tie the week before at Huntington by scoring a 7-52 win at Huntington. Richard Schlichenmayer scored three touchdowns and three conversions from his halfback spot. Earl Lewis scored a pair of touchdowns from the other half and Pete Featherston added another two while subbing at halfback.

Gary Pickens quarterbacked the team with Terry Bagwell and Fred Barker working at center and Steve Robertson and Richard Steck at ends. The entire squad of 25 players saw action.

In a second game Saturday, the H. B. C. sixth grade team made their 1954 debut by defeating Huntington 61-30. Harrell Vineyard sparked his group to an early lead and Bill Twist carried on the scoring with his unit. A third group played mostly defense as the entire squad of 20 saw action. Vineyard, Twist, Dick Butterworth, John Covault, John Hughes, Mike Patrick, Pasquale Roa, Danny Arnold, Fred McGowan, Ronnie Palaferti and Russ Rapp all looked good for the local club which returns next Saturday for a return game.

Gratitude is much more than verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech.

— Mary Baker Eddy

Davis, Sandra Swift, Bonnie George, Marjorie Knox, Fran Gowen, and Mary Fay, comprise the ticket committee together with chairman Tony Christensen and have the responsibility for placing tickets and posters with local merchants.

Lighting effects will be handled again this year by Lee Moritz. From all indications the 1954 Aqua Show will be a spectacle surpassing all previous efforts in Harbor's beautiful pool. Tickets may be obtained free of charge from most local merchants.

Home Gardening Class Set Nov. 10

A class in home gardening is being added to the adult education offerings at Orange Coast College with the first session to be held Nov. 10, according to Dr. Thomas A. Blakely, Dean of Adult Education.

"The class is designed to provide practical information on planting, the use of insecticides and fertilizers," Dr. Blakely stated. Class meetings will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. each Wednesday evening in room 5 of the library.

The instructor will be Frederick M. Lang, landscape architect from Laguna Beach. Lang is well known for his talks before garden sections of women's club. Students may register in the first meeting of the class.

SMOG IN ORANGE COUNTY—Yes, and how it did show up from a U. S. Naval Patrol Blimp from the Lighter-Than-Air-Base at Santa Ana. Smog, that eye-irritating, nose-burning, dirty brown grey, pollutant of the atmosphere from metropolitan area of Los Angeles has invaded Orange County. The large picture above shot through the pilot's window of the Navy blimp shows an area looking inland from the Upper Bay toward our rim of foothills shows what smog can do. In the lower portion of the picture is a cloud. But blanketing the hills and hanging like a pall over the center area is the brown grey smog. Old Saddleback's highest peak could be seen floating in the upper atmosphere above the smog that piled in against it. (Staff Photo)

Metropolitan Los Angeles Smog Heading Into Orange County Area

By Ben Reddick and Pat Michaels

U. S. NAVAL BLIMP BASE, SANTA ANA (OCNS) — California's greatest asset has turned into Southern California's worst enemy. It is not smoking incinerators, exhaust fumes from automobiles and trucks, nor smoke-spewing factories and refineries that cause the smog. They help, but it's California's "A" number-one tourist attraction, the sun, that does the trick.

And, according to an aerial survey we made Thursday, the sun is soon going to turn Orange County into another smog-covered area that will make the days of smudge pots seem clear by comparison. And, it's going to happen soon!

We learned these facts after boarding a U. S. Naval Reserve training command blimp at the Lighter-Than-Air-Base in Santa Ana. The blimp had been assigned for the day to the Southern California Air Pollution Foundation for smog control research. A studious-looking chemist by the name of M. Ballas told us about smog. He and a bevy of bottles, test tubes and scientific paraphernalia stamped "Truesdail Laboratories" boarded the huge blimp with us.

Our pilot was Lt. Richard Harold of the Naval Reserve training unit at the L. T. A. base. Three other pilots and a crew complement of four also went along.

The mission was designed to allow Ballas to make samples of air over the coastal region and over the downtown Los Angeles Civic Center. Before the huge engines roared and our sausage-like ship lifted into the sky, Lt. Harold told me that the various samples would be taken in each area at altitudes of 500, 1000 and 3000 feet. This, he said, would allow the chemist to evaluate the various layers of polluted air. The chemist then takes his samples back to his laboratory and a study of the contamination is made on the basis of past and future tests of a similar nature.

Ballas pointed out that he was after two kinds of samples at each altitude. One was a sample that would be pulled through a chemical liquid and could show at a glance how much ozone and oxidants were in the air. The other was a "dry" sample that would be sucked into already vacuumed bottles for laboratory testing. The "dry" sample would pick up the oxides of nitrogen.

As our ship lifted into the air,

it right up into Pasadena."

Although it was clear near the Pacific, a few short mile away, in downtown Los Angeles, the polluted air was a thick blanket. Down below us, the Los Angeles grand jury was making plans to hold a hearing Tuesday on the smog problem — and a full million people were wiping their smarting eyes.

We cut in close to the city hall — but it didn't look at all like it does on the "Dragnet" program. The thick mist cloaked the building and unless we were right on top of the structure, it was almost impossible to make it out through the smog.

We circled dizzily over the clover of the downtown freeway, weaving from a mere 60 feet above ground at one time, to 2000 feet in the air. The smog hung from ground level to 2400 feet.

When Ballas had finished taking his samples, we swung out of the dirty air into the clean sweep of the Pacific and headed for home. Thick cumulus clouds hung like a blanket over the beach area now, because it was late afternoon. Down below those clouds, the people of the Orange County coastal area were breathing clean, fresh air. They were lucky.

Up by Saddleback and along the ridges that run to Los Angeles, the misty blanket still clung. "That's your new smog belt," Ballas said again. "It will grow unless we find a way to stop it."

We knew as long as we had organizations like the Naval Reserve training unit which donated the blimp, the air pollution foundation which had supplied the sci-

4 Streets' Names Set by Planners

Resolution of intention was adopted Thursday night by the Newport Beach Planning Commission to name four streets in the city limits. The recommendation was forwarded to City Council which will take final action.

It is proposed to name the existing right-of-way between Balboa Blvd. and blocks 136 and 137 in the River Section Tract between 36th and 38th Sts. Park Lane. A section of county road between Balboa Blvd. at 47th easterly to an intersection with Coast Highway at 52th St. would entists and the people who live in this area working together, a way would be found.

But as we looked at the new smog belt eating its way into the county, we hoped the way would be found soon.

We can't stop the sun, but somehow, we must stop the smog.

Vote NO on proposition 3

PROPOSITION #3 SPELLS DICTATORSHIP!

Vote "no" on Proposition No. 3 on the November ballot.

This proposition is a bad law, hastily contrived in an election year to make political capital. It fails completely to spell out the alcoholic beverage reforms that California urgently needs.

The proposed legislation increases your taxes, without providing any beneficial changes whatever in the control or enforcement of alcoholic beverage laws. It is unsound and undemocratic.

SETS UP DICTATORSHIP!

Proposition No. 3 proposes two major but ill advised departures from current liquor laws: (1) it transfers administration of liquor controls from the elected, autonomous Board of Equalization to a new director, appointed at the pleasure of the Governor, and (2) it provides for the appointment of an unnecessary three-man Alcoholic Beverage Appeals Board, whose function is advisory and without real authority.

Since the Governor can appoint or fire the proposed new director of liquor control at will, Proposition No. 3 gives him more power than any other Governor ever had. Under its provisions the Governor could, if he desired, build himself a powerful and almost impenetrable political machine to maintain himself in office.

WOULD INCREASE TAXES

The proponents of the proposed new law

say it would make for efficiency, but actually it would take away from the voters of the State both the privilege and responsibility of electing the men who shall control State liquor administration in the future.

Creation of the contemplated new State liquor control bureaucracy would increase taxes! Those who advocate passage of the law do not stress this fact.

NEEDS RE-STUDY!

There is no standard set in the proposed law for the qualifications of the Director of Alcoholic Beverage Control. The job could be given by the Governor to any political hack of his choice, regardless of experience, administrative ability or background.

In the last two years considerable to-do has resulted from alleged irregularities in the licensing of liquor establishments. An investigation of this situation was undertaken by the Weinberger Sub-Committee on Alcoholic Beverage Control of the Legislature, and hearings were held.

NO BENEFICIAL CHANGE!

A number of citizens urged revision of the liquor license re-sale provision of the law. Other witnesses testified in favor of "abolishing the farce of food service in bars." Their advice fell on deaf ears. In the end, the Weinberger Sub-Committee in writing Proposition No. 3 failed to include in it any appreciably beneficial change whatever in liquor control laws or their enforcement.

Doring's Windwagon Wins BYC Arbitrary in Roosevelt Series

A turnout of 83 boats in ten classes enjoyed two days of well-nigh perfect sailing weather at Balboa Yacht Club's annual Teddy Roosevelt series last week-end. The somewhat unusual southerly breeze provided courses that were also a change from the ordinary and kept the skippers on their toes checking race charts and markers.

The trophy presentation following Sunday's races saw two repeat winners retain their first place awards. Ruth Haskell of Newport Harbor Yacht Club put her Luder-16, Geranium, out in front of seven competitors to collect 1954 honors. The other repeater was Andy Littlejohn of Cabrillo Beach YC in the Firefly class.

As is customary, the Teddy Roosevelt Perpetual went to the winner of the class with the most entries; in this case, it was S. B. Thomas of Alamitos Bay YC who led the Penguin fleet in his Susie Too.

Final Results were
Arbitrary Handicap—Windwagon, K. L. Doring, BYC; Albatross—Joel John Blach, VYC; Hi Jinx, Charles Donnelly, NHYC; Denfouelle, Ed Garratt, VYC; Rhodes—Josephine VI, Robert Collins, and Whim, Marianne Pearcey, both NHYC; PC—Relax II, George Schmidt, BYC; Over Anxious II, John Griffith, NHYC; Challenger, Jeff Deaver, BYC; Luder-16, Geranium, Ruth Haskell, NHYC; Mercury, Minnow, M. F. Stoughton, BYC; Int. 14—Carousal, Peter Gale, and Fiancee, James Douglas, both BYC; Firefly, Little John, Andy Littlejohn, CBYC; Snowbird—Puddel Jumper, Randy Hill, LVC; Penguin—Susie Too, S. B. Thomas and Ted Matson, Thomas, and Sea Foam, Ted Matson, both, ABYC; Rag Bag, Chuck Manning, CBYC.

Whites Variance Denied by Council

City Council Monday night denied the variance request of Horace M. and Evelyn E. White to resubdivide a lot No. 982 and the northeast ten feet of lot No. 981 in tract No. 907 into two R-1 building sites. Councilmen approved city planning commissioner's recommendation.

The commission said it received a recommendation from the Lido Isle Community Association for denial, claiming the island was too crowded to split lots unless it resulted in upgrading the property.

Ceylon Travelogue Scheduled Nov. 3

Seldom photographed "Ceylon" will be a thrilling treat to devotees of the armchair mode of travel. This gem-like film which appears Wednesday evening at Santa Ana High School Auditorium will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 3. The narration will be by Robert Mallett whose colorful commentary adds to the enjoyment of the Travelogue.

Beckoning palms fringe the exquisite shore-line of Ceylon. Scenes show the various ways the natives fish... and the camera tours through the city of Galle, which was a Dutch metropolis in the 17th Century.

Many nations have left their footprints on this island. There is a visit to Patnapura, the city of gems, where sapphires and topazes and rubies are taken from primitive mines. Another scene reveals the cutting and polishing of a fortune in gems.

For 74th District Assemblyman. Praised by Orange County newspapers, acclaimed by leading citizens for his leadership, integrity, ability and fighting spirit!

Carrick's platform: 1. To enact a program of adequate state parks and recreational facilities for Orange County. 2. To prohibit any oil blight of our coastal area. 3. It's Prosperity Insurance!

Proposition 5 renews a 40-year old law exempting home-owned ships from personal property tax levies that can't be assessed against foreign and out-of-State ships.

California ships could not compete, tax-wise, without this protection, and in many cases would be forced to seek registry in other ports, spending there the many millions of dollars for repairs and provisioning now spent in California.

A healthy shipping industry is vital to California's prosperity. Shipping furnished jobs for 20,000 Californians last year with a payroll of more than 100 million dollars! Every county in every section of the State benefits in terms of wider markets and better prices for products, more business volume, more stability, more job protection.

Everybody favors Proposition 5: the Democratic Party and the Republican Party, the Farm Bureau Federation, the State Federation of Labor, the State Chamber of Commerce, the California Federation of Women's Clubs and scores of other civic, labor, business, women's and patriotic organizations.

Kroll's Poloists Seek First Win Today at OCC

With the teams that were rated 1-2 in conference standings behind them, Coach Joe Kroll's Orange Coast College water poloists will be favored to pick up their first Southern California JC conference win today. Los Angeles City College's natators invade the Costa Mesans' home pool in a 3:30 p.m. tilt, their first contest of the season at home.

Compton College, Southern Cal Invitational Tourney champions, racked seven goals in the final period last Thursday to down the Coast splashers 11-2 in their second conference outing at Compton's Mayo Plunge.

OCC held the Tartars to a narrow 4-1 lead for three periods, but bowed before their hosts' two-platoon system in a game that saw the winners change their entire lineup four times in the final ten minutes of play.

Alan Hodges and Bud Belshe split the Buc scoring honors with a score apiece. For the third straight game, defensive honors went to goalie Jim Horton, who stopped 24 of 35 Compton attempts for a .686 percentage.

Hodges and Bob Ibbotson opened for Coast in the forward spots, Belshe at center forward, Buddy Crane at center back, acting team captain Norm Oldfield and Tim Tunnell at guards and Dick Harrison in the net. Noel Barlow, Horton, Jack Shields and Jerry Thompson made up the remaining playing Pirates.

Pirate Killers Point to Chaffey

SANTA ANA (OCNS) — With a thrilling last-minute victory over Orange Coast College tucked away, Santa Ana College concentrates its attention to preparation for Saturday's homecoming scrap with Chaffey. The OCC game was played in Municipal Bowl.

Trailing 20 to 19 with only 43 seconds to play the alert Dons trapped a Coast punter behind his goal line and then gobbled up his desperation kick for a touchdown and a 25-20 verdict.

Mike Haas dropped into his own end zone to boot. The Dons swarmed through and apparently had Haas dumped for a safety, but the punter managed to get the ball away. It slithered off the side of his foot, however, and End Bob Lacy scooped it up and scampered into the pay-off territory.

It was the fourth victory in seven meetings between the two schools for Santa Ana.

by your Representative in Congress

JAMES B. UTT Says —

"As a member of the Ways and Means Committee, the 1954 Social Security bill came before me. In committee the record will show that I supported ALL of the amendments recommended by the President, with one exception: that of including Farmers and Professional men, which I contend should be included on a voluntary basis, rather than to be compulsory."

"I voted to send the bill to the House floor."

Tar-Fullerton Clash Slated Friday Night

FULLERTON, (OCNS) — In a highly colorful prep series which started in 1939, Fullerton's Indians host the undefeated Newport Harbor Tars Friday in the second Sun-set league game of the 1954 season.

It has been a fantastic series between the two Orange County teams as Fullerton holds the decided edge in the series of 15 games. The Sailors have managed to capture only three games, their last victory coming in 1947, 7-0 when big Bob Berry was running wild up and down the beach.

Last year, the first since that year that the Indians have not scored in double figures on Coach Al Irwin's highly-potent team, Fullerton, guided by Coach Joe Merlo, managed to edge out a 6-0 victory.

Newport opened its current loop campaign with a 42-7 rout of neighbor Huntington Beach. The following night, Fullerton ran over Orange, 25-6.

Highlight of the Indians' contest was the fact that their left halfback, Darrell Roberts, set a new school record with his four touchdowns. It brought his season total up to 11, placing him second in CIF.

Roberts well remembers the Newport Tars, as last year he was Fullerton's No. 1 quarterback. Within the first few minutes of the game, he suffered a broken collar bone and was through for the rest of the season.

This year, he was assigned to left half and has been going wild there ever since. Sophomore Don Box replaces him at the vital quarterback slot.

RECORD TROUT PLANTING

Planting of catchable sized trout by the Department of Fish and Game has closed for the season with an all-time high plant of 5,485,000 fish in California's streams and lakes. This represents a 12 percent increase over the 1953 figure of 4,900,000 catchables. Next year's total is expected to go even higher as more of the big, new hatcheries go into full production. Plans also call for earlier stocking to insure a good supply of trout during the first weeks of the season.

NOW ON DISPLAY HERE

Certain to share the beauty spotlight in Chevrolet's latest line of passenger car models is the Bel Air sport coupe, completely re-styled for 1955. Among noteworthy features in the above view are the broad, low grille and hood lines, appreciably increased vision through the new sweep-eight windshield, and the effect of sleekness imparted by chrome molding strips. This special two-tone color styling will be available on Bel Air sport coupes and convertibles among the 14 models.

Miller Chevrolet Previews '55 Models in First Showing Here

Pronounced mechanical advances plus new riding comfort and a complete re-styling of bodies give Chevrolet for 1955 its most spectacular model announcement. No major part of the car was overlooked in the broadscale improvement program. Driving ease and riding comfort benefit along with the creation of fresh automotive design. The accomplishment, says the company, is possible only because of a thorough job of product re-engineering and the tremendous new plant facilities Chevrolet adds this year.

The 1955 models are on display now at Miller Chevrolet, 1000 W. Coast Highway. From an extraordinary long list of new features the public will notice as particularly outstanding:

1—First automobiles in the low-price field to reflect the "dream car" influence of the General Motors Motoramas. All roofs have been visibly lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and belt lines to accentuate a longer, sleeker appearance. Overall, sedans have been lowered two and one-half inches, station wagons as much as six. At the same time, passenger room has been increased.

2—First V-8 engine offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Profiting by recent research in combustion and manufacturing techniques, the V-8 is unveiled as "far more precisely built and efficient in performance than others in its class." Named the "Turbo-Fire V-8," the V-8 delivers 162 horsepower.

3—Higher horsepower ratings and new quietness and smoothness in two "Blue Flame" sixes. Engines are of the traditional valve-in-head design, which in the last few years has won virtually 100 per cent acceptance by other makes. A 123-horsepower engine is available with the manual gear-shift. The six built exclusively for the Powerglide automatic transmission now develops 136 horsepower.

4—Integrated body and frame design. Chevrolet points out it has been able to obtain close unity with body and frame by engineering components to complement each other. An important reduction in vibration has been effected and weight saved. The frame is more rectangular and twist-resistant. With a scientific repositioning of mounts and utmost application of rubber insulation, the body is isolated from road shocks to an unusual degree.

5—Front and rear suspensions revamped. Added riding comfort and roadability, Chevrolet states, are assured by vastly improved suspensions. At the front, a modern version of the ball-joint design aids car handling and steering as well as comfort. One improvement new to the industry is a control arm geometry that cancels out most of the objectionable "dive" that often accompanies brake stops. The suspension also applies a new and more durable lightweight bearing material while the design decreases lubrication points from 16 to four. Rear suspension improvements include leaf springs nine inches longer to an overall length of 58 inches. For stability, rear spring mounts are outside the frame, after the fashion of the Chevrolet Corvette.

6—Increased safety through greater visibility. Every car window of safety plate glass, front, rear and side—is larger in 1955 Chevrolet bodies. The gain is due largely to the extension of glass over areas that have been "blind spots" since the early days of the automobile. Increase in visibility through the sweep-eight windshield alone is 19 per cent. As another example of the improvement, glass area in four-door sedans totals an amazing 24.5 square feet.

7—Optional overdrive. An overdrive installation will be offered for the first time. Engine speed reduction of more than 20 per cent is accomplished by the overdrive which automatically cuts in when the foot is lifted off the accelerator above 31 miles an hour. Operating economy is better while reduced engine revolutions also give smoother, quieter performance. Less clutch operation in city driving is still another advantage. Optional overdrive brings to six the number of "power packages" available on each of 14 Chevrolet passenger car models.

8—More electrical power. A 12-volt electrical system will furnish ample reserve power for the ever-growing demands of accessories. The system is standard on both sixes and V-8s, assuring increased generator efficiency and higher starting motor speeds. Another safety feature is a dual circuit breaker. A short circuit or overload will as a consequence not entirely disable the system.

9—"Dry Air" ventilation. This feature involves an arched plenum chamber that channels fresh air from a slotted cowl vent. Drainage from the chamber prevents any water from reaching passengers, even in rainiest weather. Cowl-installed and extended to the frame on each side, the plenum chamber acts as a structural brace as well. In addition, it is a perfect adjunct to an all-weather air-conditioner which Chevrolet introduces this year as optional equipment.

10—Tubeless tires for increased safety. The casing remains the same, but instead of an inner tube interior surfaces are coated with a butyl "skin" for sealing. Blow-outs are resisted and deflation slower with punctures.

11—Smoother application. The torque tube drive is replaced by a hotchkiss drive to deliver power more smoothly to the rear wheels and to provide a "flatter" ride in combination with the longer springs. According to engineers the "work-out" of a new axle, springs and drive line, together with new engine mounts achieve a velvet-like transmission of power.

12—Easier steering. From power steering, an improved version of which is available on 1955 cars, Chevrolet has adopted the recirculating ball-nut gear and combined it with a relay type of linkage that increases smoothness and reduces driver effort. A more rigid wheel coupling and ~~inter~~ geometry is also claimed.

Most distinguishing mark of the new Chevrolet bodies is their low-slung silhouette and vertical windshield pillars. Broad, flat hood and trunk lids are approximately three and one-half inches lower than last year while the high, straight crown of the fenders enhances an impression of sleekness and agility. The design gives the cars the appearance of much greater length although wheelbases remain unchanged.

'Everlasting Punishment' is Theme

The necessity of overcoming sin in order to escape its penalties is a leading point to be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" includes the parable of the prodigal son from Luke's Gospel. After warning "his substance with riotous living" in suffering and humility he returned to serve in his father's house. "But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him and had compassion and ran and fell on his neck and kissed him." And he said, "Let us eat and be merry. For this my son was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found." (Luke 15:13, 20, 23, 24).

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "When mortals once admit that evil confers no pleasure, they turn from it." "This conviction, that there is no real pleasure in sin, is one of the most important points in the theology of Christian Science."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (130:7): "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord is mercy, and with him is plentiful redemption."

G. W. BASSETT TO MANAGE "MESSIAH" PRESENTATION

G. Willard Bassett of the United Presbyterian Church of Santa Ana today was named as manager of the Orange County area for the greatest sacred mass sing of its kind in the world—the eighth annual performance of Handel's Messiah, Sunday, Dec. 5 at 4 p.m. This year's rendition—to usher in the Christmas season—will be sung concurrently by choirs from more than 900 Protestant churches in 60 areas throughout the Southern California area. More than 10,000 voices will participate in the concert according to Dr. Bachlund, music director of the Southern California Council of Protestant Churches and the Church Federation of Los Angeles.

Advance preparations for the sing are now in completion—area managers have been selected and auditions have been completed. Some groups are already in rehearsal for the sing using specifically Part 1 of the Hallelujah Chorus of Handel's Messiah.

Dr. Bachlund also reported that the soloists and directors for the local performance will be announced in the near future.

Why

do we have "formal" worship?

We don't think of our worship services and customs in the Episcopal Church as necessarily "formal," for we realize that if all are to participate in worship together it is necessary that we follow a plan. More than three-fourths of all the Christians throughout the world worship according to a pattern.

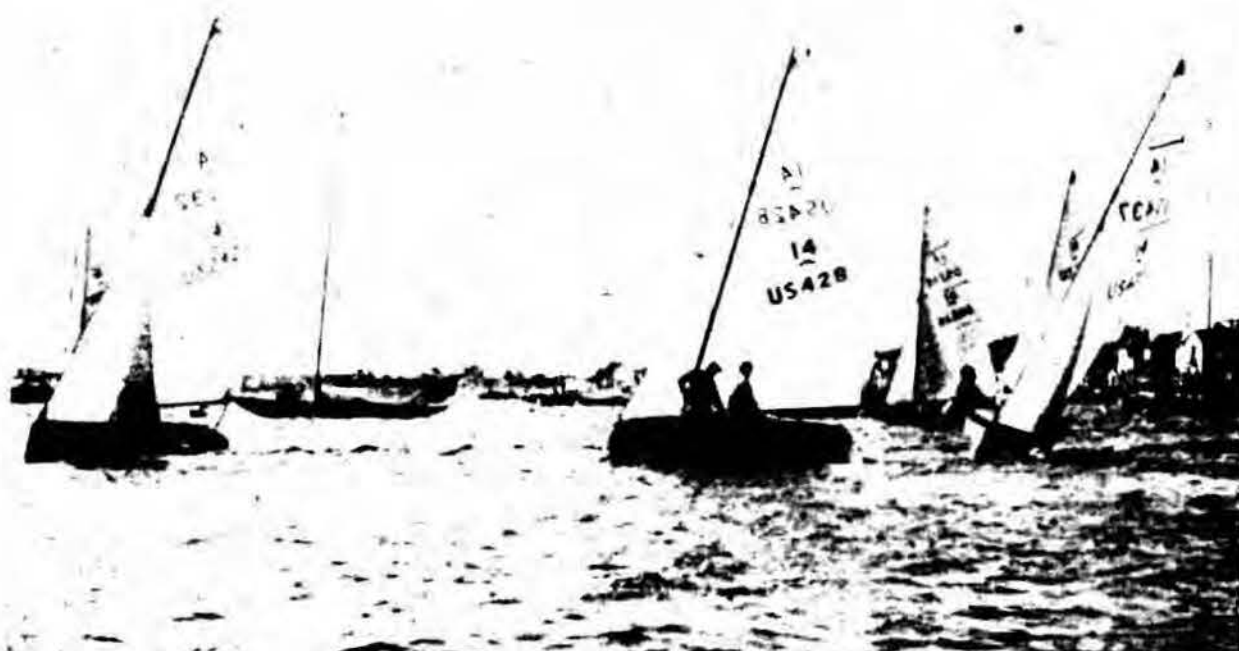

We look upon our services as having great dignity and reverence, so arranged that instead of our sitting back and taking no part in the service, we can join with our minister and our fellow-worshippers in an outpouring of praise and thanksgiving to God for His goodness and mercy to us. The Episcopal Church is "altar-centered." Worship is primary. All else—preaching, music, singing, hearing the Bible read, important though they be, are secondary to the praise and worship of Almighty God on Sundays.

If this is what worship of God means to you, we invite you to join us, today, in actively worshipping God in the Episcopal Church near you. Share with us this benediction of "the Peace that passeth all understanding."

Parkers Speak at Riverside

The Horace Parkers of 217 Riverside Mission Inn and showed 22 watercolors of Indian chapels before the Riverside Pioneer Historical Society.

The chapels are located in Riverside and San Diego counties. The paintings were made by Mrs. Parker under the name of LaVerne. The chapels are on the Indian reservations of the two counties.

In attendance at the society meeting were Dr. A. G. Paul, former president of Riverside Junior College when Parker was in attendance and Mrs. Frank Miller, widow of the founder of the Mission Inn.

The watercolors were made during the Parkers' recent trip through the area. The majority of the chapels are inaccessible to the general public, but the Parkers gained permission to view them from tribesmen.

The paintings were shown recently in the Newport Beach library and Orange County Fair. They will be shown to the San Diego Historical Society on Dec. 1. The Riverside campus of the University of California will hang the pictures in the school library at a date to be announced later.

BRUN-BEAR BATTLE

Rolling along at an amazing clip of 44.7 points a game in posting six straight victories, UCLA's football Bruins expect to run into much stiffer competition this Saturday afternoon when they battle Paul Larson and the California Bears in a Pacific Coast Conference "biggie" at Berkeley. Pappy Waldorf's Bears, who lost a heart-breaking 29-27 thriller to SC last week, figure to push the nationally-acclaimed Bruins, rated by many experts as the finest team Red Sanders has ever had at UCLA, to the limit.

THE NAME PRIDE N' JOY came to life Saturday for these two young Mesans, boy and girl winners of grand prizes given away to the lucky youngster who registered at the new children's clothing store opened Oct. 15 on Harbor Blvd. Pretty little Lynn Yates, 2, 372 Ramona Way, delightfully hugs her new doll, almost as big as she is. Her grandmother, Mrs. Mamie K. Fick, 358 W.

19th St., signed the registry for Lynn. Fred Garcia, 10, 385 Victoria, could scarcely believe his luck when he was told he won the new bike pictured here with him. His brother, Bill, a high school student, signed for Fred, a fourth grader at Main School. Al and Lorraine Hadley are owners of Pride N' Joy. (Staff Photo)

BELL STRIKES POLE
To avoid an on-coming car which he told police was driving toward him in his lane on Coast Highway at Orange Ave. Saturday, Lorren A. Bell, 19, of 1610 First Ave., said he swerved right and crashed into a city street sign and scraped a telephone pole. Bell was treated for small lacerations to the left side of his head.

CONFISCATE PISTOL
A .32 calibre automatic pistol was confiscated by Mesa police on Oct. 19 after complaint about shooting from neighbors in the 23rd St. and Irvine Ave. area. Clifford French, 18, 309 Monte Vista St., told police that he was practicing shooting.
