Marines, South Viet Troops Meet; Siege End Seen

SAIGON (UPI) — For the first time troops of a massive Allied relief force landed today inside the northern border fort of Khe Sanh.

U.S. Marine defenders raced out of their bunkers, whooping and cheering the South Vietnamese paratroopers whirled in by helicopter.

U.S. Army helicopters landed a company of South Vietnamese paratroopers on Khe Sanh's battered air strip 76 days after two divisions of North Vietnamese troops laid siege to the fort and one day after American cavalry forces occupied the strategic high ground south and east of the bastion.

A battalion of Khe Sanh Marines promptly surged out on a joyous combat march southward to meet Leathernecks leading a huge Allied ground relief force and escort them into the fort. The vital link-up of ground forces, formally ending the siege of Khe Sanh, was expected by late today.

UPI correspondent Raymond M. Wilkinson in Khe Sanh said American jets pounded communist positions near the base while the paratroopers landed. He said huge Air Force transports immediately began arriving, pouring supplies into the Leatherneck fort that lived for two months mainly on what could be dropped by parachute.

The South Vietnamese paratroopers hopped from the helicopters and scrambled into trenches in the red dirt around the airfield.

Troops Ring White House; LBJ in Vigil

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, operating from a White House turned into a fortress, has ordered federal troops to protect the capital against violent Negro unrest which has spurred him to schedule an address to Congress Monday night.

Johnson was moving on several fronts to combat destructive Negro reaction to the assassination of the Rev. Martin Luther King.

Even as he disclosed his actions, roving looters smashed into stores within two blocks of the White House and black clouds of smoke from incendiary fires hung low over the city.

The violence in Washington and other urban centers prompted Johnson to cancel plans for weekend conferences in Honolulu on Vietnam policy and a meeting there with President Chung Hee Park of South Korea.

Instead, the White House said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, will fly to Washington to confer with Johnson — probably today.

A presidential spokesman said Johnson remained at his White House command post beyond midnight, maintaining close touch with the situation in Washington and in other cities wracked by the turmoil.

He conferred with Washington's top municipal officials, law enforcement officials and Deputy Atty. Gen. Warren Christopher.

The President is known to be particularly anxious to discuss a successor to Westmoreland, who will become Army chief of staff in July.

In other moves to deal with the tense national crisis precipitated by King's slaying Thursday night, Johnson met at the White House with civil rights leaders, proclaimed Sunday a national day of mourning for King and ordered all flags over American ships and property here and abroad to be flown at half staff until the burial of the civil rights leader Tuesday.

He led a host of government officials and others attending a memorial service for King at the Washington Cathedral.

Trimaran Sailor Missing on Long Coastal Voyage

A Coast Guard air search resumed today for a missing Newport Beach yachtsman who is six days overdue in his trimaran voyage from San Francisco to San Diego.

Arthur Piver, 58, reportedly the inventor of the trimaran, a three hull sailing vessel, is the object of the broadening air search.

Coast Guard spokesmen said Piver left San Francisco March 17 with two weeks provisions. He was due in San Diego March 31.

Piver reportedly planned to sail about 50 miles from the coast although a Coast Guard spokesman this morning told the DAILY PILOT, "the route of the gentleman is rather vague."

The Coast Guard commenced a harbor check and then an air search Friday from San Francisco to San Diego. As yet there are no results.

Piver's craft carried a small outboard motor and 2½ gallons of gasoline. He was alone on the boat. Although no address was available for the yachtsman, Piver was said to be from Newport Beach and Mill Valley.

Piver was reportedly preparing himself for a yacht race and planned to amass 500 miles sailing in his craft. The Friday air search ranged 240 miles to sea up and down the California coast and was scheduled to resume this morning.

Hunt Pushed For Killer, U.S. Mourns

From Wire Services

The body of Martin Luther King Jr. lay in state today as a massive manhunt spread through the South for his "sharp-nosed" assassin.

The killer's head carried the weight of a $155,000 reward as the hunt ranged hundreds of miles beyond the Tennessee borders.

Attorney General Ramsey Clark remained optimistic of a quick arrest.

Meanwhile in the House of Representatives, support mounted for a civil rights open housing measure as a monument to the 39-year-old civil rights worker. It has passed the Senate and may pass the House next week.

King's spinal cord was severed Thursday by a bullet from a flophouse across the street from his Memphis motel. The sandy-haired, sharp-nosed killer gave the name John Willard who he checked into the moldering flophouse. He spoke with a Southern drawl.

King's body was to lie in state at a women's college in Atlanta today until the funeral Tuesday at Ebenezer Baptist Church, where the civil rights leader and his father were co-pastors.

Federal flags were ordered flown at half staff but in nearly 50 cities across the nation mourning turned to violence. A dozen persons died, scores were injured and troops were called in to aid police in many cities.

Rewards totaling $155,000 were posted in Memphis for king's killer.

In addition, a group of businessmen put up $25,000 in an effort to settle the sanitation worker's strike that brought King to this Mississippi river port city. The money was to pay for a union dues checkoff system for six months for the garbage collectors.

King's body, lying on white satin in a gold and copper coffin, was being brought to Spelman College in a procession from a funeral home at 4 p.m. EST. It will lie in Sister's Chapel until 4 p.m. Monday, when it will be borne in another procession to Ebenezer Baptist Church, where the funeral will be held Tuesday.

The main speaker at the funeral will be Dr. Benjamin Mays, retired president of Morehouse, King's alma mater, and a close personal friend.

Rock-throwing and window-breaking in the area where King's body was to lie in state was reported late Friday night and early today. Police, who said most of the trouble was caused by small groups of young negroes roaming the streets, made half a dozen arrests for looting.

Riot Penalty Eyed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The penalty for rioting would be increased from six months in the county jail and a $500 fine to three years in state prison and a maximum fine of $5,000 under legislation proposed Friday by Sen. Lawrence E. Walsh (D-Huntington Park).

Cities Get Protests on Flag Honor

By ARTHUR R. VINSEL
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

One of the greatest protocol questions in the history of conservative, predominantly white Orange County flared Friday over tributes to slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

Most city, county, state and federal offices had lowered their flags to half staff by 5 p.m., after edicts from higher administrative levels were issued.

Newport Beach and Laguna Beach city officials were undecided on whether to lower their flags at the 5 p.m. closing time, and it was not certain what course they might take.

The question was apparently this: Do Dr. King's efforts in the civil rights movement, his Nobel Peace Prize and his national prominence place him on a level with a politician or governmental leader?

A spokesman for the Newport Beach city administrator's office said a decision on whether to lower flags to half staff would be reached later in the evening.

"It's a policy established for us by the mayor," the city aide said.

Laguna Beach City Manager James Wheaton was more precise.

"This would be on the cities' own authority, wouldn't it?" he asked.

"Well, ours has not been lowered." Wheaton said the decision would probably hinge on whether or not such an order came from Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"If we get the word," he said, "we'll place it at half staff in the morning." Lt. Gov. Robert Finch had called for lowering of the flag at all state buildings shortly after opening hours Friday, since Gov. Reagan was out of the state.

Elsewhere around the Orange Coast, Huntington Beach, Westminster, Fountain Valley and Costa Mesa, city flags were lowered to half staff in memory of Dr. King.

Huntington Beach Mayor Donald

Shipley issued a proclamation to lower beach city flags, saying the Negro leader's death was useless, violent and to be condemned.

Lowering of flags was also observed at a few Huntington Beach elementary schools and the district's high schools Friday morning, as well as in Costa Mesa schools, where some citizens voiced angry resentment.

Later in the day, the Orange County Superintendent of Schools ordered flags flown at half staff in all county school facilities.

Confusion reigned earlier in the day, over exactly what was meant by President Johnson's declaration of a

From Wire Services

Negroes reacting violently to the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King looted and set fires in Chicago and Washington, D.C., Friday. In all, racial unrest was reported in more than two score American cities.

At least 14 persons were killed in the two days of violence, including five in Washington, five in Chicago, and one each in Detroit, New York, Minneapolis and Tallahassee, Fla.

Sporadic violence was reported in Philadelphia, Flint, Mich., Cincinnati and Toledo, Ohio; Wichita, Kan.; St. Paul, Minn.; Pine Bluff, Ark.; East Palo Alto, Berkeley, San Francisco and Oakland and Denver.

Early today officials reported the situation was calming in the hardest hit cities, Washington and Chicago, where flames from countless fires smoldered well into the morning.

Across the tense nation last night and early today, here are capsule reports on the situation:

Flames Erupt in Ghettos

CHICAGO — Fires sent sheets of flames rising into chill darkness today in Negro ghetto areas where National Guardsmen battled snipers firing from high rise housing projects.

Police said a station house was burned down by rioters at one point in the violence which swept Chicago from the south to the north sides.

There were at least five dead — some reports went as high as seven — in the Chicago violence. The confirmed dead were all Negroes. Hundreds were injured, victims of rocks thrown into their cars, roving street gangs and other menaces. The arrest total climbed to 283.

Widespread Vandalism

PITTSBURGH — Widespread vandalism broke out in the predominantly Negro Hill District Friday night and spilled over into several other areas of the city.

Up to 20 persons were arrested. A white man was shot and wounded. (See VIOLENCE, Page 2)

Voter Signups Extension Set

Urging eligible voters to "register now," County Clerk William E. St. John announced that office hours at his Registrar of Voters center will be extended from Saturday to Thursday — the last day on which citizens can register to vote in the June primary election.

The office, at 1119 E. Chestnut Ave., Santa Ana, will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, St. John said. Hours during the final week will be:

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Thursday, from 8 a.m. to midnight. "Remember," St. John warned, "you cannot vote unless you are registered."

Economy Autos Called to Halt Amid Chaos

Editor's note: This, obviously, will be the last in the current series of "on-the-road" stories from Carl Carstensen, DAILY PILOT auto editor, who has been driving, unofficially, in the 68th Mobil Economy Run.

By CARL CARSTENSEN
Daily Pilot Auto Editor

INDIANAPOLIS — The Mobil Economy Run ended here Friday afternoon in utter chaos.

Officials of the United States Auto Club (USAC), which oversees the annual transcontinental competition, declared an abrupt halt to the run in compliance with President Johnson's call for national mourning.

That left them with these problems: —What to do with 65 automobiles furnished by manufacturers for the competition, none of which were expected to be left in Indianapolis?

—How to find airplanes and other transportation for the hundreds of participants in the run, some of whom have relatives and/or business associates already waiting for them in New York City or a dozen other places?

—Where and how in Indianapolis to set up a fancy banquet for 400 persons as the climax to the big derby on less than 24 hours' notice?

—How to get the trophies and other paraphernalia of the climactic ceremonies from New York to Indianapolis in time for the victory dinner tonight — if it happens here tonight?

It has been a long night and a longer morning for USAC officials here as they battled these problems.

Some of them were still unresolved this morning.

The chaos began Friday afternoon when Art Rene, chief steward for USAC, issued the following terse announcement in the wake of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King:

"In deference to the President's proclamation designating Sunday, the day the run was scheduled to end in New York, as a day of mourning, the run is terminated in Indianapolis.

"There are no results now, but final results will be calculated tonight (Friday) and announced tomorrow."

The paratroopers rose and walked into Khe Sanh itself. Many of the 5,000 marines and 1,000 government troops inside the fort ran out to meet them, slapping their backs and shouting greetings.

The defenders had cheered Friday's seizure by troops of the U.S. Army 1st Air Cavalry Divisions of the ridges south and west. But here was help they could touch.

U.S. military officials said thousands of North Vietnamese apparently remained facing Khe Sanh. But for the Americans made to live like moles by daily communist barrages, it appeared the worst was over.

Sad Homecoming Son of Sniper Victim Gets Leave

Marine Pvt. John Caldwell has lived through the sniper fire in Vietnam.

The bullet that hurt was the sniper slug that snuffed out the life of his father in a Huntington Beach service station this week.

Marine M/Sgt. Cecil Caldwell was apparently slain in a senseless thrill murder Tuesday night while working at a service station co-owned with his brother.

His eldest boy, John, 19, had been stationed since December in a hotbed of sniper activity, Marvel Mountain Air Facility just south of Da Nang.

Exhausted by three days without sleep, Pvt. Caldwell awaited final arrangements for his father's last rites as police sought to unravel the murder. He told his stark story to a DAILY PILOT reporter:

"I was stationed with my outfit HMM 361-UH 64, Delta, working on some aircraft Tuesday.

"About 2:30 in the afternoon the chaplain sent a messenger out to have me report to his office. He said he had received a Red Cross message that my father had been shot and killed by a sniper.

The young Marine arrived home about noon Friday. He and his stepbrother, Harold Adams will join other members of the family Monday in Dallas for the military funeral and ed seriously. Detectives said the shooting was connected with the disorders.

The city's 1,400 man police force was placed on 12-hour shifts. All days off and leaves were cancelled.

LOS ANGELES — The streets of Los Angeles were quiet Friday night after city leaders appealed to the community for calm in the wake of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

"We are mindful that in some cities people have reacted in violence," said Councilman Thomas Bradley, a negro. "I urge all people in Los Angeles to remain calm and remind everyone that Dr. King himself would be the last to want anyone to resort to revenge.

Mayor Sam Yorty concurred in a statement: "We will honor Dr. King's memory most fittingly by ignoring those who preach violence and destruction."

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Officials ordered predominantly Negro Florida A&M University to close for nine days Friday night after scattered violence was reported in and around the campus.

Gov. Claude Kirk mobilized 50 national guardsmen and alerted another 200 in an effort to head off a second night of violence at the school.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Rifle fire erupted Friday night on the campus of Tennessee A&I University, in the area where a three-day riot occurred exactly a year ago.

Police and National Guardsmen on duty in the North Nashville area converged on the predominantly Negro campus but did not immediately return the fire.

MEMPHIS — Rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. rose to at least $155,000 Friday after the Memphis City Council guaranteed a minimum reward of $100,000.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal, a Scripps-Howard Newspaper, earlier had offered a $25,000 reward and others had offered rewards totaling $25,000.

Lewis Hutchinson, president of Dwight and Co., a management consultant firm in Greenwich, Conn., is offering a $5,000 reward.

BOSTON — National Guard units were alerted in the greater Boston area, and police sealed off the downtown Boston business section Friday night as a new wave of violence swept the city's Negro section.

Police surrounded the shopping area quietly and shortly before 9 p.m. began diverting all motor traffic away from the section which contains the city's largest stores.

Police reported roving gangs, mostly made up of teen-aged boys, going through the Roxbury area, smashing store windows and throwing rocks at any automobiles moving in the section.

Heated Patient Hot Line Frustrates Fire Eaters

Santa Ana Community Hospital nurses had quite a time the other night explaining to frustrated firemen that the patient's temperature just wasn't all that high.

Firemen had been summoned to the hospital on what they said was a chance in a million — a patient pushed a signal button for his nurse, the impulse was the last straw for an overworked electrical transformer and hospital workers, startled by fumes, called the fire department.

It won't happen again, Bed 408. Firemen dismantled the whole signal system.

"What will the patients do now?" Nurse Betty Remling was asked. "Well, they can yell," she said. "But we'll soon have it working again."

Bed 408 has a last question.

"Say, will Blue Shield pay for that big red engine...?"

Rodgers Denied Big Injury Claim

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city of Los Angeles has "denied and filed" a claim for $11 million by singer Jimmie Rodgers who claims he suffered nearly fatal injuries as a result of police manhandling.

The city rejected the claim Friday, but Rodgers' attorney has said he will file suit for the same amount.

Rodgers, who underwent two brain operations and faces a third, claims he was manhandled by officers who stopped him en route home from a series of parties.

The three officers involved in the incident were suspended for 15 days for failure to make a proper report. Instead, they told the district attorneys office they left Rodgers in his car to "sleep it off."

A recent district attorney's report said Rodgers was drunk the night he suffered his injuries. It said he was hurt in two falls. Rodgers' attorney denies the singer was drunk.

Delay Possible On Oscar Awards

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Gregory Peck, president of the Motion Picture Academy, said Friday night the 40th annual Oscar awards scheduled for Monday night may be postponed.

Peck said the academy board was considering several alternatives following the slaying Thursday of Negro leader Martin Luther King.

"We are trying to do the appropriate thing," Peck said. "It is our purpose to suit the mood of the people in this tragic time. I have called an emergency meeting of the board."

All four Negro stars scheduled to perform at the academy awards have withdrawn in mourning for King, an American Broadcasting Co. spokesman said.

They are Sammy Davis Jr., Diahann Carroll, Sidney Poitier and Louis Armstrong.

Narco Rap Jails Newport Driver

A Newport Beach motorist who admitted to police that he was heavily drugged when he was thrown from his overturned car was sentenced Thursday to 15 days in Orange County Jail.

Superior Judge William Speirs also placed Sherman Harris, 31, of 645 Via Bonita on three years probation on the possession of narcotics charge.

Harris was arrested last Jan. 16 after his car veered off South Coast Highway in Laguna Beach, flattening a fence and dumping the driver in a ditch. Officers said Harris' speech was slurred and incoherent and they took him to South Coast Hospital when he complained of hip pain.

Police said they found a cake tin crammed with pills and marijuana during a search of Harris' wrecked auto.

Desalt Tab Up 70% A-plant Costs Soaring

By JACK BROBACK
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

A re-estimated cost and hints that the imperiled multi-million dollar Bolsa Island nuclear power and desalting plant off Huntington Beach will be built as scheduled were voiced by the project's management board Friday.

The board, consisting of representatives of each of the agencies involved in the huge facility, now estimate that it will cost $765 million, up 70 percent over the 1966 estimate of $444 million.

Several reasons were given for the big increase in costs. The 1966 guess was based on 1965 prices with no allowance included for expected annual increase in cost of labor, material and equipment.

START IN 1969

Start of construction is now tentatively set for November 1969 with the first of two planned nuclear power plants and the initial desalting works set to go into operation in 1974 and the full complex to be completed in 1978.

The revised cost estimate includes anticipated cost increases from 1965 through 1978 or more than 12 years.

Other factors in the cost increase, the project board's report said include a 10 percent boost in power output and additional safeguards against the threat of damage from major earthquakes.

JOINT PROJECT

Agencies collaborating on the seawater conversion and power project are Metropolitan Water District, Southern California Edison Co., the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, San Diego Gas & Electric Co., and two federal agencies, the Office of Saline Water of the Interior Department and the Atomic Energy Commission.

A breakdown in old and new cost comparisons show MWD's contribution going up from $126 million to $217 million and the three utilities from $257 million to $487 million. As of now the federal government's contribution will remain at $61 million.

The latest proposal has the two nuclear power plants on the 40-acre man-made island off Warner Avenue with a capacity of about 1,800 megawatts or enough power for a city of 2 million people.

The desalt plant will have an initial capacity of 50 million gallons a day but will be designed for later expansion to 150 million gallons, enough water for 750,000 people.

national day of mourning on Sunday.

It was believed federal flags were to be lowered Sunday and would then remain at half staff through the yet-unscheduled funeral for the civil rights leader.

Many jurisdictions, however, apparently took their cue from the fact the White House flag itself hung at half staff Friday.

An estimated 1,000 students at UCI gathered Friday for a brief memorial service, addressed by Vice Chancellor Roger Russell and several other speakers.

"Yesterday was another of those days of very special sorrow which shock a people into the kind of self-examination in which they should be continuously — rather than occasionally — engaged," said Russell.

"We can but hope that the irrational event of yesterday will sharply accelerate the growth of rationality of approaches to the social problems in cultures here and everywhere," he continued.

The vice chancellor concluded with excerpts from Dr. King's own book — now weirdly expressive of the national climate — titled "Where Do We Go From Here?"

KING TRIBUTE

"We must turn mankind away from the long and desolate night of violence," he read. "May it not be that the new man the world needs is the nonviolent man?"

"A dark, desperate, confused and sin-sick world waits for this new kind of man," he added in the late Dr. King's own words.

Students and faculty members at Golden West College in Huntington Beach also stood silently Friday, during a noon address by President R. Dudley Boyce.

The Rev. Gil Allen, pastor of Christ Presbyterian Church, also spoke to the small group, urging students to let their elders off the hook on matters of prejudice.

He said Dr. King's death was the crucifixion of a man trying to bring love to mankind and urged a great memorial to the slain leader by accepting a spirit of love which recognized the worth of all men.

The murder, he added, dramatizes the race problem as it is — not only in metropolitan ghettos — but even in Huntington Beach.

SOME SHOWERS IN FORECAST

Variable cloudiness with some chance of coastal showers was predicted for Southern California today by the U.S. Weather Bureau with strong gusty winds at times, followed by sunny skies Sunday.

Saturday's high along the Orange Coast was expected to be 65 degrees with slightly warmer weather Sunday.

Small craft warnings displayed Point Conception to Newport Beach. West to NW winds 15 to 30 MPH at times today. Westerly winds 10 to 30 mph at times. Westerly winds 10-18 mph.

SEVERED CORD KILLED KING

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Dr. J. T. Francisco, the Shelby County (Memphis) medical examiner, said Friday Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. died when a sniper's bullet severed his spinal cord.

Francisco, reporting on an autopsy he performed, said King received "a gunshot wound to the right side of the face and base of the right neck, with death due to the severing of the spinal cord."

"The bullet was under the skin of the back, next to the left shoulder blade," Francisco said. "It entered at approximately the jawbone." He said it traveled a downward path. The doctor said the bullet was delivered to the police laboratory.

Churches View King's Murder

In wake of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., the Ministerial Association of Laguna Beach has called for a revolution of Christian love.

An association statement released by the Rev. Ray C. Gery, president, labeled the brutal slaying a "horrible shame and tragic shock to every citizen of America."

It states that, "Dr. King was a dramatic symbol of some of the basic concepts of our Christian faith and Constitution of the founding fathers of our country."

The "letter to the people of Laguna" states, "During this Easter week, as Christians remember the meaning of the Cross of Jesus Christ, it is our prayer that each person of this community will look into his heart and mind and ask God for wisdom in judgement, compassion toward others and forgiveness of our selfishness."

Lagunans View Zoning Dispute

A controversial commercial hotel zone proposed for Laguna Beach will be aired before the new Laguna Coordinating Council at 8 p.m. Monday.

Al Autry, associate city planner, will describe the current form of the proposal at a meeting in the Laguna Federal building. Following this Autry, J. Lamont Langworthy, Carl Johnson and Bernard Syfan will take panel discussion.

20-year Irvine Well Driller Succumbs at 90

Private services will be held for a 90-year-old resident of Newport Beach who had lived in Orange County for 70 years at the time of his death Friday at his home.

Joseph William Leieritz, a native Californian and onetime well driller for the Irvine Co. (for 20 years) died at his residence, 121 27th St., Newport Beach.

Visitation hours for Mr. Leieritz will be held at-Baltz Mortuary Chapel, Costa Mesa, today from noon until 9 p.m. and from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday.

Date of the private services was not announced Friday.

Mr. Leieritz is survived by three sisters — Edith A. Leieritz of Newport Beach, Victoria Lee of Whittier and Julia A. Beauchamp of Huntington Park.

Dana Yacht Loss Meant Miseries For Honeymoon

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The sinking of comedian Bill Dana's yacht off Baja California not only caused the eight survivors to spend the night in a life raft and leaky dinghy. It ruined a honeymoon.

"What a way to spend your honeymoon with your thumb in a hole in the bottom of a dinghy," said Tere Grossman, 25, who arrived here Friday with her husband, Edward, 31, and six others who were rescued Wednesday.

Mrs. Grossman, a Mexican national, said she and the boat's skipper had been married 15 days when the vessel sank 20 miles off shore.

Grossman told newsmen that planking under the bow "just gave way." He managed an emergency radio call before the motor yacht sank 15 minutes later.

The eight persons aboard jumped into an 8-foot skiff and a rubber raft. The skiff sustained a one-inch hole in the bottom and Mrs. Grossman plugged the hole with her thumb. Others then took turns stopping to leak.

The Grossmans were married in Mexico City, where he is president of a pharmaceutical plant. The 54-foot, $80,000 yacht Reina Rosilee had been owned by Grossman's father. It was being delivered to Dana, its new owner, when it sank en route from Acapulco to Los Angeles.

Schmitz Pushes Private Schools Tax Write-off

SACRAMENTO — A bill permitting state income tax deduction of tuition payments to all levels of private schools was introduced in the Legislature Friday by State Sen. John G. Schmitz, (R-Tustin).

Schmitz, a John Birch Society member, said his bill would increase private educational facilities, thus reducing the cost of tax-supported education.

The arch conservative also introduced a bill requiring applicants for parade and demonstration permits to post a $10,000 bond to cover property destruction.

The bill would not apply to parades held on the same day each year such as July 4th and Veterans' Day, Schmitz said.

Commenting that several recent demonstrations have "generated into riots and near riots, apparently by deliberate intent," the senator claimed the proposed legislation would act as a deterrent.

'Tickets Quota' Appeal Fails for Motor Officer

A California Highway Patrolman who claims he was fired because he wrote too few tickets has issued his last citation for the state force.

State personnel board officer Robert Hill Friday confirmed the dismissal of Burton Bodenschatz, 52, of Garden Grove, a CHP motorcycle officer. Bodenschatz, a 16-year veteran with the force, was fired last Dec. 31 for "inexcusable neglect of duty, insubordination, willful disobedience and inefficiency."

Hill's decision followed a review of evidence that was offered in three days of hearings last February. Bodenschatz insisted throughout the inquiry that CHP officers worked on a "quota system," whereby they were expected to issue a minimum number of citations for traffic offenses during a given period.

Bodenschatz argued that his only offense had been to refuse to "invent traffic offenses" to keep up with tickets issued by other CHP officers. Four of his fellow officers testified in favor of the CHP veteran.

But Bodenschatz's superior officers insisted that the patrolman's "attitude had not been good" and that he had failed to issue citations on many occasions which justified a ticket.

Capt. James Peters, Bodenschatz's commanding officer at the CHP's Anaheim division, testified that the accused officer made only five traffic arrests between March 1 and 10, 1967. Fellow officers, Peters told the hearing officer, made 12 and more arrests during that same period.

Sgt. Harry Dean told the hearing that Bodenschatz "failed to observe CHP norms and standards" in enforcement actions. But he admitted that the officer "took action on every violation he observed" during retraining sessions last year.

The Bodenschatz hearing may lead to abolition of what the accused officer claimed was a "quota system." Sen. James Whitmore (R-Fullerton) introduced a bill this week which will ban the practice and which will not allow an officer to be subjected to disciplinary proceedings on grounds identical to those on which Bodenschatz was dismissed.

Flagstaff Easter

Youths to Clean Up Facilities

By EVELYN SHERWOOD
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The Easter Week scene for some 73 Harbor, Estancia, Corona del Mar and Costa Mesa high school students, will not be at the beach, at the Colorado River or at Palm Springs. It will be at Flagstaff, Ariz.

There, in a one-week project, sponsored by the Senior High and College Fellowship of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, they will devote their vacation to cleaning, painting and repairing buildings on the Christian Conference Grounds.

"These kids aren't afraid of work," Kim Strutt, director of youth ministry, said today. "They would be an asset wherever they spent Easter week."

The 15 acres of grounds, badly damaged during the snowstorms that swept Arizona last winter, are used by 150 Indian children each week for 12 weeks during the summer, according to Strutt.

"The Fellowship members will do carpentering, plumbing, painting and repair of buildings," Strutt explained.

Buses, trucks and cars will take the group to the Arizona work site.

There will be regular work schedules, according to the director. The boys will bring hammers and the girls will take their own paint brushes. All materials, cement, nails, paint will be supplied.

Although they will be "roughing it," the director has suggested a list of articles emphasizing packing as light as possible.

It's a ratio of 4 to 22 articles for boys versus girls with the list accentuating work gloves and levis.

Harbor Teachers Seeking 9 Percent Salary Boost

By THOMAS FORTUNE
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Newport-Mesa school teachers are asking for a 9 percent salary increase for next year. School administrators are offering 4 percent.

Both probably will have to bend a little. Negotiating teams for both sides remain at loggerheads today after twice-a-week meetings for the last month.

The 4 percent raise offered by the district administration would peg the base starting salary at $6,300 per year. It appears to be too low to be competitive.

"We've got a problem there," said Supt. Leland Newcomer, who points out that of 10 to 15 salary schedules already adopted by county school districts none go lower than $6,400.

The teachers are asking $6,700 to start, a sizeable jump from the current base salary of $6,050. "We aren't going to be able to make $6,700. That's all there is to it," Newcomer said.

Other demands on the budget account for his obduracy on this point.

Whether an agreement can be reached for presentation to the school board will be decided in the next few weeks. "We've already passed our ideal deadline and need to mail out contracts soon after May 1," Newcomer said.

Last year no agreement could be negotiated and teachers presented their own separate proposal to the school board.

Last year also was the first year the state Winton Act went into effect requiring school administrators to negotiate salaries with teachers.

Newcomer called the negotiations a healthy situation and said all concerned in the district are trying as hard as they can to make the Winton Act work. "The alternative," he said, "is straight labor management, and kids get hurt in that kind of a power struggle."

The district's 1,200 teachers are represented in the negotiations by Newport-Mesa Education Association to which 80 percent of them belong.

Narco Charges Against Unruh's Son Dismissed

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — The son of California Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh has been cleared of charges of possession and transportation of marijuana following a closed preliminary hearing from which the press and the public were barred.

The charges against Bradley Unruh, 19, were dismissed by Municipal Court Judge George Zucker Thursday.

Young Unruh's co-defendant, Donald L. McDougal, 19, was ordered to answer in Superior Court on a charge of marijuana possession.

Judge Zucker granted a motion by Unruh's attorney, Paul Caruso, to bar newsmen and spectators from the courtroom. This is permissible under California law.

Deputy Dist. Atty. James Pregerson, the prosecutor, declined to comment on the decision. He called the hearing a "touch-and-go situation."

Pregerson said it was brought out at the hearing that McDougal, not Unruh, actually had marijuana in possession at the time the pair were arrested by Beverly Hills police Feb. 25.

Caruso gave no reason for asking to have the hearing closed. Afterward he told newsmen: "It was a knock down, drag out fight." The attorney said young Unruh received "no favors" from the judge.

Attorneys for both youths earlier tried to have the cases heard in juvenile court where results are not made public. However, the juvenile court refused to take jurisdiction.

A transcript of the hearing will not be available until McDougal is arraigned in Superior Court.

Pregerson said all portions of the transcript dealing with Unruh will be deleted. He explained that when charges are dismissed, the record is not open to inspection to protect those involved.

Coast Cities Sued

11 Seek $300,000 in Narco Action

Three Orange Coast cities and 30 unnamed police officers are defendants in a $300,000 damage suit filed in Superior Court Thursday by 11 persons arrested in a narcotics raid last July 8 in a Newport Beach home.

The raid took place at a then hippie hangout nicknamed "Animal Farm" in the Newport bluffs area.

Defendants listed in the suit are the cities of Newport Beach, Huntington Beach and Costa Mesa in the Orange Coast area and Tustin, plus 30 John Does.

Principal complainant is Lee Hochman, 22, of Hermosa Beach. Other adults listed are John Gronemeyer, Sharon A. Soltes, Gregory Kahn and Robert Thistle, all of whom listed the house as their residence during the raid but do not occupy the place now.

Guardians of six minors are also listed as plaintiffs. The minors include:

Donald E. Christiansen, 19, of 237 Woodland Drive, Laguna Beach; Salvador Avila Jr., 20, of Los Angeles; Ira Seaver, 20, of Sunland; Sam Blankenship, Jr., 20, of Southgate; Joel Earnest, 20, of Garden Grove and William K. Cloy, 20, of La Habra.

The suit claims that the four cities rejected $37,410 claims for damages filed with them last Sept. 28.

The suit charges in relation to Hochman that on the night of the raid he was "willfully, maliciously and wrongfully . . . assaulted by police officers who grabbed him . . . and did unlawfully . . . batter and injure him."

The suit further contends that Hochman was "injured" and in a second claim that he was deprived of his liberty immediately after the raid and "exposed to public ridicule."

He also claims that his clothing, furniture and personal belongings were damaged beyond repair.

Claims filed by the remaining 10 plaintiffs are substantially the same.

Three adults and 27 juveniles were arrested during the early morning July 8 raid by officers from six police agencies and booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana, dangerous drugs and on being in danger of leading idle and dissolute lives.

The day after the raid, the plaintiffs claimed their home had been needlessly smashed by officers and that they had been manhandled and subjected to unnecessary roughness.

Following an investigation of the incident by the Newport Beach Police Department, five officers were suspended for periods ranging from 10 to 30 days.

'KING' MEETS QUEEN — Sarah Stedman, Miss North Carolina, presents silver tray to DAILY PILOT Boating Editor Almon Lockabey at National Sports and Sportswriters Awards Program in Salisbury, N.C. Award honors Lockabey as top yachting and boating competition writer in the United States for 1967.

Almon Lockabey Wins U.S. Writing Award

Almon Lockabey, DAILY PILOT boating editor, is back in home port today and covering the Orange Coast yachting scene after collecting a national writing award in Salisbury, N.C.

Sarah Stedman, Miss North Carolina, made the presentation to Lockabey as part of the National Sports and Sportswriters Awards Program.

He won a silver tray from Tiffany's as a nominee for the Martini & Rossi Sportsman's Sportsman trophy. The award signified his standing as the top writer in his field — yachting and boating competition — in the United States during 1967.

Winner of the trophy was Frank M. Blunk, motorsports editor of the New York Times for more than 15 years prior to his retirement in 1967.

Bill France Jr., executive vice president of the Daytona International Speedway and vice president of NASCAR (the stock car racing association), presented the trophy to Blunk.

The trophy winner was credited with being the first sportswriter to give regular coverage to the sport of auto racing and "during his long career, did much to build the sport into one of the major spectator sports in the nation," according to the citation.

Other nominees included: James B. Anderson of the Greenville News, for his coverage of steeplechase events; Harvey Barcus of the Detroit News, tennis; Bob Chick of the St. Petersburg Independent, power boat coverage; and George B. Russell, special correspondent on horse shows for equestrian publications.

Airport Noise Abatement Program Starts Monday

New air traffic patterns and procedures will become effective Monday at Orange County Airport, the Airport's Noise Abatement Committee warned county aviators Thursday.

Designed to reduce "aircraft sound over the sound sensitive areas adjoining the airport," the new approach and takeoff patterns have been developed and approved by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Acting noise committee chairman Robert J. Bresnahan, Orange County's newly appointed director of aviation, said the new procedures "are only one step" in a program geared to reducing objectionable aircraft noise in the Harbor Area.

The six-member committee has used large area maps on which all complaints from residents in the airport vicinity have been pegged during the recently concluded study. Serving on the committee with Bresnahan are Dennis E. Carpenter, Newport Beach, chairman of the Airport Commission; Leland C. Launer, Fullerton, Airport commission member; Jack Mullan, chairman of Newport Beach's Air Traffic Advisory Committee; Arthur C. Wahlstedt Jr., deputy county counsel and W. Quentin Stockdale, Orange County FAA tower chief.

Bresnahan said, "It is rather remote that the committee will ever be able to convince all of the people in the communities near the airport that it is necessary to live with aircraft noise. Yet in this day and age the airport belongs where people and businesses are and not in a remote location."

Changes in air traffic patterns will affect only two runways. Among the instructions:

—Large and turbine powered fixed wing aircraft departing on Runway 19R shall make a left turn at the shoreline of Upper Newport Bay to a heading of 180 degrees. Jet aircraft should continue flight over Newport Bay area at a 180-degree heading until reaching 3,000 feet altitude.

—Pilots should climb as rapidly as possible as power settings will safely permit after takeoff.

Contrast With 1960 Religion No Longer Issue In Presidential Stumping

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — Occurrences on the presidential campaign scene, projecting two Roman Catholics into the forefront of contention for the Democratic nomination, point up a marked change in the American religious temper.

Through much of the nation's past and up until eight years ago, it was assumed that a Catholic candidate faced extra obstacles because of his faith, but today, the matter has scarcely come up.

"I HAVEN'T heard anybody mention it with reference to Bobby Kennedy or Eugene McCarthy," said the Rev. Dr. C. Emmanuel Carlson of Washington, D.C., executive director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs.

"We're much better off on that sort of thing. We're much further along. There's been a general maturing of confidence among people of different religious groups." It was different back in the 1960 campaign of John F. Kennedy, whose church affiliation brought him under sharp questioning, and who became the first Catholic to occupy the White House.

BUT THE public experience of his style and policies, and the growing amity among the religious bodies themselves, are seen as factors in creating present attitudes.

"It is a bit early to judge, but it does seem safe to say that religious affiliation will not be an issue in this already hotly joined presidential campaign," writes the Rev. Msgr. George W. Casey of Lexington, Mass.

"In 1960 it came close to being the issue." But now, it's not even discussed, he says. He sees these reasons for the change:

— FIRST, that the nation's situation is "too grave to permit the luxuries of sectarian and tribal bigotries."

— And second, the influence of the two "Johns" — JFK, and the late Pope John XXIII, who sparked the reforms of the Second Vatican Council.

"Together, they dissuaded the American people, including many Catholics, from the notion that the Catholic Church was an alien institution, with (See CORNELL, Page 5) designs on American freedoms," Msgr. Casey writes in the St. Louis Review.

DR. CARLSON, noting some of the same factors, said that Protestants today "know more about the workings" of the Catholic Church, which itself is undergoing modifications in structure and outlook.

In the American setting of religious pluralism, he said in a telephone interview, the candidate of a religious minority always "takes on the burden of proving he is not a captive" of his group.

For instance, he said, Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon, a Quaker, has clearly shown he is not bound to the general Quaker teaching of pacifism — both by his expressed views and the fact he was a Navy officer in World War II.

HE SAID other potential candidates this year faced similar circumstances, including:

— Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, a Christian Scientist, who has firmly supported medical programs despite his church's opposition to medical treatment.

Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney, a Mormon, who has strongly backed racial equity despite his church's ban against Negro priests. Romney has pulled out of the active campaign lists.

Choir Sings 'Messiah'

The chancel choir of Costa Mesa's First Methodist Church will present the Easter portion of Handel's "Messiah" Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the sanctuary at 420 W. 19th St.

The 40-voice choir is directed by Gerald Olsen, with Loretta Henry at the pipe organ and Tom Key adding trumpet accompaniment.

An offering will be taken, with proceeds designated for sanctuary beautification. Nursery care will be provided for youngsters.

million-member denomination, will preach at 10 a.m. Sunday at The Neighborhood Congregational Church, St. Ann's and Glenneyre, Laguna Beach.

The Rev. Ellsworth Richardson, minister of the church, will introduce Dr. Herbster who in turn will preach on "The Love You Had At First."

Dr. Herbster was a key figure in the negotiations which resulted in formation of the United Church by union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches, and helped draft the denomination's constitution.

He was elected first president of the United Church at its constituting synod in July, 1961 and re-elected to a second four-year term in 1965.

Dr. Herbster is active in the Consultation on Church Union in which 10 major denominations are exploring the possibilities of Protestant union. He is a member of the general board of the National Council of Churches, a member of the executive committee of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches and of the executive council of the International Congregational Council.

Jerusalem Notes Easter, Passover

JERUSALEM (UPI) — For the first time in 20 years Easter and Passover will be celebrated side by side in the old and new quarters of Jerusalem this year and the city is filled with tourists.

The face of the old city has changed little since the June war. The processions of Good Friday and Palm Sunday will proceed precisely as they did in the past — but this time Israeli rather than Arab policemen will maintain order in the streets.

The Via Dolorosa and the Church of the Holy Sepulchre look much as they did last year though a careful observer will note the Hebrew street signs, the Israeli groceries on sale in shop windows, the Israeli historical magazine "Chronicles" displayed in souvenir shops, and an occasional star of David in red paint on an old city wall.

10,000 PARTICIPANTS
Last year there were about 10,000 participants in the celebrations. This year the number is expected to be about the same.

On Good Friday, as on every Friday of the year, the Franciscan friars will lead a procession along the Way of the Cross to Calvary in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. They will intone prayers in the vernacular — Arabic. Other Christian sects like the Greek Orthodox Armenians and the Copts follow later in the day.

The Franciscan procession is generally held in the afternoon but on Good Friday it takes place in the morning to leave other groups time for their own ceremonies.

On the evening of Good Friday, at 7 p.m., there will be a procession re-enacting Christ's descent from the cross and his burial.

PROCESSION DUE

On Palm Sunday another procession headed by the Latin patriarch will set out on foot from a church near the Mount of Olives overlooking the city to the beautiful Crusader Church of St. Anne's Within the Walls, the only church damaged in the fighting in June. The priests will be followed by members of other Catholic institutions and the pupils of the mission schools.

The Via Dolorosa, unlike its name, is a cheerful, winding oriental shopping street (or series of streets) with deeply recessed cafes where men sit listening to Cairo and Amman radios.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre has been undergoing extensive repairs for several years. In the courtyard outside the main facade is a shelter made of corrugated iron where the stonemasons chip rhythmically at their work. Most of the church is still shored up with iron and wooden girders but the central rotunda is beginning to emerge, new and white, from the dilapidation and decay.

REPAIRS SIGN

The repairs are a sign that for the first time in hundreds of years all the Christian orders are united in their desire to see the church renovated, no matter which altar belongs to which sect and which group takes precedence over the other in their rituals within the church.

Access to the area for the Easter season will probably be limited to Israelis as it was to Bethlehem at Christmas. Israel is determined to show once again that decorum is even better preserved under present rule than it was under that of its predecessors.

But it is still an unusual sight to see Israeli guides explaining the topography of the Crucifixion to Christian pilgrims inside the Holy Sepulchre.

Hopeful, Gloomy

2 Outlooks on Peace Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's top advisers are split between hopeful and gloomy assessments of the prospects for successfully negotiating a peace settlement with North Vietnam.

The pessimistic mood is becoming stronger here as officials have time to recover from the rapid explosion of events since last Sunday and take stock of the underlying realities.

The greatest concern arises from the view of some experts that President Ho Chi Minh and his top officials may have miscalculated President Johnson's intention in stopping much of the bombing of North Vietnam and calling Sunday for talks on ending the war.

The most optimistic assessment is based on a belief that the North Vietnamese have been badly hurt in the intensive fighting that developed at the start of their general offensive in South Vietnam at the end of January.

According to this view they took very heavy casualties without achieving their major objectives and now face a deteriorating situation.

The gloomier outlook is voiced by those in the administration who see a mistake as understandable against the backdrop of recent events.

They note that in a short time span, Robert S.

McNamara has stepped down as secretary of defense; Gen. William C. Westmoreland is about to leave as U.S. commander in Vietnam and President Johnson has announced he won't seek re-election.

"If you try to look at such things as these from Hanoi's point of view," said one expert, "it's not difficult to see how you could reach a conclusion that the whole U.S. war effort was in trouble and that we wanted out."

Walt W. Rostow, the President's special assistant for international security affairs, is reported to be among the more optimistic administration officials.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, on the other hand, is said to be among those less hopeful of any speedy results.

A third possibility cited by some officials is that the North Vietnamese leadership has simply decided that the time has come to adopt the "fight and negotiate" strategy which they have been talking about for more than a year, as American officials know from captured Communist documents.

Peace prospects are sure to be discussed by Johnson and his top military and diplomatic officials during their weekend conference in Hawaii.

Administration sources said, however, that on the basis of present knowledge no one could go beyond listing the various possible results of the current maneuvering in trying to decide which one was most likely.

One of the difficulties in trying to arrive at harder conclusions is that all the events have developed so rapidly that U.S. officials have had very little time in which to collect new intelligence for making judgments.

It was only five days ago — on Sunday night — that Johnson announced he was imposing a limit on areas for attack in North Vietnam which would eliminate 90 percent of the population and most of the territory from air strikes.

An Open Letter To Costa Mesa Voters

We businessmen and residents of the City of Costa Mesa feel that in the current City Council campaign, a number of false and misleading statements concerning the City of Costa Mesa have been made. In an effort to clarify these issues we present the following facts.

Vote for Barck, Pinkley and Wilson
Read the facts

We believe that the progress and advances made by the City of Costa Mesa since its incorporation in June, 1953, particularly in the last four years, is unparalleled and unequaled by any other city in the state of California. Some of the reasons for this statement are as follows:

1. The present City Council is responsible for the development of the most modern Civic Center complex existing in the State of California, which consists of a badly needed City Hall and Police Building. The entire Center was financed without the necessity of raising the tax rate on any of the property in the City of Costa Mesa and, contrary to some reports, this development did not cost seven million dollars, but instead the total construction was less than four million dollars. It consolidated seven separate leased facilities being occupied by the city into one city-owned center which will serve city government without expansion until the year 1990.
2. The Council is responsible for the construction of two new fire stations. One serves the growing industrial and commercial developments in the northern section of the city; the second was added to provide fire protection for our ever-growing city and also houses the fire training academy for the city fire department. The addition of these stations has materially reduced fire insurance rates within the city.
3. Through the efforts of the City Council, a 36-hole municipal golf course was developed on the city's own land. This development was financed as a self-sustaining agreement with the State of California: the city pays its expenses and the State provides revenue derived from its operation paying its expenses. This development is a proud four city-owned 36-hole golf courses in Southern California, this development is a proud addition to the city's growing park and recreation development.
4. Mesa Verde Branch of the library system was also constructed during the past four years of progress in the City of Costa Mesa. Its construction marks the beginning of a policy of expanding library facilities which will include future sites throughout the city.
5. Harbor Boulevard was widened from 19th Street to Wilson during this four years. This improvement included the installation of underground utilities and marked the beginning of a concentrated program of future underground installations throughout the city.
6. The City Council played an important role in bringing many of the major industries to the city during this period. These include Atlantic Research Corp., Los Angeles Times building, Hyland Laboratories and many of the industries now installed in the Irvine Industrial Complex on the eastern edge of the city. The South Coast Plaza shopping center was built by the developers with encouragement and cooperation from the city. The sales tax generated from this complex has materially augmented the city's general fund.
7. The former City Hall has been made productive through a lease which will return the original cost of construction of this building in 10 years. The lease was for a use which is charitable in nature and does not compete with private industry.

For these and many other reasons too numerous to list, we encourage your vote on April 9, 1968, for Incumbents Councilman Calvin F. (Cal) Barck, Councilman Alvin L. Pinkley and Councilman Robert M. (Bob) Wilson.

Return good judgement, experience and integrity to the Costa Mesa City Council to insure a continued and healthy and prosperous growth of your city.

Rumford Act

CREA Won't Back Repeal

The California Real Estate Association has decided not to support the initiative to repeal the Rumford Act which is being circulated to qualify for the November ballot.

This was revealed by Robert W. Karpe of Bakersfield, president of the 46,000-member association, following a three-day meeting of its board of directors ended last weekend at Sacramento.

"Our association sponsored an initiative constitutional amendment in 1964, Proposition 14, and the people overwhelmingly expressed their desire for repeal of the Rumford Act," Karpe stated.

"Inasmuch as this has been before the people, we now feel it is the responsibility of the Legislature to act on this subject as expressed by the people."

He said proposed legislation to amend the Rumford Act for protection of the property owner's freedom of choice is now before the Legislature, Senate Bill 293 authored by Senator Walsh.

"CREA supports this bill," Karpe said. "Since we do, we do not feel we can in good conscience support repeal of the Rumford Act, which in no way offers an alternate plan."

"We are, therefore, recommending to our 178 member local boards that they not support this initiative."

The Rumford Act prohibits discrimination by certain owners in the sale or rental of residential housing for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. The attorney general has issued title for a ballot proposition to repeal the Act to the proponent, Bruce Stevens of Lynwood, in Los Angeles County.

In other actions, Karpe said CREA "hopes for property tax relief at the 1968 legislative session," but if it is not forthcoming, may support one of the initiative petitions to limit the property taxes.

He commented: "Some kind of property tax relief has been promised by elected officials and legislators. We know they sincerely want to grant relief, and we hope they will arrive at a consensus on how to go about it."

He said the association has adopted a resolution that is such a lack of consensus continues, "support of an initiative property tax limitation may provide the only hope of effecting property tax relief."

Endorsement of any initiative for tax relief would be deferred "until re-evaluation can be made of progress at the 1968 legislative session," he explained. He made it clear, however, that this meant "in the near future measured in months."

Voters could be offered three initiative propositions on the November ballot if all now being prepared qualify. One would abolish property taxes except for retiring outstanding debt incurred by voters. The other two would put a ceiling on property taxes of roughly 2 percent of market value, reduced over several years to 1 percent.

Homes Open At Turtle Rock Hills

Turtle Rock Hills, a limited offering of luxurious hillside homes with spectacular views and the first development in the exclusive 1,600-acre Turtle Rock area of the Irvine Ranch, makes its debut this weekend.

A 135-acre community, Turtle Rock Hills enjoys a close-to-the-ocean setting, a crescent of rolling hills with a giant rock outcropping resembling a turtle at its base.

The homes of Turtle Rock Hills were designed by Richard R. Leitch and Associates of Newport Beach. They are built by Middlerock-Anderson Co.

Teaming up to create homes worthy of this valuable land, the architect and builder came up with eight different models, placed in one beautifully landscaped sales complex. Four homes are of single-level plan on level lots, two are split level uphill plans, and two are split-level downhill plans.

While the split levels are natural for dramatic rooms and exciting architectural treatments, the one-story models provide the same kind of fascinating features.

Decorative screens, bay windows, entry bridges, atriums, courts, and private gardens highlight the fresh, new exteriors. The interiors feature quality fresh and new arrangements of rooms and use of glass, plus such exciting architectural details as two-story entries and living rooms, and lavish balconies.

The models feature three and four bedrooms, two and three baths, dining rooms, family rooms, dens, and walk-in bars.

Over 30 "extra-touch" features are included at no additional cost. Among the exterior features are: underground utilities, cable television service, concrete driveways, remote control garage door operators and custom entry doors. Luxurious interior features include: decorator entry tile, "exceptional quality" decorator carpeting, wallpaper, AM-FM intercom systems, Formica kitchen cabinets with ceramic tile counter tops, combination range-griddle barbecue, and self-cleaning oven with outdoor vent.

Priced in the $35,000 to $45,000 bracket, the first unit of 44 homes was 30 percent sold out by the time the model complex opened, according to Gordon Tripp, sales manager.

Prime access routes to Turtle Rock Hills are the Santa Ana Freeway (take Culver Road turnoff and go south), Newport Freeway (from freeway end, take Balisades Road east) and Pacific Coast Highway (take MacArthur Boulevard north). Directional Signs lead the way to the model complex, at 5281 Amalfi Drive, Irvine.

Parkside Tract Now Half Sold

Unveiled just two weeks ago for the first time, the newest unit of Parkside Homes in Green Valley has already reached the one-half sold stage with construction just underway. The developers, George M. Holstein and Sons revealed today.

Priced from $23,375, the three, four and five bedroom homes offer both FHA and Veteran terms and are adjacent to the twenty-one acre Green Valley park, within walking distance to community pool and two club houses.

"The choice location near the beach and just across the street from the new Orange County golf course, as well as the community advantages of private park, pools, and recreation areas have combined to make the one-sale-a-day pace possible," the sales agent, Walker and Lee pointed out.

The Green Valley buyer enjoys a wide variety in plans and styling and may also select from new Seville Garden Homes near the Parkside Home location. The Seville homes also offer FHA and Veteran terms and are priced from $24,000.

From Costa Mesa, take the new San Diego Freeway East to the Euclid off ramp. Follow Euclid to Warner and go left at Warner to the Green Valley entry.

Del Cerro's Final Homes Being Sold

The final homes in unit two of Del Cerro in Costa Mesa will be offered this weekend on special low terms that mean buyers may move in for as little as $395, the developers announced.

The three and four-bedroom homes are credit rejects and offer the new home buyer a selection of both one and two story plans with built ins, fireplace, wall to wall carpet, landscaping and block wall.

Home Show Exhibit Spaces Double Last Year's in LA

Advance commitments for exhibit space at the 1968 Los Angeles Home Show are double those reported last year at the same time, according to managing director Carl F. Kraatz.

Kraatz said that 270 exhibitors have already signed up for the famed building-trades show, which will be held this year May 23-June 2 at Jack Kent Cooke's Inglewood Forum. Kraatz also said that a maximum of 350 exhibitors is expected.

"I didn't expect so many to participate in this year's show," said Kraatz. "As big as it is, the Forum won't hold all our displays so we'll be erecting a mammoth tent annex in the parking lot, twice the floor space of the Forum. It too will be packed to overflowing."

Kraatz pointed out that as the 1968 Home Show will be the first trade show to be held in the Forum since it opened three months ago, advance public interest is already running very high. "There's no doubt that this will be the most interesting as well as the biggest show we've ever staged in the last 23 years," Kraatz commented. "and I'm beginning to receive phone calls and letters from people who will undoubtedly attend the show when it opens."

Kraatz said that he is going all out to please and entertain the public this year. One of the Home Show features will be a colorful, well-laid-out Mobile Homes Village. Between ten to fifteen elegant residences "on wheels" will be displayed. A series of eye-catching "Designer Rooms," conceived and executed by a line-up of the Southland's outstanding interior designers will also be among the exhibits.

A four-star feature will be a Special Art Gallery displaying paintings and sculpture suitable to the home, painted and carved by leading Southland artists. This exhibit is sponsored by the Council of Traditional Artists' Societies, under the direction of Claude Parsons, prominent West Coast artist.

A lavish, $75,000 stage show is planned for this year's exposition. Some of the biggest names in show business will be on hand to entertain visitors to the Forum. Performances will be scheduled nightly, with matinees on Saturdays and Sundays. The spectacular $250,000 "Dancing Waters" pageant is also being imported for the 11-day Home Show.

"This is a very large year for new products," Kraatz stated. "I can't recall when so many new home appliances have made their appearance."

Bixby Ranch Company has begun construction of a unique new 13 1/2 acre, $5 million residential development in Garden Grove, which will provide town homes for lease.

To be known as Bixby Green, the development will have 208 two and three bedroom homes arranged in attractive groupings throughout a landscaped park at Knott Street and Lampson Avenue.

The residential park setting of Bixby Green provides large landscaped green areas, walkways, separate adult and child recreational areas and only 15 town homes per acre. Each Town Home has parking for two cars, with half of the parking subterranean, an unusual feature in other than high rise apartment structures.

SALES WINNER BOUND FOR EUROPE Balboa's Cort and Judy Sparre With K & B Award

Newport Salesman Wins Europe Trip

Cort Sparre of Newport Beach, a salesman with Kaufman and Broad for five years, has won the grand prize—a European vacation—in the company's first Golden Home awards.

Sparre, who sold over $3 million in Kaufman and Broad homes in Orange County during 1967, will leave April 11 aboard the S. S. Rotterdam. After arriving in Southampton, he and his wife, Judy, will tour Europe for five weeks.

Golden Home awards were presented to five Kaufman and Broad sales personnel who sold over $1 million in homes last year. They were honored at a formal dinner party at the "Cave des Roys" in Los Angeles. Southern California Gas Company and Southern Counties Gas Company were co-hosts for the evening.

Besides Sparre, Golden Home awards went to Joe Kirschner and Sam Silk for over $2,000,000 in sales and to Beverly Dearth of Costa Mesa and Morris Moore for over $1,000,000 in sales.

Open New Office

E. L. Pearson and Associates, Inc., civil engineers and land development consultants, have opened a new full-service engineering facility in Orange County's Airport Complex, Irvine Industrial Park, it was announced by company president Edward L. Pearson. This expansion will provide better service to a growing list of clients in Orange County, he said.

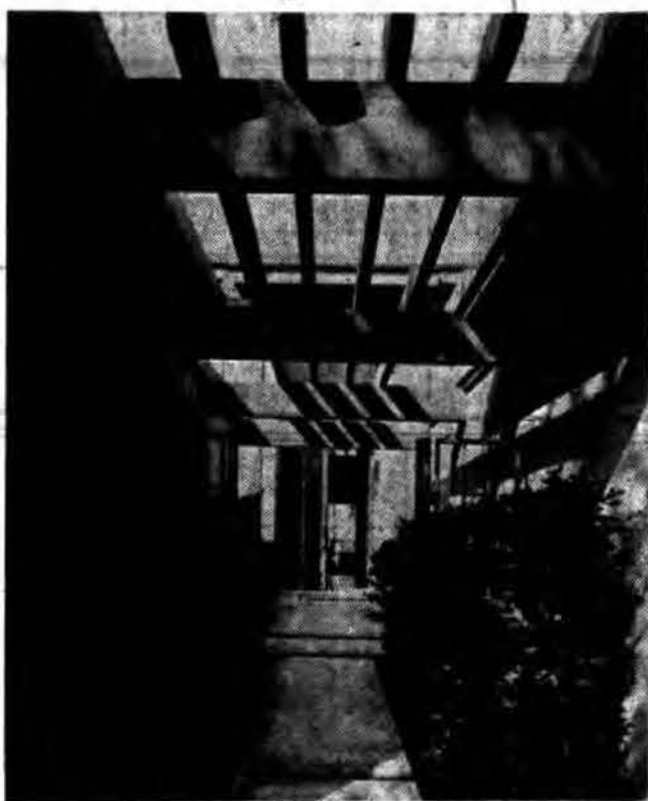

"Orange County is one of the world's most active regions for residential and commercial building, as well as progressive civic growth. Our new facility places E. L. Pearson and Associates at the center of it all," Pearson explained. The company's present offices in Los Angeles County will continue in full operation, he added.

The new offices at 3955 Birch Street, Newport Beach, will offer services in the fields of land planning, civil engineering, aerial photogrammetry, surveying, and mobile home park design.

The Pearson organization has been responsible for the engineering of such projects as the construction layout planning for the L. A. International Airport, the vast earth moving of Mount Olympus in Hollywood, and for many industries, school districts, utility companies, residential developers, municipalities and governmental agencies throughout Southern California.

E. L. Pearson and Associates' innovation of total responsibility concept is presently being utilized at Southern California Development of Lake Los Angeles. In addition to planning and engineering the project, Pearson & Associates has undertaken the construction of 55 miles of streets, water mains, water supply facilities, and a man-made lake.

Village Buyers Pick
Custom Decorations

A wide selection of decorator tiles and color schemes is available to home buyers who purchase their home before construction is completed at Village Two, the Swartz-Linkletter Company, Ltd. park home development on Irvine Ranch.

According to A. P. Lench, the firm's director of marketing, who made the announcement, buyers may select decorator items that will lend a customized touch to their park home.

"Our homes are planned to please the most discriminating home buyers," Lench said. "If they purchase their homes before construction is completed, homebuyers may help customize their park homes in accordance with their individual preferences."

Village Two homes have been designed from Spanish, Mediterranean and rustic architectural styles, and homebuyers are offered six unique floor plans. Architectural planning for Village Two was done by Thomas and Richardson of Costa Mesa.

Lench added that new features, usually found in only luxury home developments, include a bedroom which overlooks the living room, a two-story living room with access to the upper level provided by a graceful floating stairway, covered porches and private balconies.

"Also lending a feeling of privacy to the homes are dramatic front entries, either glass enclosed or secluded among arbors, a feature included in all homes," Lench said.

Priced from $21,995 to $29,995, Village Two park homes may be reached by turning off the Santa Ana Freeway below Tustin on Culver Road. From the west the park homes may be located by driving east on MacArthur Boulevard toward the University of California at Irvine and following the signs to the new homes.

Oscar Race Guessing Game

'Heat,' Steiger, Evans Favorites for Top Honors

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Monday they hand out the Oscars.

It could be a "Bonnie and Clyde" evening or a triumph for "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," both of which garnered 10 nominations.

Quite possibly neither will capture the most important award, best picture of the year.

From straw polls and the New York critics award, it appears that "In the Heat of the Night" will come away with the honor. And deservedly.

Best actor of the year should go to Rod Steiger, again in agreement with the New York critics, in his role as the bigoted cop in the picture.

Favored to win best actress honors is Dame Edith Evans for her magnificent portrayal of an aged and frightened woman in "The Whisperers." Dame Edith also was the choice of New York critics.

Best supporting actress should go to Estelle Parsons for her role as the witless nun in "Bonnie and Clyde."

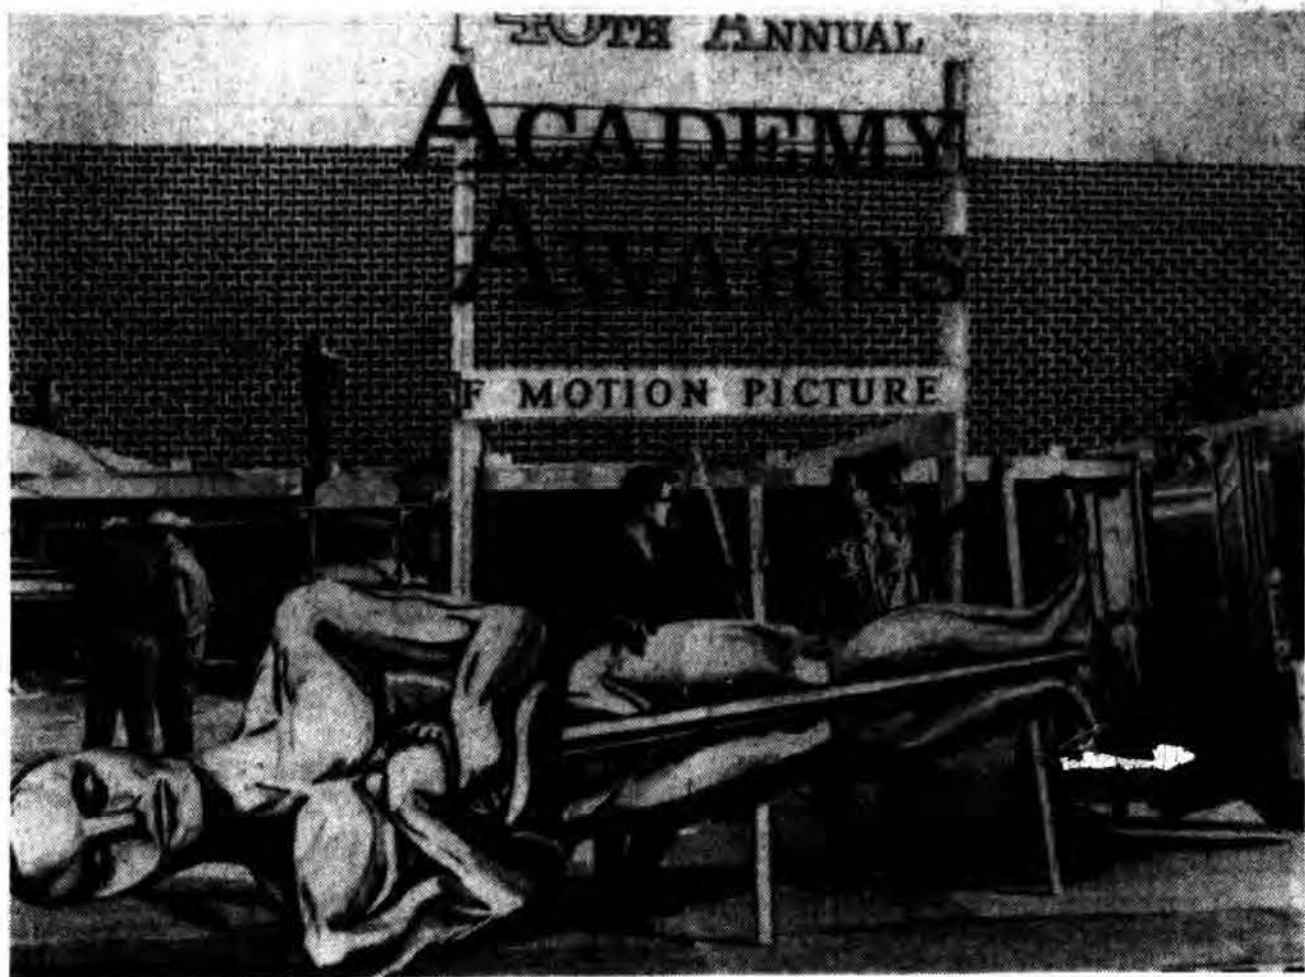

Best supporting actor should go to George Kennedy for "Cool Hand Luke," but he will be meeting tough competition from John Cassavetes ("The Dirty Dozen") and Michael J. Pollard and Gene Hackman in "Bonnie and Clyde." The latter two are liable to bump one another out of the race and leave the gate open for a deserving Kennedy.

Curiously, best direction should go to Richard Brooks for "In Cold Blood" despite the fact that his picture was not nominated for top film of the year.

Inasmuch as a director seldom wins unless his picture also grabs the Oscar, it stands that Norman Jewison might win for his direction of "In the Heat of the Night." But not without stiff competition from Mike Nichols ("The Graduate") and Arthur Penn ("Bonnie and Clyde").

Now comes the second guessing.

If "In the Heat of the Night" doesn't win, then almost certainly it will be

'OSCAR' TOTTED INTO SANTA MONICA AUDITORIUM FOR ANNUAL AWARDS CEREMONY

"Bonnie and Clyde." Oops, or maybe "The Graduate."

If Steiger should stub his toe it will be a toss-up for best actor.

Dustin Hoffman ("The Graduate") is a newcomer and really wasn't all that good. Warren Beatty did a workmanlike job as did Paul Newman in his fourth nomination. But neither evoked earthquakes.

The late Spencer Tracy also is a nominee. But Hollywood's heralded sentimentality is a fiction. It's a cutthroat town for the living, and Tracy has small chance of winning posthumously.

If Dame Edith does not win, then put your money on Faye Dunaway ("Bonnie and Clyde") who has captured the world's fancy as a full-blooded ring-a-ding female.

Two other candidates, Anne Bancroft and Katharine Hepburn, had too little to do. And finally Audrey Hepburn, a past winner (1953 for "Roman Holiday") and five-time nominee, is a long shot for her fine performance as a blind girl in "Wait Until Dark."

By coincidence all five nominated pictures were produced by American companies and all were filmed in the United States, with portions of "Doctor Dolittle" made in England.

All 10 nominated actors are Americans and all but Dame Edith, and Audrey Hepburn among the actresses are domestic products.

Another footnote to this year's nominated pictures is that all four of the serious contenders were made for adult audiences. They deal with violence, sex, racial problems or combinations of all.

Only "Doctor Dolittle" could be described as a family picture for grampa and baby sister.

Happily, most of the nominees will be in the audience at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium Monday when, one by one, the formally dressed presenters walk to the microphone and announce, "The envelope, please."

About Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Is Love Lovelier
Second Time...?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me something about second marriages. Do they always turn out better than the first?

In the past few years at least a dozen couples of our acquaintance have been divorced and married again. My dear husband is forever pointing out that the second-time-arounders seem to be blissfully content. He frequently mentions how enthralled Ronald Reagan is with his Nancy, how delighted Henry Ford is with his Christine and how happy Governor Rockefeller is with his Happy.

My husband is nearly 50. Is he trying to tell me something? Do second marriages really work out better than the first try?

—STILL NUMBER ONE

DEAR ONE: Some do. Some don't. Statistics show that a great many couples who don't stick with the first mate don't stick with the second one, either.

If the unhappily-marrieds would work half as hard at pleasing the original spouse as they do attracting a second one they might have a very good marriage indeed.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Five months ago my 18-year-old daughter made the foolish mistake of running off and marrying a service man who was stationed near here.

'Barefoot' Tryouts Set

Tryouts for the Neil Simon comedy "Barefoot in the Park" will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Santa Ana Community Theater, it was announced today.

Four men and two women are required for the show, which will be directed by Ross Corbin.

Readings will be held at 7:30 p.m. both days at the theater, 1020 W. 8th St., Santa Ana.

band he said, "This is my home. If you don't like it you can leave."

The girl has asked for my advice. What shall I tell her?

—SICK
DEAR SICK: The girl is asking for your advice a little late. Now the problem must be settled by her and her husband. I hope you haven't rented her room because it sounds to me as if you are going to get your daughter back.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits—the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Sex: Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the DAILY PILOT enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Ow's That Again?

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A letter from a reader sets forth an extraordinary reason why she and perhaps millions like her do not go to see movies with British casts.

Undecipherable accents.

The lady writes:

"I speak in behalf of many hard-of-hearing persons like myself who love to go to movies twice a week. But since my hearing loss I've stayed away almost completely from movies because so many of them have English casts and Cockney accents."

Our correspondent should be apprised of the fact that even those of us with perfect hearing — we who can detect a pin drop in a foundry — have almost as much trouble understanding English actors.

Any American adult listening to the Beatles, for example, would swear they were speaking a Pakistani dialect.

The Queen's English keeps American film audiences guessing at all times. There are instances when you cannot be sure one of the Redgrave girls is cooing or cursing.

English men are just as bad. The last one who was clearly understood here in the colonies was the late C. Aubrey Smith.

It isn't just the unintelligible patois common to the commonwealth. The stiff-upper-lip syndrome is also a factor. Ever notice how little the British use their lips?

Well, our letter writing friend has. To wit:

"I've learned to lip-read very well, but I'll be darned if I can keep up with those English actors. I miss the whole plot and story of the picture. They either talk too fast or mumble too much."

To avoid chauvinism, and in fairness to the hard of hearing, one and all should be reminded that Marlon Brando also has been known to mumble to a degree that some Americans with perfect hearing have mistaken him for an Englishman.

But back to our correspondent: "Give us a good American family picture with a down to earth story instead of those lewd Cockney sex orgies. The American public is satiated with English entertainment."

Dream Realized In Westminster

By TOM TITUS
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

When a community theater group opens a new playhouse — realizing a seven-year dream — and that opening introduces the first work of a new playwright, it would seem a subject worthy of more than passing notice.

But when the new playwright also happens to be the entertainment columnist whose task it is to call attention to the aforesaid opening, as well as the director of his own play, then his traditional cloak of objectivity begins to pinch a bit.

This is our dilemma as we look ahead to next Friday and the world premiere (we couldn't resist that phrase) of "Summer Lightning" at the new home of the Westminster Community Theater in the Westminster Center.

This hard-working community group (present company excluded; our association is only of recent vintage) has made great strides over the past three years in its former home, the 17th Street School auditorium.

TIME WAS WHEN THE originally eclectic Westminster Players were performing in proscenium and drawing a scant handful of playgoers to the 600-seat theater. Then they decided to bring their audience up on the stage and switch to a horseshoe format, which met with varying degrees of success.

Perennially in search of a playhouse of their own, the players made substantial progress last season when, after incorporating and changing their name to the Westminster Community Theater, they scored artistically with a pair of back-to-back hits, "Come Blow Your Horn" and "Come Back, Little Sheba." The reputation of the group began climbing, not coincidentally at the same rate with its attendance.

This season everything began coming up roses at Westminster. The players' production of "Never Too Late" broke their box office record and was held over for two performances. On the heels of this success, members of the group voted to lease a new building in the Westminster Center for their future shows.

FOR FROSTING ON THE cake, the Westminster Community Theater grabbed first place in last weekend's Orange County Footlight Festival, a feather in any little theater's cap. Now, a week away from the opening of the new playhouse, four performances are all that stand out and another holdover appears imminent.

Shifting from the objective to the subjective case, we find this prospect most intriguing — since one of our fears when we first took on the assignment of staging our own creation was that few theatergoers would turn out to see a play they'd never heard of and penned by someone taking his first crack at both the writing and directing end of the business.

OF COURSE WE'RE PLEASED that "Summer Lightning" is finally about to see the light of day, but we're equally excited over its selection as the premiere production of the new Westminster Community Theater.

Many hours of labor have gone — and are going — into the conversion of the building down the mall from the Cinema West into a community theater. And we'd be overly remiss if we didn't recognize some of the contributors before closing.

Initially, there is Harry Hammers, president of the group, who engineered the lease of the Westminster Center site. And the technical work done by Gene Tardy and Roy Hagerty rates a sustained round of applause.

Others whose work is making the new Westminster Community Theater possible are Leon Crowley, Dick Taylor, Larry Trammell, Al Jackson, Joan Hagerty, Yvonne Tardy, Norma Hammers and innumerable others. You'll know them next Friday — they'll be the ones with the biggest smiles.

Our Man in San Francisco

Ex-Cop Hater Steve McQueen Becomes One

By HERB CAEN

SAN FRANCISCO — Steve McQueen is one of the new breed of movie star — cool, straightforward, articulate in a rather hip manner, and glamorous without seeming aware of it. His hair is long, but short of shaggy. His clothes are expensively mod. He shuns night clubs, expensive restaurants and other see-and-be-seen places. Also unlike the old-style movie hero, he prefers motorcycles and English minis to mile-long limousines, and he refuses to surround himself with a protective wall of press agents. He is one step beyond the Marlon Brando type. The Brandos give the impression of being surly, secretive and anti-social. The McQueens talk freely — even to the press — and never use those hateful words, "Off the record." The closest they'll come is a "This is between us," followed by a long, level look and "You know what I mean." You know what they mean.

has two kids who are hippies, the beads and all. The world is changing and you can see it all in San Francisco.

He waved a casual goodbye, jumped into his tiny brown Austin Cooper and roared away up the Embarcadero, toward the hilltop penthouse he's occupying while here. But the penthouse doesn't make him resemble the movie stars of yore — not in San Francisco, where almost everybody lives in a room with some kind of view or other.

SAN FRANCISCO — The reason Ramparts Magazine is in deep financial trouble is that a certain S.F.-connected millionaire who had promised to invest several hundred thousand suddenly had a change of heart. Tough, especially after Caskie Stinnett, the editor of Holiday, gave it such a nice plug the other day during a speech at "Trader Vic's." Ramparts," he said, "is the Women's Wear Daily of the New Left." I guess that's a bug.

Speaking to a couple of hundred S.F. advertising people, Caskie revealed some of Holiday's new projects, which include "a series on the four wickedest cities in the world." At this, the San Franciscans perked up and tried to look modest as their chests began swelling. Then Caskie enumerated them: "Hamburg, Juarez, Taipei and the Soho district of London." The audience sighed in despair and brave hearts were sunk in gloom. Somewhere we have failed, but where?

MEMO FROM one of the most respected figures on Montgomery St.: Enough of frivolity — let's solve the Gold Drain! Assuming there's still a lot of gold in them hills, not being mined because of the high cost of getting it out, we call the Sea Bees to active duty and send them up to work the mines. Augment them with thousands of hard-core jobless. Charge the costs to this, that or the other Govt. budget; who cares if it costs $70 an ounce? We're spending the money in grandiose deficit financing anyway. Once we get the gold pouring into Ft. Knox, it would give us a chance to meet all current demands; the increased demand that would result we'd meet by either devaluing the dollar, or, hopefully, by announcing we'd go through this exercise any time a gold run started again. Call it "Operation Goldfinger" but please don't quote me!

I CAUGHT UP with McQueen at a smallish hotel on the San Francisco waterfront, in the shadow of the Ferry Building. He was on the top floor with his camera crew, shooting scenes for his next movie, "Bullitt," that being the name of the S.F. police lieutenant he portrays.

"Yeah, imagine me playing a cop," he smiled wryly. "I'm not a cop-lover — anything but. Actually, I used to be a full-fledged cop-HATER — they kicked me around plenty when I was a kid. And a uniform — any kind of a uniform — still turns me off. But we all have to do our thing, and some of the cops are pretty good guys. They know some of the laws are ridiculous, too."

IT WAS McQUEEN's idea to shoot the film in San Francisco. "I suppose the story would make as much sense in Los Angeles, Chicago or New York," he said, "but San Francisco is where it's at today — this is the relevant city of the United States. So much is happening here, in such a small area — you can actually feel the excitement, see it, smell it. We've rewritten the script to get more of the 'feel' of this place — and I don't mean shots of bridges and cable cars, they've been done to death."

He stared out the window at the nearby bay, where a red-streaked tug was nudging a freighter, a troop transport was heading Golden Gateward, and the bridge arched mistily into the distance.

"Yeah," he breathed, "this is where it's at. Y'know, the cop I'm playing is relevant, too. He isn't even married. He lives on Telegraph Hill with a very hip English photographer, and they're really hung up on each other. And my boss — a tough captain — he

Real Fakes Vs. Semi Fakes

In Antiques and Art, Look Out for the (Gyp) Artists

By JOAN S. GIMLIN
Editorial Research Reports

Alert investors and cultural status seekers have joined forces to create a bull market for arts and antiques. A recent survey by the Times of London and Sotheby's, a leading British auction house, showed that the value of paintings by six artists of the impressionist school had risen ten times over since 1950-52. During the same period, stock market prices rose only about three and one-half times.

Although the impressionists are the stars of the current market, the overall demand for original paintings and prints, antique furniture, and art objects far outstrips the supply of genuine articles. As a result, traffic in fakes and forgeries of all kinds is flourishing.

MANY FORGERIES fool only the gullible, but art authorities have been — and are being — deceived by the best of the lot. Two of the most successful forgers of modern times were Dutch painter Hans van Meegeren and Italian sculptor Alceo Dossena. Van Meegeren sold $2 million worth of "Vermeers" to museums and to private collectors, including Hermann Goering, Nazi leader.

During his trial, Van Meegeren said, "I determined to revenge myself on the critics, by proving that they had underestimated me." Resentment at not being appreciated as an artist has been a frequent excuse offered by forgers, but most often they have been content to settle for making money.

The principal method used to determine forgeries is examination by a scholar who is an expert in a particular artist's work. In addition, there are various scientific techniques, including ultra-violet equipment, and X-ray and microscopic analysis of pigments that can sometimes detect forgeries of old masters. Nuclear energy also is being applied to problems of art identification under a three-year research program announced on March 20 by the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Gallery of Art in Washington.

PAINTINGS are not the only forgeries that people are buying. The president of the Paris Art Dealers Syndicate asserted in 1957 that as much as 90 percent of the "antique" furniture sold in the past 50 years had been wholly or partly forged. Line-for-line reproductions of antique furniture are familiar items in American and European furniture markets.

One famous firm, the shop of A. Mallart in Orleans, France, has been turning out fine antique reproductions for 57 years. The current head of the firm, Claude Amos, sadly acknowledges: "I know that a certain number of our objects are later resold as original antiques..." The profit from resales can only be conjectured, but a Regency violet-wood commode sold by Amos for $1,000 in 1955 was priced at $20,000 in 1967.

BECAUSE "semi-fakes" are easier to make and harder to detect than completely new pieces, the favored way to create "antiques" is to make them out of various old pieces. Reputable restorers and deliberate fakers both will paint or wax a certain mixture of dirt and dust into wood, or age new leather by burning off surface chemicals and cracking the finish. Gilding and lacquering are other favorite methods of creating an antique look.

Undoubtedly the surest and best safeguard for the buyer of art is his own knowledge of art. But even the Metropolitan Museum of Art, which presumably invests both mental powers and money, recently announced that one of its finest examples of ancient Greek sculpture, a bronze horse purchased in 1923 from an art dealer in Paris, was a fake. The Museum also disclosed on March 24 that several of its Rembrandts will be reclassified as "school" of Rembrandt.

A Rembrandt exhibition planned for next year by the Metropolitan will show both genuine works of the artist and the newly admitted imitations.

PREVALENCE of faked art on the market caused major art dealers to form the Art Dealers Association of America in 1962 to help in forgery detection. The association recently questioned the authenticity of at least 17 paintings, attributed to such masters as Rembrandt, Hals, Vermeer and El Greco, exhibited at the Bass Museum in Miami Beach.

Through the efforts of New York State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, that state's legislature in 1966 passed an expressed warranty law. The law specifies that if a catalogue or bill of sale cannot guarantee that a work of art is what it is said to be, a specific disclaimer must appear on the bill of sale. In California, art fraud recently was reported by the Los Angeles Times to have high priority on the state attorney general's list of investigations.

ALTHOUGH faked old masters

bring high prices, forgers have discovered that it's easier and safer to fake the moderns. French forger Jean-Pierre Shecroun, unmasked in 1962, demonstrated that he could do a convincing brush-and-ink bullfight drawing "by Picasso" in three minutes. Art dealer David Stein, indicted in May 1967 on charges of selling $165,800 worth of fakes as the works of Matisse, Chagall and Picasso, said, "I saw the madness of the art world. It was like a stock exchange... People were so willing to buy these things."

One of the art world's standard jokes is that in his life Corot painted 2,000 pictures, 5,000 of which are in America.

For those who are afraid of fraud there is said to be only one infallible method: "Buy the works of young, gifted artists who have not yet made a name for themselves." And if one finds it hard to live with Victorian furniture, he can buy Danish modern. His great-grandchildren may make a fortune on it.

Non-Discipline a Surprise

The author is attending Costa Mesa High School as a student sponsored by the American Field Service. His home is in Bristol, England.

By DAVID GUEST

Costa Mesa High School and Bristol Grammar School are as different from each other as I could possibly have imagined.

There are many aspects of campus life here at Mesa which appeal to me and which in my opinion provide an enjoyable and constructive education. There are also several, however, which I find "rather strange" compared to my own schooling in England, one of which I would like to single out. The one thing I find most amazing here is the almost universal rebellion of the students to any form of discipline imposed on them by members of the staff.

A warning was issued a couple of weeks ago to the effect that rules hitherto ignored were to be reinforced and the general reaction of seniors, at least, seemed to be one of "What right has any teacher to tell us what to do outside his classroom?"

CASTING ASIDE the fact that my school was a private property and therefore not open to external interference (unless civil laws were violated), isn't it still beneficial for students to receive and accept discipline as part of their being fully educated? Can we at 17 and 18 years of age honestly decide what is best for ourselves in school and ignore the attempts of teachers to make us do certain things? I think not.

I'm not trying to say that students should continually do the "right" thing even if it is somewhat irksome; I am saying, however, that with things as they are here at Mesa, any student can do almost as he pleases in the majority of instances. This can only lead to a downfall in most individuals when they leave the sheltered life of high school and enter college, business or whatever.

SELF DISCIPLINE is an absolute necessity after high school, especially for college students. As no individual possesses inherent self discipline, how else can he acquire it unless by first being disciplined and then given the chance to assess the lessons learned by oneself. Discipline is imposed on us all right from our early infancy and will be when we enter our various careers and future lives. Why then is there this rejection of discipline in this high school?

You have only to look at any figurehead — be he a successful business man, politician, sportsman, or commander. All of them will have been subjected to discipline, and for fusing their convictions and ideas with the realization that certain things are "right" or "wrong," they have arrived at their immaturity or success.

THESE ARE my personal convictions right or wrong, and they are solely mine. It is clear also that my English conceptions of education and its contents are totally different to yours and probably would not succeed here. I do think, however, that when it comes to accepting and heeding discipline, that is an attitude which could change and benefit most students.

"Anyway," you may ask, "aren't all rules and regulations made to be broken?"

Maybe, but wouldn't it be pleasant to know which ones to break?

UNCLE LEN'S CORNER

Hello once again, boys and girls, and welcome back to Uncle Len's corner for another Saturday morning. If you think Carol's Corner has shrunk a bit this week, you're right. It seems there aren't many riddles or jokes going around these days and this week Carol only received one entry. She wasn't too happy about that.

ON THE OTHER hand, we're getting a fine crop of drawings and poetry. But we sure could use some more of the lighter entries for Carol's Corner. How about it, boys and girls?

Our Easter art contest winner for this week is Victoria Corwin of Santa Ana, and to Uncle Len's memory, this is a first for Vicki. We don't often have a contestant from outside the Orange Coast.

There's still another week left in the Easter theme art contest, boys and girls, so keep those entries coming in.

HONORABLE mention winners in this week's art contest are:

Pat Duncan, Newport Beach; Paul Stanfield, 11, Costa Mesa; Spencer Stanfield, 10, Costa Mesa; Karen Vatcher, 10, Costa Mesa; Michael Shelby, 11, no city given; Michael Music, 11, Huntington Beach; Maureen Capocciolo, 9 1/2, Huntington Beach; Mark Malone, 7, Costa Mesa; and Linda Malone, 5, Costa Mesa.

SPRING

Here blooms the warm red clover,
Here peeps the violet blue;
Oh, happy little children,
God made them all for you.

—Maureen Capocciolo, 9 1/2, Huntington Beach

★ PRIZE WINNER ★

This week's contest winner is Victoria Corwin, 11, 20292 Riverside Drive, Santa Ana

Any child under 12 can enter Uncle Len's Art Contest. Here's all you do: (1) Draw picture on piece of plain, white paper 5 1/2 inches wide and 4 inches deep. Use black ink and make lines black. (2) Do not copy or trace picture. It must be your own work. (3) Put your name, age and address on back of drawing. Mail it to Uncle Len's Art Contest, Box 1500, DAILY PILOT, Costa Mesa. Winner will receive Kennedy half dollar.

LITTLE GIRLS

Little girls are so sweet,
Always clean and always neat;
Can't choose to wear this or that,
Watching their diet so they won't get fat.
In the daytime they go shopping,
When they get home they start mopping;
And then at night they cuddle up
To the tiny little pup;
And then they think and sometimes weep,
And suddenly, they're fast asleep.

—Karl Landale, Costa Mesa

A WONDERFUL TIME OF THE YEAR

It's a beautiful time of the year
When birds are everywhere to hear;
Their song is of meadows and trees
And a soft, cool breeze.
Rabbits are hopping up and down,
The forest folk are awake and their babies are furry and brown,
There's so much happiness this time of year does bring
That everyone knows it's spring.

A Kennedy half dollar goes to Kim Kay, 11, 1515 Warwick Lane, Newport Beach for her winning entry in the story and poem contest. Mail your poem or story to Uncle Len, Box 1500, Costa Mesa, Calif.

Carol's Corner

RIDDLES AND JOKES

★ Dear Carol: What is the difference between a home, a sign and a donkey?

PRIZE WINNER: "A home is a donkey, a sign is a donkey, and a donkey is a donkey." —Paul Gilmer, 5, 1976 Anaheim Ave., Costa Mesa

To enter Carol's Corner, just submit your jokes or riddles to Carol, P.O. Box 1875, Newport Beach. Carol sends a Kennedy half dollar to the winner each week. Remember to include your name, age and address.

Send your questions to Ask Andy, c/o Orange Coast Daily Pilot, Box 1860, Costa Mesa, Calif.

Andy sends a 14" World Book Globe to Pat Flinn, age 9, of Rowanville, Connecticut, for his question:

What exactly is a working dog?

Well, on another every dog works for a living. He may be a pampered pooch who warms the heart of his owner with loving affection. He may guard the house or scare rabbits from the garden. Every sensible person knows that whatever he does for a living, a dog is worth his friendly weight in shiny gold. Certain dogs, however, are trained to do special duties. Pointers and setters are born hunters, clever enough to help their human friends to find and capture game animals. Lassie's adorable relatives are talented sheep herding dogs. A bloodhound can track the trail of a lost child.

These special dogs are members of different breeds. At the dog show, the breeds are arranged in classes, depending upon their special talents. The setters belong in the sporting dog class. The working dog class includes dogs, the police dogs and the hard-working sled dogs. Altogether, you can find 29 different breeds in the class of working dogs.

Andy sends a World Book Atlas to Stuart Smith, age 12, of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, for his question:

Can beams from radio stations bounce back from space years later?

Radio is a form of electromagnetic energy. Hence it travels in straight lines, fanning out from its source at the speed of light. Like light, its beams can be stopped or absorbed or diverted by solid objects in its path. Its energy spreads out and diminishes with distance but faint signals can be boosted by amplifiers. Like beams of light, it can bounce from a solid surface and reflect back in the direction from which it came. In theory, at least, it would seem possible to send a radio signal to Sirius and expect its dim reflection to return to earth after about 17 years. This radio space-hopping would be a huge project calling for intensely powerful beams. So far, scientists have been successful in bouncing back a radio signal from the moon and, of course, from our artificial communications satellites. But many stars emit their own radio energy, and our scientists devote long hours to catching and amplifying these celestial radio beams from objects clear across our Galaxy and beyond.

Andy sends a 14" World Book Globe to Barry Dunlop, age 8, of Visalia, California, for his question:

Where in the world do they find real pearl oysters?

There are many kinds of oysters and they live in many seas and bays, gulfs and oceans around the world. Almost any oyster can make a pearl of sorts, but most of their pearls are not worth having. Only a few kinds of oyster make beautiful precious pearls. These lovely fellows live in warmish seas, usually near the shore where the ocean bed is hard and the water is 50 to 150 feet deep. They are very choosy about where they will live and there are not many places in the world that suit them.

The world's most famous pearl oysters live on the floor of the Persian Gulf. Other pearl oysters thrive around the Aru and Pearl Islands: These islands are in the warm Pacific Ocean, north of Australia. Others live in the Red Sea. Some are found around Burma and Ceylon. There are

Open Forum

SHOOTER MCALLEN

This is the ancient Roman Forum and that "column" you see in the foreground is your own DAILY PILOT. We've come a long way since the days when Caesar's citizens debated their most important affairs amid the columns you see in this photograph. It was quite a marketplace, too, a place where you could find the best goods and foods of the day. Ideas flourished, too, in that ancient Roman Forum.

But Orange Coast readers know there is an "open forum" much closer to home nowadays. No need to travel to Rome. The most important affairs of the world, the nation and the local community are reported and debated among the columns of the DAILY PILOT. And the Orange Coast's favorite daily newspaper is a popular marketplace, too. Look amid our columns for today's best buys.

SAT. 7:30pm
an HOUR (M-T)
COLOR SPECIAL
presented by COLGATE-PALMOLIVE

From Maine to California, technicians have watched Barbara Matson on closed circuit each night before the start of ABC's The Joey Bishop Show.

Liking what they saw, they sent petitions to Joey, asking to be formally introduced to the girl they train their cameras on 15 minutes before the show begins for color balance.

Joey decided that if the technicians were so interested in Barbara, a production assistant they described as a "most attractive and amply endowed young lady," his audience might like to meet her too. So he introduced her during a recent show.

Barbara is single, 22 years old, with long brunette hair and a sparkling smile. Pleasantly, she declined to state certain figures regarding her figure, but as the men at WHTN-TV in West Virginia and viewers now know—"A Twiggy, she ain't!"

Art Carney, co-star of The Honeymooners on The Jackie Gleason Show, will star as a shy middle-aged suitor in "Lovers," an Irish play to be presented at New York's Lincoln Center for eight weeks this summer.

The Great American Novel

In the 64-year history of the Nobel Prize, only six American novelists have received the coveted literature award. Two of them, Sinclair Lewis, the first American to win the prize, and John Steinbeck, the most recent winner from this country, are represented on the CBS news special "The Great American Novel," a new concept of presenting literature on television, Tuesday at 10 PM on CBS.

Richard Boone

Arthur Barron, CBS News producer of the special, chose "Babbitt," Lewis' scathing portrayal of middle-class America, and "The Grapes of Wrath," Steinbeck's memorable portrait of man's struggle against injustice and inhumanity, for what he describes as "a demonstration, in a new way, that great literature lives because it is as relevant today as when it was written."

To evoke the contemporary relevance of "Babbitt," Barron took his cameras to Duluth, Minn., the model for Lewis' Zenith City, where he filmed activities of members of the Duluth Lions Club and their wives.

For "The Grapes of Wrath," he and his crew traced the typical flight of a Kentucky farm family to industrial Chicago.

CBS News Correspondent Eric Sevareid is the reporter on the broadcast, and the narrators are Pat Hingle ("Babbitt") and Richard Boone ("The Grapes of Wrath").

She gets less and less exercise and loses the energy to lead an active life. You can look lovely as long as you live. Today, it is easier than ever to look like a new woman. I will take care of the difficult part. Call me today for your free treatment and figure analysis, with no obligation. I will discuss your figure problems with you and show you how we can guarantee results ... remember it's never too late to be lovely.

For Love or $ $ $

In "For Love or $$$," Thursday night's (8:30 PM) Bob Hope Chrysler Theatre, Hope stars as an American tourist who is conned into believing that by masquerading as an "Argentinian" officer (complete with Nazi uniform) and smuggling two million dollars out of a Latin American country, he is acting in the interests of the U.S. Little does he know he is acting as a pawn for one political party anxious to put American aid money into private Swiss bank accounts. To complicate the plot is a beautiful American girl, Carol Van Dyke (Janet Leigh) who is engaged to the Chief of the Secret Police, General Rafael (Fernando Lamas). Despite the larceny in her heart, the blonde American finds the stupidity of her fellow American appealing—even attractive. She hides him in her closet so her fiancé won't find him, she loves him even when he stuffs the stolen money inside his uniform . . . and in the long run, guess who gets the girl.

A LITTLE PERSUASION—Janet Leigh (as Carol Van Dyke) tries to persuade a fellow-American, insurance salesman Jack Hastings (Bob Hope), to cut her in on a big money deal.

The quick-change artistry of Dick Van Dyke and guests Jerry Van Dyke, Carl Reiner and Michel Legrand is spotlighted in "Dick Van Dyke," full-hour variety program Sunday, April 8 PM on CBS.

Music that bridges the years from the 1920s to the 1980s, dances that move through a ballroom and an oil refinery, three-minute special within a special, a concert of laughter and salute to pantomime are just a few of the show's features.

Carl Reiner appears as "solo" with Van Dyke as the "conductor" in "Symphony of Laughter," a choral concert presented entirely in giggles and guffaws against a formal concert-hall background. Number was conceived and composed by Bill Perry and Sam Denoff, with choral directing by Alan Copland.

Dick Van Dyke and a corps of exotically gowned girl dancers are featured in a fanciful number danced to "Ridin' High" as conducted and arranged by Michel Legrand and filmed on location at such unlikely places as an oil refinery, an auto junkyard, a golf course and among the pilings of an ocean pier. Dick Van Dyke appears in a series of brief pantomimes, in tribute to the great pantomimist Marcel Marceau. Jerry Van Dyke joins his brother in a number that sets sibling rivalry to the music of a banjo and the beat of a tap dance.

"The Three-Minute Special" stars Jerry Van Dyke in a take-off on variety specials in general, wherein he performs all the familiar elements of such programs in just three minutes.

"The Vicious Cycles," an unusual stop-action film produced by Leonard Janson, Chuck Menle and David Brain, is introduced as a special feature.

"Ages of Man" is a monologue with Dick Van Dyke following the life of a business tycoon from early childhood to senility.

The finale features the Van Dykes, Michel Legrand and the dance group and varied numbers from the era of the 1920s.
