

Security Bank

3rd Suspect Held For CdM Robbery

A third suspect in the $15,000 holdup of the Corona del Mar branch of Security First National Bank on Jan. 5 was arrested by the FBI Tuesday afternoon in Hollywood.

He is Robert W. Allison, 42, unemployed, of 1528 N. Alexandria St., Los Angeles.

Earlier in the week two Marine Corps deserters were taken into custody and nearly half the loot was recovered.

Allison was charged with bank robbery when he was arraigned before the U.S. Commissioner Tuesday. The other suspects, Ronald R. Thomas, 20, Geneva, Ala., and Carl F. Dunbar II, 18, Brockton, Mass., are charged with bank robbery and kidnapping.

Investigators accuse Allison of driving the getaway car parked a few blocks from the scene of the robbery.

All three of the suspects were held in Los Angeles County Jail today. They were unable to raise bail, set at $35,000 each for Thomas and Dunbar, and $25,000 for Allison.

The FBI said it expects the Federal Grand Jury to issue indictments against the trio soon.

The kidnapping charges stem from the abduction of retired Army Col. Charles Morrison, 68, of 518 Cameo Highlands, Corona del Mar. Morrison was forced by two of the bandits at gunpoint to drive them to the bank. Also a kidnapping victim was Security First National Bank Manager Gene P. Montgomery, who was taken as a hostage after the holdup and released unharmed a few blocks away. Authorities said the suspects face sentences of up to 25 years on the robbery charges and a maximum of life in prison without the possibility of parole on a kidnapping conviction. If the kidnapping victims had suffered bodily harm, the kidnapers would have faced a death sentence.

Beckman Will Speak At Chamber Banquet

Dr. Arnold O. Beckman of Corona del Mar, board chairman and chief executive officer of Beckman Instruments, Inc., today was announced as principal speaker at the 58th Annual Membership Banquet and Installation of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 2.

Dr. Beckman, 107 N. Shorecliff Road, is currently a director of the California State Chamber of Commerce and in 1956 was president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

In his talk, Beckman will discuss Orange County's potential as a center for industrial research and development firms. His own Fullerton electronics company, founded in 1935, in South Pasadena, has grown into one of Orange County's key industries.

On Jan. 1, he turned over his post of 30 years as president of Beckman Instruments to William F. Ballhaus. Beckman is currently president of the board of trustees of California Institute of Technology, technical consultant to the Orange County Air Pollution Control District, advisory board member of the Orange County Health and Welfare Council and active in many other civic affairs.

In the banquet installation at the Balboa Bay Club, marina owner Ed Hirth will take office as 1965 chamber president, succeeding John Vibert.

Jim Berkshire becomes first vice president; John Macnab, second vice president, and Don Flamm, treasurer. Eighteen new directors will be installed. Directors are Fred Schoeppe, Jesse Luke, Payne Thayer,

Dr. Arnold O. Beckman

Roy Ward, George Woodford, Chick Higbee, Bob Schock and Vibert. All except Ward were elected this week to three-year terms on the Chamber board. Ward will serve two years. Each will represent one of the city's seven councilmanic districts.

Serving one-year terms as directors at large will be Paul A. Palmer, Jim Laws Jr., Beam Griffith, John Parker, Dick Terry, William Mason, Walter Miller and Jim Berkshire. Jack Richardson will be installed as Skipper of the Commodores Club.

Helicopter Pad Wanted

Newport Beach planning commissioners will hear a request to build a private helicopter landing pad atop a proposed two-story office building in Corona del Mar when they meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at city hall.

The request for a use permit from the Macco Realty Co. tops an otherwise routine Planning Commission agenda.

Additionally, Macco has asked that the property on which the structure will be built at 2600 E. Coast Highway be rezoned from residential to commercial, and that off-street parking be permitted on adjacent residential property.

Schools Hearing Opposed

NB Trustees Cite Conflict

By CHARLES H. LOOS
Staff Education Writer

Newport Beach elementary school trustees Tuesday called for a delay in scheduled public hearings on school redistricting plans for the Harbor Area, but it appeared today their request would not be granted.

They asked that the second of two hearings on the controversial issue be shoved back at least two weeks because the Feb. 11 date set for the hearing will conflict with a meeting of the Orange Coast Association.

School board President Donald A. Strauss suggested that the delay be proposed to the Orange County Committee on School District Organization, which has scheduled hearings Feb. 9 in Tustin and Feb. 11 in the Harbor Area.

"After all, the basic purpose of the hearings is to hear from some of the area's leading citizens and it appears most of them plan to attend the coast association meeting that night (Feb. 11)," said Strauss.

NO DELAY

But Dr. John C. Packard, administrative consultant to the county committee today ruled out chances for a delay.

"The hearings have been advertised and we're going right ahead," said Packard.

Newport board President Strauss has served notice he intends to oppose redistricting plans at every turn because an election will mean financial losses to his district no matter what the outcome.

An election before July 1, on the other hand, would bring financial gains to Costa Mesa.

The county committee has indicated it must get redistricting plans to the state Board of Education in time for the state body's March meeting if an election is to be set before July 1. Plans must be approved by the state board before they can be placed before voters.

On other action on the school redistricting front Tuesday night, Newport trustees endorsed a petition signed by five voters who want 4,000 acres near Corona del Mar transferred from the San Joaquin elementary and Tustin high school districts to (See DELAY, Page 2)

Work for Mankind, LBJ Urges Nation

PRESIDENT JOHNSON SWORN — Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson gazed intently at her husband, President Lyndon Johnson, as he took the oath of office as nation's 36th Chief Executive in Washington, D.C., today.

Johnson Launches 'Society'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lyndon Baines Johnson was inaugurated as President in his own right today and launched his term with a plea for Americans to unite to achieve "progress without strife and change without hatred."

In an inaugural address delivered from a windswept outdoor platform on the Capitol steps, the 56-year-old Texan said that poverty and injustice can be eliminated within this generation.

But this great goal can be reached, he said, only if Americans renew their fathers' covenant to build a nation of "liberty, justice and union."

Appealing for peaceful progress toward a society free of racial and other discrimination, Johnson said:

"When any citizen denies his fellow, saying: 'his color is not mine or his beliefs are different, in that moment, he betrays America.'"

"Let us reject any among us who seek to reopen old wounds and rekindle old hatreds... for the time has come to achieve progress without strife and change without hatred; not without difference of opinion, but without the deep and abiding divisions which scar the union for generations."

Johnson delivered his inaugural address from a windswept platform on the steps of the Capitol immediately after Chief Justice Earl Warren had administered the 35-word oath prescribed by article II of the Constitution.

With his left hand resting on a bible his mother gave him and his right hand raised, Johnson intoned after the chief justice:

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Following an example set by George Washington, he added four words not required by the Constitution:

"So Help Me God."

Johnson wore an oxford gray business suit instead of the traditional morning coat and striped trousers. Earlier, Hubert Horatio Humphrey of Minnesota had taken his oath as vice president, filling an office that has been vacant since Johnson himself was catapulted (See JOHNSON, Page 3)

Clouds Due Before Sun

There will be weather today and tomorrow along the Orange Coast, but not a great deal of it, says U.S. Weather Bureau forecaster Gordy Shields.

He envisions a partly cloudy day today, the same story tonight, but things should clear up by Thursday, when sun is guaranteed. Temperature will hover about 65 degrees for the next 24 hours. "Nothing really dramatic," says Shields.

JFK Remembered Rigid Security Measures Taken

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's inaugural was safeguarded by the most massive security precautions ever devised for a chief executive.

During the oath-taking and the inaugural address, before tens of thousands of spectators fanned out below the Capitol steps, the President stood behind a three-sided, bulletproof screen of glass.

The protective cage has a sheet of 1/2-inch glass directly in front of the podium, like the one at the White House reviewing stand, but in addition has flanking panes extending back diagonally on each side to deflect a bullet fired from any possible angle.

Helicopters, television scanners, armed Secret Service men on rooftops, a rebuilt and rear-motored presidential limousine, and some 5,000 policemen, National Guardsmen and regular troopers were among the further unprecedented precautions.

With President John F. Kennedy's assassination in mind, special attention was given to building tops and windows along the parade route from the Capitol to the White House. Even manholes in Pennsylvania Avenue had been checked.

Orders were issued that all windows overlooking the parade be kept closed. Even regular government workers had to have a special one-day pass to get into their own buildings.

The names of all other persons planning to enter private and public buildings along the line of march had been taken and turned over to the Secret Service.

Inaugural Festivities Capped by Big Parade

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An all-American procession of cowboys, Indians, high school bands, pretty girls, paratroopers and politicians escorted Lyndon B. Johnson down the glory road from the Capitol to the White House today after he took his oath as President.

There were 52 bands and 15,000 marchers — a short inaugural parade by past standards, but still long enough to need three hours to pass down historic Pennsylvania Avenue.

Military hardware was conspicuous by its absence. Instead of missiles, tanks and guns, the parade featured floats depicting the peaceful accomplishments and ideals of "The Great Society."

More than 500,000 people endured bitter cold to watch along parade route. An estimated 200 million others, on both sides of the Atlantic, saw it on television.

Johnson rode at the head of the parade in a glass-topped limousine. He was accompanied by the First Lady and Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the joint congressional inaugural committee.

Escorting the presidential car was the 240-member band of Southwest Texas State College—Johnson's alma mater.

Riding in a second limousine were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and his wife, Muriel. They were accompanied by speaker John W. McCormack and his wife.

Behind them, in other cars, were Lynda and Luci Johnson, the younger Humphreys, Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren, leaders of Congress, members of the cabinet, and the joint chiefs of staff.

The governors of 47 states — including 12 Republicans — and Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama — rode at the head of their state units. Each state was allowed, in addition to one governor, one band, one marching unit and one float.

First Lady's Activities Clearly Show Happiness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For Lady Bird Johnson the inauguration of her husband today is the triumphant culmination of a dream they have shared for 30 years.

The First Lady, whose unflagging confidence and belief in him have sustained her husband through victory and defeat, appears to her friends to be walking on air these days.

They say she has never appeared more radiant than she has during the past few days of inaugural festivities. But through it all she has never held herself aloof from those who helped fashion her husband's Nov. 3 victory.

Mrs. Johnson feels the President's commitment to the "Great Society" also involves her. She hopes to work on Johnson mementoes for his boyhood home and library. She has become more fashion-conscious in the past few months. Her clothes have a special flare and her new "romantic" hairdos, done by stylist Jean Louis, give her a regal look.

She drew admiring smiles from the crowds last night when she swept into Constitution Hall for the inaugural concert clad in a red gown with a slight train. She also attended a supper dance given by Mrs. Albert Lasker, widow of the New York philanthropist, and Washington attorney Abe Fortas.

Mrs. Johnson kept smiling throughout the concert. Part of the reason seemed to be that the President was having a wonderful time, too. They heard pianist Van Cliburn, violinist Isaac Stern, and excerpts from "Porgy and Bess" sung by Therese Coleman and Todd Duncan.

Mrs. Johnson said she "loved the entire evening." She beamed happiness at the supper dance when she was greeted with a hug and kiss by old friends like Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

The President and his wife also had a ball watching their daughter Luci, steal the show. She did the "Watusi" in the candlelit setting of the State Department's formal rooms.

Her sister, Lynda, said she was "looking eagerly forward to the inauguration" — adding with a grin — "being over."

Lynda is suffering from a cold and has dark circles under her eyes from the strain of the past few days.

Capital To Dance Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five inaugural balls will be held tonight for a President whose love of dancing is matched by only one predecessor — George Washington.

President and Mrs. Johnson and their daughters, Lynda, 20 and Luci, 17 are planning to drop in on all five of the balls where thousands will be gathered to see them.

The inaugural committee reported a sellout with some 28,000 tickets purchased for the affairs at the Armory, the Mayflower, Shoreham, Sheraton-Park and Statler-Hilton hotels. Johnson was expected to make his first appearance at the Armory where about 11,000 persons will be gathered.

Inaugural officials lined up 14 bands and combos to perform at the balls. They set a theme of "America the Beautiful" for the lavish decorations.

The big name entertainers on hand include Louis Armstrong, the Brothers Four, Emil Coleman, Russ Davis, Lester Lanin, Peter Duchin, Henry King, Meyer Davis and today when he took the oath of office and became the nation's 41st vice president. Thousands gathered on the Capitol grounds and millions more on television saw Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., swear the druggist's son from Huron, S.D., into office as the United States' second-ranking official.

Humphrey is the first vice president the nation has had since Nov. 22, 1963. The Bible used for the ceremony has been in Mrs.

The military bands will render "Hail to the Chief" when the President enters the ballroom. The Johnsons are expected to make the rounds with Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The balls are expected to put the inauguration financially in the black. Tickets for the black tie events sold at $25 per person and $75 a box. Champagne and soft drinks were being served and hard drinks were to be sold.

The decorations represent scenes from the stirring stanzas of Katherine Lee Bates' "America the Beautiful." There were murals of "alabaster cities, purple mountain ranges and sea to shining sea."

At the armory, 20-foot-high baskets were filled with clusters of state flowers. The boxes were decorated with the state seals. And each of the guests was to get a memento for his ticket stub.

Women guests were to receive an octagonal gold charm with the sculptured faces of the President and Vice President on one side and the inscription 1965 Inaugural on the other. Men were to be given sterling silver key chains with the same engraving.

An added touch to the balls this year are cabaret set-ups at each of the balls for guests who want to mingle together, sit a while and have a drink. Mammoth cakes also have been baked for the balls with confederation decorations of the Capitol dome, the White House and the presidential and vice presidential seals.

President Johnson is expected to be on the dance floor throughout the evening. He also insists that everyone else get out and dance.

VICE PRESIDENT — Chatting with his boss is the nation's new Vice President, Hubert H. Humphrey who achieved a pinnacle of life today when he took his oath of office. The two are shown last night at one of pre-inauguration dances.

Vice President Humphrey Reaches Pinnacle of Life

WASHINGTON (UPI) — er John W. McCormack, D-Mass., swear the druggist's son from Huron, S.D., into office as the United States' second-ranking official. Humphrey is the first vice president the nation has had since Nov. 22, 1963. The Bible used for the ceremony has been in Mrs.

Muriel Humphrey's family for generations. It was held for the swearing-in by Freddy Gates, a longtime family friend from Minneapolis. Humphrey took the oath of office shortly before the swearing-in of President Johnson by Chief Justice Earl Warren. Technically, the 53-year-old former senator from Minnesota has been without a job since he gave up his Senate seat shortly before the new Congress convened Jan. 4.

The Humphrey family had front row seats for the inaugural. Mrs. Humphrey sat with Lady Bird Johnson while the Humphrey children — sons Hubert III, Robert and Douglas, and daughter Mrs. Bruce Solomonson — were in a group across the aisle.

The day began for Humphrey at 9 a.m. when he and President Johnson attended special interfaith services at the National City Christian Church. After the services Humphrey arrived at the white house at 10:30 a.m. for the start of the procession to the Capitol. The vice president-elect and his wife rode in the second car of the motorcade with McCormack.

Humphrey attended a lunch at the Capitol given by the joint congressional inaugural committee before joining the parade back down Pennsylvania Avenue to the presidential reviewing stand in front of the White House.

A reception for Johnson and Humphrey and five fancy dress balls — all of which the new vice president planned to attend — were to cap this, the big day of his life.

Humphrey made a happy vow of "loyalty beyond question" to Johnson at a pre-inaugural lunch meeting of Young Democrats yesterday. But he also made it plain he planned to add a new dimension to the vice presidency.

His speech ranged from a humorous review of the relative anonymity of some former vice presidents to a somber warning that if this coming administration should fail then "freedom fails."

"Thank you again, and again, and again," she said. "This is a wonderful thrill, a sentimental thrill. This sounds like a goodbye, but it's not. It's a beginning."

The ceremony had lasted only two minutes. Once it was over, Johnson turned to his wife and kissed her on the cheek. He did the same to Mrs. Kennedy.

In contrast to this almost private ceremony, Johnson's inaugural today was recorded in every aspect for posterity. Television cameras covered his every step from the time he left the White House for the trip to Capitol Hill until he returned to his living quarters.

But on the day of Kennedy's assassination, only one photographer — Capt. Cecil Stoughton of the Signal Corps — took pictures of the swearing-in.

into the presidency by an assassin's bullets on Nov. 23, 1963.

WITNESSED
The solemn oath-taking ceremony was witnessed by some 10,000 VIP guests in the Capitol's great plaza, and by an estimated 200 million others on both sides of the Atlantic over television. It was the 45th presidential inauguration in U.S. history.

Although a stiff wind was blowing, the weather was the mildest Washington has had in many days, with the temperature edging up toward the forties.

In his address, Johnson said Americans must not fail now to earn again the heritage won "with toil and tears." Americans, he said, "are a nation of believers."

"Underneath the clamor of building and the rush of our day's pursuit, we are believers in liberty and justice and in our union," he said. "We believe every man must someday be free. And we believe in ourselves."

The President said America's enemies mistakenly have awaited this country's defeat in past depression and war but "each time from the secret places of the American heart came forth the faith" that brought victory.

UNCROSSED
The President said: "For this is what America is all about. It is the uncrossed desert and the uncrossed ridge. It is the star not reached and the harvest sleeping in the unplowed ground."

"Is our world gone? We say farewell. Is a new world coming? We welcome it — and will bend it to the hopes of man."

"I will lead as best I can. But look within your hearts — to the old promises and the old dream. They will lead you best of all."

The President said it was "incredible... that in this fragile existence" faced by all humans that "we should hate and destroy one another."

"There are possibilities enough for all who will abandon mastery over others to pursue mastery over nature," Johnson asserted. "There is world enough for all to seek their happiness in their own way."

The President said "the American covenant called on us to help show the way for the liberation of man, and that is still this country's goal."

Following the Capitol ceremony, Johnson rode down Pennsylvania Avenue at the head of a three-hour inaugural parade, protected by the tightest security precautions in history.

The 36th President focused his attention primarily on domestic problems, particularly the healing of divisions and the elimination of discrimination. But he also assured foreign nations that America will not retreat into isolation under his leadership. Nor, he said, will it seek to impose its will over others.

OUR HOPE
"We aspire to nothing that belongs to others," he said. "We seek no dominion over our fellow man, but man's dominion over tyranny and misery... if as a nation there is much outside our control, as a people no stranger is outside our hope... we can never again stand aside in prideful isolation."

Referring to the cost in blood of defending the far frontiers of freedom in places like Vietnam, the President said: "If American lives must end and American treasure be spilled in countries we barely know, that is the price that change has demanded of conviction."

Johnson said America's enemies always have waited for the day that it would retreat from its great dream of the liberation of mankind, but they have always been confounded by the faith that springs anew in each generation from "the secret places of the American heart."

"But we have no promise from God that our greatness will endure," he warned. "We have been allowed by him to seek greatness with the sweat of our hands and the strength of his spirit."

"If we fail now, then we will have forgotten in abundance what we learned in hardship — that democracy rests on faith, freedom asks more than it gives, and the judgment of God is harshest on those who are most favored."

Johnson concluded by repeating the prayer which King Solomon offered when he assumed the leadership of the children of Israel 3,000 years ago:

"Give me now wisdom and knowledge that I may go out and come in before this people. For who can judge this thy people, that is so great?"

Chiefs Agree
To Reopen
Unity Talks

RAMBOUILLET, France (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard have agreed to call for a meeting of Common Market foreign ministers designed to get European political unity negotiations started again, authoritative sources said today.

This probably would be preceded by a preparatory meeting of experts of the six countries, the sources said.

European political unity talks have been at standstill since April, 1962.

The agreement was said to have been reached by De Gaulle and Erhard in two days of man-to-man private talks at the chateau of Rambouillet, about 30 miles southwest of Paris.

They disclosed it to a plenary meeting of their full delegations at the end of their private talks, the sources said.

Gemini
Program Boosted

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Now that the Project Gemini has had a healthy serving of success, America's two-year famine in manned exploration of space is at a foreseeable end — probably this spring.

But the starvation lasted so long that the $1.3 billion program may yet face a drastic slimming in the schedule of 10 manned orbital flights it is supposed to launch by early 1967.

This was the aftermath of yesterday's sparkling, near-flawless shot that sent a robot-piloted Gemini capsule soaring 99 miles into space and 2,127 miles across the Atlantic Ocean aboard a powerful Titan-2 rocket — the program's first success in nine months.

A similar 6,900-pound spacecraft is standing in the wing at Cape Kennedy, and another Titan-2 booster is expected to be airlifted to the spaceport from Baltimore, Md., within a few days. They will be joined on the launching pad, for another go at it in April or May.

The difference is that, instead of two "astro-robots," the seats will be occupied by human astronauts — veteran Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom and anxious fledgling John W. Young.

BONN, Germany (AP) — A bill to give the West German government another 10 years to track down Nazi murderers has been introduced in Parliament. The present statute of limitations bars new prosecutions in most of West Germany after May 8.

Deputy Ernst Benda of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic party presented the measure Tuesday without party support, but he is expected to be able to gather the 50 signatures required for consideration. The present 20-year statute is considered to run from the date of the German surrender.

Ex-Rep. Taft Urges
New GOP Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — The Republican Party should hold a national convention this summer to reorganize the party structure so it could present the GOP's position on key issues as they arise.

That proposal was put forward by former Rep. Robert Taft Jr. in a telephone interview yesterday with United Press International in which he enlarged on a remark earlier this week that he made to the same effect.

AF Cadet Cheating Studied

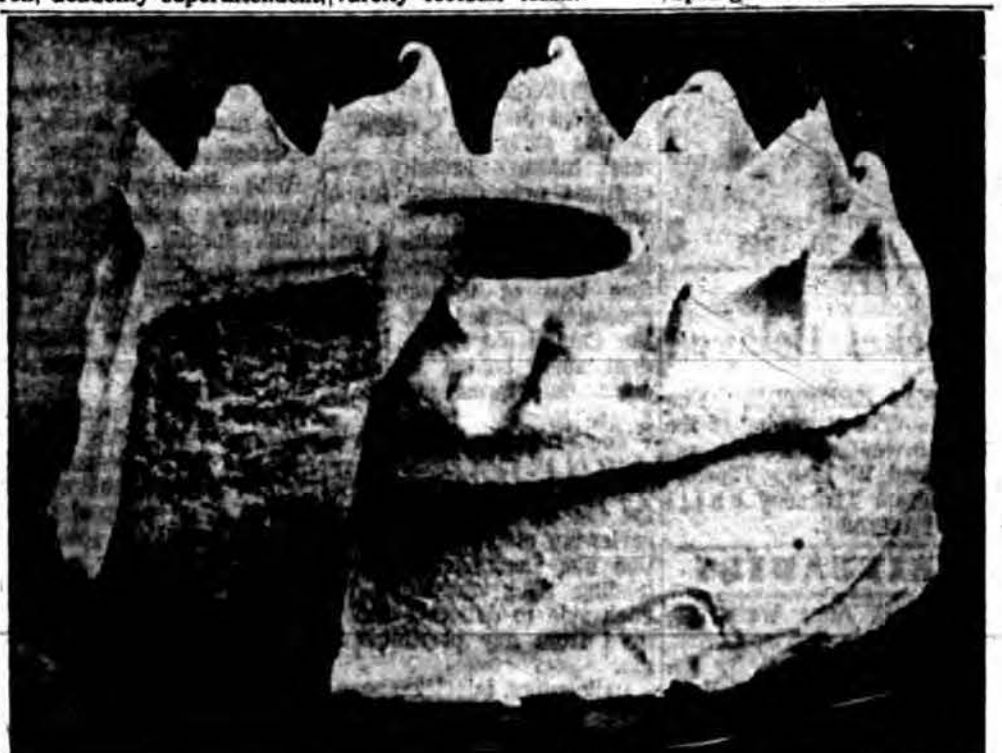

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Air Force Academy officials said today a faculty committee is investigating reports of classroom cheating by some cadets at this newest of the nation's service academies.

A statement by the institution's information office said academy officials "have started a formal investigation on possible cheating activities by a group of cadets. The investigation is to determine whether or not examination materials from certain classes have been illegally obtained and used."

Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, academy superintendent, appointed the investigating committee but the names of its members were withheld.

There are 2,700 cadets enrolled at the Air Force Academy. The statement said, "The academy operates under a cadet honor code. The alleged violations being investigated were brought to light during the operations of this honor system."

The investigation is the first at the academy since its inaugural class of cadets enrolled at temporary headquarters in Denver in July 1955. The cadets occupied their permanent home in the Rocky Mountain foothills 10 miles northwest of Colorado Springs in 1958.

His father's '65 Ford rides quieter than his father's Rolls-Royce

We know it's hard to believe a Ford could ride quieter than the famed Rolls-Royce. But it's a fact. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which three V-8 powered Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, new Galaxie 500/XL and LTD Hardtop) with automatic transmissions rode quieter than a new Rolls-Royce. The tests were certified by the U.S. Auto Club. Of course, the best test of all is to get behind the wheel yourself ... and listen to a '65 Ford in action.

That's what Chuck's father did. Ford's quietness really impressed him. But it wasn't the quietness alone that sold him. He shopped around and found that Ford offers features and models and quality that simply aren't matched by other cars in its class. For example:

- 100% new body—strongest Ford body ever.
- New frame "tunes out" vibration.
- Decorator-appointed interiors in LTD's, thick nylon carpeting.
- More luggage space than in most competing cars—trunk holds four 2-suiters standing upright with room left over.

- Thrifty, quiet new Big Six—the biggest Six offered by any car in Ford's class ... 289-cu. in. V-8 in XL's and LTD's.
- All automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two as in some competing cars—smoother shifting, more economy.
- Silent-Flo ventilation (in 4-door hardtops) provides fresh air in car with all windows shut.
- Handy reversible key works either side up.

There's more ... much more in a Ford than you'd expect for the money. Visit your Ford Dealer and take a test drive soon.

State School Leader Endorses Big Jr. College District

By CHARLES H. LOOS

One of the state's highest ranking school men thinks the proposed formation of a new junior college district covering central Orange County is a good idea.

But, said Dr. Ronald W. Cox, associate state superintendent of public instruction, the plan would be a lot better if the new district also included the southern portion of the county stretching from Laguna Beach to San Clemente and from Tustin to San Juan Capistrano.

"I don't think you can get too big in a junior college district if you want the best possible program for the least possible cost," the state school official said.

Cox heads the state Department of Education's division of public school administration. He is chief advisor to the state Board of Education on school redistricting.

He spoke at Orange Coast College last week to school authorities from Orange, Garden Grove and the Santa Ana and Orange Coast junior college districts after plans for a central county junior college district encompassing these areas were unveiled.

PROPOSAL

Under study is a two-phase proposal aimed at creating the new district by July 1, 1971. Phase one calls for the formation of an interim district composed of Garden Grove and Orange. These areas are not now in any junior college district.

A merger of the interim district with the existing Santa Ana and Orange Coast districts would complete the picture.

Two elections would be required, but the state board must approve the plans before they can be placed before voters.

Cox said he sees no reason why the central county plan can't be implemented, but admitted he has some reservations about it.

"My first question would be," he said, "What's going to happen to the rest of the county?"

With the creation last year of the giant north county junior college set-up, only five areas in Orange County remain outside of a junior college district. Besides Orange, Laguna Beach, Tustin and the San Juan Capistrano-San Clemente area.

ALL INCLUDED

The Legislature wants all areas of the state in junior college districts for two reasons.

First, there simply won't be enough seats in the state's four-year schools to go around. Junior colleges are expected to take up the slack.

Second, so-called out-of-district areas pay taxes for the privilege of sending students to neighboring junior colleges, but have no voice in how the money is spent.

Orange County's five out-of-district areas were invited by SAC and OCC last fall to join them in creating a regional junior college district similar to the new one at the northern end of the county.

But school authorities in the three south county areas were cool toward the idea; hence, the central county

plan. COX REPLY
Cox ducked a direct reply to a question by OCC Supt. Norman E. Watson, who asked if the central county plan might be rejected by the state board in favor of a single district covering both central and southern Orange County.

"I can't speak for the state board," Cox said. "The question would be decided on the basis of which plan would provide the most effective junior college district for educating the students of the area."

But the state official left little doubt as to where he stands on the matter.

In his opinion, the present plan would definitely be improved by "enticing Laguna Beach, Tustin and San Juan Capistrano to be part of it."

"These south county areas should give deep consideration to joining such a district," he said. "I think they would find it to their advantage."

INDEPENDENT

School officials in Tustin, Laguna and San Juan Capistrano-San Clemente are exploring the possibility of forming their own junior college district.

Whatever the outcome many school men agree with OCC Supt. Watson who argues that expanded districts are needed to provide the best possible junior college education in Orange County while avoiding unnecessary duplication of expensive programs on all campuses.

In addition, larger districts would assure a broad tax base for maximum financial support while equalizing the tax burden, Watson says. They will also make possible intelligent planning and pay-as-you-go building programs, he adds.

The OCC superintendent also points out that local action is important in the light of possible state mandated junior college redistricting.

He ends his arguments on an urgent note, pointing out that, in the central county area alone, there will be an estimated 10,204 junior college students by 1967, but only enough classroom space for about 8,500 at SAC, OCC and Golden West College, the only junior college campuses south of Fullerton.

Residents Of 'World' File Protest

Residents of Rossmore Leisure World at Seal Beach are "shocked" at the treatment given their community by the Saturday Evening Post in its Jan. 16 edition.

They fired off a letter to J. M. Clifford, president of the Curtis Publishing Co., signed by more than 1,000 residents, and paid for advertisements in the Leisure World News to express the unhappiness.

William G. Simon, president of the Leisure World Foundation, also addressed a telegram to William A. Emerson, managing editor of the magazine, in which he defended the Leisure World concept.

The letter from the residents said it was unfair to discuss Leisure World in the same breath with other developments "whose greatest claim to distinction may be the magnitude of their shortcomings."

OCC Slates Nurse Class

Orange Coast College will offer an eight-week refresher course for registered nurses who have not practiced recently, but who plan to return to work.

The course will start Feb. 1. The class will be limited to approximately 24 students.

Equipment and textbooks will be supplied students who enroll in the course.

Enrollment information may be obtained by contacting Robert Adams of the California Department of Employment, 2823 South Bristol St., Santa Ana, or by telephoning 546-0540.

Senate Studying New Remap Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Monday's decision by the U.S. Supreme Court concerning the State of Georgia's plan for redistricting its senatorial districts.

Mother's Trial Starts

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — The pregnant mother of three twisted a scrap of paper as the prosecution and defense outlined what they hoped to prove at her trial on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Lucille Miller, 35, is accused of killing her husband, Dr. Gordon E. Miller, 39, last Oct. 8.

As her trial got under way Tuesday the jury was given two conceptions of the woman — and of her husband's death.

Said the prosecutor: Mrs. Miller was a spendthrift wife who couldn't budget her dentist husband's $30,000-a-year income; she "threw herself" at another man; left her husband; then reconciled and — for his $125,000 insurance — drugged him and set him afire with gasoline in the family car.

Said the defense: Mrs. Miller several times talked her moody, introverted husband out of suicide, she convinced him they should have another child "to help cement their marriage," and, when their car pulled suddenly to the side of the road and burst into flames, she fought bravely to try to save him.

Monday's decision by the U.S. Supreme Court concerning the State of Georgia's plan for redistricting its senatorial districts.

In an 8-1 decision, the high court reversed a lower court decision and allowed the system, adopted in 1962, to stand.

PROPOSED The plan allows more than one senator to be elected at large in the more populous counties.

In medium-sized counties a single senator may be elected; and smaller counties may combine into one election district to elect one senator.

Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-Calaveras, chairman of the Senate's 13-member Reapportionment Committee, said a constitutional amendment would be needed.

"Legislative Counsel said an amendment would be required," Teale said, "but the plan will still be considered in committee."

Budget Battle Looming

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown will submit his "bare-bones" budget to the legislature Monday morning.

The chief executive's proposals for spending and suggestions for new taxes are expected to trigger sharp clashes within the legislature.

The new Assembly minority leader — Republican Robert Monagan of Tracy — already has promised, "If they want to use the phrase 'bare-bones,' we'll move to cut it down to the marrow."

Monagan said on educational television station KVIETuesday night that whether the Republicans will vote as a bloc and block the budget this year "depends on what kind of a budget the governor presents."

"I think this is a perfectly defensible weapon for the minority to use. We are entitled to use every weapon we can to get our point of view considered by the majority."

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, took a verbal slap at the budget some time ago.

Dennis The Menace

"WE COME HERE TO LEARN, DON'T WE? WELL, I'M LEARNING! MAMA NOT TO GET SMART WITH ME!"

Giving Names Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Should authorities disclose the identities of juveniles arrested for crimes of violence? Yes, says Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli — who suggests the names of their parents be made public, too.

Bonelli told the Board of Supervisors Tuesday: "I strongly believe that the pattern of juvenile crime, violence and brutality has reached a point when drastic action must be taken to awaken parental responsibility and to prevent juveniles capable of such acts from taking refuge behind the shelter of being minors."

The supervisors asked the newly appointed Los Angeles County Delinquency and Crime Commission to study the possibility of releasing the names of juveniles involved in violent or brutal crimes.

County Supervisors Approve Plans for $9.8 Million Jail

By STEVEN GIBSON
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

SANTA ANA — The Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved revised plans for a new county jail, with $620,000 cut from the original estimate, and ordered the architects to work on final plans.

The board's action brought the $9.8 million project one step closer to ground breaking early next year and completion in 1968.

The architects had been ordered Dec. 23 to slash a $10.4 million original estimate, and at Tuesday's hearing the supervisors heard the results of that cut.

Voters turned down a $11.8 million bond issue for construction of a jail in the November general election.

The actual cost of the entire project will still cost the county more than $12 million because land acquisition, architectural and engineering costs and additional office and technical equipment are not included in the bid price.

The biggest cut $232,500, came when supervisors voted against an underground tunnel nel from the jail to proposed nearby courtroom facilities.

Sheriff James Musick told the board he would use buses to deliver prisoners to courts instead of the tunnel. Many prisoners are transported throughout the county each day to courts outside the civic center and one more stop won't hurt any, Musick said.

Other reductions include $85,000 for landscaping, $46,

500 for building demolition and removal, $1,050 for elimination of inner doors at toilet are substituting closure screens, $59,500 for elimination of plumbing and lighting fixtures on the fourth floor mezzanine of the men's jail, $20,000 for kitchen equipment, $2,400 for reduction in height of the basement of women's jail, and $157,600 for a prison hardware price adjustment.

Representatives of Albert C. Martin & Associates, designers of the three-building complex, also recommended two dormitories which will complete the women's jail be added at an additional cost of $50,500.

The board approved the addition as well as a proposal to keep four flights of escalators in the plans.

J. M. Gaalken, chief of the jail division of Los Angeles County, told the supervisors the new county jail there is equipped with escalators and officials there have never been sorry for installing them.

Architect Ed Martin said further cuts can probably be made as planning becomes more technical and some areas of design are more simplified.

The other major change recommended by the city of Santa Ana to increase traffic flow in the civic center area was to re-orientate the three buildings so the complex now fronts to the intersection of Flower and Sixth streets.

By changing the buildings, designers were able to leave room for a new street, as yet unnamed, between Sixth and Fourth streets behind the jail. When completed the jail will house 1,200 prisoners but is capable of expansion to 1,800.

Presently more than 500 prisoners are housed in a facility built to house less than 300.

Resolved:

Board Seeks Pay Increase

SANTA ANA — The Board of Supervisors Tuesday passed a resolution asking the state Legislature to increase their salaries, and those of the district attorney and the county auditor.

(See previous story Pages 1 and 2)

The pay increases were recommended by the 1964 Grand Jury.

The board asked that supervisors' pay be increased from $13,200 to $16,000.

Williams' salary would be increased from $19,200 to $25,000, putting him on the same level as Superior Court judges.

County Auditor-Controller V. A. Heim would go from $19,000 to $23,000.

Maj. Warren H. Gustafson, of 2525 Santa St., Santa Ana, led an undisclosed number of helicopters on the strike, carrying Vietnamese troops into combat areas along Vietnam's northern coast.

Gustafson is executive officer of the Marine squadron which trained at the Santa Ana Air Facility before leaving for the Far East last August. He also has served as commanding officer of Marine Air Bases Squadron 36 at the Air Facility.

Gustafson, a Marine since 1942, has been flying since 1935. He and his wife, Verda, have four children, David, 17, Teresa Marie, 15, Roy, 13, and John Eric, 10.

Supervisors Split On Jury's Report

By STEVEN GIBSON
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Orange County supervisors are solidly in agreement. They would like more pay. That was the only issue among five of the hottest posed by the 1964 Grand Jury report on which the supervisors were in unanimous agreement.

Each was given a raise to $1,100 a month on Jan. 1. But despite this boost, they are paid less than most county department heads.

And they are well aware that the supervisors of Los Angeles County have their pay tied, by legislative act, to the scale paid Superior Court Judges of the county. If the judges get an increase, the supervisors get one, too. It's automatic.

DIVIDED
On other issues posed by the Grand Jury, the county's five supervisors were divided.

Four of them indicated they favor changing the county's mental health program to include children under 16.

Ironically, these are the same men who last year approved the present mental health program. One of its provisions is that children under 16 are not eligible for treatment.

Three of them indicated they favor studying the Grand Jury's suggestion that they end their archaic system of government by committees and place administrative responsibility in one strong executive.

Most of them agree that Orange County should have a morgue, but they don't say how soon.

And four of them said the birth control clinic proposed by the Grand Jury merits serious study.

Here are their opinions:
"Your salary was increased to $12,200 a year Jan. 1. The Grand Jury proposed it be increased to $16,000. Do you think it should be raised?"

ALTON ALLEN: "Based on my experience in business and my observations in industry, the supervisors are grossly underpaid considering the responsibilities they assume."

"Before I retired as a vice president of Security First National Bank, I was in charge of 28 branch banks, and I thought I was busy then. But that's nothing compared to how busy I am now."

DAVID BAKER: "Yes. The magnitude of the office as a member of a board of directors, an administrator, a legislator is such that our pay should be equal to or higher than most of our department heads."

C.M. FEATHERLY: "I think that would probably be pretty much in line with what the county demands from us. I think the Grand Jury realizes the magnitude of the job we've got here and realizes we should be paid accordingly."

WILLIAM HIRSTEIN: "I don't think anybody is adverse to having a salary boost. Our salaries now are completely out of line with our department heads. Many of them make more than we do."

WILLIAM PHILLIPS: "I think it makes sense. It does not mean a heck of a lot to use because you can't get a raise while in office. The salary of $16,000 probably isn't as high as it should be to get top men. The board does have a lot of responsibilities."

"The Grand Jury recommends that a morgue be provided if any new construction is undertaken at the Health Department or General Hospital. The coroner's office says a morgue would help increase efficiency. Do you think the county should have a morgue?"

ALLEN: "I think it's a question of timing and, eventually, as the county grows, we should have one. Whether we're ready for one now is still a question in my mind. It would cost money. And the taxpayers can stand just so much of a burden."

BAKER: "Very definitely. Yes. There is already a great need for it."

FEATHERLY: "This has been a matter of controversy for quite some time. If there is a morgue, it should be at General Hospital."

HIRSTEIN: "I would agree that a morgue would help in some ways. I don't agree, however, about converting Building 10 at the hospital. (Possible conversion of the abandoned structure also was recommended in the Grand Jury report.) It would involve major expenditures to remodel and refrigerate. It has some possibilities, but it would require a lot of study before we would budget anything for it."

PHILLIPS: "The county will end up with a morgue one of these days. It's obvious that as the county grows it will have to have one. The questions are where to locate it and where will the money come from."

"The Grand Jury has recommended that the county start a birth control clinic to help curb rising welfare costs. Do you think the county should start such a clinic?"

ALLEN: "I think it merits serious study on grounds that any proposal to lessen the burden on the taxpayer should be considered."

BAKER: "I believe there should be guidance and information available on birth control with the concurrence of those involved."

FEATHERLY: "I have no comment to make on that at all. I just am not interested in the matter in any way, shape or form. I hope it never gets to the board. It's something that people should take care of themselves. And I'm not a Catholic, either!"

HIRSTEIN: "Sometimes it could be good. It depends on the circumstances."

PHILLIPS: "I hadn't even thought about it. I hadn't even read that part of the report."

"The Grand Jury urged you to end the board's archaic system of government by committees and place administrative responsibility in one strong executive. This would allow you to concentrate on overall policy and long range planning. What do you think of the suggestion?"

ALLEN: "I think it has to be faced. There's no question but what it would be advantageous to tighten administrative controls as the county grows."

"We undoubtedly are closer to the implementation of such a program now than in previous years."

"Last year we gave additional powers to the administrative coordinator because we wanted to approach an ultimate solution; we didn't want to jump in, but prefer to wait in."

subject is deserving of further careful consideration in the near future."

BAKER: "I concur. The committee system is good. It keeps close communications between the various departments and the board. But there are certain areas in which this could be expanded. We took a step in the right direction, but not far enough, when we created the position of administrative coordinator."

"We have many competent people, both in department heads and in the administrative coordinator. But I feel there could be knitted together a better county government if there were more responsibility placed in the hands of this office (an administrator)."

FEATHERLY: "This gets down to a question of policy. The question is does the county still want to operate by a committee form of government. My constituents have elected me to look after the business of the county."

"As far as a county administrative officer is concerned, as long as he didn't interfere with my right to interfere and communicate with department heads, I couldn't mind."

"I would look at it very critically before I would approve it. I don't think it's necessary at the moment. But I think the time will come when it will be a necessity. That will be when we get supervisors who aren't interested enough to look into all the things that are going on up here. It hasn't been brought before the board. And I for one hope it isn't."

HIRSTEIN: "It might be good in some ways. As far as I'm concerned, I'm pretty well satisfied. I have mixed feelings about an administrative officer. When it comes to a policy decision, I think elected officials should handle it."

PHILLIPS: "I'm a firm believer in having a business executive administering the biggest business in the county. I definitely think it ought to be studied."

"One of the Grand Jury's recommendations is that psychiatric services at General Hospital be expanded to include children under 16. The current program excludes them from treatment. What are your feelings about this?"

ALLEN: "I believe any mental health program that is, deserving of the name should take care of the people who are mentally ill, regardless of their age."

BAKER: "I think consideration should be given for out-patient care for juveniles. But I think there also should be further study in this area."

FEATHERLY: "I would agree that probably one of the things in a mental health program should be to reach down and try and give some help to those youngsters who are feeble minded or retarded. Whether this should be done is another question. I haven't been too close to this."

HIRSTEIN: "There is a problem in this area. No doubt about it. It probably could be met with better efficiency at the local level. But we can't solve all the problems of the world in one fell swoop."

PHILLIPS: "This is one of the biggest problems we've got. I think we ought to treat the children ourselves. It's better to have them closer to home. I do think it ought to be extended."

Hostile Audience

Speaker Prepared With Bandage Box

A box of bandages helped Supervisor David Baker win a hostile Republican audience Friday night in Westminster.

He was debating the merits of the Coleman Electronic Vote Counting System with defeated GOP Congressional candidate Robert Geier.

Some 200 members of the Huntington Beach Area Republican Assembly crowded into the Keystone Savings and Loan auditorium to hear the exchange.

Nearly all of the audience sided with Geier in his criticism of the Coleman System.

During the debate, Geier drew loud applause. Baker received some catcalls and a few cynical bursts of laughter.

A question and answer period followed. Question after question was directed to Baker. After Baker fielded a half dozen of them, moderator Charles Wilson interrupted:

"We don't want to be too rough on Mr. Baker. Does anyone have a question for Mr. Geier?"

"That's okay," said Baker as he withdrew the box of bandages from his brief case and held it up. "I knew it would be rough so I came prepared."

The audience responded with laughter and applause. Later, concluding his remarks, Baker said:

"If you have an opposition to these actions (such as the county's purchase of the Coleman System), make them known to the Board of Supervisors."

"One of the most disheartening things for public officials to experience is to have a serious matter come before them with no apparent interest shown by the public."

"If you are interested in anything pertinent to this district and this county, if you N.J. has been appointed will take the time to write to eastern regional manager of me and tell me about it, you the scientific and process in will be heard."

FULLERTON — Fred O. Christ of New Providence, N.J., has been appointed eastern regional manager of Beckman Instruments Inc.

There followed an enthusiastic round of applause.

Wants Overhaul

Speaker Unruh Upset At Tidelands Program

By JEROME F. COLLINS

California Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh has grumbled in Sacramento that the state's administration of $30 billion in publicly owned tidelands needs major overhauling.

Does this mean, as some Orange Coast leaders fear, that the powerful speaker has his eye on the revenue potential of presumably oil-rich and yet untapped submerged lands off Newport Beach and Laguna Beach?

Perish the thought. Unruh's grumble isn't involved in any way with the possibility of oil rigs dotting Orange County's "Gold Coast" horizon.

That's the assurance today of Unruh's legislative assistant, Jack Crose.

Crose, reached in Sacramento, insisted that the only intent of a Joint Legislative Committee probing the tidelands subject is to "straighten out the state's lousy book-keeping."

Unruh (D-Ingleswood) heads the committee, which last week issued a blistering 500-page report criticizing the use of state tidelands by some local jurisdictions.

The product of a year's investigation by an economic consultant, the report charged the state had forgotten a $30 billion nest egg it asserted local communities are literally "squabbling on."

But it had high praise for at least one local agency for complying with the terms of its tidelands trust — the city of Long Beach. Unruh explained that Long Beach is living up to its trust by providing the state with up to $2.5 billion in oil revenues.

REFERENCE
The speaker's reference to oil revenues as well as the report's dwelling on the subject has given rise to speculation that if Unruh has his way it may mean a hunt for the Santa Ana River jetty. State and Orange County law prohibits such exploration today.

Unruh's committee has urged that legislation be enacted to compel future tidelands grant holders to submit master plans of how the lands will be developed and to require reports from present grant holders on how the trusts are being administered.

Newport Beach and Laguna Beach fit nicely into the latter category. Both cities hold tidelands grants and each has just about the same plan for development. In a word, none.

Each has on the books strong prohibitions against offshore oil exploration or drilling.

If the Legislature should compel drilling or some other revenue-producing development, Newport would seek to get an exception, said City Attorney Tully Seymour. He pointed out that Newport's position is similar to that of Santa Monica, as voiced by Herman F. Selman, special counsel for that city, in an appearance before Unruh's committee three weeks ago in Los Angeles.

"Some cities," Selman said at the time, "value the aesthetic and recreational nature of their beaches. Santa Monica, by a clear vote of the people, has chosen to keep its beaches intact without fences and noxious odors of oil along the shoreline."

Newport City Attorney Seymour declined to discuss the issue at length.

He said his reason is that Unruh has yet to place any bills on the subject in the legislative hopper. "And until he does," Seymour observed, "to say much now would be just shooting in the dark."

After the legislation is submitted, said he, "then we'll try to protect ourselves."

SYSTEM
Laguna Beach City Manager James D. Wheaton also spoke cautiously on the subject.

He conceded that the Art Colony's present system of administering its tidelands grant is to leave things the way they are. "You might say," he suggested, "that we're in the conservationist camp."

If it's all right with Unruh, said Wheaton, Laguna would like to stay there. "Right now the only development we've got in the tidelands is an outfall sewer," he reported.

If forced by the Legislature to choose between oil derricks out in the ocean or a revenue-producing small boat marina, which some Lagunans have sought for years, Laguna no doubt would decide on the marina, said Wheaton. "But only," he added, "if we are forced to make such a choice."

Laguna may not be forced to make such a choice, however. "There's no effort by the state at this point," emphasized Crose, Unruh's aide, "to do anything more than determine the use of state tidelands nor anyone else has indicated any intention to force mineral development of offshore lands, or compel marinas, for that matter."

DESCRIBED
He described the committee's work, which he said is unlikely to lead to legislative action until 1966, as "merely an inventory of grants."

"If nothing is being done with tidelands grants, that's not necessarily a violation," explained Crose. "Just so the area is open for public use. If all that's permitted is swimming or boating or even duck-hunting, that might meet the terms of the grant. It would depend on the type of grant. They differ, you know."

Crose did say, however, that legislation forthcoming from the committee's probe may lead to a boost in the state's share of revenues from areas in which drilling is now permitted.

Despite Crose's assurances, the Coastal Area Protective League, which 10 years ago fought for and won legislative approval of the "oil sanctuary" southerly of the Santa Ana River jetty, is keeping its eye on Assembly Speaker Unruh and the tidelands issue. So says CAPL Director Harry Grimsley of Three Arch Bay.

Mesa Opens Dimes Drive

Costa Mesa has opened its March of Dimes campaign against birth defects, with Everett F. Brace named chairman of the 1965 fund drive.

Brace, a member of the Gold Coast Shrine Club and secretary of the Orange Coast Lions Club, will be assisted by W. C. "Cy" Ries, vice president of the U.S. National Bank in Costa Mesa, as treasurer of the drive.

"One out of 16 American babies born this year will have a serious birth defect," Brace pointed out. "This can cause permanent disability for thousands of children unless people become aroused about this situation."

"Polio wasn't conquered until we became alarmed enough to support the March of Dimes with enough volunteers and money," he pointed out. "I'm convinced we can beat birth defects the same way."

The March of Dimes is also supporting a massive scientific research program seeking the cause of birth defects and the means to prevent them.

In Training

Duane W. Kerley, airman son of Mrs. Evelyn W. Kerley, 163 Albert Place, Costa Mesa, has been selected for technical training as an air policeman at Lackland AFB, Texas. He was graduated from Costa Mesa High School and attended Orange Coast College.

Giant Exercise Silver Lance To Test Navy, Marine Corps

SAN DIEGO — More than 80 ships and 70,000 Navy and Marine Corps personnel will take part in one of the largest training exercises ever held in peacetime between Feb. 23 and March 12 off the Southern California coast.

Exercise Silver Lance will be conducted on San Clemente, San Nicholas and San Miguel islands and at Camp Pendleton, engaging elements of the Hawaii-based First Marine Brigade, the First Marine Division from Camp Pendleton, the Third Marine Aircraft Wing at El Toro and other supporting units.

Vice Adm. Lawson P. Ramage, commander First Fleet, is in over-all command of Silver Lance, which will exercise ships and troops in every facet of naval and amphibious warfare.

Silver Lance will encompass strike warfare, antisubmarine warfare, mine and countermine warfare, anti-air warfare, electronic warfare, peacekeeping in a counterinsurgency environment, two major amphibious landings by sea and air, and ancillary amphibious operations.

Vice Adm. John B. Colwell, commander Amphibious Force, Pacific Fleet, will command the amphibious task force and direct the assault phase of the exercise. Forty-seven amphibious ships plus three cargo ships and an aircraft ferry of the Military Sea Transport Service, as well as numerous assault landing craft and other supporting units, will be under his command.

Lt. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, commanding general of the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, will command the Third Marine Expeditionary Corps and direct operations ashore with 40,000 Marines.

Rear Adm. Marshall W. White, commander Carrier Division 5, commands the force which will support and protect the amphibious task force at sea during the assault landing and operations ashore.

Thirty-four ships, including two attack aircraft carriers, an antisubmarine aircraft carrier, several guided missile ships, destroyers, minesweepers and support ships will be under his command.

Exercise Silver Lance is based on a scenario involving two mythical nations, Lancelot and Merlin. Lancelot is a small, weak nation being undermined through subversion by its more powerful neighbor, Merlin.

Guerrilla forces which control portions of Lancelot have terrorized United States citizens and Lancelot has appealed for assistance from the U.S.

Rear Adm. John McN. Taylor, commander Naval Defense Forces, Eastern Pacific, is not announcing the composition of his opposing sea and air forces which will engage the "friendly" task force at sea, so that full enemy capabilities remain unknown.

Rabies Shot Clinics Set

SANTA ANA — A series of rabies clinics where dogs may be vaccinated at a nominal fee of $1.50 will be conducted Jan. 26 and Jan. 28 by the Veterinary Medical Association in cooperation with the County Health Department and with local sponsorship.

Clinics will be held from 7-8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the fire station, Lake and Palm Avenues, Huntington Beach (Rotary Club); Fire Station, Forest Avenue, Laguna Beach (Lions Club); behind Civic Center, Los Alamitos (Chamber of Commerce) and on Jan. 28 in Siegler Park, Westminster (Optimist Club).

Big City View

Little Districts Don't See Unification Need

The boys from the big cities have got school unification all figured out, even if villagers — like those in Newport Beach and Costa Mesa — haven't.

That's the impression Dr. Norman Loats, assistant superintendent of the Newport Harbor Union High School District, got at a state-sponsored vocational education conference in Los Angeles last week.

Dr. Loats reported to local school trustees that a major point raised at the conference was that larger school districts have a much higher percentage of high school dropouts than smaller districts.

"I then asked," Loats reported, "that if it has been demonstrated that smaller districts have greater holding power on students, why should the state insist on forcing us to unify into a larger district?"

Board members, swamped in recent months with unification problems, asked Loats what kind of reply he got.

"There was silence for awhile," he said, "and then one of the officials looked at me, cleared his throat and declared: 'You obviously come from one of the smaller districts and don't understand the whole problem.'"

Newport Harbor High School trustees just chuckled.

Sukarno Faces Demonstrators

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A Communist-led crowd of several thousand marched on the presidential palace today, demanding dismissal of a Cabinet minister they blame for the high cost of living, and calling for seizure of all foreign holdings in Indonesia.

Guards carrying submachine guns prevented the crowd from reaching the Supreme Advisory Council building where President Sukarno was meeting with the council.

SOLVING BUSINESS PROBLEMS THROUGH COMMUNICATIONS

New Zealanders Rest in Balboa

By EVELYN SHERWOOD

A New Zealand couple are resting in Balboa today after touring England and the continent in a camper by covering 26,000 miles, 24 countries and 94 camping grounds in 9 1/2 months.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard G. McGinnis of Auckland, New Zealand, who are now staying with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riemers, 311 Edgewater Ave., Balboa.

According to the New Zealanders, the tour had high spots, as well as frustrations, such as filling out the forms to enter East Berlin. But through it all, they managed to compile opinions on European campsites.

Of the many camping grounds visited, according to McGinnis, a retired auto dealer, the most interesting was the N.S.U. camp in Venice Italy.

Situated on a finger of land, opposite the Lido, the camp has three supermarkets and accommodates 10,000 people whose stay is restricted to seven days at a time. "All the streets are neat and tidy," says Mrs. McGinnis, "and with the mosquito abatement program, it is one of the finest, largest and most comfortable in the world."

The Lisbon, Portugal, auto camp advertises itself as the best and it comes close to it, the McGinnis' agree, with tennis courts, swimming pools and bowling greens for the patrons.

Austria was a favorite with the tourists who met with welcome signs and friendliness throughout the country.

During the trip they had but one puncture and the car gave 31 miles to the gallon of gas where the prices ranged from $1 to $1.50 per gallon. McGinnis figures the total cost of the trip was $30 per month including gas, food and camping grounds for the two of them.

Driving their camper into East Berlin was an adventure that required 4 1/2 hours filling out forms. "The next time," said McGinnis, "I'll take the bus and leave the driving to others."

The couple purchased artifacts from many lands they visited but mailed them back to Auckland.

The entire trip, around the world has taken them as far north as the Arctic Circle, south to Spain and across America. They return to their home in New Zealand via Honolulu and Tahiti.

Two TVs Taken From Bay Club

Thieves helped themselves to two portable television sets from apartments at the Balboa Bay Club over the weekend, Newport Beach police reported.

The sets were ripped from antenna wires in two apartments at the rear of the 1221 W. Coast Highway retreat. Total value was listed at $280.

NEW ZEALANDERS REST — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard G. McGinnis of Auckland, New Zealand, are stopping in Newport Beach after having traveled 26,000 miles through 24 European countries with stopovers in 94 camping grounds.

Ballet Group Due at OCC

A performance of Peter and the Wolf by the Classical Ballet Company will be given at Orange Coast College auditorium Saturday, Jan. 30, at 2:30 p.m.

The California Elementary School of Costa Mesa is sponsoring the performance of the troupe trained by Paul Petroff of Tustin.

Among the dancers will be Brenda Naples and Andrea Rojas of Newport Beach.

Charter Due New Club

The new Exchange Club of Corona del Mar will receive its charter from the National Exchange Club Jan. 30 at a semi-formal dinner meeting at the Irvine Coast Country Club.

Club president Richard B. Hodge will receive the charter from Wilson H. Rutherford of Alhambra, a member of the club's national board.

Members of other Harbor Area Exchange Clubs and their wives have been invited to attend.

Service Station Okayed Over Area's Protests

The on again, off again service station proposed for the southwest corner of Banning Avenue and Bushard Street is on again, despite protests of residents in the housing tract surrounding it.

The Huntington Beach city council, in a 3-2 vote, reversed its verdict Monday night and granted a use permit which will allow construction of the station. Already approved for an adjacent parcel is a small market.

Opponents of the station claim it will bring noise and traffic hazards to their tract, and will result in lights shining on their homes at all hours.

But the council was advised by City Attorney James C. Plunkett that the use variance does not determine whether or not a gas station can be built on the parcel but rather regulates the type of station to be built.

The station is proposed for a C-4 (highway commercial) district and is considered a permissible use. Councilmen Thomas Welch, Jake Stewart and Ernest Giesler voted for approval with Mayor Donald Shipley and Councilman Robert Lambert opposed.

Mesa Council OKs High-rise For Vast Plaza Project

The Costa Mesa City Council put its stamp of approval on plans for high rise construction in the 65-acre South Coast Plaza Monday night, approving a conditional use permit for the $30 million project on the north side of the city.

The routine action paved the way for Segerstrom and Sons, the May Company, Sears Roebuck and Winmar

Realty Development Co. to start construction on its multi-story shopping center as well as other accessory uses.

The project, geared for completion in the fall of 1966, is located in the 3300 block of Bristol Street north of the proposed San Diego Freeway

In another action, the council unanimously denied a request from Harbor Hall of Fame Homes for permission to install a masonry grape stake fence instead of a block wall on the southern property line of the French Quarter condominium.

In rejecting the request, the council backed up the Planning Commission's 3-2 recommendation and seven neighboring residents who protested the substitution of a fence for the required block wall.

The council also conducted a canvass of ballots from the Kaiser No. 3 annexation election, resulting in a 22-1 vote for annexation, and drafted a resolution ordering the annexation of the 2 1/2-acre section of the county corridor at the corner of Tustin Avenue and 21st Street.

In other action, the council voted unanimous approval of: —Building moving permits for Dean Gilmer, 3472 Eldon Ave., to move a residence and detached garage from 2241 Newport Blvd. to 273 Cecil Place.

—A variance for Henry K. Roskamp, Santa Ana, for extension of an original variance to build two units in addition to an existing unit at 2245 Orange Ave.

SO OTHERS MAY WALK—Members of six Orange Coast clubs will dance away the evening of Sunday, Jan. 31, while raising funds for Orange County March of Dimes. Gathering in the Junior Exhibit Building of Orange County Fairgrounds, they will join members of nearly 40 other county dance clubs for the fifth annual square-dance benefit. Proceeds as well as donations collected during a special grand march for dimes will be turned over to the Orange County Chapter. In a party mood are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feeney of Mesamigos Club, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dysart of Square Riggers, Costa Mesa (from left), who demonstrate the promenade to be called during the gala.

Grand March

Dancers Invited

Orange Coast square dancers will do their part in raising funds for Orange County March of Dimes.

For they will be among 1,000 county participants in the fifth annual square dance benefit to be presented in the Junior Exhibit Building at Orange County Fairgrounds.

The gala, featuring outstanding callers, will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 31. Bob Sewell and Dick Hoffman will serve as masters of ceremonies.

Intermission entertainment will be provided by Wheelacers, a San Diego group which performs square and round dances in wheel chairs.

Tickets, at $1, will be sold at the door, according to Mrs. Oneita M. Correll of Newport Beach, coordinator. Spectators as well as dancers are invited.

Further donations will be collected during a special grand march for dimes.

Orange Coast clubs participating are Guns 'n Garters and Lace 'n Leather, Huntington Beach; Square Riggers and Mesamigos square dancers and On Corr round dancers from Costa Mesa, and Correll Round Dancers of Newport Beach.

Birth Defects Discussed

By MARJIE SMITH
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Of the babies born in Orange County during 1965, 1500 will have significant birth defects, according to William R. Russell, director of chapters for the National Foundation of the March of Dimes.

Addressing community leaders during a medical symposium Saturday in the Newporter Inn, Russell said that birth defects have, until recently, been a neglected aspect of medicine.

"There has been tremendous progress in the seven years since the National Foundation concentrated its efforts toward halting birth defects," he said. "At present there are research grants in 45 universities and institutions around the world, and 53 March of Dimes treatment centers in the U.S."

Some of the progress made during the last decade was outlined during the symposium by three noted physicians, each working in a different field of medicine.

Speakers were Dr. Merl J. Carson, medical director of Children's Hospital of Orange County; Dr. Robert E. Casey, chief of the Department of Plastic Surgery, Orange County Hospital, and Dr. Oliver Nichols, director of the March of Dimes Birth Defect Center at Orthopedic Hospital, Los Angeles. Dr. William D. Lindgren, chief of the Department of Physical Medicine at Orange County Hospital, served as moderator.

Outlining the multitude of factors which cause defective children, Dr. Carson pointed out they can be roughly divided into two categories: those that are hereditary and those caused by developmental factors such as German measles, diabetes or poor metabolism in the mother-to-be.

"We want people to know about the Birth Defect Center at Children's Hospital so proper diagnosis can be made and early treatment started," he said.

Plastic and reconstructive surgery date back to the ancient Greeks and Egyptians, according to Dr. Casey, and have proved particularly valuable in correcting physical abnormalities present at birth.

Illustrating his talk with before-and-after slides, Dr. Casey indicated that proper surgery helps prevent subsequent emotional problems.

Children with spinabifida are the "forgotten children," said Dr. Nichols, whose Birth Defect Center in Los Angeles has successfully treated these youngsters with severe spinal abnormalities.

"Nearly half die within the first year, but those who survive can be helped to live fairly normal lives—a fact unrecognized by most laymen and many physicians."

Orthopedic work can start, "as soon as the cord is tied," Dr. Nichols said. "The earlier we get these children, the better their chances of avoiding secondary complications."

The center's "total approach" includes corrective surgery, therapy, braces and the use of specially designed slant boards. In addition, Dr. Nichols has a clinic where mothers can exchange ideas, another where nurses are taught physical care of spinabifidas.

Among those arranging the symposium were Arthur R. McKenzie, Orange County March of Dimes chairman, and Mrs. Norman E. Watson, director of women's activities for the county chapter.

MEDICAL SYMPOSIUM SPEAKERS—Taking part in a March of Dimes Symposium on birth defects Saturday in Newporter Inn were Drs. Oliver Nichols and Merl J. Carson (standing, from left), Robert E.

NEW DOORS OPENED—A recently launched program, dedicated to assisting neglected and underprivileged teen-age girls, was discussed by Mrs. Roy Lay (center), Coast Women's Club luncheon speaker. Greeting her as she arrives at the meeting are Mrs. Ernest Lamping, second vice president (left) and Mrs. Raymond Wood, first vice president and program chairman.

Teen Program

Aid Requested

A unique program aiding neglected and underprivileged teen-age girls was outlined by Mrs. Roy Lay, founder, executive director and president of Dyllwild Institute-Fiesta, a finishing school for leaders.

Speaking before Coast Women's Club during a luncheon in the Stuft Mart, Mrs. Lay proposed that members form a Teen Girl Assistants unit which would give guidance, encouragement and monetary help to needy and deserving high school girls.

The club, which has been organized less than a year, already has voted to sponsor at least one Orange County girl for a week's session at IIF where teens are counseled in self-improvement.

Under the TGA program, each unit would be responsible for sending a student to the annual workshop, plus teaching her proper dress and etiquette, guiding her choice of a career and taking her on shopping trips, to luncheons, concerts, etc.

"Selections are to be made by the high school dean of girls. She need not be an A or B student, but one who would benefit from this program during her young adult and formative years," Mrs. Lay explained.

"The program is aimed at helping teens from broken and financially poor homes. When these girls are 18, most are on their own and have to face problems alone."

Each unit, comprised of at least 10 persons, would perform duties of preventative care by helping a young woman until she is established in a career or married.

"It sounds like a big undertaking, but I think it is one answer to developing good citizens and removing possibilities of expensive public care in later years," Mrs. Lay concluded.

About Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Miserly Stunt

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband thinks nothing of spending $200 on fishing equipment or $175 on a camera but he will slit a tube of toothpaste down the middle with a razor blade after he has squeezed it to death, to make sure he gets every last ounce of toothpaste out of it.

This man is a busy executive. When I see him spending time in the morning performing this penny ante trick it burns me up.

Last night he was sewing something. When I asked what he was doing he said, "This shoe lace is good for another few months."

What's the matter with him? He's extremely generous about everything else. Can you explain it?

—MRS. SKINFLINT
DEAR MRS. FLINT: We all have our pet miser stunts. Your husband happens to be tight about toothpaste. The President of the United States goes around the White House turning out lights. I'm over-thrifty when it comes to lipstick. If it's a shade I especially like I will use the stick down to the last 64th of an inch. Then I'll go after what's left with a hairpin.

How about you? No pet miser stunts?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please don't throw this letter away if you think I sound like a screwball. I need your opinion.

I'm 29, have a good build, and I'm not bad looking. The trouble is my hair has been falling out and I'm getting bald. I've spent a fortune on creams, stimulants, pomades and every kind of treatment you can think of. Nothing seems to help.

Recently a friend told me of a new hormone cream that his brother-in-law is putting on the market. It sounds logical. Listen to this: Not many women get bald because of the hormonal structure of the female. This cream is made up of female hormones. The hormones are actually from female monkeys, not humans, so there is no danger that the user will wind up with womanly ways, if you get what I mean.

Tell me, Ann, do you think this cream will help?

—WILLING WALLY
DEAR WALLY: Yes, it will help — your friend's brother-in-law. If enough suckers buy it he will get very rich.

My advice: Go to your doctor and find out if you have a scalp disease or if your hair is falling out because of nerves.

If the doctor rules out both possibilities, accept your baldness philosophically unless you want to go in for the new transplanting process which is both time-consuming and costly but it does work.

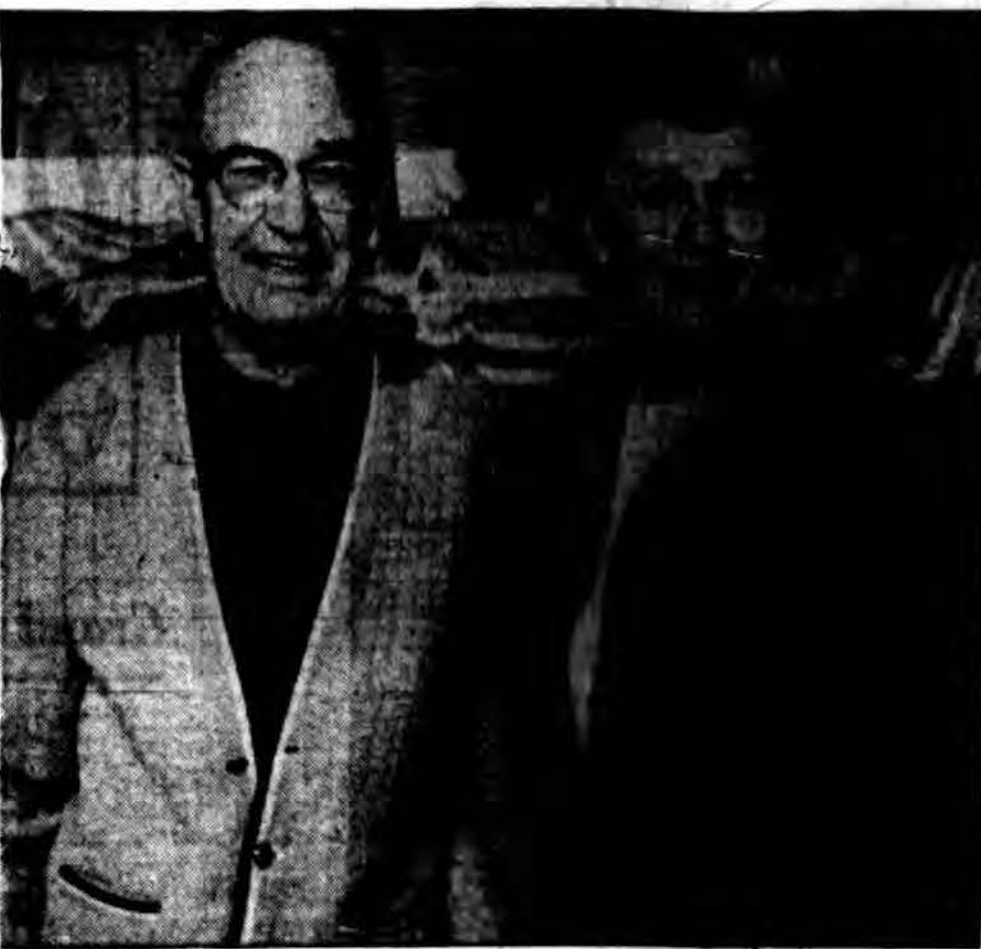

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have been married for six months and I am five and a half months pregnant. We are thrilled but I'm afraid things don't look very good and we want to know what to do about it. My husband and I were married secretly because we planned to stay in college and get our degrees. When I discovered I was pregnant I told my folks we had been married secretly. They insisted on a church wedding immediately.

Now I'm beginning to look pregnant and the baby will arrive less than six months after our church wedding. When I tell people we were married secretly they give me that "Oh, yes" look and I don't know what to say.

How can I persuade them I am telling the truth?

—PHI BETA DUMMY
DEAR DUMMY: Why bother? People who want to think the worst will think the worst. Your real friends couldn't care less.

RAMELING

with Sallie

Comes January a gal's fancy turns to thoughts of nautical lore. We swooned 'em in our Yacht Shop booth at the Boat Show with our Telo-Caps. A Telo-Cap is a must for anybody who sails. There is a Wind Tel on the top that flickers even with the slightest change in the air. Remember when kids used to wear hats with pin wheels on top. Same idea, but with a fine needle bearing for maximum sensitivity. Now...port and starboard Wind-Tels, to hook right on your boat...

THREE HANDED CRIBBAGE

Ever see a three-handed cribbage board...The last king of Hawaii thought it was great sport. You'll find an exact replica of the board he used in the Yacht Shop. The pegs are brass belying pins. The board itself is about 2 feet long and is made out of real wild zebra wood. If you're the conservative type of cribbage player, the board comes in mahogany too. Learn while you play with Yacht Race, the game of sailing and racing strategy.

TOG BOATERY

Many a wife has shrieked with delight to find extra large waisted pants and T-shirts...for their sailing husbands...Glo Kerkmann has made a specialty of toting the big boys...The Randy boat shoe, choice of the Olympic team, Rope belts that stretch...the buckles like large silver fish or a ship's wheel...For the gals who like nautical jewelry...a huge silver sea horse or an anchor. A transom hand bag will be just about the smartest thing for toting this summer. The handle is rope, the top is like planking. You order it personalized with the name of your boat and its home port. Or what's the matter with your own name and home town. What fun to take to the fair. And girls, get your sail tops here. All colors.

LET'S GET DOWN TO HEATERS

First Mate protects your ship while you're ashore. The perfect dockside heater. Long-wave-length infra-red radiant heat gently warms everything without hot spots. Protects against mildew, dry rot, sweating and foul odors. Extends your cruising season because your boat will be warm and dry when you step aboard...The unit itself doesn't heat up, you can touch it while it is going. A real safety feature, especially with children around. One of our very great satisfied customers purchased one for her rumпус room which has always been damp and clammy and cold. She was delighted with the results. "First time that rumпус room has been comfortable enough to use in the winter."

WHAT IS A YACHT SHOP

A Yacht Shop is an old fashioned toaster, the kind that fits over a gas burner, but is made of stainless steel. A bar of salt water soap made of pure coconut oil...Little hard-to-find boxes of nautical notepaper...An authentic replica of a Bilge Pump to stick in a bottle...One ounce with every stroke...Accessories for Colonial type homes...A humidifier made like a port-hole, very, very air tight. A brass ice bucket, cocktail shaker with matching talk-ard with an important-looking gold crest. A folding canvas stool with a slat top tray that fits on top...A magazine stand, a reproduction of a block from an old schooner, with brass fittings and rope attached. Our Yacht Shop magazine is just off the press. Please ask for your copy.

SO YOU HATE TO COOK

...There's a cook book just for you. Or it might be called the easy way to three squares a day with laughs. Reading fun and good eating for the whole family. 50 cents. Fine foods and accessories for boats and homes and people...always Richard's.

'Pay Silence'

Juke Boxes Offer Unique Selection

ROME (UPI) — Relief is on the way for the human who is weary of listening to the incessant clatter of rock 'n' roll, jazz and beat music that reverberates from thousands of juke boxes in cafes, restaurants and bars.

The Italian juke-box industry currently is experimenting on a new machine which, in addition to a slot for the coins that set the contraption going, will possess an additional slot marked "silence." The insertion of a coin here will keep the machine quiet for a certain number of minutes.

Man has always paid for his amusement; more willingly perhaps than for his necessities. But he had to wait until the 20th century to encounter a proposal that he pay not to be amused.

There are almost 20,000 juke boxes of various types — including cine-boxes offering the added horror of watching the performer on film — in operation in public places throughout Italy.

But Italy still is a long way from the 45,000 similar instruments of torture that constantly hammer away at the ear drums of West Germans and the 33,000 in tiny Belgium.

Market research analysts now have convinced the juke box industry's leaders that the racket made by their products has grated on the raw nerves of enough listeners to make it worth while to offer them silence — at a price.

While teen-agers stuff juke boxes with coins to listen to the Beatles, Rolling Stones and other "beat stars" make noise, other customers may be willing to insert coins into the noise-makers to get a few minutes of welcome silence.

It seems that the only winners will be the men of the juke box industry. After all, it is not every industry which can offer a product where the customer is willing to pay to listen to it — and also pay not to hear it.

This could lead to a dangerous precedent, however. Just think if you had to pay money every time you turned the television-set on and did not want to hear the commercial.

On second thought, this might not be a bad idea. This could be commercial television's answer to pay television.

Beverly Stewart Wed To Robert E. Lee Jr.

Trinity Lutheran Church was decorated with white gladioli, stock and coral chrysanthemums for a double ring ceremony linking Beverly Diane Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stewart of Costa Mesa, and Robert Eugene Lee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eugene Lee, also of Costa Mesa.

Couple Plan April Rites In Glendora

An April wedding in St. Dorothy's Catholic Church in Glendora is being planned by Patricia Jean Munday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Paul Munday of Crossroads, Calif., formerly of Alhambra, and her fiancé, Baros A. Coenen.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Mark Keppel High School in Alhambra. She attended Mount San Antonio Junior College and was graduated from the University of California, Santa Barbara. She is an elementary school teacher at Wilson School, Costa Mesa.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Edward Coenen, Glendora, is a graduate of Baldwin Park High School and attended Citrus College in Glendora.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace over taffeta designed with a sabrina neckline, accented with tiny seed pearls and sequins and a tiered back falling into a chapel train. A crown of pearls and lace held her silk illusion veil, and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white carnations and hyacinths.

Miss Betty Jo Smith, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Susan Lee and Miss Sandra Lee, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore floor length gowns of coral chiffon with matching headpieces and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of coral carnations and chrysanthemums. Cynthia Dene Stewart, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of white dotted dacron with coral chiffon sash and matching bows. Her headpiece was a wreath of coral roses, and she carried a white and coral nosegay.

Thomas Allen was best man; David Poindexter and Lyle Beery were ushers. The parish hall in the church was the setting for the reception, attended by 90 guests. Assisting were Mrs. Donald Rieck, Mrs. Gertrude Knight, Mrs. J. R. Daniel, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Jack Pittman.

The newweds will make their home in Costa Mesa after a wedding trip to Palm Springs. The bride is a graduate of Costa Mesa High School and her husband a graduate of Newport Harbor High School.

Jury Asks Better Pen For Voting

SANTA ANA — The 1964 Grand Jury has recommended that Coleman Electronic Systems, manufacturers of Orange County's two vote counting machines, design a more durable marking pen.

The suggestion comes on the heels of the Nov. 3 election when 4,485 of the special marking pens broke down.

Sabotage was charged by Coleman and county officials. However, after a six-week investigation, District Attorney Kenneth Williams ruled there was no evidence of organized sabotage.

CAN'T EXPLAIN

"We are frankly unable to explain the phenomenon of the damaged voting pens... Whether the destruction of the pens was willful or innocent, we just don't know," Williams said.

Coleman Systems, however, already has come up with a solution to the problem: a solid marking instrument, a stamp pad and written instructions to re-ink after each vote.

The Coleman device counts paper ballots marked with a special ink. The ballots are fed into the devices which count them at the rate of 800 ballots a minute, electronically tabulating the results.

SAVES MONEY

"The Coleman vote counting machines should enable the county to save considerable time and money on each election," said the jury in its report released this week.

"Their use has allowed the county to reduce the number of voting precincts from approximately 2,100 to 1,021... All indications are that Orange County had the most accurate and fastest vote count ever."

The jury's recommendations:

—Design a more durable pen.

—Require personnel in polling places to attend orientation sessions.

—Demonstrate to each voter the use of the pen before he enters the voting booth. Hand him a tested pen with his ballot and require him to return the pen along with his marked ballot. Any tampering with pens would be immediately disclosed.

—Print ballots on white paper or a color which contrasts with the ink in the marking pen. (On Nov. 3, both the ink and the ballots were green.)

—The small triangular tables in the voting booths are not adequate. Over a period of time, they should be replaced and it may be possible to rework present ones.

"We're in accord with all of the recommendations," said James Kadin, public relations director of Coleman.

"They're as constructive as we've ever seen."

Loans OKd For Schools

SACRAMENTO — The state Allocation Board has approved loans totaling more than $6.1 million for new classroom construction in Orange County school districts.

The long-term loans were made available under the state's school construction aid program designed to help fast-growing school districts meet their classroom needs.

The districts and the amounts include:

Placentia Unified, $2,017,404; Orange Unified, $1,219,877; Garden Grove elementary, $1,003,156; Fountain Valley elementary, $914,140; San Joaquin elementary, $784,669; Costa Mesa elementary, $85,639.

Trial Slated For Suspect In Gun Melee

SANTA ANA—Odie W. Coffey, 42, of Anaheim, will stand trial in Superior Court Mar. 8, charged with attempted murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

The suspect, of 944 Pepper St., held off 15 carloads of officers for 80 minutes before tear gas and police wearing bullet proof jackets brought the wild shooting episode under control Halloween night, police said.

Coffey, who entered pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, had been chased into his home by officers who wanted to question him about a hit and run accident in Cypress.

Police said the suspect, who was armed with two guns, fired between 20 and 30 shots at officers who fired back some 10 times.

Judge William L. Murray also ordered Coffey be examined by two court psychiatrists before the scheduled trial.

Dogs Facing Needle At Rotarians' Clinic

An anti-rabies clinic for Huntington Beach dogs has been scheduled Tuesday, Jan. 26, by the Rotary Club. The vaccine will be administered for $1.50 at the city's main fire station, at 704 Lake St.

Local members of the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association are cooperating with the Rotary to put on the clinic. Shots will be given from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The vaccine immunizes dogs against rabies for two years. Vaccination against rabies is required by state law in all areas where the presence of rabies has been detected within a period of 12 months.

Also available at the clinic will be city dog licenses, required within 30 days after a pet is brought into the city. The Huntington Beach tags cost $3 for males and $4 for females.

Southland Due Sonic Booms

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — Residents of Southern California can expect what the Air Force calls "disturbing but harmless" sonic booms early Friday from B58 jet bombers taking part in a four-state training exercise.

A spokesman said it did not appear likely that sonic booms — generated by aircraft exceeding the speed of sound — would be noticeable in other parts of California or Arizona, Utah and Nevada.

Some of the work in the show will be for sale.

The festival is sponsored by the school's Art Club, under the direction of president Chris Castille and faculty advisor Mrs. Joan Farr. All works entered in the show will be judged prior to the open house.

Art work will remain on display through Friday in the corridors of the art building, English building and social studies building, according to festival chairman Ron Benson.

Westminster CofC Seats New Officers

New officers and directors for the 1965 season were installed by the Westminster Chamber of Commerce Saturday at a buffet dinner and dance at the Garden Grove Elks Lodge.

Former Chamber of Commerce president Harmon Scofield administered the oath of office to new officers of both men's and women's divisions and all new directors.

Officers for 1965 are John Merrell, president; Fenton Jones, first vice president; James Clark, second vice president; John Moore, treasurer; and W. T. "Tommy" Cook, executive committee member-at-large.

Women's division officers are Emily Magill, president; Helen Cadotte, vice president; Elinor White, recording secretary; and Irma "Woody" Atwood, treasurer.

The function was attended by Mayor and Mrs. Bill Magill, Mrs. James Whetmore, wife of Assemblyman James Whetmore and Supervisor and Mrs. David L. Baker.

In addition, a host of city officials and city councilmen

John R. Parks, Justin McCarthy and Philip Anthony were on hand for the ceremony.

Councilman Buel Jarrett was ill.

The program included awarding of plaque and certificates to outstanding Chamber of Commerce workers and area newsmen who have covered the group's activities.

Realty Unit Asks Cut In Taxes

A four-point program which proponents say would ease the tax burden of property owners in the state has received an unconditional endorsement from the Huntington Beach Board of Realtors.

The plan was drawn up by the California Real Estate Association recently in a conference at San Francisco.

Gerry Lance, president of the Huntington Beach board, said it is his group's opinion that other means for taxation must be found.

"The property owner in California is being hard hit by rising taxes and is just about at the limit he can endure," Lance said. "Continued growth in our own community and throughout the state creates the need for additional tax revenues," he added, but asking the property owner to carry more than his share could injure that growth.

The four-point plan suggested by the state realtors' group calls for:

—Broadening of the tax base by the state Legislature by removing all provisions from the taxation code which exempt non-profit or other organizations from paying taxes on residential real property.

—A one-half per cent increase in sales taxes, with additional revenues to be used to reduce real property taxes.

—Legislative action to set a ceiling on property taxes.

—Opposition to any state levy of a valorem tax on real property; that is, a state tax in addition to that already levied by another taxing agency.

Thieves Get $2,500 Worth Of Supplies

Burglars walked off with nearly $2,500 worth of construction equipment from a Costa Mesa building site Monday, police reported.

Norborn C. Goudescune, Garden Grove, told police the thief took a generator valued at $650, a vibrator worth $400, a pavement breaker listed at $300 and a $200 clay digger along with various wrenches, sockets, air hoses and a sand blaster also valued at $400.

The loot was taken from a construction shack at 3300 Fairview Road, police reported.

In another burglary, Dr. Howard Bonebrake of Santa Ana reported $206.43 worth of cash, gold, a magnifying glass and a syringe stolen from his office at 154 Broadway.

Manslaughter Rap Dismissed

SANTA ANA — Charges of felony manslaughter against David G. Killion, 22, were dismissed Monday in Santa Ana Municipal Court on a motion by the district attorney "in the interest of justice."

Killion, of 2060 Spinnaker St., Orange, had been charged in the death of Wilbur Percival, 23, of 723 Fondren St., Orange, who died of a stab wound after a playful karate demonstration Nov. 28.

Council Wants Shop Center At Bolsa-Springdale Corner

Tenants or no tenants, commercially zoned parcels on the northeast and southeast corners of Bolsa Avenue and Springdale Street, Huntington Beach, will not be rezoned to permit apartments.

That was the unanimous decision of the City Council Monday night as it upheld a Planning Commission ruling that a section of the property would be changed to allow a row of apartments behind a small shopping complex on the parcels.

Spokesmen for the applicant, George Wilson of Los Angeles, said that no markets or department stores are interested in the property because of the commercial saturation in the area and because properties to the west are zoned for industrial use.

PROTESTS
Protests against apartments on the parcels were lodged by the Westminster School district and residents in the area. Also against the zone change is the city's master plan, which calls for commercial use of the property.

The school district, in a letter to the council, said that existing schools in the area are overcrowded and that two schools now under construction will be filled to capacity according to projected population for the area. Additional residences in the area, the district said, would overload their facilities.

Ted Douglas, of 14831 Northridge Lane, said he represented homeowners protesting the zone change. "More than incidental insight went into the master plan," Douglas said. He added that the city should avoid what he called "strip zoning."

EXPERT
George Smith of Beverly Hills, introduced to the council by one of the land owners as an expert on shopping centers, said he had been unable to attract any commercial clients for the property.

"The only feasible way to develop a commercial complex on the property is to build density through the construction of apartments," Smith stated.

Elias Miller of Los Angeles, another part owner of the property, said that the apartments would be ideal as a buffer zone for adjacent single-family residences. He said the employes increases and the nearby Douglas Space Systems Center showed a need for more apartments in the area.

But homeowners in the region want a shopping center, not apartments, and they are willing to wait until a client can be found. So, apparently, is the City Council.

Cal State To Enroll Over 5,000

FULLERTON — An estimated 5,000 students are expected to sign up for spring semester classes at California State College here.

Spring registration will bring the largest enrollment of the school since it first opened its doors at Sunny Hills High School five and a half years ago, college officials said.

In 1961 Cal State switched operations to its 235-acre permanent campus in east Fullerton and this spring's registration period starting Feb. 2 will bring another move.

Titan students and faculty members will move into the school's new, $3.7 million Music-Speech-Drama Building, completed last month. It is the second permanent building on the Cal State campus.

In 1963 Cal State, then known as Orange County State, moved into its first permanent structure, the $4 million Letters and Science Building, which dominates the Titan campus.

Developers Said Too Enthusiastic

Fountain Valley city Councilman Joe Courreges Monday criticized some real estate salesmen who, he says, are going overboard in their drive to sell homes.

He said he has received complaints that some salesmen are even telling the story that Orange County Sewage Disposal Plant No. 1 is an observatory.

"I probably wouldn't know the difference myself," admitted Courreges, "except I've lived here all my life."

Courreges also charged that some salesmen are not telling prospective customers where the San Diego Freeway route through Fountain Valley is located.

Named Notary
A notary public commission has been granted to Faye S. Eccles, 1515 Priscilla Lane, Newport Beach, Secretary of State Frank Jordan's office said today.

Association Will Install

John L. Nelson, 710 W. 18th St., Costa Mesa, will be installed Monday as 1965 president of the Orange County Association for Retarded Children.

The installation dinner will be at 7 p.m. in the dining room of Santa Ana College. Fourteen awards for outstanding public service will be presented at the dinner.

Other new officers are R. E. Van Hart, Anaheim, vice president; Mrs. Harold Langhans, Santa Ana, secretary; and Raymond Ast, Anaheim, treasurer.

Car Fells Concrete Block Wall

Two youngsters were toppled from a block wall when it was struck by a car that bounced off parked autos in Balboa Sunday.

Three persons were injured in the spectacular mishap, which resulted in damage to four vehicles and demolished 25 feet of wall.

Newport Beach police said the accident occurred when an auto operated by Eugene Brown, 25, of 2121 Canyon Drive, Costa Mesa, slammed into the rear of a parked car in the 100 block of E. Balboa Boulevard shortly before 6 p.m.

Brown's car then plunged into the wall, taking with it the parked car it had struck. Steve Kramer, 18, of 114 E. Balboa Blvd., and a visiting friend, Tom Barnard, 7, of Azusa, were sitting on the wall at the time.

The youths were dumped to the ground along with chunks of concrete block.

Police said when Brown's auto hit the parked car it

Garden Grove Spanks Newport Five, 73-61

SURROUNDED BY ARGOS—Newport Harbor High basketball player Craig Ritter (53) looks for some one to pass the ball to during Tuesday's Freeway League biggie with the Garden Grove Argonauts.

Ritter scored 17 points in a losing cause. Grove hero Greg Delaney (33) was the offensive star with 27 points.

Tars Lead Only Once In Crucial

By GLENN WHITE
Prep Sports Editor

Garden Grove took a major stride toward its first-ever Freeway League varsity basketball crown Tuesday afternoon by spanking Newport Harbor High's Sailors, 73-61, before a partisan crowd in the losers' gym.

Coach Bill Trumbo's Argonauts had too much of everything for interim coach Bill Hatch and his outfit as the Argos flashed a potent offense and a good defense.

It was, however, a closely fought battle for most of the game as the visitors managed to lead nearly all the way by anywhere from one to five points.

Newport led only once, 9-8, with 3:30 left in the first period on a shot from the corner by Larry Mancebo. And the Tars managed to pull even with their conquerors with 2:26 left in the half, 20-20, and again seconds later at 22-all.

TARS CLOSE IN

After that Garden Grove managed to stay in front, keeping the pressure on the Sailors. It was 30-26 at half-time.

Newport made a serious bid to overtake the victors late in the third stanza, cutting the gap to 43-41 with 1:54 to go.

But that was the last time Hatch's team was in the game.

Garden Grove outscored the Tars, 13-1, on a span carrying into the fourth period and that put the talented Argos on top by a 56-43 advantage. Meanwhile Newport stuck with its slow style of offense and turned the ball over three times without ever getting a shot off trying to set up plays.

Trumbo said later, "I was a little disappointed in Newport. I thought they were a better team than what they showed today."

HATCH DISAGREES

Hatch disagreed. "They (Garden Grove) were a little better than we were. They had the boards with their 6-7 and 6-4 man and we weren't shooting well."

Final statistics showed Garden Grove hitting 42.8 per cent of its field goal efforts while the Tars clicked on 36.5 per cent. Each team took the same number of shots—63.

"Big hero for the visitors was Greg Delaney, who poured 27 points through the nets. He got 21 in the last half."

Larry Mancebo and Craig Ritter each tallied 17 for the losers with Mancebo hitting most of his on deadly accurate shots from the corner.

The win kept Garden Grove undefeated in league action while Newport's record is 2-1 leaving the Sailors in a tie with Costa Mesa for second place.

Surprise! Mustangs Nip Orange

By JERRY MYRE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

ORANGE—Costa Mesa High's Cardiac Kids found themselves in a deadlock for the runner-up spot in the Freeway League basketball standings after squeezing past the Panthers of Orange in a 62-60 thriller here Tuesday afternoon.

Led by the scoring of Tom Reed and Dennis McGavack, the Mustangs were able to withstand tremendous pressure applied by the hosts throughout the contest.

Seldom did more than four points separate the two squads in one of the closest, hardest fought wars of the current campaign.

Dave Scott hit the nets for 10 counters as the hometowners took a 19-18 lead at the end of the first quarter but the lanky Reed popped eight points through the hoop during the second period as the Mesans took a 34-31 halftime advantage into the dressing room.

The defensive play of Bill Urone, Steve Turley and Tom Moran proved too much for the Panthers during third quarter action while the invaders were going through a cold streak on offense. The hosts connected on only two field goals but managed to convert five of seven charity tosses as the visitors led into the final frame with a 44-40 edge.

Jim Farley and Tom Hobbs pumped eight points each through the netting in the last stanza but "it just wasn't enough to catch the balanced attack of the eventual winners."

Early in that fourth period Farley dropped a pair of free throws through the hoop while Dan Jones connected on a field goal to knot the count briefly. Moments later Reed connected to give the Mesans a two-point advantage.

Falconer pushed CM ahead by four as he shoved in a pair of points. Hobbs narrowed the gap to two with a long push shot and from that point on both teams seemed to swap baskets.

Finally, with the count 62-60 with 1:41 remaining on the clock, Turley led the Mesans into a stall. Forced to do so, Orange began to foul in hopes of obtaining the ball. Three times in that final two minutes, a Mesan stood at the charity line.

HB Rally Too Much For Tustin

By ED GIBSON
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Trailing by 13 points at halftime, Huntington Beach-Marina's fighting Oilers put the clamps on Tustin in the second half and came from far back to nip the Tillers, 67-66, Tuesday afternoon on the Oiler court.

The victory ended a four-game losing streak for coach Lute Olson's warriors and sends them into their Sunset League opener Friday night on the right foot.

Sparked by Gerard Anderson and Butch Rollins, who each tallied 12 points in the remarkable Oiler comeback, Marina started to roll in the latter stages of the third quarter.

The defensive effort was what spelled victory for the hosts, however. The Tillers ran up 44 points in the first half and looked like they might approach the century mark.

But Olson adjusted his defenses at the halftime intermission and the Oilers limited the Tillers to only 21 points in the final two frames.

The Marina defense started to assert itself in a big way in the fourth period and the Oilers slowly but surely started to close in.

The Oil City five ran up seven points at the outset of the period while blanketing the Tillers and with better than five minutes to play, the Black and Orange was right back in the game, trailing 55-52.

The hosts finally closed the gap to two points when with 2:09 to play Bill Gerber converted a free throw. Thirteen seconds later Ray McNeill grabbed his own rebound and canned a four-footer, enabling the Oilers to finally catch up with the Tillers, 63-63.

Tustin forged into the lead once again on a bucket by Jeff Cunningham, but the Oilers were not to be denied. Rollins knotted the score at 65-all, scoring on a lay-up, and then tapped in a missed shot with only 27 seconds to play, giving Marina its first and final lead of the game.

Costa Mesa's Grant Fuller became the second golfer to score a hole in one during the first week of play at the newest of Orange County's public golf courses. Fuller holed out a five iron Thursday on the 157-yard 13th hole.

Stanley Schulte set a course record Friday when he toured the course in 74 strokes, just two over par for the 18-hole layout. Four other golfers have since tied Schulte's record, including co-owner Marshall Duffield, John Messersmith, Don Rudolph and Earl Gibson. A former all-American grinder from USC, Duffield also has a pair of 75's to his credit.

Club pro Jack Doss reports there are plenty of starting times available at the course. The course is located on the Irvine Ranch, on Lane Road just east of MacArthur Blvd. and south of Red Hill Ave.

The Monarchs have solid scoring punch with Keller, Gene Zech and Barry Eids-vold all capable of hitting in double figures.

OFF THE GREENS

Santa Ana

Over 50 women teed off last week in the annual Ladies President's Cup tournament. The tourney is match play rather than medal play and all matches are over the 18-hole route.

Defending champion Mrs. Charles Bauman won her first round match, but was upset in the second round when Mrs. Herb McCartney edged her, 1-up, on the 19th hole.

Sixteen ladies swing into third round action Tuesday, with quarter-final matches slated for Friday. Mrs. McCartney will face Mrs. Harry Perry in the featured third round match.

In other third round action Mrs. Walt Coffing plays Mrs. Clarence Graham, Mrs. William Hogue faces Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Jack Mahoney goes against Mrs. Russell Hughes, Mrs. Eldon Edes clashes with Mrs. Art Nilsson, Mrs. Dana Crum tangles with Mrs. Roy Spicuzza, Mrs. Roy Crank takes on Mrs. David Keller and Mrs. John Lowell tiffs Miss Celeste Oldham.

A three-way tie for first developed when three quartets turned in net scores of 131 in the monthly Jack and Jill mixed-foursomes tournament Sunday. The winning cards were turned in by the John Wilsons and the Art Imbrechts, the Larry Gardons and the Joe Yurkas plus the Larry Greys and the Curt Straubs.

Two more foursomes finished only one stroke back when the Mike Wascos and the Ray Heffernans tied for second with the Cecil Doyles.

Mater Dei Hosts Cards

Mater Dei cagers return to Angelus League was tonight, rolling out the red carpet for Cantwell's Cardinals in an important clash. Tip off time is 8 p.m.

Coach Nash Rivera's hosts are currently riding on top of the Angelus race with a 3-0 record. Cantwell is a step behind at 2-1 and can claim a share of the lead by upsetting the Monarchs.

Cantwell's only setback in the circuit was a 59-50 loss to Servite. Mater Dei tripped Servite, 54-49, in overtime but was going without the services of scoring flash Tom Keller.

The Monarchs are fresh from a 66-59 upset win over highly regarded Victor Valley—a victory that vaulted Mater Dei into fifth place in CIF rankings.

The Monarchs have solid scoring punch with Keller, Gene Zech and Barry Eids-vold all capable of hitting in double figures.

PARDON ME—Corona del Mar's Roger Hartley (right) seems to be apologizing to a Loara player after bumping him during Tuesday afternoon's Irvine League basketball battle. Looking on for CdM is John Valley. He scored 33 points while Hartley connected for 18.

Loara Jolts Sea Kings In Irvine Duel, 77-53

Tall Loara jolted Corona del Mar's Irvine League basketball champion ship hopes, 77-53, Tuesday afternoon on the losers' floor.

The Saxons took advantage of two big quarters, the first and third, when they outscored Coach Bob Leslie's Sea Kings by a 45-24 margin.

Corona del Mar was suffering from the loss of two players—Bill Carnett and Charlie Herzog. And they had a tough time offensively except for the efforts of John Valley and Roger Hartley.

They accounted for 51 of their team's 53 points with Valley setting the pace with 33. Hartley had 18. Between them they made all of CdM points for the first two quarters.

Loara raced off to a big lead and held the hosts at bay until late in the second quarter when CdM rallied.

Hartley and Valley led the way as the Sea Kings finally sliced the gap to five points

Sunny Hills Stops Lions

Sunny Hills staved off a fourth quarter Westminster rally and went on to beat the Lions, 80-70, on the Westminster floor in the final tune-up for the Lions before opening Sunset League play at Santa Ana Friday night.

The Lions trailed throughout the game, falling behind by as many as 16 points in the fourth quarter. Coach George Gallows' crew started to hit on all cylinders in the final five minutes of play, however, and closed the gap to only four points in the last two minutes before running out of gas.

In the final two minutes of action, Bill Brehm shot the bottom out of the basket to make the final margin 10 points in a game which was closer than the final count indicated.

Brehm wound up with 20 points to spark the Lancers to victory, but he had to relinquish scoring honors to Westminster's hot-shooting guard, Pug Pierce, who burned the nets for 25 points.

Daryl Albers and Larry Comstock added 17 and 13 points to the Sunny Hills total, while Rick Aldridge and Bill White tallied 16 and 10 for the Lions.

Gold in News Again

U.S. Supplies Drop, Price Goes Up

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold is glittering in the news again as its price ranges near a two-year high. As usual in its 3,800-year recorded history, gold is trouble.

The trouble for the United States is that its vast stockpile of gold is shrinking. Thus though the nation's economy is booming and the standard of living is higher than any the world has ever known, the country is nagged by the problem of gold.

Here are some questions and answers which explore the past, present and future of gold and its relationship to the United States citizen:

Q: What is gold?

A: Gold is a malleable yellow metallic element nearly as heavy as lead and more than 3½ times heavier than iron. In daily life in the United States it is used mainly for jewelry and filling teeth. Except for those uses, and a few limited industrial applications, it is illegal for anybody but the government to own gold.

Q: Why is it important, then?

A: Internationally, gold is money. It is the one always acceptable medium for settlement of international debts. 'Because of the limited world supply of gold, most nations abandoned the gold standard in the 1930s, the United States in 1934. However, our nation kept its money system partially linked to gold.

Q: What function does gold serve in the U.S. money system?

A: Gold acts as a ceiling on the money supply. The three main types of money are coins, paper bills and commercial bank deposits. By law the Federal Reserve Bank may not create paper money and bank reserves in excess of four times the value of its gold. As of January 6, the Federal Reserve had about $15.4 billion in gold, which was 27.6 per cent of the total currency and reserve deposits. The gold level is about $125 million less than a year ago.

Q: Why is the United States gold supply dwindling?

A: Gold leaves the nation because foreigners — particularly France — have acquired more dollars than they want to keep. The U.S. Treasury guarantees to sell gold to foreign governments and central banks at $35 an ounce for money purposes. The foreign governments have accumulated dollars because for the past eight years the United States has paid out annually more than it has received in international money transactions.

Q: Because of the legal one-to-four requirement, wouldn't the loss of gold reduce the amount of money available to Americans at home?

A: Ultimately, yes. Because of our huge supply of gold — most of it accumulated during World War II — the one-to-four ratio did not become acute until recently. The problem was underlined when France announced its intention to cash in $150 million for gold.

Q: What has the Johnson administration proposed?

A: It has suggested that the one-for-four requirement be removed from reserve deposits. That would free for international use some $5 billion in gold now frozen to back deposits. The administration would retain the requirement for one-for-four backing for currency. Thus a paper dollar would have at least 25 cents in gold behind it, but a dollar of deposits would not have any gold backing.

Q: Is Congress likely to approve such a plan?

A: Recent samplings of congressional opinion indicate the lawmakers favor the idea.

His School Days Made Churchill the Man

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winston Churchill was a man who was reared on English because his teachers thought he was stupid and English was all he was fit for. He was a good fit for his father, Randolph, an aristocratic man, thought he was a bit of a fool, too. His parents, who were indifferent about him, kept him in boarding schools from the time he was 7 until he was 21.

It was his elocution, just as much as his leadership, which made him in just five years one of the shining figures of history. All this had its roots in his school days.

He wasn't dumb. He said years later: "Where my reason or my imagination or interest were not engaged, I would not or could not learn. I should have liked to be asked what I knew. They always served to distrust his judgment and suspected his motives."

Even his fellow-aristocrats slammed their doors when he attacked the privileges of the rich. If he had died before he was 65 he would have been a political failure, hardly more than a footnote in history.

But for five years, from 65 to 70, he was put in charge of the war against Hitler. This was enough. His desire to prevail paid off handsomely for him, England and the world.

It was his elocution, just as much as his leadership, which made him in just five years one of the shining figures of history. All this had its roots in his school days.

He wasn't dumb. He said years later: "Where my reason or my imagination or interest were not engaged, I would not or could not learn. I should have liked to be asked what I knew. They always tried to ask what I did not know."

Not long ago, the British scientist, C. P. Snow said Churchill must have had an IQ as high as anyone could wish. But his teachers thought he was one of the slow ones.

They let the bright boys cut their teeth on Latin and Greek but they put the slow ones in the lowest grades and drilled them in English. And this Churchill loved.

Looking back at 51, he wrote: "Even as a schoolboy I questioned the aptness of the classics for the prime structure of our education. So they told me how Mr. Gladstone (prime minister when Churchill was growing up) read Homer for fun, which I thought served him right."

His grades weren't good enough to get him into college. He went into the army. But at 22 he felt he was a social, political and historical boob. He decided to educate himself.

"It was curious education," he wrote, "first, because I approached it with an empty, hungry mind, and with fairly strong jaws, and what I got I hit."

He read eight volumes of Edward Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," then Thomas Babington Macaulay's "History of England," and went on from there.

Churchill, consciously or not, patterned himself after Gibbon, as he showed in what he wrote later, and it was a lot: 30 books, including a history of England and histories of the two world wars. He finished at 32.

By the use of the "of" clause — like "of mankind" — and of adjectives that flashed or smoldered, the two men could turn the language into thunder over Mt. Sinai.

With Churchill, as with Gibbon, nouns and adjectives hand in hand, tripped down the pages like a bridal pair in splendid ceremony.

But all of Churchill's reading and memorizing would not have been enough to make him remembered as a writer without something else.

He had an artist's glistering sense of life and a romantic's sense of drama, plus a special ear for the language. He could make a phrase look as happy as a puppy with a porkchop.

Sometimes his sentences sound as wistful as the wheels of a wagon-train or as robust as a platoon with drums in a shuttered street at three in the morning.

His teachers, who thought they had scrutinized his mind, forgot to examine his ears.

Limit Eyed On Number In Transpac

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Transpacific Yacht Club is thinking of limiting entries to 60 in the July 4 race to Honolulu.

Commodore Steve Newmark said Tuesday that 50-yacht owners already have entered. He added that the Honolulu race committee feels it would be difficult to locate more than 60 boat slips, plus an equal number of hosts for the racers.

The largest previous field for the 2,000-mile race was the 52 who entered in 1955.

Ticonderoga Not Overdue

LONG BEACH — The Coast Guard said today there was no basis for alarm on reports that the 72-foot ketch, Ticonderoga, was overdue.

The Ticonderoga passed through the Panama Canal Jan. 14 en route to Florida. The Coast Guard said the only basis for the report was that the skipper usually called in his position but has not done so up to now.

New Tarzan Film Swinging

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A new Tarzan soon will be swinging through the prop man's jungle.

He is Mike Henry, 6-foot-3, 227-pound linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams.

Producer By Weintraub announced Tuesday the selection of Henry for the next screen Tarzan, the 14th since the popular series of films began in 1918.

SOUTHLANDER HONORED — Lyle J. Moore (right), Pacific Telephone Co. executive, receives congratulations from FCC Commissioner R. T. Bartley on his appointment as general chairman of the Radio Technical Commission for Marine Services which will hold its international assembly in Long Beach in May.

Yachtsmen Invited To Radio Meeting

Pleasure boat and yacht owners have been invited to attend the International Assembly of the Radio Technical Commission for Marine Services which is scheduled May 5-8 at the Edgewater Inn in Long Beach.

This will be the first time the international assembly has been held in Southern California, according to Lyle Moore. "Approximately 20,000 from Los Angeles. A large number of members and guests from foreign countries are expected to attend."

"The assembly is appropriately held here as we have the largest concentration of small craft equipped with radio telephones and other electronic guidance and navigational systems for everything from outboards to ocean liners."

Moore said pleasure boat operators should be particularly interested in this year's assembly which has adopted the theme, "Communications for Small Craft."

Many new laws affecting marine radio communications will be discussed, along with revolutionary new equipment to be introduced during the next few years.

"Boat owners with radio telephones aboard will be very interested in the new laws soon to go into effect governing changes in two to three megacycle coastal harbor and high-seas communications systems," said Moore.

WELCOME ABOARD License Bogey Rises Again

By ALMON LOCKABY

It has been a couple of years now since boat owners in California have had to take pen in hand as it were, and inform state legislators that:

1. Operator licensing for pleasure boats is not needed.

2. Operator licensing for pleasure boats is not wanted.

But the time is here again, mates. The threat of licensing is again out in the open.

THIS TIME the legislative ball carrier is Sen. Frank Peterson, D-Ukiah, who has announced that he will propose a bill this session that would require the operator of every motorboat over 10-horsepower to secure and carry on his person an operator's license. Just like driving an automobile. In fact, the license would be issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Sen. Peterson failed to mention the reasoning behind his proposal. The wire dispatches out of Sacramento merely quoted him as saying he had the support of law enforcement agencies in Lake and Mendocino counties.

All this seems passing strange in view of recent comments — as recent as Nov. 16 — by Lachlan Richards, chief of the division of Small Craft Harbors, Sacramento, and remind him that you expect him to lend the influence of his office to squelching such senseless legislation. Richards has always boasted that he and his staff have the welfare of the boat owner uppermost.

Write Sen. Frank Peterson, Senate Office Building, Sacramento, and let him know that all the thousands of responsible boat owners in California are not pleased with the prospect of being penalized because of some local problem in his own district.

can point with pride to statistics on hand at every harbor department in the state showing less and less need — if there ever was one — for operator licensing or any further regulation by the state.

You can also quote Coast Guard officials from the top to the bottom who have consistently said that operator licensing would not prevent accident Number One.

Federal, state and local boating laws are adequate. And whenever and wherever accidents are the result of violations, the punishment is sure and sufficient.

AND WHILE you are writing, it might be well to pen a note to Lachlan Richards, chief of the Division of Small Craft Harbors, Sacramento, and remind him that you expect him to lend the influence of his office to squelching such senseless legislation. Richards has always boasted that he and his staff have the welfare of the boat owner uppermost.

Write Sen. Frank Peterson, Senate Office Building, Sacramento, and let him know that all the thousands of responsible boat owners in California are not pleased with the prospect of being penalized because of some local problem in his own district.

Hose Almost Sinks Yacht

LONG BEACH (AP) — Coast Guardsmen called to save the 95-foot schooner Gallant Lady from sinking at her moorings pumped water out of her for two hours before they found why it was taking so long; it was coming in from a dockside water hose, almost as fast as they were pumping it out.

Someone left the hose running while filling Gallant Lady's fresh water tank Tuesday, the Coast Guard said. After the hose was turned off the 300-gallon-a-minute pump on the Coast Guard cutter soon began winning.

ONLY conclusion to be drawn from Sen. Peterson's proposal is that somewhere in Lake or Mendocino counties — or both — there has been more than the usual number of boating mishaps, so every boater in the state must be punished.

What Sen. Peterson needs to know from you, the boater, is that boating accidents continue to decrease as the boating population increases. He should also be informed that no type of boating accident known could possibly be prevented by an operator's license.

IF YOU take the trouble to write Sen. Peterson — which this department urges — you

Statewide JC System?

Is the theory and practice of locally supported and financed junior colleges coming to an end?

Powerful leaders in California education, believe some dramatic changes in junior college organization are required if the state is to offer equal educational opportunities to everyone.

They appear to be aiming at a statewide junior college system — organized much as our California State College system is organized to replace the community-oriented junior college such as Orange Coast College, financed and controlled by their own local districts.

One equalization plan, a financial one, proposes a 20-cent statewide property tax rate and an increase in the state's share of junior college costs. The plan would, of course, increase state control of the JC system, and has drawn criticism from the California School Boards Association and the California Junior College Association. They say it sets the pattern for a statewide JC system and that the scheme would revolve into "political dynamite."

Another step leading away from the community concept of junior colleges is found in the manner unification has been proposed. In merging elementary and high school districts, both local and state authorities attempt to unify districts with common interests, common economies and long-standing common boundaries.

The JC expansions go a step further. Locally, for example, it is proposed that Orange Coast College join with Santa Ana College, then add the communities of Orange and Garden Grove, to comprise a district that certainly will meet the qualification of bigness, even if it lacks common threads of identity and interest.

In fairness to the administrators who drew up the plan, the state requires that some expansion plan be submitted. Orange Coast College attempted to interest the coastal area southward — a much more logical merger — in joining the OCC district, but was met with disinterest by south coast leaders.

California's junior colleges have been leaders, known throughout the world for their outstanding contributions to education. They have evolved from manual training plants to first-class educational institutions with broad community participation.

And our junior colleges face bold challenges in helping keep up with our educational needs. They cannot rest on their laurels.

The question is whether they can meet the challenges better with a big, statewide program controlled from Sacramento, or with a continuation of community orientation and support.

Exciting World Ahead

Are you keeping up?

Eleven per cent of the United States' population today was not alive at the time of the inauguration of the late John F. Kennedy as President.

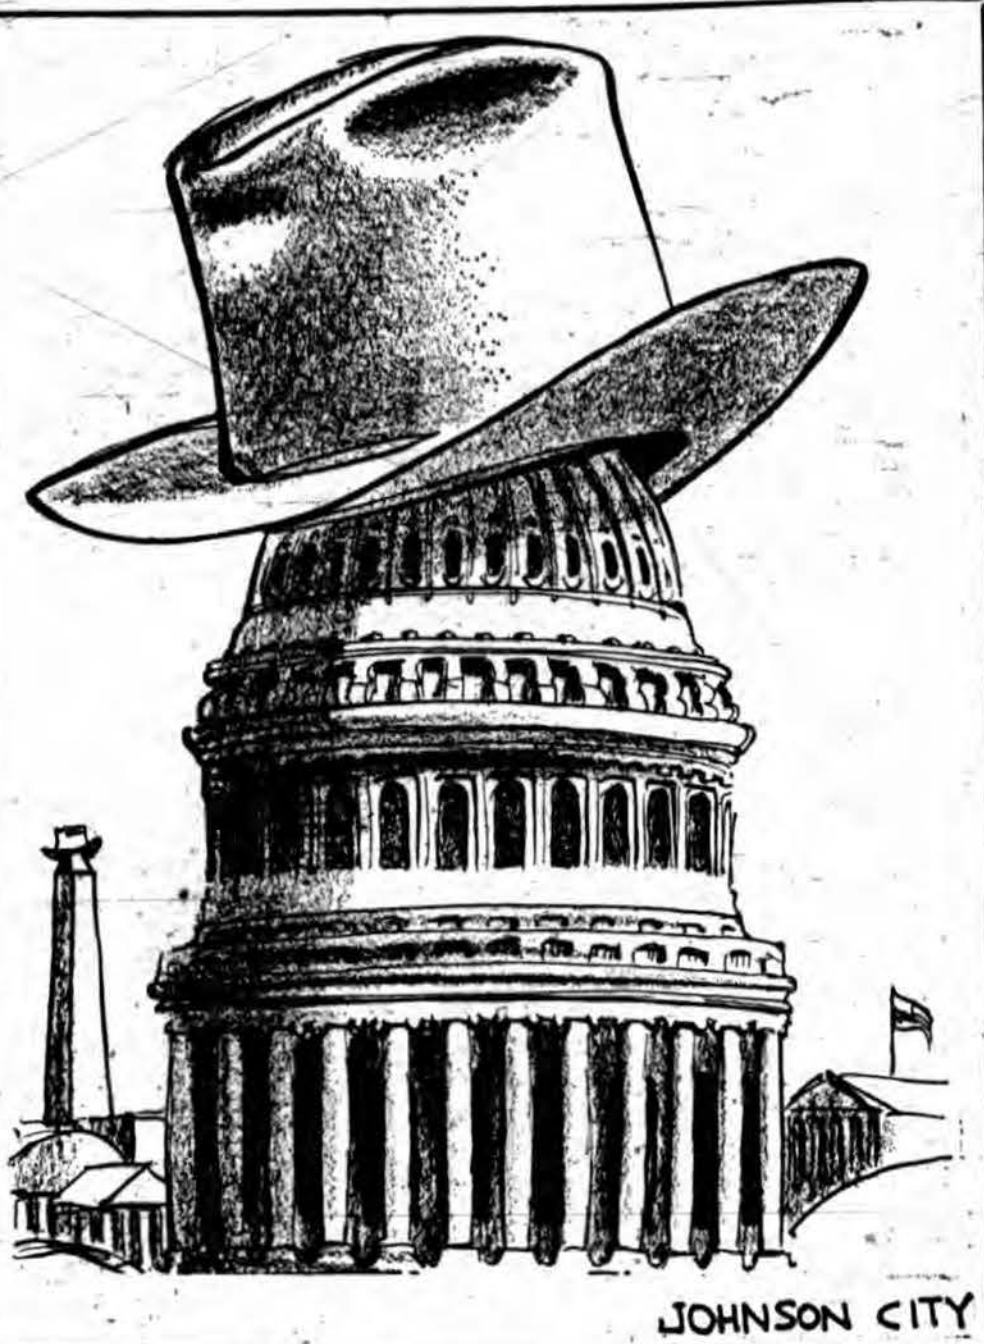

In the next 20 years, our nation will add 70 million people to its population. That's more than the combined present populations of California, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Washington, D.C., will absorb 1,200,000 new people by 1980.

One half of the houses in California in 1980 will have been built between now and then.

The population gain in California between now and 1980 will be sufficient to duplicate the entire existing metropolitan system — core cities, suburbs and all, with some left over.

An exciting and challenging world lies ahead!

Presidential Oath

Washington Notes: This is the day of the solemn moment when the President-elect stands on the portico before the Capitol, the crowd grown silent, the clerk comes forward with the Holy Bible and repeats the oath.

There are 40 words in it: I, Lyndon Baines Johnson, do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, so help me God.

IT IS SAID: And then the answering cheer goes up. It is a long line of succession, reaching from Washington into our time.

The oath is a part of the Constitution itself. An oath was not included in the first drafts of proposed constitutions. Edmund Randolph, of Virginia, was first to present his document to the Federal Convention, called in 1787, to build a new government on the failure of the old Confederation. He proposed a presidential term of seven years and that the office be held by a single person, without eligibility for a second term. He suggested no oath. In June the convention received a New Jersey plan as offered by William Paterson. He left blank for debate whether the presidency should be administered by more than one man and also made no suggestion as to the term of office.

BY JULY the convention, having heard many suggestions and debated petty and major items, produced its own resolutions and sent them to a committee on detail.

The resolutions included the two most discussed proposals for the office of President—a single person to hold office for six or seven years, as determined by the delegates. It also required an oath pledging the performance of the duties of the office.

It was August before the committee on detail came forward with its revisions. Article Ten then read: "The Executive Power of the United States shall be vested in a single person. His title shall be, 'The President of the United States of America,' and his title shall be, 'His Excellency.' He shall be elected by a ballot of the Legislature (of the Congress.) He shall hold his office during the term of seven years but shall not be elected a second time."

IT WAS EARLY September of 1787 before the next Constitution was ready for decision. In it we have the term changed to four years. A vice president was proposed to serve the same term. By September 17 the document was ready for submission to the states for ratification. The office of President and that of Vice President were firmed up. The many details covering the office were established. Titles were abandoned. The oath was included — it is the one that is said today.

The Constitution was an evolutionary document — the contribution of many minds. It was whetted and honed by debate, discussion, conciliation, compromise. It was, and is, a flexible document that has enabled us to stretch it to fit a country of almost 200 million persons and a great industrial society, rather than the little more than four million in the 13 states in 1787.

A Flaming Symbol

By WILLIAM HOGAN
Chronicle Features

Almost lost in the news was notice of Carl Van Vechten's death, at 84, in a New York apartment. My first reaction was one of surprise that Van Vechten had lived so long. He had published virtually nothing during the past 30 years and was forgotten as a literary influence. Yet, like his younger contemporary, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Van Vechten was a flaming symbol of the Jazz Age.

HE REPRESENTED the spirit of the American intelligentsia in the mid-1920s probably more vividly than any other writer, including Fitzgerald. He produced seven novels, five books of music criticism, a book about cats and a tremendous amount of critical journalism. Van Vechten's best-known novel, "Nigger Heaven," appeared in 1926. Along with "The Great Gatsby," "The Green Hat," and plays of Eugene O'Neill (and no doubt the collected works of Elinor Glyn), this was one of the most talked-about books of the period. Yet while reprint editions of all Fitzgerald's novels are far more widely distributed today than they were during his lifetime, not one of Van Vechten's titles appeared in a copy of "Paperbound Books in Print" I have at hand.

"NIGGER HEAVEN" was an extraordinary book and a pioneering one. Set in Harlem, it was a collection of melodramatic episodes, but more important it was the first honest literary exploration of New York Negro life. It was a sympathetic and informed white writer's study of the aspirations and frustrations of the metropolitan Negro which were just as real and painful then as they remain today.

Reckless and elegant, Van Vechten projected a Gallic urbanity as only an Iowa-born New Yorker could. Yet he took seriously the efforts of Negro artists; was a passionate collector of items pertaining to Negro culture and was known as a discoverer of young and overlooked literary talent.

As Scott Fitzgerald never really adjusted to the world beyond the stock market crash of 1929, Van Vechten suddenly announced at one point in the Depression's depths that he would never write another word. Except for some occasional reviews he kept his promise. His obituaries stressed the fact that he was well known, in recent years, as a photographer.

LBJ is Second to Nobody

The results of last November's election have finally been tabulated. And just in the nick of time, too. For the presidential inauguration is today.

The results: Mr. Lyndon Johnson, 37.8 per cent; Mr. Barry Goldwater, 23.9 per cent; Others 0.3 per cent; and Nobody, 38.0 per cent.

THE NEWS touched off a wild celebration down at Nobody for President Headquarters, where Nobody's loyal campaign workers had been waiting patiently for the past two months for the stay-at-home vote to come in.

The figures were confirmed by Mr. Ed Steiner, Chief Statistician for Nobody. He said the final tabulation showed that of all Americans of voting age, 43,291,734 cast their ballot for Nobody. This gave the winning candidate a narrow margin of 165,501 votes over Mr. Johnson. Mr. Goldwater, with 27,214,989, ran, of course, a poor third.

AS EXPECTED, Nobody was truly magnificent in victory. He immediately called in eight of the Nation's top reporters, all of whom were equally flattered. And with a confident smile playing across his featureless face explained gently that he would "govern by consensus."

"As a deep-down Conservative," he said, "I hope to increase the confidence the business community has shown in me. At the same time, rest assured that I will press forward with every Liberal Fiber in my body to achieve the goals of organized labor."

"I ALSO, of course, pledge lower taxes, increased government spending and a balanced budget. Our fighting men will fight for peace all over the world. At the drop of a hat,

At home, we shall strive to restore good old American individual initiative through the welfare state. In short, gentlemen, I am proposing a vigorous program of limited action which should appeal to my fellow Moderates everywhere."

And right away, the winning candidate achieved his first consensus. "Nobody," all the reporters agreed, "can be all things things to all men."

"AND WHAT will you wear to your inauguration, sir?" inquired one reporter as the others chuckled. For this, indeed, is a sore subject.

"A compromise, of course," replied Nobody with dignity. "I will wear ordinary suit pants to show my ordinariness with an imported silk morning coat to symbolize The Upper Crust — that being the name I have given to my Administration, during which we'll all get rich. Which reminds me: I do want to congratulate Mr. Johnson on his fair, although inadequate, campaign. And I hope he can overcome his innate humility and accept from me the high position for which he is so eminently qualified — the Vice Presidency."

THE REPORTERS, mindful of the free champagne flowing at the victory celebration outside, rose to go. Nobody stopped them.

"I almost forgot," he said. "It's customary for the winner to address a few words to those responsible for his victory. And so, to those 43,291,734 Americans who exercised their citizenship last November by staying home from the polls, let me just say from the bottom of my heart: 'Nobody thanks you.'"

Tightening Control

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT
Mail Syndicate, Inc.

Defense Secy. McNamara has vetoed immediate use of U.S. nuclear demolition charges to prevent a Soviet ground invasion of Western Europe.

He has shelved joint U.S.-NATO military plans to sow a series of these nuclear minefields on West Germany's borders along Communist Czechoslovakia and East Germany until a study on political control of these weapons is completed.

THIS SENSITIVE nuclear review, to begin later this month at the highest level of the Johnson Administration, is a key phase of Secy. McNamara's program to tighten political control over all U.S. tactical and strategic nuclear weapons.

Until the McNamara study is completed next fall and a presidential decision made, the Army's growing stockpile of these division destroyers is to be kept in heavily guarded nuclear depots in rear areas in Europe and the U.S.

Under the Army's plans, approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff but shelved by McNamara, nuclear demolition charges with explosive forces of 200 to 500 tons of TNT would be buried in the rugged Bohemian Forest country near the East German and Czechoslovakian borders.

THE NUCLEAR landmines would be triggered on orders from the NATO supreme military commander if Russia or its satellite armies attempted to invade West Germany.

U.S. Army authorities and the Joint Chiefs favor immediate deployment of these nuclear charges on the contention they are needed to protect Europe from Russia's overwhelming superiority in ground forces on the continent.

These military advisers argue that the NATO supreme commander must control the firing of these advance nuclear weapons, warning that additional political control would make it impossible to obtain clearance in time to use the atomic devices in the event of war.

SECY. McNAMARA, who now describes himself as Secretary of Peace, also has ordered the Army to report by February 1 how U.S. tactical nuclear weapons in Europe can be withdrawn from Army field units and placed under tighter political-military supervision.

The unannounced purpose of this study, according to qualified Pentagon sources, is to put all U.S. tactical nuclear weapons in rear area depots under the joint command of a high-ranking military officer and a State Department authority.

Neither official would be able to release any of the tactical nuclear weapons to field commanders or air units until their superiors in Washington received approval from President Johnson, or an authority designated by him.

AN ARMY panel of high-ranking military officers recently sent the Joint Chiefs a memorandum warning that if the present trend of tighter political control of tactical nuclear weapons continues, Army field commanders will not be able to use these weapons in battle.

As reported by this column last October, McNamara has quietly been stripping U.S. fighting forces in Europe of the Davy Crockett, smallest and most mobile nuclear weapon now in the hands of front-line units. He also ordered the Army to halt further work on the 107mm mortar, which was slated to replace the Davy Crockett.

Despite Defense Department denials of these reports, the Senate Armed Services Committee has confirming information and will soon publish its findings.

More on Guns

To the Editor:

In reply to Mr. Murphy's letter (Mailbox, Jan. 11), I feel that he is basically correct in asserting that firearms are "for killing." However, it appears as though his knowledge of the subject is somewhat shallow. In reality, there are a number of guns that were not expressly designed for killing per se. Some of these guns are the proverbial BB gun, the pellet gun, and many of the specially designed match target "weapons" which (the former two) can be considered lethal only under extreme conditions. They were designed primarily for such things as plinking at tin cans, targets, etc.

MR. MURPHY also insists that meat-hunting is phony and that "almost anything which can be shot in this country can be purchased." He seems to fail to realize that venison is not very easy to come by and that anyone selling it is subject to investigation by the state fish and game department. Hunting is a basic characteristic just as any other human desire or instinct, although it is often wrapped in a cloak of "civilization."

Clubs, bats, spears, and like objects were originally intended to "kill or disable" chiefly animals, but of course, other humans.

Do I hear a gargantuan effort banning the cricket bat, the baseball bat, the javelin, or any of the other hideous devices that have since been "civilized?" No one will dispute that knives, swords (which are nothing more than long knives) etc. were also intended for dismembering, disemboweling, etc.

I HEAR OF no mammoth drive to outlaw and suppress the pocketknife. Fencing is a very respected and indeed healthy and recreational sport. But, in Mr. Murphy's line of thinking, this would be preparatory for an earnest swordfight.

He also asks "how many would die of gunshots per year if no weapons other than law enforcement and military were allowed?" Unquestionably fewer, from the standpoint of accidental shootings. But criminals have an undying policy of not obeying laws, especially firearms laws, and hence the method of regulation or out-and-out prohibition would have little effect upon those who (if unable to buy) would merely steal from those who did have them. Besides, the underworld has a reputation for getting unbuyable items.

And finally, a firearm is not the most difficult thing in the world to make. Acceptable machineguns can be turned out in high school machine shops, and less sophisticated guns can be produced in a common garage.

Note to P. E. (Gus, Jan. 13): Don't blame the dogs. The real culprits are the inconsiderate, law-breaking owners who disregarding turn their dogs loose to roam the neighborhoods, messing up other people's lawns and digging up flowers. Our dog stays in her own back yard.
