The regular meeting of the Orange County Bird Club will be held in Room A1, Santa Ana College at 7:30 p. m. Jan. 14. Mrs. Nell Murbarger will present slides on Utah, showing views from the national parks and monuments and the scenic desert areas. Mrs. Murbarger is a resident of Costa Mesa. ern American history and determined to make its recording her life career. As a result of this decision, she has traveled 250,000 miles in the past 20 years in the territory west of the Rocky Mountains. She has written more than 1000 articles which have been published in 125 different periodicals, such as Desert Magazine and Nature Magazine. Many top honors have been awarded her material by both the California and National Associations for Travel Women. SEALARKING

By GINNY (MRS. EDWARD LESTER) SMITH

ABOARD TYPEE, LIDO ISLE: Always good to be home after a vacation, and Lido Isle and Newport Beach still hold a charm hard to beat, even after Honolulu's glorious warm winter weather, dreamy Waikiki beach, and Hawaiian Hospitality.

HAWAIIAN hospitality spurs to its highest peak when the Lurline arrived in Honolulu the day after Christmas and many more Southern Californians joined the gay festivities.

KATHERYN AND ROSS CASTENDYCK and their two attractive daughters, Jeanne and Cheryl, sailed in aboard the Matson liner for a holiday stay at the lovely Halekulani Hotel at Waikiki Beach near the Royal Hawaiian... they were, of course, widely entertained and among the parties given for them was an aloha party at the lovely ocean front apartment of Mrs. Anita Walton Belding... co-hostess was Mrs. Belding's houseguest, Mrs. Valentine Green... later the Castendycks entertained with a cocktail party for 60 friends the night before they flew back to their Lido Isle home... hear that they love the islands so much that they would like to have a winter home there...

HAWAIIAN VILLAGE, Kaseer's new Honolulu hotel, is fabulous... a must on your Honolulu trip... It is Hawaiian modern and features four swimming pools, a garden fairyland surrounding tropical-modern two-story lanai-suites (four 22-story buildings to come later, one almost finished)... a filtered lagoon... pink catamarans, and the most lush tropical Tapa Room nightclub where Alfred Apaka sings nightly... and he is even more terrific than his press notices make out. Our host Bob Herrick, clever P.R. for the exotic Village, produced a Christmas Eve Pageant that rivaled any Hollywood or Broadway production.

HONOLULU MEMORIES: Aloha party given by the Howard Dennells in the Banyan Court at the Moana... Helen and Jack Kenaston's farewell surprise for us at the Royal Hawaiian where they had kava bowls awaiting us (pineapple juice with rum... sugar cane sticks, floating orchids)... New Year's Eve aboard the S.S. President Wilson enroute to San Francisco... ALOHA AND HOME.

SYMPOSIUM FOR YOUTH, under the banner of the Orange County Philharmonic Society, will give two Valentine Concerts, Feb. 16... at Orange Coast.

Next Thursday, Jan. 17, the committee in charge will honor Frieda Belinfante at a 10 a.m. coffee at the Newport Harbor Yacht Club at which time the purpose of the free concerts will be explained... and Mrs. William Clark will be happy to accept any contributions for the fund which at this time needs a little boost...

DON'T FORGET the First Annual Southern California Boat Show which starts today at Shrine Exposition Hall in Los Angeles and runs through Jan. 20... be sure and catch the Earl McDaniel KPOP dance at Balboa's Rendezvous Ballroom Saturday this night... PAU.

For the past several years Mrs. Hamby has accompanied her husband to many parts of the world where he has been an engineer on construction jobs. She plans to leave for Paris in March to join her husband who is now supervising construction of a large dam.

MASTER'S DEGREE

22 Busy Years for Harbor Girl

Mrs. Laurence E. (Iris Higbie) Wilson, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Clarence Higbie, has signed her first teaching contract for next semester at El Rancho High School, Whittier. She will teach world history, senior English and beginning Spanish. For the past semester she has been student-teaching in history and senior problems at Huntington Beach High School.

Mrs. Wilson, who observed her 22nd birthday Jan. 9, will receive her master's degree in history from USC by the spring, expects to continue studying for a doctorate in philosophy and to continue in the teaching profession at the college level.

Her thesis for her master's degree concerns the life of William Wolfkill, remembered for having California's first commercial...

cial orange grove and for having founded the first public school in Los Angeles.

The former Miss Higbie was an honor student at Newport Harbor High School, was valedictorian of her class at Orange Coast College and was graduated from University of Southern California, cum laude. Her husband, Laurence Wilson, is a fourth generation Californian. Equally interested in history, he has assisted in the tedious research which must be done to obtain a master's degree. Philosophically inclined he has written many articles which he hopes to publish.

According to Mrs. Wilson, it is almost a necessity that a teacher be married these days in order to provide all the answers necessary to aid senior high school students in planning their futures. For herself, she may draw from a business background that includes part-time legal secretary, bookkeeper, accountant and as teaching assistant at USC.

Dalton Family Home from Mexico Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dalton, with Kathy and Charlotte, Colleen Place, Costa Mesa, have returned from a three weeks visit in Mexico. The trip was made in their Volkswagen to which Mr. Dalton has added a camping unit. Their route, took them down through Guaymas, Mazatlan, Guadalupe, Tepic and Mexico City. From there they went to Texaco and Cuernavaca, and returned by the Pan American Highway entering the U. S. at Laredo.

At Cuernavaca they visited the international training center for the Girl Scouts in the Western Hemisphere. This is called Our Cabana and is similar to The Chalet in Switzerland. Texaco is an art center and reminded them of Laguna Beach. Its silver craft is also a thriving business.

Christmas Eve was spent at the Maria Cristina in Mexico City and on Christmas Day they attended the cathedral there. Another highlight of the trip was the visit to the National Museum where they saw priceless relics and craftsmanship of the ancient Toltec, Aztec and Maya Indians. They were especially fortunate to see the tomb of an Aztec chief which had just been opened to the public.

RANDOLPH A. HEARST, Pres. Hearst Publishing Co., in Modesto address—"Any successful effort to curtail a free press will spell the end of freedom because an uninformed public has no means of protecting itself."

PTA to Hear Psychologist

Orval Wigger, assistant head psychologist of Pepperdine College, will be the featured speaker at the next Orange Coast Harbor School PTA meeting to be held Monday, Jan. 14, at 7 p.m. Everyone is urged to attend as the speaker is witty and intelligent and anyone interested in child psychology will enjoy his talk, according to Mrs. Patricia Ogle, president. The subject of his lecture will be mental hygiene for the family of the school child.

Dr. Wigger has had a unique career starting as a business man and later becoming a high school teacher before entering the field of psychology. He received his M.A. at Pepperdine College and is now working for his doctorate at USC. Those who heard Mr. Shostrom speak last year, will be interested to know that Wigger is an associate of his.

Beck, 800 Cliff Drive and Rodney, "Kim" Schleicher, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schleicher of Pasadena and Laguna Beach, exchanged rings and vows before the Rev. Stephen Kiley.

Betty, as she is known to her friends, was given in keeping by her father. She wore a white embroidered lace sheath with matching duster and a shoulder length veil confined by a seed pearl bandeau. Her bouquet was a shower arrangement of white butterfly orchids.

SISTERS ATTEND

Attendants were the groom's sisters, Miss Wendy Schleicher as maid of honor, wearing silver green tissue taffeta and Miss Teddy Schleicher as bridesmaid, gowned in pale pink. Each carried a spray of pink carnations.

William Beck, brother of the bride, was best man and guests were ushered by a second brother, John Beck, and by Patrick Heilmholz, cousin of the bride.

Also in the entourage was Barbara Beck, four year-old sister of the bride, whose costume was complemented with a fur hat and tiny fur muff on which were pink rosettes.

For her daughter's nuptials

Mrs. Beck wore a navy blue silk suit with small hat, white accessories and white orchid corsage. Mrs. Schleicher also pinned a white orchid to her emerald green gown.

Festivities and holiday greenery adorned the church and Mrs. Soncion Gee was organist. Only a few close friends and members of the immediate families were present for the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding brunch at the Balboa Bay Club for the families.

1956 DEBUTANTE

The former Miss Beck wore a wine color suit with black accessories for the wedding trip, and the center corsage from her bridal bouquet. She was graduated from the Dominican Convent in San Rafael, attended Marymount College and University of Southern California where she pledged Delta Gamma sorority. She was a 1955 debutante at the Children's Home Society Ball.

Mr. Schleicher was graduated from John Muir High School, attended USC and is now a student at University of California, Berkeley campus, where he is affiliated with Psi Upsilon fraternity.

The couple honeymooned at Santa Barbara, Carmel and Monterey, are now established in Berkeley.

CHAFFEY BUC Foe Tonight

Coch Bill Egan feels a let down after the Fullerton game as Orange Coast hosts Chaffey tonight at 8 p.m. in the OCC gym in the third Eastern Conference outing of the year.

The Buc coaches, still very much in the Eastern Conference race, will go with the usual starting combine with Dennis Fitzpatrick and Roger Gerish at guards, Juddy Young at center and Jim Embree and Bill Wetzel at forwards.

The Pirates' Bob Chapman will see early action as will Ted Coutts who looked so good in the last half for the locals in the Fullerton game.

Irwin Aqua Aces Prepare For Season

All Irwin's Orange Coast College swimmers today concluded third week of preparation for the 1957 tank season which opens at Fullerton Thursday, Feb. 7.

Irwin prophesied it would take awhile to build the Pirates into championship contenders but with material coming out of Newport Harbor and Huntington Beach as well as the free area schools, top tank teams are not out of the question.

Russ Murphy, Max Bowman, Terry McGuire, Bob Patterson, Craig Koch and Paul Breithaupt are being counted on heavily this year and others may report soon. Divers on hand include Tom Jones and Dave Andrews.

Pirate slate:
Feb. 7 at Fullerton.

Orange Game Titanic for Tars Tonight

Newport Harbor Sailor varsity basketballers face Orange High, winners of 14 of 16 games, tonight at Orange in the biggest hurdle so far to their second Sunset League championship. The game, slated for 8 p.m., is expected to be one of the top attractions in Southern California prepdom with a very important leg on the championship trophy at stake. Coach Jules Gage feels his Newport Harbor club can take the Panthers if they play as they did Tuesday against Anaheim.

Chances are that the Tars will open with Ed Pope, Jerry Kemper, Gary Green, Tom Houston and John Henrotin. Pope and Green so far have carried the burden of the Tar attack but Gage feels his offense is starting to jell over all.

The town of Orange is virtually closing up shop for tonight's game. The fans know they have a winner and are out to back them to the hilt. Coach Bill Frantz' club is led by a trio of bucketeers with Ken Purcell and Bob Day both near the 200 points scored in 16 games.

The Panthers are anxious to rack up a major Sunset League championship in their last year in the league and have the best opportunity in the wide open basketball race.

City College at Mt. SAC; 12 - UCLA, OCC at Fullerton; 17-19 - Eastern Conference swimming championships; 25-27 - Southern California Swimming championships for Junior Colleges at Bakersfield.
May 2-4 - State JC championships at Bakersfield.

PIRATES STILL IN RACE FOR CONFERENCE CROWN

Although defeated by Fullerton in Tuesday night's crucial basketball game at Orange Coast College, the Pirates are not out of the race by any means. The locals have a return game with Fullerton later in the season and the Hornets stand a good chance of being knocked off by one of the loop's weak sisters.

Most fans termed the last half as one of the finest games ever seen at OCC from a spectator standpoint. Bob Chapman made two straight set shots from 20 feet out for a 40-35 Coast lead.

Bobby Dye came back with a pair of free shots for a 40-37 game. French made a free throw 40-38. Pimm made a charity and missed one 40-39. Jim Embree made a pair for Coast 42-38. Dennis Fitzpatrick added two more free shots 44-39. Pimm made a jump shot from 80 feet out and Fitzpatrick fouled him. Pimm made the free shot 44-43. Embree made a jump shot 46-43. Mike Beach made a pair of free shots 46-45. Young made a jump lay in under the basket 48-45. Pimm made a 15 foot jump shot 48-47. Heynen made a short jump under the basket to put the Hornets ahead for the first time 49-48 as the quarter ended.

BACK IN FRONT

Embree put the Pirates back in front 50-49 with a tip in and Fitzpatrick lengthened the lead 52-49 with a drive in. Dye dribbled the length of the court for a lay in 52-51. Embree made another tip in 54-51 before being taken from the game. Fitzpatrick again drove around the corner for a lay in 56-51. Pimm made a free shot 56-52. Heynen made a jump 56-54. Young dumped a pair of free shots 58-54. Pimm made a jump shot and two free shots to knot the score at 58-58. Pimm again hit a free shot for a 59-58 Fullerton lead. Chapman tipped one in to give the lead back to Coast 60-59 but Pimm put Fullerton on top 61-60 with another jump. Young made a jump for a 62-61 Coast lead. Beach scored two free shots to edge Fullerton in front 63-62. Pimm then stepped to the line to give the Hornets a 65-62 lead. Young drew a pair of free tosses and converted the 65-64 and then Wetzel drew a pair which he made for a 66-63 Coast lead with 55 seconds. Dye was fouled and made his first shot to tie the count with 50 seconds. He missed his second and Fullerton gained possession of the ball. They elected to stall for the remaining portion of the game and set Pimm up with a jump shot behind the free shot circle with three seconds. The ball bounced off the rim and the regulation game ended 66-66.

COUTTS CONNECTS

When the Pirates took the floor for the first overtime, Coutts drove in to make it 69-66. Heynen made a lay in 68-68. Young made a lay in 70-68 Coast. Pimm jumped and hit 70-70. Young jumped again 73-70. Dye drove through for two 73-72. Beach took a screen from Pimm and scored on a fadeaway jump at the side for a 74-72 Fullerton lead but Wetzel tipped one in just as the time ended for a 74-74 deadlock of the extra time.

Coutts took the jump at center and drove all the way for the first point to start the second overtime period 76-74. Dye made a jump 76-76. Young came through on a jump 78-76 Coast and then added another for an 80-76 lead with one minute and 33 seconds remaining. Dye made two free shots 80-78. Heynen made a free shot 80-79 and missed his second one. Dye made a jump shot to put Fullerton in front 81-80. Bidnick made a jump to give Coast a lead of 82-81 and Coast got the ball with only seven seconds remaining. Bidnick got the ball near his basket and tried what appeared to be a simple set shot. Dye took the rebound and spun into Coutts and was awarded two free shots. The clock showed no time but the timer stated there actually was one second remaining when the official blew his whistle. Had the foul occurred after the time had elapsed the foul would have been treated as a technical and only one free shot allowed.

To single out a star - it would have to be Young for the Pirates and Pimm and Dye for the Hornets. Pimm was co-player of the year in CIF bas-

Fitzpatrick did a good Pimm had fouled out early in the fourth period.

Athlete of Year Honors Heaped on Mickey Flynn

Flynn won the honor last year and this time was picked over six other outstanding competitors.

Mickey, considered by many to be on equal footing with Glenn Davis as the top runner ever produced by the CIF, was instrumental in Anaheim's drive to a co-championship with Downey in the Central Group.

Flynn scored 22 TDs on the season. He racked up 1366 net yards. His per carry average in spite of an injured ankle was more than 13 yards.

The swift, elusive back was tabbed as Co-Player of the Year in the CIF along with Downey's Randy Meadows. Flynn won the accolade outright in 1955.

Mickey is an inspirational player. A team man all the way, got two.

POWER SQUADRON SET FOR SPRING COURSE

Newport Harbor Yacht Club Is Site for Boating Instruction

By MRS. G. N. PEASE
Balboa Power Squadron's spring course in Piloting and Small Boat Handling will begin Monday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p.m., and will be held at Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

This course, given twice yearly, is for men and women who are interested in learning the basic principles of safe and competent boating. The course is free of charge and continues for 15 weeks, meeting weekly. It is concluded with an examination, which is optional, but which must be passed by men who wish to become eligible for membership in the Squadron, and by women who wish to go on to take advanced courses.

Commander Jim Edwards and Piloting Chairman John B. Kingsley, are announcing the names of volunteer instructors, drawn from Squadron membership and chosen for particular skill in teaching the several subjects.

COURSE PROGRAM

The course program is as follows: Safety Afloat, Ray Donald; Government Regulations and Equipment and Lights, John B. Kingsley and Jack Swart; Rules of the Road Afloat, Lee Mc Colloch; Sail Boats, Special Rules and Tacks, Rex Brandt; Seamanship, Bruce McRae; Boat Handling, Docking, Anchoring etc., Bob Scofield; Emergency Boat Repair Afloat, Ray Donald; The Mariner's Compass and The Compass and Navigation, Commander Jim Edwards; Aids to Navigation, Elmer La Lanne; Charts and Piloting, and Actual Chart Problems, Bernard Palm; Manners and Customs Afloat, Jim Edwards.

The course concludes with three reviews. There are weekly question sheets for students and every assistance is provided through a group of proctors and by the instructors, so that the course is understandable to all. The course is especially necessary for those new to boats, and has been found to be very useful to those with many years of experience.

BE ON HAND

There is no advanced enrollment. It is just necessary to be on hand for the enrollment night, Monday, Jan. 21 at 7:30. The course is based on safety and seamanship with boats, and is interesting and useful to power and sail boat owners alike, as well as to those who do not own boats, but who go aboard boats from time to time, and also is appreciated by those who just wish to learn about boating.

Balboa Squadron's Piloting course and advanced courses, the latter only open to members, become more and more timely in this area, as the thousands of new boat owners come pouring in to this harbor. Matters of safety and ability will increase with extra numbers.

From the list of those who passed the fall Piloting course, 100 men have, to date, accepted the Squadron's invitation to membership and 53 women have requested the Women Pilot's Certificate, entitling them to take advanced courses. Nearly 100 of the new Pilots, men and women, have signified their intention of enrolling in new courses to begin this month in Weather, Engine Maintenance and Seamanship. With the addition of old members to this list for the spring class enrollment, close to 200 will be taking advantage of the opportunity to continue learning marine subjects.

NEW MEMBERS

Among those who will be on the list of new members swelling the Balboa Squadron's membership to well over 500, will be the following men from the Harbor Area: From Newport Beach new members are: Leonard Baltzer, Walter Bjornby, Alva Davis, Robert Goosen, Vernon Anderson, Laurence Booth, Philip Frostefer, David Martin, Harold Robertson, Carter Clark, Merle Elden, Jack Hart; Robert Osborne, Edward J. Power, Robert Ewing, Michael O'Brien, Stanley Betz, Fred Cole, Laurence Le Baron, John Kingsley Jr., William Morris, Arthur Davis, Morris Selva, Vernon Littlejohn, Fred Wycokoff, James Lawrence, William Rubottom, Carl Ellissen, Edward Gardner, Joseph Owens, Rolf Rosset, Randall Geddes, John Feeny, Ray Dike, Raymond Parkhurst, Porter Sinclair, Harry Carr, Philip Carlson, Irving Laby, Raymond Rosebach and Robert Reed. From Costa Mesa: Donald Robinson, Jerome Robinson, Walter Hartel, Joseph McGlasson and Oliver Robinson.

Other Newporters are: Edward Weber, George Matzner, Jack Spedbury, Malcolm Coston, Carl Miller Jr., Charles Lee, Ralph Wall and Jack Mullen. In addition to these are new members from practically every town in the county and from other areas outside the county. The names of subsequent new members and of the new women Pilots will be published here later.

VIA JERO SURVIVES 3 SEA BLAZES

The 11-ft. fishing vessel Via Jero captained by Irvine Chaffee of 434 San Bernardino Ave., was today moored at Marine Service, 2037 Coast Highway, for repairs after its 23 passengers and crew members had successfully fought and subdued three fires at sea.

Since the craft is a boat for hire, the fires will be investigated by the Merchant Marine Investigating Officer of the Coast Guard.

Via Jero entered Newport Harbor at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday while a Newport Harbor Coast Guard cutter and an aircraft were conducting a search for the distressed vessel five miles off Catalina Island. After reporting the battling of three fires aboard, Via Jero reported it was low on fuel at 2:53 a.m. Wednesday.

Original call from the craft was received by the Coast Guard at 8:44 p.m. Tuesday. A fire in the engine room was reported as being under control with no assistance required. Cause of the blaze was reported as an overheated stack. No injuries were reported as result of the successive fires.

Owner of the vessel, estimated at $75,000, was reported by the Coast Guard as George Rabinoff of Los Angeles.

LADY ANGLERS

By STELL (Mrs. Ray) MARSHALL

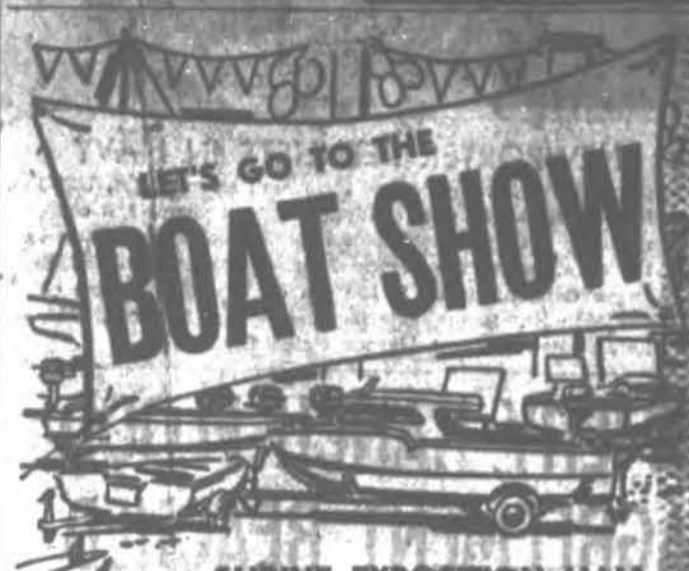

The New Year is almost two weeks old and still there is a lingering feeling of nostalgia of the good things that have passed. But changes must be made and a New Year undeniably brings about just that. Tomorrow holds a promise of new and worthwhile work to accomplish. It holds friendships to cherish and always things to learn.

We pause to note with gratitude, all the pleasures connected with our Angling Club for 1956. Another chapter is brought to close in the history of a great club. Under the leadership of Mrs. Hub (Doris) Powers, retiring president, this past year has been a most successful one—a record of valor.

Friday, Jan. 7 the new directors held their first meeting in the Holiday Room at the Villa Marina, went into a huddle and elected their officers for 1957 and chairmanships were appointed. The new officers are as follows: Mrs. Bill (Mary Belle) Tobias, president; Mrs. Jim (Alice) Simons, vice president; Mrs. Fred (Mary Jo) Landowne, secretary; Mrs. Ross (Dick) Greeley, treasurer; Board of Directors: Mrs. Hub (Doris) Powers, parliamentarian and charter chairman; Mrs. Bill (Pauline) Tallman, trophy chairman; Mrs. Howard (Mary Etta) Smith, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Andy (Phoebe) Andresen, membership chairman; Mrs. Olin (Mary) Smith, hostess and Year

NEW NAME

Lehman-12 No Longer Official!

By NEAL BECKNER
The Corinthian Twelve is the official name which has been selected for that very popular 12-foot molded fiberglass racing dinghy formerly known as the Lehman-12. During a recent meeting of the class racing association it was voted to make this change to give the rapidly growing fleet a bit more distinction and to eliminate confusion with its internationally famous "little brother," the 10-foot Lehman Interclub dinghy.

BOAT SHOW IN LOS ANGELES OPENS TODAY

Opening at 2 p. m. today in the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, was the Boat Show, sponsored by the Southern California Marine Council, representing the boating industry as a whole.

The show will remain open from 2 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. daily through Sunday, Jan. 20.

Exhibits from Newport Harbor include those of the Ackerman Boat Works, of 225 21st St. and South Coast Company, 2112 Newport Blvd.

Voyage Talk

John Johnson of Australia told of his Pacific voyage aboard the cutter Eolo before the Anglers Friday Luncheon Club in Newport Harbor Yacht Club this afternoon.

tenance is reduced to a minimum, the colors are molded in, they are impervious to marine growth and rot; and they are practically indestructible. This 12-footer is just enough larger and beamier than the 10-foot Interclub that it provides ample room for two full sized adults to race handily and yet it is not too large for a couple of "small fry" to handle with ease and safety.

It is expected there will be increasing numbers of the Corinthian class turning out in the coming racing season, not only in regattas scheduled by the Newport Harbor YC but in many events sponsored by the other clubs in the area.

EDITORIALS

Boating Safety Lies In Educating Our Sailors

Once again the News-Press would like to urge all persons who participate in boating in the Harbor area, whether as owners or casual weekend sailors, to take advantage of the free course offered by the Balboa Power Squadron. We particularly mention the Power Squadron course at this time because that organization's spring classes in Piloting and Small Boat Handling begin Jan. 21, continuing for 15 weeks. We also recommend the boating instruction classes conducted during the year by the Coast Guard Auxiliary — or any other boating instructions which bring about the study of maritime rules and regulations and safety measures necessary to properly operate a boat, whether power or sail.

This paper further believes that, unless a sufficient number of those who handle small boats in our pleasure harbor and other pleasure ports throughout the Nation take advantage of such courses as these offered by the Power Squadron and the Coast Guard Auxiliary, more stringent regulations will have to be taken. We would not like to see this, for that would mean more governmental control of boating, such as a driver's license system for operation of small power boats, broader registration for motorized craft, a traffic court system for dealing with persons cited for violations of maritime regulations and prevention by the Coast Guard of small boats putting to sea whenever unsafe conditions are determined.

The point is, at least these actions would force a study of maritime regulations and boating safety measures. It would tend to eliminate the casual taking to sea of weekend boaters and visitors to the harbor areas, endangering their lives and those of others through simple ignorance of everyday safety measures known and practiced by the experienced, trained sailor.

The News-Press takes this attitude because of the Harbor accidents which mar our history. A half-million dollar suit is still going through court involving a girl who lost her left arm in 1954 when struck by a speed boat after the speed boat had collided with an outboard and came into the victim in Upper Bay. During this past summer, several boat explosions occurred here and a tragedy which took the lives of three men and apparently a woman was the result of an attempted outboard trip to Catalina under poor weather conditions.

Personal education on boating skills and crafts would appear the only method of preventing more stringent governmental regulations going into effect. That is why the News-Press urges every man and woman in the Harbor area who is interested in boating and who has not yet taken advantage of a sound training course in the subject, to take advantage of this new Power Squadron offering.

So lax has been education and enforcement that the Orange County Assessor's Office reports many small boat owners have been unaware of the State law and County Ordinance adopted in 1959 which requires registration of all boats with failure to register ownership being a misdemeanor. A program of enforcement now has been worked out by the Harbor Master's Office and the County Assessor's Office. Current registration reported on boats of all sizes moored, docked or anchored here is 7500 with assessed value of the boats set at more than $7 million. Emphasizing the need for maritime education of everyone handling a boat in Newport Harbor is the fact that the number of boats here is almost double that of three years ago.

We applaud the hundreds of persons who have recognized their boating responsibility to themselves and others and have taken advantage of these boating courses, such as that offered by the Power Squadron. We urge the hundreds of other persons interested in boating here to follow their lead. Let's emphasize the "pleasure" in this, the greatest small boat harbor in the world, by eliminating tragedy from our waters.

CAPITOL NEWS

SACRAMENTO, — (CNS) — Several problems concerning oil are scheduled to be discussed at the current session of the legislature, and apparently, the problems are so many and varied that Governor Goodwin J. Knight would like to skip the issue. He proposes to turn over to a "special commission" if the legislature is willing to go along with the idea.

In his message to the legislature, the governor called attention to the fact that Proposition No. 4, the utilization constitutional amendment which some claimed was a conservation measure, and others a monopoly measure, was defeated by the people.

During the campaign, there were many statements to the effect that if a conservation bill is needed in California, it should be presented to the legislature.

SOME EFFECT
Apparently, the statements are having some effect, as Assemblyman Joseph Shell, Los Angeles County, co-author of the oil measure under which the state now works, said he expects a dozen or more conservation bills, some of which will contain provision for the utilization of oil fields owned by the independent oil companies. Shell himself will have two bills on the subject.

The issues, which are highly technical, now appear to be boiled down to two major questions. Shall the state require a unitization program in the interests of conservation? Shall the laws relating to revenues from state-owned tidelands be changed to provide a greater revenue for the people?

On the unitization program, the people already have said "NO" in a very definite manner, in fact, about three to one. The argument before the legislature, however, will be on the theory that the people of California were not aware of the necessity for oil conservation, and that they were befuddled in the throes of the most expensive

TIDELAND OIL
Question No. 2 is of more direct concern to the people. It affects their pocket-books, or will later. The governor has proposed that revenues from tidelands oil, which is not appropriated for other purposes such as the development of beaches and parks, be used primarily for the development of a water program.

If this money is not used for that purpose, California one day will have to dig up additional taxes for water conservation, as this is a "must" if California continues to grow and develop economically.

Consequently, recommendations have been made by the legislative auditor and other state officials that the minimum 12 1/2 per cent royalty from exploratory discoveries be increased on a sliding scale to be fixed by the state lands commission.

Both major oil companies and independents will probably oppose the proposal. Drilling unproven fields on state-owned tidelands is an expensive and hazardous occupation, and oil companies feel their efforts in exploratory work should be rewarded. This contention is not without merit. In any event, the public will do well to keep its eyes on the matters concerning oil before the 1957 legislature, for it is a subject that will have far-reaching effect in the future.

Newport Harbor News-Press
Newport Beach, California
Dear Mr. Reddick:

On behalf of the Parks, Beaches and Recreation Department of the City of Newport Beach, I want to take this opportunity to express sincere appreciation to you and your staff for the fine news coverage you have afforded our programs during the past year.

In the field of public recreation the newspaper media is a vital necessity for keeping the residents informed about programs which are offered for the benefit of the community. In many cases this is the only practical means by which an initial contact can be made with the people we are striving to serve. This is especially true in the formative stages of a new program. The News-Press has been very cooperative in printing program releases and schedules, and in reporting, both in words and pictures, the results of our activities.

The interest and support of your paper in the parks and beach phases of our work has also been excellent, and you have assisted greatly in presenting the parks and beach problems and challenges to the public.

Again, thanks to you and your staff for rendering this fine public service and cooperation. The News-Press has a big share in any successes attributed to our programs in the past year.
Very truly yours,
Robert S. Gingrich,
Director, Parks, Beaches & Recreation Department

Postmaster General Summerfield wants Congress to raise the price of Stamps from three to Five Cents a Letter. He feels that with this increase, he can get the Post Office out of the red. . . . Course if he don't get it out of the red, why he can allus go back to Congress and ask for Ten Cents a Letter rate — somewhere up the line he's bound to hit it.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Your Congressman JAMES R. LUTZ

We arrived in Washington New Year's night after a six-day drive from California. The weather was clear and warm until we reached South Carolina. Our only trouble along the way was a burned-out water pump which occurred on Sunday in Louisiana. It took eight hours to find a new one and get it installed.

Our first order of business was to organize our California Republican delegation which consists of 17 Members. Congressman Gordon L. McDonough of Los Angeles was elected Chairman and your Representative was again elected to be a Member of the Committee on Committees which assigns the various Members to the standing committees. In that Committee I will have 17 votes.

The same afternoon the Republican caucus was held to determine our nominees for the Speakership and other officials of the House. On the 3rd, the 85th Congress officially opened and we all took the oath of office and elected Sam Rayburn of Texas as Speaker and Joe Martin of Massachusetts as Minority Leader.

FRESHMAN SPEAKS

On Saturday, the 8th, the President spoke to the Joint Session of Congress concerning the so-called Eisenhower Doctrine in the Middle East. It is too early to determine what Congress will do as the actual resolutions have not yet been introduced. There will be extensive hearings on the matter and I can not determine my position until the final drafts are ready for consideration.

I feel that it is time that we should put Russia on notice that we will not permit her to overrun the Middle East and take control of the oil fields and the Suez Canal, as these are both important to the defense of the free world. However, I would hesitate to delegate the power and duties that Congress has in these matters to the Executive Branch of our Government.

There is a vacancy on the Republican side of the Rules Committee and the West has no representation.

Grass Roots Opinion . . .

BENNINGTON, VT., EVENING BANNER:
"We in America firmly believe we have found that better way of life. Certainly we are not overly endowed of a proper spirit with which to receive and enjoy that better life, but most of us are cognizant from today's news headlines that we are indeed a blessed people."

BRUSH COUNTRY JOURNAL

By HORACE PARKER

(Interlude — Blake's Ravines)

One of the quirks of human behavior is the desire to be someone or something you are not. The rich boy wants to be poor and the poor boy-rich, or the operator star envies the prizefighter and the prizefighter aspires to sing in the opera.

But because human behavior seems to follow no pattern or physical law, we also have the individual who has found his niche in life wherein he "plays" and finds recreation in his chosen field of gainful work. I have a cousin who works as a towerman for the Santa Fe Railroad in Colton and, after switching trains either all day or all week long, his recreation is building, running and switching the model railroad that has taken over his garage.

I fall into the number one group, for I am a thwarted newspaperman. I like newspapers; the click of the typewriter, the whir and tinkle of the linotype, the smell of ink and newspaper, and the general atmosphere around any newspaper large or small. And I particularly like the people in all phases of the newspaper game and I really enjoy them.

FAE REMOVED
Actually my own profession is as far removed from the newspaper field as anyone could imagine. Although I have done newspaper writing of various types for nearly 30 years, my acquaintanceship with people within the newspaper profession has been relatively limited. And yet, each one of the score or more with whom I have become acquainted has stamped his or her personality indelibly in my mind.

One of these who will not be embarrassed if I eulogize him a little, because he passed away some years ago, is "Pop" Lutz of Costa Mesa. In my mind's eye I can see him just as plainly as if I had seen him yesterday. Pop was a typical, small town, weekly newspaper working editor. Offhand I can't remember ever seeing him sitting at a typewriter, so I imagine that he actually composed his editorials first draft on the linotype. Seems like he always was sitting at the linotype, setting type, or walking around with a proof sheet in his hand.

Pop's chief tags were his glasses which he wore way down on the tip of his nose. Whether he ever used them or not I shall never know, for he was always peering at you from over their tops. One time when John Phillips was running for another term in Congress, Pop had his picture taken with the Congressman. His staff had insisted he put on a suit for the occasion in place of his usual printer's apron. Pop allowed himself to compromise this far, but when they suggested he remove his glasses or at least wear them in a conventional manner, Pop bucked. So the picture was snapped with Pop peering over them as only he could. And somewhere up there in the sky, I'll bet Pop has a linotype and is running a weekly newspaper, and he'll stop long enough to peer over his glasses and say as unconcernedly as can be, "Hi, Horace; got any news?"

Another of these working, weekly newspapermen is Tom Hudson of the Lake Elsinore Valley Sun and, like my cousin on the railroad, he finds recreation in his work, for he has written a most thoughtful little book entitled, "The West is my Home." What started as a "filler" some years ago in the Sun has become one of the main features of his little paper, entitled "From the Personal Angle," by Tom Hudson. And from the best of these came his book, on which he did everything but the binding and art work. H. Ralph Love, famed Elsinore artist, did the art work and, being a professional professional, the book is artistically and tastefully illustrated.

The West is my Home is the poetry in prose of a man who loves the writing, thinking and observations of the people and locale in which he lives, works and plays — the brush country of southern Riverside County. He says it is about the entire west, but when Tom strays from Elsinore you know he is only on a trip of reminiscing, and his heart really remains around the shores of Old Laguna Grande. Three dollars six bits, to Tom Hudson, Elsinore, Calif., will bring you a postpaid copy, of genuine and sincere Southern Californians.

Another of these newspaper personalities whom I have known and admired for nearly 30 years is Neil Murbarger of Costa Mesa. Neil has either worked as reporter or editor for most of the weekly newspapers in the Newport Harbor area. Time and again people who know Neil and her writings have said she is the best to have come out of the beach cities.

Some years ago she quit her established newspaper profession to enter the precarious freelance writing field — and has made a success of it. Randall Henderson of Desert Magazine says she is the only writer which he uses on "assignments." After nearly 30 years, some quarter of a million miles, and 1000 or more articles appearing in 125 different periodicals about the country West of the Rockies, Neil has finally become a recognized authority on the history of Nevada and particularly the old ghost towns. Critics have dubbed her, "the greatest living reporter of the Old West."

Neil's dream for years has been a book on the ghost towns. Late this year The Desert Magazine Press of Palm Desert published her "Ghosts of the Glory Trail." In it Neil has brought out the truth and the legends, the good and the bad, the mountains, sage and sunsets, and all there is and was exciting of nearly 275 of these western ghost towns, which she knows so well. It is well illustrated with photos both old and new for she is an accomplished photographer.

The lure of riches, of murders and hangings, of robberies and pomes, good women and bad, monte tables and mahogany bars, six-shooters and crap-shooters, are all interestingly brewed and blended together in Neil Murbarger's, "Ghosts of the Glory Trail, for five dollars six-bits plus tax from either the author in Costa Mesa or Desert Magazine, Palm Desert — another example of a newspaperwoman who found fun and success in her work.

THE WEST IS MY HOME — Typified by the fleeting cloud patterns caught from Henshaw Dam looking eastward to the San Ysidros and Warner Hot Springs is the West, making one happy to call the brush country of Southern California a part of our home in the West.

GHOSTS OF THE GLORY ROAD — They stare forlornly over the brush-covered main street of Aurora, Nevada. Once county seat of Mono County California and later the county seat of Esmeralda County, Nevada, Aurora was once a city of 10,000. Her mines produced in excess of $30,000,000 in gold and silver from 1861-69. She was famed as the town wherein Mark Twain started up the literary ladder. Even these ghostly buildings of tremendous historical interest were sacrificed after the last war for the few paity bricks in them, and Aurora is now only an ethereal memory along the glory road. — Neil Murbarger Photo

Youth Group Serves Others on Vacation

High school youths of the Balboa Island Community Methodist Church have discovered that one of the greatest joys of Christmas is the giving of one's time and service to those in greater need than oneself. They have returned from Phoenix, Ariz., their holiday vacation doing volunteer labor at Wesley Community House, a Methodist settlement in a poverty-stricken section of the city.

PAINT TOYS

Thirteen youths and their two adult chaperones kept busy mending broken toys, painting wagons, scooters, tricycles, and playground benches and equipment; and sorting and distributing food and clothing to the needy.

The settlement in which they worked is operated and staffed by the Women's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church. The director who worked along with the youngsters is Miss Ruth Ferguson, a deaconess of the Methodist Church.

The group, members of the church's Senior Youth Fellowship, left for Phoenix early Dec. 26 and returned four days later, Dec. 30. They cooked their own meals and slept at Bethel Methodist Church. A group from that particular church used the Balboa Island Church as a study relatives.

Those who made the Arizona trip included Dick Brignall, the president; Rick Lundy; Betty Jean Guenther, Pamela Peoples, Linda Bowen, Jean Smith, Donna Smith, LeVonne Smith, Sandy Fleer, George Cuthill, Sharon Waldelich, Marilyn Shooter, Jeanine Bonner, and Mrs. Vern Smith. Mrs. Stapp and Gregory accompanied the group but spent their time visiting relatives.

REPAIRING and painting tricycles for underprivileged children in Phoenix, Ariz., are five members of the Senior Youth Fellowship of the Balboa Island Community Methodist Church. They are Rick Lundy, Dick Brignall, Donna Smith, Sandy Fleer, and Linda Bowen. During the Christmas holidays a group of 15 did volunteer labor at Wesley Community House, a Methodist settlement.

MOUNT CARMEL WOMEN HONOR MRS. LILLIAN GEE

By MRS. W. R. HELMHOLZ

Two particular events marked as a success the lovely luncheon of the Women's Council of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church on Wednesday. Seated at the long tables which were decorated with camellias of pale pink and deeper rose, were 75 women. Hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Cammack and Mrs. Hugh Lilly, assisted by Mrs. Theodore Robbins, Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. Donald Brewer, Mrs. Arthur B. West, and Mrs. Frederick Morton.

HONOR GUEST
Special acclaim was given Mrs. Lillian Scanlon Gee of Balboa Island, guest of honor, who was celebrating her 85th birthday. The Rev. Stephen A. Kiley, pastor of Mt. Carmel and St. John Vianney parishes, presented Mrs. Gee to the guests and paid tribute to her many years of devoted service as organist at St. John Vianney. Mrs. Gee came to Balboa Island in the early 1920's prior to which time she was associated with the usual and striking piece.

SPEAKER

Mrs. Vincent Salmacia, speaker and member of the Council, gave a warm personal account of her recent 5 months on the Continent. Displayed was a part of Mrs. Salmacia's collection of treasures which she brought back. On one table, covered by a cloth of pale beige linen edged with Rosepoint lace overlaid with hand embroidery done in Serrenta, Italy, was an antique silver bun-warmer and a footed covered tureen also of silver, flanked by a tall pair of Sheffield candelabra, circa 1833, a beautiful set of Bavarian china service plates, formally designed in gold and deep blue; exquisite pieces of Limoges jewelry, tinted shell of delicate Venetian glass and a pair of Venetian glass figurines. From Fussen, Germany, came small crystal swans with heads and wings fashioned of sterling silver—the wings spreading fanwise to disclose open salts and peppers. The swan was the royal crest of King Ludwig II of Bavaria, and is incorporated in many Bavarian designs.

On another table, covered with linen from Brussels, was displayed a collection of regional costumes — Tartan plaids from Edinburgh, knitted caps worn by little boys in Tangiers, and hand carved wooden shoes. Two dolls were costumed in the brilliant native clothes of Vollen-dam, a small fishing village in Holland.

In another display, Mrs. Salmacia placed the magnificent medalion of the Ave Maria, cast in bas relief from solid bronze. This medalion, hung from heavy bronze links is lighted from above by a small caged lantern — the whole plaque measuring some two feet in height. Mr. and Mrs. Salmacia have designed a niche in their home for this unusual and striking piece. A vivid description enlivened by personal experiences en route, and embracing express emphasis on the heroic, the heart-warming, and the contemporary historical background of the cities and countries visited, made Mrs. Salmacia's verbal re-creating of their extensive itinerary a delight to her listeners.

The Salmacias were privileged to be shown the solid gold flatware and dinner service, kept in vaults of the Alphonso Hotel, during their stay in Sevilla. This service is used only for the visits of royalty. The Spanish government has built shrines or Paradores, throughout the country marking particular events of historical interest. One of these is at Alcazar, a military academy in Toledo, where the entire population of the town had successful refuge for 72 days under siege during the Spanish Civil War.

Most thrilling was her description of the famous castle, Herren Chiemsee in Germany, built by King Ludwig II, and patterned after the palace at Versailles. During the summer, each Saturday night there is a concert held at Herren Chiemsee at which time the 39 chandeliers, each six feet in diameter, are lowered from the ceiling and a procession of the townspeople are privileged to light the 4,000 candles. The Salmacias were the guests of the Director of Light and as such were allowed to wander at will through the Great Hall, before the doors were opened. One wall is composed entirely of mirrors, while at intervals are placed ten foot silver candelabra and silver trees into which were originally set orange trees.

Mrs. Salmacia gave a moving account of their trip to Lourdes and she presented a thrilling picture of the adoration and humility of persons of all faiths attending the candle-lit Mass at the Cathedral and the prayerful procession of those in the Pilgrimage to The Grotto.

Rosebud Announces Jill Suzanne

Jill Suzanne Goodenough, newly-born infant of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Goodenough, 230 Alhambra Ave., Balboa Island, received special recognition at the services of worship, Sunday, Jan. 6, at the Balboa Island Community Methodist Church. A rosebud was placed on the altar to announce her arrival. She was the first child of 1957 to be honored by the church's tradition. Little Jill arrived Monday, Dec. 31, at Hill Hospital.

WATERCOLORS

Eisenhower Answers Laguna Beach Artist

By DAVID IREDELL

Generals Eisenhower and Glassford have much in common including the fact that both paint for relaxation. Recently Artist-Member Glassford sent a brief note to the President plugging the medium of watercolor for recreational painting and recommending another member of the Gallery, Arthur Beaumont, for instruction. It is testimony to Eisenhower's thoughtfulness as well as the quality of Glassford's letter that a reply was prompt and personal.

First of all Army-man Eisenhower had a question for Armyman Glassford: "... I am a little curious to know why you have apparently specialized in the painting of naval scenes?" Then, leaving the problem of unification on canvas, the C. of C. continued: "As for myself, I have never mastered the art of using watercolors, and have to be content with an occasional session with oils. I don't, by any manner mean to imply that I have mastered that medium either — but I do get a great deal of enjoyment from my dabbling."

About 350 people enjoyed the opening tea last Saturday. With members of the Republican Women's Club acting as hostesses, the setting was marked by gracious hospitality and good taste. Guest of honor was A.E.R. Van de Velde of Carlsbad, whose one-man exhibition of oils is on view for the first time in this country.

The varied full-sheet watercolors in the Ford Exhibition bear close study. "Full-sheet" means the biggest piece of watercolor paper that you can buy. Why should it bear close study? Because it takes an expert to pull off a successful involved in watercolor are tricky enough in small size, and the problems seem to increase in geometrical progression as the paper area is enlarged." The paintings in this show were picked from over 4000 and all reflect a thorough mastery of the full-sheet problem.

Cheryl Chase informs me that, starting Jan. 23, she will give a course "On Appreciating the Visual Arts" at the Women's Club. Course will continue thereafter every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. for six weeks. A donation of $4 will cover all expenses and will go toward the Hospital Building Fund.

Someone noticed a sign I had under a large Edgar Payne canvas: "The gallery has a number of Paynes, both big and little." With March 15 coming up they mostly seem to be big.

Family Day in Church for Junior Clubwomen

"A New Year — a new outlook, and we can resolve to change the world — perhaps not the whole world, but at least our little part of it," says Mrs. Norman Watson, Newport Beach, president of Junior Membership of California Federation of Women's Clubs. She challenges the membership "to make the most of the opportunity to learn to live," and urges clubs to "further education by providing panel programs rather than one-sided views of a single speaker, to study religions of the world in an effort to strengthen international understanding," and has suggested that clubs "plan Easter season programs with speakers representative of the various religions." Her theme for C.F.W.C. Juniors this year is "New Horizons Unlimited."

"Family Day in Church" will be observed Sunday by the membership, and Mrs. James Wagner, Chula Vista, state moral and spiritual chairman says: "I urge the members to pray for peace, for the leaders of our Nation and the world that they might guide us on a peaceful way." Members are urged to wear their pins signifying membership.

Following up this special day, Mrs. R. B. Jones, Concord, home chairman, stresses establishing "Family Circle" in the home and says "Share a thought together. To understand is to progress."

Under the direction of Mrs. Carrell Jensen, Selma, state music chairman, Juniors are encouraging music in their clubs, with a contest being conducted for perpetual sterling trophy award. The sextette arrangement of "Beyond the Blue Horizons" is the selection to be recorded and submitted for judging by Feb. 1, and the winning sextette will be heard at state convention in Los Angeles May 24 and 25.

Mrs. Watson's January itinerary includes a visit to San Diego District meeting at Carlsbad Saturday and Senior State Board meeting in San Francisco Jan. 30.

Congregational Honor Event

As is traditional, the January meeting of the Women's Fellowship of Corona del Mar Community Congregational Church will be a birthday buffet honoring past presidents.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 16 in Fellowship Hall followed by a program of skits to be presented by each birthday table. All constituent groups of the Fellowship will participate as hostesses. Mrs. W. L. Bakke and Mrs. K. V. Ditzig in charge.

Trinity Baptist Church

The Harbor Trinity Baptist Church will hear the Rev. William Acton at the 11 a.m. service bringing a message, "The Master at Work." Services are held in the Gem Show Building on the Orange County Fairgrounds. The choir will sing "Holy, Holy, Holy," under the direction of Dick Grauer. Miss Judy Decker will sing a solo.

In the evening at 7 o'clock there will be a Youth Rally, with the young people participating. The speaker will be Roy Seibel, public relations director of the North American Baptist Seminary at Blount Falls, S. D.

On Monday at 7:30 p.m. the ladies are invited to attend the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Union. On Jan. 16 at 7:30 p.m. the completion of the annual business meeting will take place. All members are encouraged to attend.

'Sacrament' Sermon Topic for Scientists

The sermon on "Sacrament," emphasizing the great need of spiritual regeneration, will be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon is the Golden Text from Psalms (34:3,4), "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart, who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

From the Bible John's Gospel relates that after "he was risen from the dead," Jesus admonished his disciples, "Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes" (21:14, 8). Mark's account tells that following Jesus' ascension the disciples "went forth, and preached everywhere, where the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following" (16:20).

Indians Just Edge Out Win over Argo 5

FULLERTON, (OCNS)—Kent Pembroke scored his name into the annals of Fullerton High sports history with another of his amazingly-quick great performances.

Tuesday in the Indians Gym the senior forward scored two points on a jump shot with a half-second left in the game. The shot gave the host team a 35-34 victory over Garden Grove.

Occasion of the game was the opening contest of the 1957 Sunset League hoop race. Despite the low scoring turned in by both squads, the game, for an opener, was a highly creditable one from both sides of the floor.

The Argonauts could well have won the game, had they not had such a poor first half performance. The visitors made only four points the first quarter, and added just ten more in the second.

John Valentino's Indians were doing little better. The Indians made just eight in the first and a dozen in the second, thus holding a 20-14 halftime lead.

The Argonauts outscored the Indians for the second half play, 20-16. With six seconds left in the game, Pembroke shot, the ball missing.

He rebounded his own shot, jumped up in front of the hoop and shot again. With the ball in the air, the final gun sounded, but the ball swished in, giving season was tasted by Newport win over Garden Grove.

Pembroke wound up play with 10 points. Tom Dokter paced the Argonauts with 10. They were the only players in the game to reach the double figures.

OCC HOSTS TO AG FIELD DAY

The Agricultural Division of Orange Coast College was to host agricultural students from the County's 16 high schools at a field day today, starting at 3 p.m., according to Elgie Hall, director of the division.

Approximately 500 or 600 students are represented. They were to compete on beef identification, horticulture and farm machine tool identification. In case of rain today, the field meet is to be postponed until Friday, Jan. 18.

WHY, SANTA!

No Yuletide Gift Proves Watch Stolen

Mrs. C. M. Davis didn't report the theft of her watch until she was sure Santa Claus hadn't taken it.

Mrs. C. M. Davis, 405 Irvine Ave., told police she missed her watch during the week of Dec. 18, 1956. Yesterday, when she finally reported the theft, she explained she had suspected some one of her family of taking it to get her a new band for Christmas. After the holidays, when watch, left alone band, failed to appear, she realized it had been stolen, she said.

Mrs. Davis said the watch was probably taken from a dresser drawer in the bedroom of her home. She estimates its value at about $65.

The watch is described as a white gold Elgin with a black cord strap and the initials BKD inscribed on the case.

OK Sanitation Construction

SANTA ANA, (OCNS)—Orange County's Joint Sanitation Districts were Tuesday granted a conditional permit to construct two new clarifiers at Sewerage Disposal Plant Number One located on the south side of Ellis Ave. west of the Santa Ana River levee.

The County Board of Supervisors authorized enlargement of the West Costa Mesa Plant.

Mr. Executive

If money is the key to your success, then this ad should be of interest to you.

Do you know that it is possible to own your own home, and still not have a large piece of capital tied up?

Would you believe us if we told you that we can sell a home to you for less than $4000 down, - one that you as an Executive would be proud to own, - and that the balance can all be financed? We believe in frankness, so we will explain how these things may be accomplished.

We have carefully selected 5 homes in Irvine Terrace for sales purposes. All have been chosen for their individuality and saleability and with you, Mr. Executive, in mind. These homes are all on Irvine leaseholds, which of course is the key to the low down payment. The builder didn't pay out a lot of cash for the lots, and so, - neither do you.

Four of the homes are 3 bedroom, one is a 4 bedroom. All have built-in kitchens, all are new, all are individually designed, and one is for you - pardon the expression - if you like to have your cake and eat it, too.

Please call us for more complete details.
