$1 Million NB School Bond Vote Looms

By CHARLES H. LOOS
Newport Beach voters will be asked early next year to approve an elementary school bond issue in excess of $1 million to finance new school construction.

That was the indication today as trustees of the Newport Beach Elementary School District faced prospects of crowded conditions in seven existing district schools unless more classrooms are constructed before the start of the 1965-66 school year.

If the impending bond issue is approved, it will definitely mean an increase in the district's current $1.37 tax rate, described by Superintendent Roy O. Andersen as one of the lowest in the state.

District voters approved a bond issue for construction of Lincoln School and additions to other sites about three years ago. Andersen said $120,000 of that money is still available.

One elementary trustee, Harvey Pease, already has indicated he may oppose the bond issue.

Although school trustees have not yet called a bond election they were warned Tuesday night by Superintendent Andersen that they must act soon.

Time is running out, Andersen said, adding that a bond election should be called for February 1964 at the latest if new school facilities are to be built in time to house students in the fall of 1965.

Andersen recommended that the bond issue include funds for acquisition of two sites and the construction of one school. He said sites are needed on both sides of Upper Newport Bay.

Trustees have been considering construction of an eighth school in the West Bluff area for more than two years.

Pease indicated he would oppose a bond issue based solely on proposed school

Thomas Raps Treaty

Irvine Chief Bares Views

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles S. Thomas, president of the Irvine Co. and former secretary of the Navy under President Eisenhower, said yesterday he would have opposed the nuclear test ban treaty if he still were secretary.

Thomas told a news conference that the presence of Soviet military equipment in Cuba would force him to reject the treaty.

"I don't see how he can be consistent in making an agreement that would have any hope of prevailing with people like the Russians unless they would vacate Cuba," he said.

Thomas also spoke at a Freedom Documents Foundation luncheon observing Constitution Day. He is honorary president of the foundation.

In that address, the former Navy secretary said he saw "signs of the decay that destroys freedom" in big government, the welfare state and international communism. He said he was "afraid that today's generation does not value freedom as much as its forefathers."

Thomas cited three major needs which he termed imperative for the continued progress of the nation:

"Outstanding people, big in ability, big in sense of responsibility and big in dedication to purpose."

"Corporate, community or team effort to cope with unsolved problems."

"Adequate accumulation of private capital in order to permit the undertaking of large and formidable risks."

Marines Aid Capistrano Surf Battle

Marines today continued to place sandbags along Capistrano Beach to protect homes from the high surf conditions which have plagued the area for a week.

Several homes were reported to have been slightly damaged by the high water, but Civil Defense officials expected the surf to subside by late today.

Meanwhile farther north at Surfside Colony, the surf was already back to normal, and residents were busy cleaning up the debris and repairing the damage left by the storm.

Bus-Train Wreck 'History's Worst'

CHUALAR, Calif. (UPI) — A Mexican farm worker who "didn't see the train" faced charges of felony manslaughter today for the deaths of 28 companions in the worst bus-train collision in U.S. history.

Francisco G. Espinosa, 34, was the driver of a make-shift bus that was smashed to rubble near Salinas yesterday by a Southern Pacific freight train going 65 miles an hour.

Of 60 men aboard the bus, only Espinosa escaped serious injury. Thirty-one were hospitalized, and five were in such extremely critical condition today that they may not live.

Twenty-two men died outright in the collision and six died later while being treated in hospitals at Salinas, 10 miles to the north.

Most of the victims were Mexican braceros, or seasonal farm workers. A few were U.S. natives.

Monterey County Coroner Chris Hill Jr. said he did not expect to complete identification of the dead until late today at the earliest. Many bodies were badly mangled, and few of the men carried identification papers.

The California Highway Patrol described the accident as "the biggest single fatal vehicle accident of any kind in the history of California."

The National Safety Council said it was the worst U.S. bus-train accident on record.

The previous worst occurred on Dec. 1, 1938, near Salt Lake City, Utah, when 24 persons died.

New evidence of continuing internal turbulence at Fairview State Hospital broke the surface today with the resignation of Joseph Munn, hospital director of nursing education.

Munn, whose resignation was accompanied by a stinging indictment of the State Department of Mental Hygiene, is the second Fairview executive to resign as the result of the turmoil generated by the expulsion of 13 hospital technicians earlier this year.

Meanwhile, State Personnel Board hearings continued at the hospital today in the cases of four technicians seeking reinstatement after they were absolved of charges of brutality.

Munn, a 36-year-old bachelor, resigned the post he has held since 1949 to accept a similar position with Undercliff State Hospital at Meriden, Conn.

His resignation was accepted Tuesday by Dr. Hyman Morgenstern, assistant to the acting hospital superintendent, Dr. George Tarjan.

Earlier this summer, the hospital accepted the resignation of Mrs. Margaret R. Bryant, director of nursing services.

Munn, however, added to his letter of resignation a strong criticism of the State Department of Mental Hygiene, which he blamed for the ills that have befallen the local institution.

STATE BLAMED

Munn, whose resignation takes effect Oct. 18, said the state department and its failure to recognize Fairview's administrative problems was directly responsible for the technician's internal difficulties.

The club wants to create a profit to reinvest in buildings, apartments and condominiums instead of continuing a losing venue," he explained.

He further stated that taxes had increased 250 per cent in the last five years on club property.

He also suggested that there would be an increase of $1 million in city revenue if the proposed project is permitted by the city council.

Stoddard paused, then replied, "Have faith, have faith."

Councilman Defends County Dock Plans

Current development proposals for the city-county dock property were defended Tuesday by Newport Beach Councilman James B. Stoddard as "the best use in the public interest" in a talk before the Women's Civic League of Newport Harbor.

Speaking in a session at Newport city hall, Stoddard told League members that current specifications for bidding on the dock lease call for at least 10 per cent of the future moorings to be reserved for visiting yachtsmen.

Other proposed uses, including a restaurant, commercial building and parking, would be laid out to preserve the "Window to the Bay" concept, the veteran councilman declared.

At one point, Mrs. John (Dee) Hammond, League president, asked how the women could assist in promoting and unifying efforts of the city and county to bring proper development in the dock property.

Stoddard paused, then replied, "Have faith, have faith."

Stoddard added that he "personally likes" the proposal for a yacht club use of the dock site by the South Shore Sailing Club. But he cautioned that the city would insist on a minimum of $25,000 income from the bayside site.

"We've been burned or leased before," he said.

The Women's Civic League session was called for the purpose of discussing leases of public land Newport City Atty. Walter Charamza discussed legal limitations of agreements.

Dionne Quints Home 'Saddest' They Knew

NEW YORK (AP) — When Papa Dionne got his millionaire daughters away from the crown and Dr. Allan Dafoe, he put them to work cleaning the bathrooms in the mansion he built with their money, the quints say in their autobiography.

"It was the saddest home we ever knew," they added.

The life story, as told to James Brough by the four remaining quintuplets — Annette, Yvonne, Marie and Cecile — appears in the current issue of McCall's magazine.

In it they tell how the secret of the fifth quintuplet's epilepsy (Emile died after an attack in 1954) was carefully guarded because "the family considered her illness a shameful thing" and how the five little girls were made to feel set apart from the rest of the family, and filled with a sense of guilt.

"If love begets love, guilt begets guilt," the 29-year-old quint said. "The air of the big house was thick with it. Mom and dad behaved toward each other as though they had been partners in some unspoken crime in bringing us into the world. We were drenched with a sense of having sinned from the hour of our birth."

The quint, who spent their first seven years in a special government-built and government-supervised nursery on the family farm at Callendar, Ontario, were "wards of his majesty" by an act of the Canadian Parliament and were cared for by a corps of nurses, teachers and guards superintended by Dr. Dafoe, the country doctor who had delivered them.

They describe these early years as happy and carefree, but recall few pleasant memories of their life after they returned to the family — a victory for their father, Oliva Dionne, after a long legal battle against Dafoe.

"Dad wanted us and the quintuplet funds in his own exclusive custody," the sisters said. "In the beginning he needed money for the sake of the other children. But afterward, his fortunes improved, it made no difference. By then, it was a matter of self-esteem that he should win. We were such a country. We were such a

Cecile, the wife of a television technician, Philippe Langlois, was the first of the quints to have a child. She now has three sons and a daughter. Two of the boys are twins.

Annette, whose husband, Germain Allard, is a finance company executive, has three sons, and Marie, wife of government clerk Florent Houle, has two daughters.

Quints Thrive; Mother Pleased

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI) — The Fischer quintuplets kept getting healthier today and their mother was so heartened she began yearning for her other five children at home.

Mrs. Mary Ann Fischer, 30, her short, curly red hair glistening and her lips lightly brushed with lipstick, expressed her joy yesterday as she shyly met with newsmen for the first time since she gave birth to four girls and a boy Saturday.

Two of the quints had gained so much strength today that their doctor increased their food intake.

DELIVERED

Dr. James N. Berbos, the general practitioner who delivered the five, said he had increased the amount of formula C and D that Mary Catherine and James Andrew were getting by 1cc.

He said all five tots were doing fine.

Mrs. Fischer was pushed into the basement cafeteria of St. Luke's Hospital in a wheelchair for the improvised news conference. She wore green slippers and a pale blue housecoat.

She said she would have gone into the delivery room again to avoid having the news conference. But it was evident that her concern for her children — all 10 of them

LONESOME

"Are you lonesome for your children at home?"

"I sure am," she said.

"Have you been worrying about the children?"

"I've been thinking about the ones at home, mostly," she said.

Mrs. Fischer and her husband, Andrew, 38, already had Danny, 7, Charlotte, 6, Julie, 5, Evelyn, 4, and Denise, 3, before the quints came. Mrs. Fischer said she had spoken over the phone to the oldest three.

The children were "real tickled" over their new sisters and brother.

She said she hadn't thought yet whether she would dress the quints alike. And asked whether she would be happy to have the washer and dryer and other gifts already valued at several scores of thousands of dollars, she replied merely:

"Sure will."

CHOICE

A reporter asked her if she had a choice, "would you have quints again?"

"I told them upstairs (her room is on the third floor) that I'd rather go into the delivery room than come down here," she replied with a slight smile.

When she learned she was pregnant, did she want a boy or girl?

"I wanted a boy," she said quickly. "That makes the other boy happy."

Then her husband came to pose with her. Photographers called to him, "could you give her a kiss on the cheek?"

Fischer glanced sideways at a group of nurses who were watching, shrugged slightly, bent over and gently brushed her right cheek with his lips.

EARNINGS

Fischer, a wholesale grocery clerk earning $76 weekly, told questioners he had no job offers and no bids for him to endorse commercial products.

Asked about the chances of good up bringing for the quints, as compared with that of other children, Fischer said, "the best part of bringing them up is my good wife."

Berbos, still referring to the individual quints by the letter designations he gave them to mark the order of their delivery, said they were being fed a teaspoonful each of an artificial milk formula through plastic tubes in their noses.

They have shown a fine tolerance for the formula and are taking all of each feeding.

VERY ACTIVE

E. C. Pieplow, president of the chamber of commerce, told a news conference last night that the quints were described as "so active" by their nurses. He said they were "moving around a lot" and their color was "real good."

JFK Gives Assurance On Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders were hopeful today that an answer had been found to demands by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and others that any future amendments to the nuclear test ban treaty with Russia be subject to Senate ratification.

The Congress of Racial Equality in New York asked 100 of its chapters to observe mourning Sunday, and the 101st anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation announcement — as a day of mourning for the four girls.

Their formula seemed unlikely to shake Russell's firm opposition to the pact. But it was thought that it might help guarantee the support of senators who might be inclined to listen to Russell's arguments.

The development came as two more Republicans declared in favor of the treaty. Their action had been anticipated and left the indicated lineup at 82 senators committed or inclined to vote for the pact, 13 opposed and 5 uncertain.

A two-thirds majority is required for ratification — or 67 senators if all are present and voting.

Russell, chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee, is pressing an amendment to the treaty resolution. It would assure the Senate the right to pass on any future amendments to the treaty.

Airline officials said there were no casualties.

Officials said the jetliner was a Hamburg-Amsterdam-New York flight with about 20 passengers aboard.

Four of the eight tires on the plane burst, according to unconfirmed reports.

Kennedy to Meet 7 Negro Leaders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — from the church bomb-deaths The White House announced of four children. President Kennedy, seeking to head off Republican opposition to his proposed $11 billion tax cut, pledged himself today to forego extra anti-recession spending by the government.

Kennedy made his commitment in a letter to Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways & Means Committee, which has recommended the cut. Kennedy praised Mills' call for rejection of the spending route and said flatly, "I subscribe to it."

Mills read the letter to the House Rules Committee and asked, "what further assurance do we need?" That the tax cut will be accompanied by strict avoidance of government programs useful only for the dollars they pour into the national economy.

Mills, seeking rules committee clearance for House debate on the bill starting Tuesday, sought to demolish arguments of opponents that it is folly to cut taxes while the government runs in the second straight year.

Ford, General Motors, and Studebaker will announce their prices within the next two weeks, probably within hours of introduction at dealers' showrooms.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, wired Kennedy Monday asking for a strong civil rights bill.

A defense ministry spokesman in London said the British military commander in Southeast Asia had "adequate forces" at his disposal should Britain be asked to go to the aid of Malaysia, as it has pledged. However, he said no such request had been made, so any discussion of the issue at this time would be merely speculative.

The rioters were made up for the most part of students and members of the National Youth Front.

The trouble started when about 1,000 of the demonstrators gathered in front of the youth front headquarters.

The youths then marched on the former Malayan embassy building, where they pulled down the Malayan national emblem and smashed it to pieces. A youth climbed atop the wreckage and told the crowd that the building henceforth belonged to the Indonesian government.

Moscow Backing Peking

Russ Forced to Push for Red China U.N. Seat

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union still supports Communist China's demand for a seat in the United Nations despite the deepening Moscow-Peking conflict—if for no other reason than form's sake.

But Russia's lurking of China, unlike past years, appears at this U.N. session to stem as much from opposition to the Chiang Kai-shek regime than it does from any positive attitude toward Red China's U.N. claim.

Earlier this month the government newspaper Izvestia, in giving a hint of Kremlin intentions at this U.N. General Assembly session, attacked the Chiang government in much the same language it has employed for years. It said they did not represent China and had no business benized Peking as the sole and legitimate government of China.

On this basis, diplomats here said, Russia is morally obligated to support Peking's U.N. candidacy.

The fact that Albania, which vociferously attacks Moscow in the Sino-Soviet conflict, has initiated the seat-Communist-Chiang Kai-shek has probably spared the Soviet Union some embarrassment.

"Come in," Dorothy smiled. "Jerry is still having breakfast."

"Did you bring it?" she asked.

I nodded and handed Dorothy the small package. "Keep it in the refrigerator."

She dropped the package in an apron pocket, and led the way to the kitchen, where Jerry was finishing his eggs and bacon. Their 16-month-old daughter, Ginger, sat alongside her father. She pounded one chubby hand against the tray of her high chair, while holding the soggy remains of a cookie in the other.

"Have some coffee," Jerry said, and motioned to the empty chair. He put down the Sunday comics. "Plenty of time before we tee off."

GINGER dropped her cookie and squealed. Dorothy picked the soggy lump off the floor and threw it in the sink. "Here, honey," she purred, and held up another cookie. The child snatched it from her mother's hand and put it to her mouth.

"Nice day for golf," I said. "We'll go in my car, Jerry."

The baby suddenly screamed, then pounded her hands on the crumb-filled tray, with its traces of egg, apple sauce, and other non-identifiable remnants. She had dropped the second cookie on the floor.

Dorothy handed her toast to the child, who pushed the corner of the crisp slice to her

Architect Named For OCC Project

Orange Coast College trustees Monday hired a Los Angeles architectural firm to design two new buildings slated for construction this fiscal year on the college's new Golden West campus in Huntington Beach are too busy to handle the two new buildings in Costa Mesa.

The hiring of Robert E. Alexander and Associates brings to four the number of architects currently at work on OCC building projects.

Alexander will design an addition to the OCC music building and a new general classroom building. Both structures are budgeted for construction during the 1963-64 fiscal year.

The music building addition will cost an estimated $75,000 and the new classroom building an estimated $300,000.

Segregated Events Banned to Military

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department, in a new ruling certain to be a blockbuster, has forbidden military units from participating in any event where audiences or facilities are segregated, or admission is denied to Negroes.

Defense Secretary Robert

S. McNamara's order came in the form of a one-paragraph "amendment" to an eight-year-old directive. It was made known yesterday shortly after a move was begun in Congress to block action on his controversial July 26 anti-segregation off-limits order.

The new ruling seemed sure to provoke hot controversy because it apparently extended also to the National Guard, nominally under the control of state governors.

PROHIBITED

It bans participation of "armed forces bands, troops, exhibits, aircraft, or other equipment, including the aircraft or equipment of the National Guard" in events before segregated audiences.

Even when not on federal duty and under the order of state governors, most national guardsmen wear uniforms and use equipment which are federal property.

The latest ruling will have the effect of barring the football teams of the three service academies from playing games in stadiums where seating discrimination is practiced. It will also prevent the appearance of military bands or military air shows before segregated audiences.

The July 26 directive was aimed at halting off-base segregation of Negro servicemen. Local base commanders were urged to work against discriminatory practices in nearby communities. In extreme cases, commanders may — with the advance approval of the civilian service secretary involved — declare segregated businesses off-limits to all base personnel.

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., the powerful chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and a staunch McNamara supporter in the past, introduced legislation yesterday designed to void the July 26 directive. He charged that the ruling made "political agents" of the military, and amounted to illegal military interference in civil political matters.

Hurricane Cindy Shorn of Power

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Slowly dying hurricane Cindy, long since short of power, dumped flooding deluges of rain near the Gulf Coast today. Dozens of homes were evacuated.

Muddy water covered low areas soon after the storm struck inland early Tuesday, continuing to rise and spread hours later.

Civil Defense authorities declared a state of emergency in Jefferson County, which includes both Beaumont and Port Arthur. They dispatched trucks in answer to a growing number of appeals for help in fleeing soggy homes. It took boats to reach a few.

More than 14 inches of rain had fallen in Beaumont. The Weather Bureau said there might be another foot before the downpours ceased.

Conditions were similar, but apparently not quite as serious, at Port Arthur and Orange. With Beaumont, these cities form a teeming center of petrochemical industry and shipping.

Torrents likewise drenched the southwest corner of Louisiana, tapering into steady, soaking rains northward on both sides of the Texas-Louisiana line.

The Weather Bureau said remnants of the hurricane stalled over the Beaumont area, creating a low pressure system which set off the heavy rains. Winds which hit 80 miles per hour as Cindy reached the coast subsided, however, to between 20 and 40 m.p.h.

Another Bad Harvest

Makes Nikita Angry

MOSCOW (AP) — Angry over another poor harvest, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has berated farmers for inefficiency and assailed bureaucrats for exporting fertilizer when it is needed for Soviet needs.

"We export mineral fertilizers because our economists haven't learned yet to calculate realistically what this costs," he told a farm meeting in Volograd — formerly Stalingrad.

Dennis the Menace

Mysterious Epidemic Kills, Hurts Babies

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is evidence that a mysterious epidemic killer and crippler of newborn infants struck at least two areas of the United States last year.

The latest report is from Vermont — but doctors, left with the job of caring for the stricken infants who survived, are still without clues as to the cause.

The Vermont episode may be another expression of the epidemic of the brutal birth defect that struck Atlanta, Ga., last fall — and may have hit elsewhere.

From a one-block area in Montpelier, Vt., in just six weeks last summer, came three babies born with rare defect. Six months later, from the same city block, came a fourth case.

All of the babies in this tragic cluster suffered from spinal bifida — a congenital separation in the spine which allows spinal cord nerve tissue to balloon out from the body. They found 21 cases in all — of which only 10 survived.

Although the normal rate for Vermont would predict 99 cases in 100,000 live births, in 1962 the rate was 232 cases per 100,000 live births.

It can leave a baby vulnerable to death through infection. Or it may leave a child paralyzed from the waist down and incontinent for life.

Frequently, there are complications, sometimes brain damage.

An investigating team, under Dr. Jerold F. Lucy, University of Vermont pediatrician, probed deeper into the cases — and into others in the state.

They surveyed birth and death certificates on babies, combed the records of the university's two hospitals — where 23 per cent of the state's births occur — and checked the only three neurosurgeons in Vermont, all of them in Burlington.

Next the investigators wrote to every one of the state's 432 doctors outside of Burlington, getting responses from 90 per cent of them.

They found 21 cases in all — of which only 10 survived.

Although the normal rate for Vermont would predict 99 cases in 100,000 live births, in 1962 the rate was 232 cases per 100,000 live births.

Heiress Plans Marriage End

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — American heiress Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu hid out with friends today as her Romanian ex-chausseur husband flew in from New York to find out more about the divorce proceedings she started.

Andre Porumbeanu, 37, found their luxury villa at Erienebach shuttered and locked, and three servants gone and their two sons concealed in an undisclosed private home.

Mrs. Porumbeanu, 22, charged Andre with misconduct. She had defied her family and courts to marry him.

Her Swiss lawyer Eugene Curi, told newsmen of the heiress' decision to end her three-year-old marriage. He said Gamble, who was left the income from a $20 million trust of the Remington typewriter fortune, also has withdrawn powers of attorney her husband had held.

The couple's whirlwind romance from Long Island beaches to Paris night clubs drew worldwide headlines and bitter opposition from Mrs. Katherine Geddes Benedict, Gamble's grandmother, who called Porumbeanu a fortune hunter.

Gamble and her grandmother never were reconciled but Mrs. Benedict left Gamble the bulk of the family fortune at her death Oct. 29, 1961.

Williams said goodbye to the Queen, who considers him one of her favorite cousins, last week. He boarded the plane with other passengers today without a hint of the ceremony that usually accompanies royal flights.

Plans Due For Sewers At Campus

Southland News Service

SANTA ANA — Programs for sewer construction around the University of California, Irvine, campus will be laid out before county supervisors in public hearing here Oct. 16 at 10 a.m.

Tuesday, board members were informed of preliminary plans to construct a 15-inch sewer line and a pumping station that would carry refuse to the main sewer outfall and treatment facilities operated by the Orange County Joint Sanitation Districts.

William Mason, representing the fledgling Sanitation District 14 which will serve the area, presented preliminary reports by Engineering-Science Inc., which was asked by supervisors to study collection and disposal of sewage in the district.

The firm estimated preliminary construction could be accomplished for $250,000.

As state codes prohibit districts from borrowing more than 7 per cent of the assessed value of the property they cover, sufficient money for construction could not be raised through normal channels, Mason advised the board.

He suggested the Irvine Company build the sewer facilities and the district later pay it back as revenues are collected from property owners in the form of charges for hookup to the sewer line.

These matters will be presented formally at the time of public hearing.

Kuchel Asks Nation Mourn Bomb Victims

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of Republican and Democratic senators (including Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Anaheim, Republican) have appealed for a nationwide day of mourning and protest for the four children killed in the Birmingham, Ala., church bombing.

Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota led the group in asking President Kennedy to proclaim next Sunday as a day of national mourning for the young girls killed last Sunday.

Humphrey led Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Sen. Kuchel in asking a day of national mourning and rededication to "law, equality and tolerance" next Sunday, the 101st anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's promise of an emancipation proclamation. Their proposal was in the form of a Senate resolution and a separate letter to the President.

At the same time, sponsors of the Aug. 28 civil rights march on Washington made plans for silent protest marches in scores of cities throughout the nation, perhaps on Sunday, with a possible assembly by one group near the White House.

Humphrey lashed out at Southern business and professional leaders who he said have encouraged racial violence for economic profit. His was the first of a torrent of Senate speeches on the Birmingham bombing.

On the other side of the Capitol, a freshman congressman from Atlanta, Ga., said Southern moderates, including himself, must share the blame for the bombing. "We have stood by, leaving the field to reckless and violent men," said Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga.

In his speech the fiery Humphrey said the entire nation "ought to be wearing ashes and sackcloth" after the latest Birmingham violence.

"We should never again attempt to lecture any other nation until we have cleaned this blot of racial injustice from our shield," he said. Humphrey concentrated his fire on what he called the "Southern establishment corporations."

"And so — for profit, for money — the whirlwind of racial hatred and violence has been encouraged — not permitted — but encouraged, invited yes, incited."

"These are strong words," Humphrey said. "I feel them strongly."

Specifically, Humphrey criticized those who, he said, keep Negroes uneducated and untrained to hold down wages in the South, those who fight the growth of labor unions by "setting white worker against Negro," those who make political careers out of "Negro-baiting," and those who play up Negro crime in newspapers.

The Minnesota Democrat said the blame for the South-

Mrs. Oas, who recently moved here from Kalamazoo, Mich., visited Haiti at the time of Castro's flight over that country to take up residence in Cuba and two years later on a return trip she noticed the difference in distant drum sounds and the undercurrent of unrest.

She commented the new International Yellow Pages telephone directory in the Newport Beach Library includes listings for Haiti, but telephone numbers are conspicuously absent. About Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If you think I am being silly, please say so and I will never bring up the subject again. But frankly I feel hurt.

In our family when someone sneezes, we always say "God bless you." It is more than good manners, it is wishing someone well. This man I am going with is thoughtful and considerate in a great many ways.

But when I sneeze he never says anything. I always say, "God bless you" when HE sneezes, and I have even made a point of asking him to do the same for me. Somehow he forgets.

Last night I sneezed three times in a row. He sat and didn't say a word. I finally said, "Bill, I sneezed." He replied, "Do you have a cold?" I gave up then and there.

Why is he like this? What can I do about it?

—ROZETTA
DEAR ROZETTA: Blessing the sneezer is a family custom which is learned early or not at all. The person who is not conditioned to this custom is virtually deaf to a sneeze.

Bill will never be a Gendzheiter because it is not a part of his training. So give up already — and forget it.

and 13 years of age. They are undisciplined, impolite and they use bad language. I don't mean their grammar is incorrect. I mean they use vulgar words.

Our son, Lawrence who will be 12 years old next December, plays ball with these little hoodlums. Lawrence seems not to notice that they are roughnecks and he enjoys being with them.

Children learn from association and I don't want Lawrence to pick up any of their nasty habits. My husband says he grew up in the toughest neighborhood on New York's East side and it didn't hurt him one bit. He has asked me to stay out of this and to say nothing. I'm not so sure this is the best approach. What do you say?

—W.M.W.

DEAR W.M.W.: If Lawrence is almost 12 years old he has heard all the vulgar words there are to hear — or he soon will.

It is the home training that counts. If your son's training has been good the neighbor boys will not corrupt him. Say nothing. Should Lawrence spring a little primitive Anglo-Saxon in your home, just tell him you will not tolerate such talk and there will be no more of it.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of THE DAILY PILOT/News-Press, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Architect Leagues Plan Joint Lunch

The Women's Architectural Leagues of Southern California, Long Beach, Pasadena and Orange County will join together for a luncheon Thursday, Sept. 19, in the Newport Inn.

Orange County's League will host the luncheon from 10:45 a.m. Separate meetings will be held so each league may transact its necessary business.

Headlining the day's activities will be a presentation by Frank Hamilton, graduate of the Architectural School of the University of Kansas, who will describe the painting of a water color. Hamilton, a former county architect, began full time painting several years ago.

During the luncheon serving, a trio from the Children's Theater Guild of Newport Beach will entertain with songs and skits.

Mrs. George Wiseman, league vice president, is program chairman.

'Ladies of Charity' Plan Poolside Party

Ten new members will be honored by "The Ladies of Charity," Damas de Caridad, when they launch their fall season Saturday, Sept. 21, with a poolside cocktail party in the home of Mrs. Samuel Gendel, Fullerton.

Greeting guests will be Mrs. Philip Twombly, president; Mrs. Tom Eadington, Mrs. Harvey Stonehouse and Mrs. Gendel.

Main conversation topic promises to be the Feb. 8 third annual Bal Masque. More Bal Masque plans will be made at a general meeting Friday, Sept. 27, in the staff room of St. Jude Hospital, Fullerton.

Damas de Caridad is a charity group composed of 70 women from 10 Orange County communities. Their second annual Bal Masque netted $13,350 for St. Jude's last year.

This year's ball committee is chaired by Mrs. Gendel, and work is being done on selection of theme, decorations, mannequins and florists. Mannequins selected from the group's membership will be announced at the Friday meeting, and these same women will be honored at a ball committee dinner in October.

Miss Candis Ann Riddell, Ridgway Whittemore Wed

Fan bouquets were placed on the altar of Christ Lutheran Church, Costa Mesa, for the recent wedding of Miss Candis Ann Riddell and Ridgway Whittemore. The single ring ceremony was witnessed by 30 guests.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Orin Riddell, 211 Via Fiorenze, Lido Isle, the bride chose a full length gown of silk organza fashioned with a lace front panel. She carried white roses as she was escorted and given in marriage by her father.

Miss Christine Riddell attended her sister as maid of honor wearing a turquoise gown and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds.

Clarke Astle served the bridegroom, son of the F. H. Whittemores of La Jolla, as best man. Ushering were Peter Riddell, brother of the bride, and William Barber.

Cake and champagne were served at a reception held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heidbrink, aunt and uncle of the bride, in Newport Beach. For the festive occasion, the bride's mother chose a beige ensemble, and the bridegroom's mother, pink.

The new Mrs. Whittemore donned a gold knit dress and beige accessories for the honeymoon trip to La Jolla. The couple plan to

Jewish Holy Days Begin at Sundown

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International

At sundown today, the sonorous wailing of a ram's horn in thousands of synagogues around the world will summon Jews to observance of the High Holy Days, most sacred period of the year.

Observed continually since the time of Moses, the High Holy Days are ten days of self-examination and penitence, which mark the beginning of a new year on the Jewish calendar.

This will be the year 5724. The High Holy Days open with Rosh Hashanah, a Hebrew phrase meaning "Head of the Year." Tradition holds that it is the anniversary of the first day of Creation. Orthodox and conservative Jews commemorate Rosh Hashanah for two days; most reform Jews for one.

Unlike the great spring festival of the Passover, which centers around a family ritual celebrated at home, Rosh Hashanah is primarily a synagogue service.

Some Jews who don't attend a synagogue at any other time of the year show up for Rosh Hashanah (just as some Christians appear at churches only at Christmas and Easter.)

The sounding of the ram's horn called the "Shofar," is a call to conscience. It bids the worshiper to reflect on his past deeds and think ahead to the coming year. There is an ancient belief among devout Jews that God judges each of his human creations on Rosh Hashanah, and determines their fate for the coming year.

The ten days of penitence culminate with Yom Kippur, the "Day of Atonement," which begins this year at Sundown Friday, Sept. 27.

This is the holiest day of the year for religious Jews. It is observed with prayer, fasting, and synagogue services that continue around the clock, from sundown through the night and day until the following sundown.

Memorial services for the dead are a traditional feature of Yom Kippur services. The ancient liturgy also includes a changed hymn called the Kol Nidre, which is actually a prayer of repentance.

The interval between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur is supposed to be spent in prayer, rest, and solemn festivities. It is regarded as a most important time for Jewish families to be together. At meals, it is customary to pass around a bowl of honey into which each member of the family may dip a piece of bread or a slice of apple; to symbolize a wish for a sweet new year.

It is perfectly appropriate for Gentiles to wish their Jewish friends a "Happy New Year" on Rosh Hashanah. But it is the grossest breach of manners to wish anyone "Happy" Yom Kippur, since that is a day of affliction and atonement.

A traditional Jewish greeting for Yom Kippur is: "May you be inscribed for a good year."

This is an allusion to the belief that each man's fate for the coming year is inscribed in the Book of Life during the High Holy Days.

U.S. Troop Morale Low In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The morale of many American fighting men based in South Viet Nam cities appeared to have slumped since President Ngo Dinh Diem publicly started cracking down on his opposition in recent weeks.

"When I came out here three months ago, my wife thought I was going to be a hero," one enlisted man says. "Now she writes me and asks if I am helping President Diem's soldiers to arrest schoolboys. I want to go home now."

Other servicemen expressed fears about the U.S. image of their role here.

"There are 14,000 of us here," one serviceman said. "Some of my friends in the States have a cockeyed idea that we can do something to stop what's happening here."

Some of the drop in morale was created on the day when President Diem cracked down on Buddhist pagodas and resulting public demonstrations that developed from that.

The main flow of information on what is happening in Viet Nam comes to servicemen from clippings that wives send from the United States. These are days old when they arrive.

The U.S. armed forces radio limits news on Viet Nam in its newscasts.

Goldwater Apology Set

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — County supervisors said they would seek an apology to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., from the County Fair Board because a plane advertising the fair buzzed the Chavez Ravine ballpark where the senator was speaking.

The supervisors authorized Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli to investigate a complaint that the plane "flew back and forth, disturbing the senator and the spectators." Bonelli meets with the board today.

Mrs. Natalie Grasko of the United Republicans of California, sponsors of the rally Monday night, said the plane "was an insult to Sen. Goldwater and he even commented on the noise."

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn wondered aloud if it "was a Democratic pilot — or Rockefeller."

Who has more fun than people who are doing something for other people. Our local Newport Harbor Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce of which I am very happily a member, has more fun than anybody. After the Flight of the Snowbirds each summer the WD's have a ball putting on an after-party for the participants of the race and their moms and dads who want to join in...

The plants and shrubs beautifying our new Mariner's Library were made possible through the WD's collective collecting efforts. The gals went begging and found themselves $3,000 worth of people, who were library-the-beautiful conscious, to contribute to the evergreen cause.

Last Saturday the gals put their best doing something for somebody foot forward again. The scene was the lovely green lawns surrounding our Harbor Department, with our genial Ken Sampson Harbormaster playing host, along with the rest of the commodores, and our WD's playing hostesses. All the new teachers of the Newport Harbor High School District, the Newport Beach Elementary School District and the Costa Mesa Elementary School district were invited to lunch and a boat ride around the Harbor Area. Orientation new teacher was a great success.

We all know what the teachers had for lunch, catered by you know which market. Lush platters of cold turkey and ham, a tremendous bean salad of yellow wax beans, green beans and kidney beans, with seasonings and onions in the right places... another salad called Fruit Medley, with sour cream doing exciting things to marshmallows and fruits. The tender parkerhouse rolls were baked in our own bakery. The Petit Four bloomed fourth from one of the magic boxes in our delicatesen and are wondrous dessert ready and waiting for anybody to serve anytime. Some are chocolate, some are pastel coated... They look like an overgrown chocolate with a tiny rosebud on top. You bite inside and find a pleasant surprise of many thin layers of cake, iced in between with many different flavors of icing. Quite the most delectable bit of sweet stuff to wind up any meal. Nice thing about Parisiannes, they do not need to be refrigerated.

All of the delicious read-prepared salads and entrees you enjoy taking home in plastic cartons are made right here every day in our own delicatesen kitchen. All the Jello salads, spaghetti, ravioli, enchiladas, meat loaves. The slices of cold turkey are lovingly whittled from turkeys baked in our own oven. You can step into our kitchen anytime and see the boys stirring up big batches of potato salad, or cole slaw. See the girls rolling up the enchiladas or topping the huge slices of garlic French bread with grated cheese.

The steamtables too, so loaded down with good things to take home in little cardboard cartons, to pop in the oven carton and all to warm up for dinner. Complete meals... Entrees which could be anything from Danish ham, or roast beef, purchasable by the slice, half or whole, to turkey tetrazzini, stuffed manicotti, ham and lima beans, lobster thermadore, so delightful in the lobster shell, oven fried swordfish or halibut... Vegetables run the gamut of tiny peas and onions, buttered whole carrots, scalloped potatoes... and salads... always so many wonderful varieties by the bulk with pickled beets, kosher barrel dill pickles and pickled pigs feet thrown in.

OCC Tabbed in Eastern Conference Derby

By BILL DONER
Sports Editor

The horses are all in the gate and the starter's gun is ready to sound.

One of the best Eastern Conference football derbies in history is about to begin.

Contention runs from top to bottom in the 10-team circuit, but unless the so-called experts are way off base — the Orange Coast, Santa Ana and Fullerton figures to be the class of the field.

It's been five long years since the Pirates of Orange Coast last visited the league throne room, yet coach Dick Tucker's firehorses are ranked on top in the PILOT handicap.

Santa Ana's defending national champion Dons, switching jockeys this trip to Myrel Moore, rate as the betting choice with Fullerton also a strong contender.

Actually all 10 members of the field have a strong shot at the top spot. And that's why railbirds are eagerly awaiting Friday's night opening.

Nine week's later a new champion will be crowned and if things go as anticipated, here's how the PILOT sees them finishing.

1. ORANGE COAST COLLEGE (9-1 record in 1962) — The Pirates haven't won a circuit title since 1957 when coach Steve Musseau's troops upset heavily favored Santa Ana, 13-7.

But popular pilot Dick Tucker has assembled a potent aggregation this season and the Bucs figure to be as good as any of the entries. Backs Bob Haynes, Mike Hunter, Billy White and Larrey Jones are all all-league material.

Linebackers Ron Paterno, Al Davis and Jim Morgan also figure to be plenty tough.

Strong Points — Offensive backfield and line.

Weak Points — Pass defense and depth.

2. SANTA ANA (10-0 record in 1962) — The Dons under new coach Myrel Moore appear nearly unbeatable on paper and could walk away with things the way they have for the past two years.

Moore, however, faces a major rebuilding job losing the likes of All-Americans Duns Marteen and Dick Litzinger.

Big Don Davis, a 6-6, 260-pound tackle, heads the potent Santa Ana line and such top freshmen as Marvin Bain, John Pitts, Bill Coston, Rudy Andrade, Mike Hairston, Doug Wimpess and Ted Reed give the champs plenty of depth.

Lack of a solid first-line quarterback to fill Marteen's shoes could prove trouble.

Backs like Mike Anderson, Henri Jensen, Steve Ledbetter and John Poyas could fill the gap, however.

Strong Points — Depth and the championship attitude.

Weak Points — Quarterback and lack of speed.

3. FULLERTON (6-2-1 record in 1962) — "Look out for the Hornets."

That's the cry up Fullerton way and one hometown sportswriter is already willing to wager even-money that the Hornets will whip Orange Coast this year.

Coach Hal Sherbeck's troops have plenty of depth, some excellent backfield candidates and might prove the upset.

Top players in the Hornet camp include Steve Joyner, Doug Eilerts, Roger Stahlhut, Dick Winn, Dean Morgan, Dave Jacques, Leo Kidd and Chuck Shields.

John Hayek,

a transfer from Utah State, may solve Sherbeck's quarterback problems. Hayek, however, is untested against tough opposition and must first prove himself.

Strong Points — Defensive and offensive lines.

Weak Points — Quarterback and lack of overall speed in the backfield.

4. SAN BERNARDINO (3-6 record in 1962) — "We're 2,000 per cent improved," says Indian coach Ed (Wild Bill) Cody.

Cody is so enthusiastic over his club's chances that he's even got the Berdoo newspaper San Berdoo a strong Eddie Groves figures to paper chanting for a champion.

passing attack with such speedy receivers as George Greenwood, Don Sampson and Pee Wee Arias.

Ken Wharry, Micky Upton, Bingy Dawson and Ray Williams are all top runners along with Arias.

Overall, the Indians figure to be much improved, but a bad schedule could prove to be their downfall. Straight games with Santa Ana and OCC early in the campaign appear tough to handle.

Strong Points — Tremendous speed and good size up front.

Weak Points — Defense (See PIRATES, Page 20)

Eastern Conference 'Cap

Pos.	Horse	Jockey	Odds	Comment
1	Orange Coast	D. Tucker	4-1	Spot for mid upset win
2	Santa Ana	M. Moore	5-2	Must be favored again
3	Fullerton	H. Sherbeck	6-1	Could easily go all the way
4	San Bernardino	E. Cody	10-1	Primed for big race
5	Riverside	B. Dohr	12-1	Always a tough entry
6	Mt. San Antonio	S. Cramer	12-1	Probably placed too low
7	Citrus	D. Peterson	20-1	Could prove big surprise
8	Chaffey	B. Gable	22-1	Finished high last trip

Angels' Twinbill Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels, who have been involved in the only two rainouts in the city's six-year major league history, may have the weatherman on their side tonight.

The way they've been going, they may ask him to start in the outfield when they meet the Baltimore Orioles in a two-night doubleheader at Chavez Ravine.

Angel Slate

Sept. 18 — Baltimore, KMPG, 7:55 p.m.
Sept. 19 — At Cleveland, KMPG, 10:55 a.m.
Sept. 20 — At Cleveland, KMPG, 10:55 a.m.

The doubleheader was supposed to be played Tuesday night. But both clubs were declared unsatisfactory.

The Weather Bureau says it's not likely to rain again tonight.

Since the Dodgers moved west in 1958, 705 major league games have been played in Los Angeles, excluding three exhibitions, an All-Star game and three 1959 World Series games.

The Dodgers, in nearly six full seasons, have never had a home game postponed. The Angels have had two this season. They and the Chicago White Sox were rained out Easter Sunday.

Left-handers Mike McCormick (4-8) and Dave McNally (6-7) will probably start to-night for the Orioles against right-handers Ken McBride (13-11) and Aubrey Gatewood (4-0).

Both clubs were supposed to be off Thursday. But they'll stick around and play an afternoon game to make up for the single game they were scheduled to play tonight.

Spahn the Great Honored by Fans

MILWAUKEE (AP) — If they gave you the world with a string around it, it would be nothing to this."

Warren Spahn, balding, ancient left-handed pitcher was talking about his night in Milwaukee.

There were 37,000 on hand in County Stadium Tuesday night, for the speeches and fireworks. They exuded devotion.

"No one in baseball ever had as fine a tribute as this," Spahn said. "Those people out there..."

"There's nothing I can really say. You get in front of the people, and you've got a couple of minutes, and there's no way to say what you feel. You can't put the way you feel into words."

Spahn was in the clubhouse at an early hour for him. The San Francisco Giants knocked him out after three in-

Troy Works In Rain, Mud

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A prediction of continued rain for the area today didn't stop the University of Southern California from scheduling a regular workout for its football varsity squad on Bovard Field.

Using the ingenuity expected of national champions, the Trojans capitalized on the rainfall yesterday to hold a two-hour drill to acquaint themselves with slippery conditions that might prevail in future games.

Quarterbacks Pete Beathard and Craig Fertig, who were called on to prove their aerial accuracy in yesterday's workout, expected to lead the drill again today as the Trojans prepared for their season opener Saturday against the University of Colorado.

The Trojans depart for Boulder Friday.

"They're Tough"Saints
Praise
MonarchsBy GLENN WHITE
LONG BEACH — "We hope to make a good showing — we're not just going along for the ride."

Those were the words of a cautious Tom Carroll, head football coach at St. Anthony's High School — Mater Dei High's foe in a Thursday night clash at Chapman College.

Carroll scoffed at those who would favor the Saints "just because we're in the highly rated Catholic League." The Saint coach praised Mater Dei tutor Dick Coury as "a mighty tough opponent" and rated the Monarchs as one of the two toughest foes St. Anthony's will deal with this season.

"Dick's teams are always tough and they're always ready early," he added.

Since taking over the head job in 1961, Carroll has guided the Saints to a second place finish and a tie for third in Catholic League standings and has never had a losing season.

In '61 his team was 5-2-1 and lost to loop champion Loyola 14-12. Last year Loyola, CIF champion, downed the Saints, 26-7, as Carroll's forces posted a 5-4 season record.

"Last year we were predominately a running team because of having an inexperienced quarterback. But now we have the same QB (Mike Curran) back and we hope to be able to mix up our offense with both passing and running," Carroll related.

Carroll's crew will probably be handicapped by the expected loss of fullback Tony Terry, a 225-pound ace rated as "our best back," by the Saint boss. Evans is suffering with broken knuckles.

In the line Carroll has two players he rates as all-league caliber. Tackle Dale Evans (265) is the biggest player on the squad while Sam Briggio, (175) joins Evans on the left side of the line and plays guard.

St. Anthony's runs out of the tight T formation, using flankers occasionally.

Entire Mesa Backfield Out

Football prospects at Costa Mesa High School dipped to a new low Tuesday with the disclosure that the entire Mustang backfield will probably be out of action Friday night in the season opener against Orange Coast area rival, Huntington Beach.

Quarterback Vince Senik, a highly touted signal-caller, appeared to be the most seriously hurt member of the Mesa squad. Senik suffered a broken hand in Monday's scrimmage with powerful Long Beach Wilson and may be out for the entire campaign.

Fullback Jim Ayers is a doubtful starter again the Oilers after suffering a wrenched knee Monday. Halfback Dick Dixon is not expected to play, also banged up with a badly injured knee.

The other Mustang halfback — Dan Johnson — has a badly cut eye and Kimball doubts he'll be ready for battle.

Two other regulars, tackle Mike Cassidy and center Jim Olson, may also be out of the fray. Cassidy, described by Kimball as "a good one," twisted his knee

Monday and Olson is suffering from a throat infection.

Apparently stunned by the rash of injuries, Kimball sent his troops through a rugged two-hour workout Monday night despite a heavy downpour.

The new Mesa coach will probably start a backfield unit against Huntington composed of Bud Abrams at fullback; Pat Kelleher and John Ball at halfbacks and either Frank Duarte or Dennis McGavack at quarterback.

Wilson, regarded as one of the best teams in the CIF this year, not only decimated the Mustangs physically on Monday but also racked up a 96-18 victory on the scoreboard.

Pirates Picked For EC Crown

and lack of depth.

5. RIVERSIDE (3-6 record in 1962) — A shift from the single-wing to the T-formation makes the Bengals an unknown quantity in '63.

But head coach Bob Dohr isn't anybody's fool and from the looks of his recruiting campaign, Riverside is ready to return to the first division. Riverside landed a "big catch" in CIF small school player of the year, Ken Martin of Hemet. The flashy halfback will combine with Charlie Holmes to give the Bengals good backfield speed.

Ted Warren is a top quarterback prospect while Howard Snyder could develop into an excellent fullback.

Strong Points — Defense and excellent speed.
Weak Points — Lack of size, depth and a new formation.

6. MT. SAN ANTONIO (5-1 record in 1962) — It's hard to rank the Mounties this low, but Stan Cramer's bunch from the hills of Walnut appear to be joining some mighty tough company.

The Mounties always have excellent size, but sometimes seem to be lacking in backfield speed. One of the smallest initial turnouts in history reports, yet Cramer remains optimistic.

Quarterback Joe Keough could develop into one of the better throwers in the league while backs like Pat Mitsuaga, Richard Riley and Les Shy also look sharp.

Films Set For Troys

Reservations are now being taken for Friday night's annual Newport Harbor Trojan Club football kickoff banquet at Irvine Coast Country Club.

The affair will get under way at 6:30 p.m. with dinner set for 7:30 p.m. Color films of Troy's 1963 Rose Bowl victory over Wisconsin will be shown and according to club president Grenny Lansdell, "these are the best films ever taken."

A surprise speaker is also on the agenda.

Reservations may be made by calling Bill Grundy at Oriole 3-7176. The Trojan Club is also trying to organize bus trips to three SC games. Anyone interested in attending should contact George Bissell at Oriole 3-2097.

Lansdell, who is president of the Newport outfit, was an All-American quarterback at SC in the 1930s. Bill Sanger, who played fullback on Lansdell's teams is presently vice-president of the Trojan Club.

"So Bill's still doing my dirty work," Lansdell said with a laugh.

Southland Preps Ready for Action

The 1963 football season is just around the corner for some 250 Southern California high schools today and Mater Dei's powerful Monarchs are slated to receive the distinction of kicking off the campaign Thursday night.

Coach Dick Coury's Monarchs, perennial Orange County powerhouses, will face Catholic League representative St. Anthony's Thursday at Chapman College in Orange.

Come Friday, the bulk of the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) Southern Section will swing into action with several encounters on tap that will give indications of suspected strengths or weaknesses.

Interest runs high at Loyola, where new head coach Mario Di Muro sends the CIF, SS, defending champion Cubs to do battle with the Bay League's Mira Costa at Manhattan Beach.

Loyola went through its nine game schedule without a set-back last season and culminated the career of Southern Section Player of the Year Steve Grady with playoff wins over Bellflower, North Torrance, Glendale and Anaheim in sweeping the "AAA" title.

"AAA" champion South Pasadena hosts Claremont, "AA" champ Lasuen meets Serra, "A" titleholder Brear-Olinda hosts Magnolia, and small schools winner Needles plays host to Holtville in other Friday night game involving 1962 champions.

Other "big ones" pit Anaheim at Chaffey, Centennial at Santa Monica, Santa Maria at Santa Barbara, Morningside at Redlands, and Monrovia at Glendale, all on Friday night.

Two Saturday games will give indications of four teams that are highly rated by opposing coaches. Riverside Poly of the citrus Belt Loop meets Western of Anaheim at La Palma Park and Santa Ana tangles with potent Santa Ana Valley at Orange Coast College Stadium.

Riverside has been rated as "real tough" by coach Frank Serrao of Redlands, while both Santa Ana and Western figure to give Anaheim a run for the Sunset League title, according to Clare Van Hoorebeke of Anaheim.

Santa Ana Valley has a 33-9 record in four years of competition and will rate the favorite's role in the Freeway League chase this season, according to most observers.

Thus, the stage is set for the opening of the 50th year of interscholastic football as sanctioned by the CIF.

Bees Open On Friday

Orange Coast Area Bee football kicks off its 1963 schedule Friday as all area squads head into action against non-league opponents.

Corona del Mar's Sea Kings and Newport Harbor's Sailors write a little history as the two schools square off in their first ever meeting.

Newport, under Bill Straw, travels to meet their cross-town neighbor at 3:20 p.m. The Sea Kings are coached by Chuck Kloes.

Former Costa Mesa varsity headman, Don Burns, now at the reins of the Mustang Bees, gets his first taste of competition, traveling to Huntington Beach. Westminster opens its season traveling to arch-rival Bolsa Grande. Both contests are scheduled to get under way at 3:15 p.m.

Mater Dei Bees, under coach Ed Bain, will get long sessions on the practice field before opening their season against Dorsey High School, Thursday, October 3.

Area Cees

Set to Open

Orange Coast Area Cee football squads left the practice fields in high spirits this afternoon before heading into their season openers Thursday.

All action is scheduled to begin at 3:15 p.m.

In their first meeting ever, Jay Lowry's Corona del Mar Sea Kings encounter Ed Wynkoop's Newport Harbor Sailors on the Sea King turf.

In other action, Dick Surman's Costa Mesa Mustangs hosts Huntington Beach and Harlo Lebard's Westminster Lions host Bolsa Grande.

Friday, Mater Dei clashes with St. Anthony's of Long Beach in its grid lid-lifter. Kick off is scheduled for 3 p.m.

OCC Gear To Africa

It may not be too far in the distance future when Nigerians will be competing in international track and field events, wearing Orange Coast College uniforms.

Sound confusing?

Well, the whole thing started when OCC track coach Norm Lumian decided to take a year's leave of absence in order to coach the spike sport in Nigeria.

Finding the African athletes lacking in equipment, Lumian sent a plea to Orange Coast College president Dr. Basil Peterson requesting "some old" Pirate track gear."

Monday night, the OCC board of trustees gave its approval to shipping a large quantity of old gear to Lumian in Nigeria.

Vaulting poles, discus, sweat suits and meet uniforms will all be sent abroad.

Now all Lumian has to do is cut the Orange off of Orange Coast and substitute Gold. After all, he's coach on the Gold Coast.

No Action On Metro

SOUTHLAND NEWS SERVICE
SANTA ANA — The oft-postponed decision on Metropolitan Area status for Orange County will not be made in Washington on Friday, according to federal officials.

The technical, or fact-finding committee, will make no recommendation for action by the Federal Committee on Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, Walter F. Ryan, chairman of the Bureau of the Budget, reported.

This federal committee must decide whether the county be allowed to divorce itself from a statistical area that now includes Los Angeles and Long Beach — a separation advocated by a number of county businessmen and government officials.

The new organization is set up to coordinate local councils in Southern California, consisting of units in East San Gabriel Valley, Kern County, Los Angeles County, Orange County, Santa Monica-Long Beach Region, San Bernardino, San Diego, and South Bay areas.

GEN'L MANAGER
Jabsco's Parrett

Mesa Firm Appoints Head Man

Robert E. Parrett has been named general manager of the Jabsco Pump Co., manufacturer of self-priming, flexible impeller pumps, according to M. C. McCray, president. Parrett was most recently director of manufacturing at the Costa Mesa firm.

Parrett's affiliation before coming to Jabsco a year and a half ago was as director of manufacturing for Young & Wire Co. Prior to that he was a vice president and board member of American Hardware Corp. where he served as director of manufacturing for two years, having come up through their Kwikset Lock Division.

In this new capacity as general manager of Jabsco, Parrett will have responsibility for the activities of sales, manufacturing, engineering, accounting and industrial relations. His plans for the near future include production of a new line of chemical pumps and a complete standardization of all existing pump lines. This will be made possible through new manufacturing methods currently under study.

HB Permits 29 Per Cent Over 1962

Huntington Beach building permits are a whooping 29 per cent above last year's eight-month total, building director O. C. "Jack" Cleveland reported today.

August's total didn't set any records, but the eight-month total is $53,446,186, which is $12,119,823 ahead of last year's figure at this date.

There were 94 new residential units valued at $1,526,773 among the 337 permits issued during the past month for a total of $2,114,111, Cleveland said.

As of Sept. 1, 3,465 new residential units have been built in the city since Jan. 1 valued at $45,216,774.

In 1962, Huntington Beach just edged out Orange for the highest building figure in the county and was fourth highest in Southern California. It has a substantial lead over all other Orange County communities this year.

Realtors
To Attend
LA Meet

A large delegation of Huntington Beach realtors is planning to attend the 59th annual convention of the California Real Estate Association at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, beginning Sunday.

Roger D. Slates, president of the local board of realtors, said that plans are now complete for the assembly, according to word he has received from L. H. Wilson, of Fresno, president of the 40,000-member association.

Among speakers to appear during the five-day conference are Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and Ronald Reagan. Brown will deliver the keynote speech Tuesday on "California Must Lead the Nation."

Dr. Peale, noted minister, lecturer and author, will speak Wednesday on "Why Positive Thinkers Get Positive Results," Slates said.

Reagan, star of motion pictures and television and a well-known and widely-acclaimed speaker will headline Thursday's program.

More than 4,500 realtors, real estate associates and their guests are expected to attend from 171 real estate boards throughout the state.

Local realtors having a part in the program include Slates who will serve on the commercial, industrial committee, and Cap Blackburn who is a member of the legislative group.

Early reservations have been received from Blackburn, Ed Sukla, Richard La Rue, and Gerry Lance, Slates announced.

OCC's Mills
Cancels Out
Of Fulbright

Orange Coast College physics instructor Ralph Mills has returned to the OCC campus after canceling his Fulbright exchange teaching assignment in England, it was learned today.

Mills left Costa Mesa with his family last July to take the teaching assignment in England. The assignment was to have lasted a year.

Mills said "reasons of health" caused him to cancel his Fulbright grant, according to an OCC spokesman. His wife reportedly became ill after arriving in England, it was learned.

The cancellation, which left Mills' English counterpart stranded in Washington D.C. with no place to teach, reportedly received widespread critical comment in the English press.

The British instructor returned to England when a suitable replacement for Mills could not be found. OCC sources reported.

Moose Lodge Installs Officers

New officers of the Huntington Beach Lodge 1832 of the Loyal Order of Moose installed new officers Sunday in ceremonies at Memorial Hall. Among those installed were James E. Clancey (from left) junior past governor; Howard F. Rubidoux, governor; Jesse Swafford, prelate and Jalan N. McKone, junior governor. Members and families held a buffet and dance at the Elks Club afterwards.

Committee Reports Hospital Progress

Progress on plans for a community hospital in Huntington Beach have been reported by the Health Care Facilities Planning sub-committee to the full Planning and Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Subcommittee chairman Bill Woods said the group had studied all types of hospital operation and had taken steps to head off any of what he described as undesirable, competitive private facilities being set up in the meantime.

Last week the committee heard a talk by Walter R.

Hoefflin, administrator of the Methodist Hospital of Southern California and chairman of the Relationship and Planning Committee of the Hospital Council of Southern California.

Hoefflin outlined operations of five different types of hospitals and told of their problems. He listed non-profit, church-related institutions, community hospitals, inter-faith operations and private or proprietary hospitals.

Woods said his committee will meet again in the next few weeks to consolidate their studies and outline a program of action.

OCC Wants Education TV Costs

By CHARLES H. LOOS
Orange Coast College trustees said Monday they want more information on costs before making any decision on future use of educational television in college programs.

Trustees said they want to know how much money would be required to operate an educational television station as well as how much they would have to spend to install such a facility.

Installation of an educational television station at the college has been under consideration by trustees for several months.

They reaffirmed their general support of the idea Monday, but ordered more study of the proposal by OCC faculty and staff members.

Preliminary reports indicate the cost of installing a station would run from $100,000 to $200,000.

Tentative plans call for use of Federal matching funds set up under the Federal Communications Commission to help finance the project. Dr. Robert Moore, OCC dean of instruction, said more than 300 channels have been reserved by the FCC for use as non-commercial, educational television circuits. Slightly more than 75 of these channels are currently in use, he said.

Lobster Bake Due at Point

DANA POINT — Dana Point Civic Association is sponsoring a lobster bake at Doheny State Park on Sept. 28 to raise funds for the Community House, according to Don Simpkin, President. The Community House is jointly supported by the Woman's Club, the Art Guild and the Civic Association of Dana Point.

Dr. Moore pointed out that some Orange County school districts are using educational television at this time, but noted that no federal funds have been allocated for educational television in the county.

Dr. Basil H. Peterson, OCC president, said a television station at OCC would provide a practical laboratory for at least two college instructional programs now under way in addition to its benefits as a classroom teaching device.

Calculus, Analytics

Pupils Get Tough Class

Addition of calculus and analytics as a two-semester course for students at Westminster High School was approved Tuesday by the Huntington Beach Union High School District Board of Trustees.

To date, there are 15 students — all at Westminster — who want the class. So far, it is not known if any Huntington Beach-Marina students are qualified for the difficult course.

School officials said if any are found, they may either take the class at Westminster or be enrolled in a similar course at Orange Coast College.

The course is offered to any high school pupil who has completed four years of mathematics and can secure the approval of his mathematics teacher.

Dear Gloomy Gus...

To the student who complained about high-priced textbooks: Has it ever occurred to you that the education you are getting is costing you only the price of your textbooks? Try and get such a good deal elsewhere. —N.C.Q.

This feature reflects readers' views, not necessarily those of this newspaper. Send your pet peeve to: Gloomy Gus, Daily Pilot/News-Press, Box 1875, Newport Beach.

What 'They' Say

From the false tale of George Washington and the cherry tree—"I cannot tell a lie"—on down to such things as flying saucers, Americans have cherished myths of all sorts.

Many are harmless but some are vicious. One of the most harmful involves one of the best of the nation's small liberal arts colleges, and it is only now being lived down.

Reed College in Portland, Oregon was founded in 1911 on a bequest from Simeon Gannett Reed and his wife Amanda, natives of Massachusetts who had been among Oregon's pioneers. The college's first president was William T. Foster, a Harvard graduate who had his own ideas about what a good college should be. He was dissatisfied with the ways of higher education in his time.

Foster announced that Reed College would not be hampered by "hallowed traditions" which he regarded as "petrified errors." There would be no inter-collegiate athletics at Reed. Neither would there be fraternities and sororities.

These were heresies in the Pacific Northwest, where football and fraternities were in high esteem then as now—as they are in most other parts of the U.S. President Foster shocked the college-conscious public by these "un-American" policies. No matter that he was building a great hall of learning, he was striking at cherished embellishments.

The Reed myth began soon after President Foster assembled a faculty of brilliant young men who were as discontented as he with the approach to education then common among U.S. colleges. Foster's successor, Richard F. Scholz of Wisconsin, who had been among the first group of Rhodes Scholars at Oxford, carried on in the same tradition.

Autumn in New York

By STAN DELAPLANE

NEW YORK — Autumn in New York is a flurry of secretaries scurrying through the glass doors of Rockefeller Center. Still tanned and unfaded from the summer vacation.

Autumn in New York is evening coming earlier. The office buildings empty and the sunset is flickering gold on a million windows.

Autumn in New York is the first fall-turned leaf blowing off the plane trees that Mr. Moses planted in front of the brownstones in the Fifties. The smell of brisk air in the early morning from a hotel window up town. Football and baseball overlapping on two TVs in a midtown tavern.

AUTUMN in New York is the splash of mile-high "spectaculars" in Times Square.

The neon of new shows on 48th. The ringing of phones in the ticket brokers. New menus in the after-theater restaurants.

It's a covey of school kids, all giggles, on a "field trip" to the mummy rooms of the Metropolitan Museum. ("Gee, you suppose there's REALLY a real body inside?")

A V-flight of ducks high in a smoky, twilight sky. A cop pulling his blue coat over his noon-time shirt sleeves.

Doormen whistling without result for cabs at the 5 o'clock rush hour.

Wednesday, September 18, 1963 holes punched in cardboard.

There's an autumn smell to the air. And on the cool parkways up to Connecticut, the commuter rolls down his window and the evening smell of beech trees floods the car.

Lights come on in the brownstones. In the tall apartment houses along the river. In hotels and lobbies and restaurants. Along the shopping districts and on the bridges.

In power stations up-state, the engineers watch the dials chew up kilowatt hours and throw switches, releasing more and more of the silent strength that lights a city.

The time of closing the deal in the "Bear and Bull" — "Get us a couple more of those Whitbreads. Now the Way I see the proposition..."

A crush of people disappearing into the subway entrance.

The spin of taxis on Park Avenue. "You couldn't slip a dime between his fedora an' mine. You'd think people would learn to drive!"

THE LATE SUN spins off the towering sugar cake of the UN building. The captains and the kings depart to talk again another day.

A plodding tug tows a string of barges down the East River.

Lights come on in the glass skyscrapers like

In Washington

Attack on the Right

By RALPH de TOLEDANO

The time: Autumn, 1961. The place: Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's offices in the Justice Department.

The topic: How to suppress the so-called radical right.

Present at the meeting were United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther and his left-wing brother Victor. They had asked for the conference with the Attorney General to urge him that the time had come to wipe out what they called the "conservative rebellion." Atty. Gen. Kennedy listened to their ideas and then asked them to prepare a memorandum.

IF THERE were anything clandestine, about Dr. Schwarz's activities, there might be grounds for concern. But he does his work on lecture platforms, before TV cameras, and in front of banks of microphones. He has the support of legitimate business concerns, movie actors and producers, and John Q. Public.

The Reuthers argue that this must stop, and if there are no laws under which the Attorney General can act, then he should go over Dr. Schwarz's income tax returns.

The Reuthers, when they are wearing their Sunday best, proclaim loudly the virtues of the Bill of Rights. Free speech, free press, free association — these get their blessing. They argue that the Communists, so long as they simply talk, write, and meet openly (without plotting the violent overthrow of the government) should not be molested.

BUT WHERE the right wing is involved, they take a somewhat different view.

The Reuthers throw up their hands in alarm because "there are vast quantities of literature, films, and records emanating from the radical right and even such things as radical right bookshops are beginning to spring up."

This is really a horrendous thought. Americans are being exposed to books by William F. Buckley Jr., editor of National Review, by Sen. Goldwater, even by the writer of this column. Perhaps the Reuthers feel that these books should be burned and the bookshops that sell them should be smashed. But Sen. Goldwater writes a newspaper column. To smother his ideas would require repeal of the First Amendment.

Asleep

To the Editor:

Under date of Friday, July 19, the following insult to the President of the United States appeared in your paper (Gloomy Gus): "Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn, Khrushchev's in the meadow, Castro's in the corn; But where is the little boy who tends these creeps? He's in his rocking chair fast asleep."

Then on Sept. 12th there appeared this: "Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn, the Communists are raging, our friends are forlorn; Oh, where is the little boy who tends to the sheep? Safe in the rocking chair, fast asleep."

Please don't accuse me of being controversial after this appeared in your paper.

Some time ago David Lawrence made a statement along similar lines. I had pointed out that it was under former administrations that had occurred the rape of Hungary, the settlement of the Suez Canal ... It was a former President who put Castro in Cuba. Mr. Lawrence wrote me, but deleted part of what I had said.

President Kennedy has made mistakes, too. But I contend that he has done more to stop Communism than has been done for years. A former President may not be asleep, but (he) rides around in a golf cart.

I think few readers of the paper will be impressed.

Allen-Scott

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Of all the military disadvantages that will flow from the nuclear test ban treaty, the one with the greatest peril to U.S. security is the bar against operational testing of nuclear-tipped missiles from stockpile to detonation.

That's the blunt warning sounded by Air Force Gen. Thomas S. Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, in his heavily censored testimony before the Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee.

Gen. Power, the most outspoken military critic of the treaty, shocked the senators by revealing that only the Navy's 1,500-mile Polaris had undergone full operational tests of all the missiles in the U.S. arsenal with range to hit Russia.

Not a single Air Force Atlas, Titan or Minuteman intercontinental ballistic has been fully tested by having its nuclear warhead detonated after being launched from an operational or test base.

MISSILE PROBLEMS —

During their closed door test-ban hearings, Sen. Stennis's military probbers were also told that the Air Force is having serious trouble with the Titan II, the most powerful nuclear-tipped missile in the U.S. arsenal.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, the Air Force's chief-of-staff, reported that the first attempt to fire these powerful intercontinental ballistic missiles from their underground silos had fizzled.

Other Air Force missile experts testified that the escape of a corrosive fuel element stored in the missiles' tanks was the reason for the failures.

THEY REVEALED that these ICBMs were being sent back to the factory for repair, admitting that the missile defects raised the question of whether these TITANS can be stored underground for any long period.

If their defects can't be remedied quickly, the Air Force's widely publicized claim that the Titan II missile is operational as a storables weapon is completely false.

The only way you can prove a weapon system is to take it out of the stockpile in a random pattern and let the tactical unit take it out and detonate it," explained Gen. Power. "If you haven't done this, there is always a chance that something has happened that we don't discover until too late."

"HAVE WE made those operational tests?" inquired Sen. Stennis.

"We have not tested any of the operational warheads in our inventory," replied Gen. Power.

"That includes the Titan II missile," he said.
