Dangerous County Fireworks Stolen

As many as 50 professional pyrotechnic devices — each with the power of a stick of dynamite — were stolen Friday in Anaheim.

Police warned that the devices were extremely dangerous in the hands of untrained persons and said if ignited with a match could blow up in as little as a tenth of a second.

EARLY TODAY ANAHEIM police said they found evidence that some type of professional fireworks had been exploded in a vacant field near Disneyland. However, they were unsure whether the devices were the same as those stolen or were duds from the area in which the amusement park's fireworks show is staged.

Cone-shaped explosives were stolen from a Red Devil Fireworks storage area at 2349 La Palma in a burglary discovered Friday.

The devices were taken along with numerous other fireworks. No dollar amount had been determined.

THE PYROTECHNICS ARE OF THE type used in professional fireworks shows and are made to be fired electrically from special stands.

Anaheim Police Sgt. Gordon McConnell said the cones were packed with between a pound and a pound and a half of smokeless gun powder.

The cones in red and yellow and topped in white had three-foot electric fuses. While appearing to be standard fuses, they are not, and if lit with a match would ignite the device almost immediately in the face of the person lighting it, he said.

SGT. MCCONNELL SAID THE DEVICES if set off in a home would probably demolish the interior of the structure and certainly severely injure all persons nearby.

He said police feared that the devices had been stolen by juveniles.

Anaheim police urged that anyone finding such devices immediately call the local fire or police departments and requested that the Anaheim force be notified.

Vegas Rolls On

Rains No Bar To Gambling

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Holiday gamblers "walked the plank" to get into one of the Las Vegas Strip's most famous casinos, and others splashed barefoot through puddles after a flash flood hit the city on the eve of the big Fourth of July weekend.

Gamblers determined to get into Caesars Palace lined up along a narrow ribbon of sidewalk to cross over a huge mud puddle into the casino by way of two small planks.

Others just rolled up their pant legs, took off their shoes and waded through ankle-deep water to the casino.

About 2½ inches of rain pelted Las Vegas in less than two hours, and when the rain stopped late Thursday night, two city workers were dead, hundreds of cars were submerged and houses were flooded.

The damage was estimated in excess of $1 million, making it the city's worst flash flood since 1955.

The bodies of Mike Williams, 30, and Richard Hunkins, 24, both street department employes, were found in muddy embankments Friday near where their truck was engulfed in water.

Lightning struck several power lines, at least one home, and knocked three radio stations off the air briefly. A Delta Airlines jet also was hit by lightning as it landed at McCarran International Airport, but there were no injuries.

The famed Strip was turned into a raging canal.

But shoeless gamblers continued to plunk coins into slot machines in some casinos as calf-deep water swirled around them.

Although the Nevada Highway Patrol repeatedly broadcast warnings that visitors should stay away from Las Vegas Friday, tourists came by the thousands. It was one of the biggest weekends this year.

By late Friday, all hotels reported their rooms were filled and casinos were jammed with customers. Sunny, hot and muggy weather Friday dried up the flood waters that reached 10 feet in places.

Former world champion Grand Prix racer Stirling Moss, vacationing here from England, waded through waist-deep water to rescue three persons stranded in their cars by the flooding at Caesars.

"It was no big drama or anything," said Moss. "I saw the water rushing around the car and waded out to open the door for them."

Parade At Beach Marred

Four persons including a six-month-old infant were hurt Friday during the Huntington Beach Fourth of July parade when an explosive device was thrown into a crowd.

Police arrested a 33-year-old Huntington Beach man for alleged possession of illegal dangerous fireworks after freeing him from an angry crowd which, officers said, wanted to take matters into its own hands.

There was no immediate indication as to the cause of the incident.

Injured were Ignacio Megofna, 27, Nicholas Megofna, 4, Mrs. Cheryl Toghia, age unknown, and her infant son, all of Long Beach.

The incident occurred at about 11:15 a.m. near Fifth Street on the parade route.

Ignacio Megofna suffered a bleeding hand and arm with the skin removed from three of his fingers. Nicholas Megofna suffered third-degree burns on his legs and cheek and the skin was torn from a heel. Officers reported the 4-year-old child to be in great pain and hysterical.

Mrs. Toghia suffered burns on her legs and was in great fear of hearing damage to her six-month-old baby.

Officers arrested Richard C. Kostenoader, of Chicago Avenue and took into custody a quantity of illegal fireworks.

Police said an M-80 concussion grenade was thrown into a group of parade watchers. Officers reportedly had to contend with an angry group of people threatening Kostenoader at the scene but were able to free him without serious incident.

32 Injured By Irritant

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Thirty-two persons attending a Fourth of July fireworks display were treated at a hospital after three teen-agers threw a liquid irritant into the crowd, police said.

Police reported at first that the liquid was acid, but Dr. James Forsyth said later at Carlisle Hospital that the substance was a "clear, colorless, odorless liquid irritant" which he said he doubted could be identified.

About 15 of the victims, who ranged in age from four to 71, were children. Most suffered eye and skin burns, but all were released after hospital treatment.

Karen Black Weds Writer

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Actress Karen Black was married at dawn Friday to a free-lance writer. After the ceremony in a forest area, the couple joined about 400 wedding guests in a traditional Fourth of July picnic. The groom was L.M. "Kit" Carson, 33.

Holiday Mishaps Kill 2 in County

County holiday traffic mishaps claimed the lives of two men while at least two others remain in critical or serious condition as the result of vehicle accidents.

William Israel, 29 of Yorba Linda was pronounced dead on arrival at Canyon General Hospital following a collision between his motorcycle and a Anaheim city fire engine Thursday at Orangethorpe Avenue and Imperial Boulevard.

James O. Irby, 43, of Downey died of internal injuries in Westminster when he was pinned between a fence gate and a truck driven by his father-in-law, Orange County coroner officials said. It appeared Irby had left the vehicle to open the gate when the vehicle rushed forward and rammed him, officials said.

Donald W. Bohnsack, 1250 Adams Ave., Costa Mesa was listed in critical condition Friday after the 11-year-old boy crashed his minibike at Orange Coast College and temporarily stopped breathing.

The boy was riding a minibike on a blocked-off street on the campus Thursday when he collided with a chain fence used to keep out vehicles. Bohnsack was rushed to Costa Mesa Memorial Hospital by police helicopter after receiving artificial respiration from paramedics.

Charles T. Hayes III, 19, of 1684 Whittier St., Costa Mesa, was reported in serious condition Friday at Costa Mesa Memorial Hospital after an auto mishap allegedly caused by pranksters throwing eggs at vehicles.

Hayes' auto flipped three times in the Mesa Verde area after the driver swerved to avoid eggs being tossed from another moving car. The youth sustained internal injuries to his liver and cuts on his chest, abdomen and head.

Police Quell Huntington Disturbance

Huntington Beach police arrested 15 persons and dispersed a large unruly crowd late Friday in what officers termed "our annual Fourth of July mini-riot."

Sgt. Phil Oliver said a large crowd gathered at the municipal pier area and some persons began throwing firecrackers and cherry bombs from the pier onto people on the beach below.

Officers declared the gathering an unlawful assembly and moved in when the group failed to disperse.

Two persons taken into custody were injured in the fracas.

Six uniformed officers and plainclothes beach patrol police were involved in clearing the area. No officers were hurt.

Other details were not immediately available early today.

13 Perish In Bomb Blast

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Most of the pre-Sabbath shoppers who jammed Jerusalem's main square didn't even notice the old refrigerator left on the sidewalk in front of a building supply store.

Just as the crowd reached its peak, a time bomb inside the refrigerator exploded with such force it hurled bodies across the square, blew out windows for blocks around and sprayed deadly chunks of metal and glass into pedestrians.

Police said the Friday blast killed 13 persons, including two children, and wounded 78 others.

Sloop Beaches at Balboa

Columbia-26 lies stranded on beach at foot of M Street on Balboa Peninsula after owner-skipper Kenneth A. Freeman of Santa Ana ran aground at about 3:30 a.m. Friday. Freeman told lifeguard rescuers that he dozed at wheel and did not realize he was so close to surf. He was sailing alone and boat was under power. Loss was pegged at about $10,000, Harbor Department officials said.

9 Judges Hit Board Bid to Transfer 22

Nine Orange County judges and two Orange Coast police chiefs today are pointedly critical of the current attempt by the Board of Supervisors to shift 22 investigators from District Attorney Cecil Hicks' office and place them under Sheriff Brad Gates.

One Santa Ana municipal judge called such a move, "The destruction of our centralized crime-fighting capability."

Another Superior Court jurist labeled the verbal attack by First District Supervisor Robert Battin against Hicks as, "brazen, big-mouthed and immature."

The judges, three from the municipal bench and six from Orange County Superior Court, all declined to be identified by name in the Daily Pilot survey because of sensitivity of their working relationships with the district attorney and sheriff's office.

The three coastal police chiefs, Roger Neth of Costa Mesa, B. James Glavas of Newport Beach, and Earl Robitaille of Huntington Beach, all spoke for the record.

Glavas and Neth were the strongest in support of the district attorney retaining his investigators. Robitaille took more of a "wait-and-see" position.

Mesa Chief Neth condemned the plan to remove 22 of the DA investigators as "unnecessary, unwanted and highly suspicious."

"There is no reason in the world for such a move," Neth said. "Most of our county police chiefs share that view and I think we're going to hear it loudly expressed at a future meeting of the Orange County Chiefs and Sheriffs Association."

Neth, who left a sickbed to comment on what he said was a "highly questionable business," praised Hicks for the way in which the District Attorney's Office has always backed the Costa Mesa force.

"Hicks has done an excellent job," Neth said. "I hate to see this attempt to interfere with the system that has always worked so well for Orange County and the individual police departments.

"I'm told that this transfer came about because Gates wanted it that way," Neth said. "I can't personally vouch for the accuracy of that explanation but it's the one that's been given to most of our police chiefs."

Neth predicted that the transfer of 22 investigators to Gates — if Hicks loses his court battle against the county board Monday — "is certain to be detrimental to his office and in the long run, to us."

"I oppose it and I will continue to oppose it," Neth said. "I fully agree with Hicks in this issue and I will support him in and out of our association."

Newport's Chief Glavas recounted several circumstances during which, he said, investigators of the District Attorney's Office have been invaluable.

"We had one recent case, for example, where we got into a very sensitive area when a high Orange County government official was suspected of maybe having taken some money.

"In this kind of a case, we don't want to go to another law enforcement agency for advice or assistance. You want to go to the District Attorney and his investigative staff if you need help."

Glavas also pointed out that in such legal work, the deputy district attorneys and their investigators work as a coordinated team.

"You can't have this kind of coordination with the investigators over in the sheriff's office," the Newport police chief declared. "I am unequivocally opposed to such a move in shifting the DA's investigative staff."

Glavas added, "You can't really look to the sheriff's office for a higher level of help than you have available in your own police organization.

"We should retain the present status of investigators in the DA's office. We need their help relatively seldom but when we do, it's a crucial situation.

"We always get good cooperation from District Attorney Hicks and his people when we ask for it." Huntington Beach Chief Robitaille, on the other hand, took a much more cautious "wait-and-see" attitude toward the controversy surrounding the shift of DA investigators.

Robitaille believes the Orange County Chiefs and Sheriffs Association will have to take a "long, careful look at the clash between District Attorney Cecil Hicks and the county supervisors.

"But it's no use pretending that any of us have any real idea what the effects of the transfer of Hicks' personnel to the sheriff's office will be," Robitaille said.

"There are plenty of guesses flying around but not from my office."

Robitaille said the issue raised by Hicks' challenge to the transfer ordered by the county board will first come before the Association's inter-jurisdictional committee of which he is a member.

"That could be an interesting meeting," he said. "Both Hicks and Sheriff Brad Gates are members of the seven-man committee."

Chief Robitaille praised the District Attorney's Office for the support the Huntington Beach Police Department has been given in recent years.

"Whenever we wanted something we got it and that applies to all phases of prosecution and investigation," he said.

All nine Orange County judges polled by the Daily Pilot believe that many forms of investigation and the eventual control of crime in this county will suffer if Hicks fails Monday in his Superior Court bid to prevent the transfer of 22 of his investigators to Sheriff Gates.

"Hicks is very highly regarded throughout California for the hell of a job he has done here in Orange County," a Superior Court judge commented.

"I don't pretend to know all the ins and outs of this dirty business," he went on. "But I do know we have a solid, hard working district attorney's office that should be getting help not hindrance from County Supervisor Robert Battin and his colleagues."

Each of the nine judges questioned stressed that he had no criticism of Sheriff Gates to offer whether or not Gates adds the 22 investigators to his staff.

A Santa Ana municipal court judge spoke for most of the judges surveyed when he regretted what he felt would be "the destruction of our centralized crime fighting capability.

"There is the tragedy," he said. "Hicks is a veteran lawman who has welded a number of agencies into a disciplined, successful anti-crime unit and I can't see a newcomer like Gates having anything like that kind of success."

"Battin has been brazen, big mouthed and immature," a Superior Court judge snapped. "Frankly, I detest this verbal idiocy between the two but I do wish Battin could find the guts to accept Hicks' challenge to a public debate." Seven of the nine judges agreed with Hicks that Orange County is increasingly suffering from the manifestations of what Hicks last week called "the shadow government."

"Whatever Dr. Louis J. Cella or Battin might say to the contrary it is there," a municipal court judge commented. "I have seen it grow in my years on the bench. Show me the man who says it doesn't exist and I'll show you someone who's pretty naive."

"I hope Hicks gets the chance to tell the full story in the courtroom, provided he will tell it," a Superior Court judge commented. "I think Mr. Hicks has been restrained and has acted with dignity — too much dignity at times — in this sordid business."

Boy Traced In Threat

Huntington Beach police apprehended an 11-year-old boy after a telephoned threat was made on police headquarters Friday.

A General Telephone operator who received the threat locked on the telephone line of the caller and police traced it.

The boy was released to the custody of his parents. Police said a determination was pending on whether charges would be filed.

Man Slashed Over Parking

Laguna Beach police arrested a 25-year-old man on assault charges Friday after a fellow Lagunan was slashed with a diving knife in an altercation over a parking space.

Police booked Christopher Leahy who listed an address of 440 Osgood Court, for alleged assault with a deadly weapon.

Richard Blue, 31, was treated for a large knife gash on his arm and then released from South Coast Community Hospital in South Laguna. Blue resides at 368 Oak St., Laguna Beach.

200 Refugees Guam-bound

A Marine spokesman said the refugees "seemed in good spirits" as they boarded four aircraft for Guam. They will stay there until final arrangements are worked out for their return to South Vietnam, the spokesman said. Fifty more left on Thursday.

Big Storms Hit Florida And Carolina

By United Press International

A thunderstorm packing winds up to 50 miles drenched Fourth of July celebrants in Florida and thunderstorms spoiled the holiday in North Carolina, where two mobile homes were destroyed and 12 others damaged near Elizabeth City.

No one was killed in the Florida storm, which drenched the area with three inches of rain, but three serious traffic accidents were blamed on the weather. Also, three persons suffered minor injuries in a fire caused when lightning struck a room at the Sea Shore Hotel at Miami Beach.

"We have no way of numbering how many people are without lights, but we have scattered problems all over," said a spokesman for Florida Power and Light Co.

In North Carolina, Pasquotank County Sheriff D.M. Sawyer said a small twister appeared to hit the trailer park about four miles south of Elizabeth City, destroying two mobile homes and damaging 12 others. He said there were no injuries.

Weather

Continued mild weather is forecast for most of Southern California today, but a chance of afternoon and evening thundershowers in mountain and desert areas could mar the rest of the holiday weekend.

Highs over the weekend in Los Angeles were expected to climb to near 80 with some variable cloudiness through Sunday.

In the mountains, a chance of isolated thundershowers in the southern areas was on tap today. Highs will range in the 70s.

More showers were forecast for desert areas, tapering off to widely scattered thundershower activity late today and Sunday. Highs in the upper deserts will reach the 90s this weekend while temperatures in the lower deserts will range from 98 to 105 both days.

JOE AND SUE KINNAMON (LEFT) SPEND THEIR HONEYMOON IN JURY BOX
'Just Keep Those Sweet Nothings Outside the Courtroom'

Courtroom Honeymoon

Couple First to Serve on Jury Together

By TOM BARLEY
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

Travel agents say these days that most Orange County's newlyweds head for Hawaii and a honeymoon under Pacific skies with waving palms and Diamond Head on the horizon.

Some couples get that far-away feeling by renting a mountain cabin or arranging a twosome out in the desert country. Either way, they all agree, they achieve togetherness.

BUT THERE WAS NOTHING remote about the honeymoon enjoyed by Sue and Joe Kinnamon of Santa Ana. They shared their togetherness with 10 other people — none of them newlyweds — in an Orange County Superior Court jury box.

Joe, 27, and Sue, 20, made local Superior Court history by being the first married couple to serve on the same jury.

Judge Raymond Thompson, who came back from retirement to take the bench for the trial in which the Kinnamons served, recalls that married couples have come into his courtrooms together on the same jury panels.

"BUT WE NEVER HAD A PAIR go into the box together until now," he said. "Lawyers, for many reasons, have never allowed it to happen until this trial where no attorney objected."

Opposing lawyers in the trial that ended with guilty verdicts for two accused brothers didn't mind Sue and Joe serving on the jury.

"Just as long as they listen to us and keep the sweet nothings for later on outside the courtroom," attorney Alan Curtis grinned.

SUE AND JOE KNEW EACH OTHER when they were first summoned to jury duty. And they were married shortly before they were assigned to the trial before Judge Thompson.

"It posed no problems for us," said Joe who works as a mail clerk in a Santa Ana book store. "We got along fine with the jury and we both reached the same verdicts on what was really an interesting trial."

"I'VE ENJOYED IT," SUE SAID. "We've had to take a lot of kidding from the jurors and the lawyers but now we plan to have a little time on our own."

"It sort of made you feel guilty when you went into the jury room to deliberate," a fellow juror grinned. "After all, you knew darned well these kids had better things todo..."

New Trial Ordered

Appeals Court Rules Judge Erred

A new trial has been ordered for a purse snatcher found guilty of first-degree murder in the death of an elderly woman who died two weeks after he robbed her in Anaheim.

The guilty verdict reached in the courtroom of Orange County Superior Court Judge Raymond Vincent has been rejected by the Fourth District Court of Appeals with the ruling that the judge erred while giving instructions in the trial of truck driver Richard Corral Morales.

MORALES, 26, OF Anaheim, was sentenced to life in state prison after the jury found him guilty of first-degree murder and second-degree armed robbery.

Morales was arrested Aug. 17, 1973, in Anaheim shortly after Mrs. Minnie Smith, 73, was knocked down and robbed while she was walking home with her daughter from an Anaheim store.

MRS. SMITH DIED two weeks later from a blood clot. Morales was charged with murder after it was alleged that her fall led to creation of the fatal condition.

The appellate court opinion reversing Judge Vincent points out that the jury was improperly instructed on what could have been a lesser verdict of grand theft rather than second-degree robbery.

"THE JURY (IN the second trial) can be instructed that if they find Morales guilty of grand theft they can also find him guilty of involuntary manslaughter if they find that his act was committed 'without due caution and circumspection,' " the appellate court ruled.

A conviction of involuntary manslaughter would reduce Morales' sentence from life to one to 15 years in state prison.

Mrs. Hass, 41, Of CdM Dies

Memorial services will be held Monday for Patricia N. Haas of Corona del Mar who died Wednesday at the age of 41.

Mrs. Haas is survived by her husband, Raymond, son, Kenneth, and daughter, Susan, all of 1421 Outrigger Drive. Other survivors include Mrs. Haas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. David N. Naftel of Claremont and brother David Naftel Jr. of Claremont.

Mrs. Haas was a member of the Corona del Mar Community Church, the auxiliary of the Children's Hospital of Orange County and the Balboa Yacht Club.

Memorial services will be at 11 a.m. Monday at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church in Newport Beach. The family requests contributions be made to the Hoag Memorial Hospital Cancer Research Foundation.

Legislation Pending

Huntington Korean Family to Stay

Members of the Jae Chul Choi family, who consider Huntington Beach — not Korea — their home, won't be deported July 15 after all.

Congressman Mark Hannaford (D-Long Beach) said he will introduce a "private bill," aimed at giving them permanent residency status, the first day Congress convenes next week.

THE FAMILY CANNOT BE DEPORTED while the measure is pending in Congress, which could take from about six to 18 months. If passed, the family may remain here permanently.

"I think everything will be fine now," said Choi, 38, of 16872 Limelight Circle. "We are very happy."

Choi had been ordered by the Immigration and Naturalization Service to board a plane for Korea July 15 because he has been in this country illegally since 1969.

HE WAS TOLD HIS WIFE, who expects her third child any day, would be deported soon afterward, also as an illegal alien.

Their two daughters, Ellie, 3, and Julie, 1, both were born here and are American citizens, but they also would have to leave with their parents unless arrangements were made to have them brought up here.

Choi, who said he now realizes he did break the law, contended that throughout the six years he believed he was following legal channels to obtain permanent resident status.

HE SAID HE WAS PAYING TWO attorneys to help him, and he followed their advice.

Neighbors petitioned Hannaford to help the Chois, and friends also contacted him, as did representatives of the Korean-American Political Association.

Friends described the family as model citizens and wonderful neighbors.

Court Action In Housing Project Set

Repeatedly thwarted in its plans to complete the projected $10 million Lantern Bay housing development in Dana Point, the Veta company has authorized new legal action in Orange County Superior Court.

Lawyers for the company named the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission as defendants in the lawsuit and will ask the judge assigned to the as yet unscheduled pretrial hearing to vacate the decision reached by the commission June 4.

THAT 7-to-2 VOTE against the Lantern Bay project again stymied plans by Veta for construction of 115 homes in a 20.3-acre triangle bounded by Pacific Coast Highway, Street of the Golden Lantern and Del Obisipc Street.

It marked the third such denial by the commission of Veta plans after the Lantern Bay project had won the approval of county authorities and the South Coast Regional Commission.

Appellate action by the League of Women Voters, the Sierra Club and the Environmental Coalition of Orange County has invariably been successful at the final phase of each stage of hearings.

"BUT WE ARE taking a new legal tack this time," Veta attorney David Larsen commented. "We will ask the judge appointed to the pretrial hearing to recognize that we have vested rights in the Lantern Bay project."

Laguna Issue

Committee to Eye Cable TV Problem

By FREDERICK SCHOEMEHL
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

The Laguna Beach City Council has ordered formation of a committee to negotiate a request from Storer Cable Television to continue its franchise in Laguna Beach.

But whether Storer will participate as a member of the negotiating group remained unclear.

FORMATION OF THE negotiating team was recommended by an advisory committee formed by the council to examine ways of improving local cable television service.

The council recently adopted an ordinance drafted by the committee outlining steps the city would take in awarding the cable television franchise in Laguna Beach. Storer then put in its bid to continue local service.

Robert Hermon, chairman of the council's advisory committee, said a negotiating team is needed to work out agreement on several aspects of Storer's franchise application.

POINTS OF CONTENTION, Hermon said were proposals by Storer to increase monthly cable rates from $6 to $7.50; maintain its franchise fee paid to the city at 2 percent rather than 3 percent of gross revenue, and provide local programming in black and white instead of color.

Actually, the list of disputed points contains 18 items, but Hermon said many are considered minor.

Richard Mardock, manager of Storer's local office, said Storer officials would study the council's decision and respond in writing later.

Mardock also was critical of the cable television committee. He said Storer was not happy with the "complexity" of reports on the local cable television system made by the committee.

HE SAID HE DID not think a settlement was near on unresolved issues in the franchise application.

In a related action, the council directed the city staff and the cable television committee to explore expanding the Laguna Beach franchise area to include Emerald Bay and South Laguna.

Both areas are in county territory and under the control of county supervisors.

Hermon said that since the same system that serves Laguna Beach serves the two areas it would be good for the city to have overall control over their service.

Jet Noise Meet Set

Concerned citizens of the Santa Ana Heights area under the Orange County Airport flight pattern will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the Boys Club building at Bristol Street and Red Hill Avenue to discuss the issue.

Representatives of a consulting firm preparing an environmental impact report on the county airport will speak, along with Orange County Director of Aviation Robert Bresnahan.

County Supervisor Thomas Riley is also scheduled to attend, according to organizers of the informational meeting.

English Classes Set For Viet Refugees

English classes for Vietnamese refugees and an early-age kindergarten enrollment program are two items up for approval by Saddleback Valley Unified school district trustees Monday.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at Los Alisos Intermediate School, 25171 Moor Avenue, Mission Viejo. The meeting follows a 7 p.m. executive (closed) session to discuss personnel items.

SNCE MANY residents of the Saddleback Valley have sponsored Vietnamese refugees, a need has arisen to provide English classes, district spokesmen said.

About 50 adults have been attending night classes taught by Nguyen Thi Cam, and daytime summer school classes for children have begun at O'Neill School in Mission Viejo.

THE CHILDREN'S classes are being taught by Tho Bui, a Vietnamese woman with a master's degree from Chapman College.

Trustees will be asked to ratify the hiring of both women to continue the classes under the auspices of the Saddleback district.

TRUSTEES ALSO will consider final approval for a pilot program in early kindergarten enrollment for children who are 5 before Feb. 1, 1976.

Early enrollment classes will be held at four elementary schools beginning in February if the board approves the proposal.

OTHER ITEMS ON Monday's agenda include:

— Proposal to transfer 16 lots in north Mission Viejo from the Capistrano Unified School District to the Saddleback district.

— Consideration of adding six special education classes to meet a growing need. Included are an intermediate Educable Mentally Retarded (EMR) class and an asphasic class at Serrano Intermediate School, an additional EMR class at El Toro High School, and a learning disability group at La Paz Intermediate.

Horoscope

Leo: Build On Solid Base

SUNDAY, JULY 6

By SYDNEY OMARR

ARIES (March 21-April 19): What seems a cancellation may merely be temporary delay. You have some unfinished business. Attend to it by tying loose ends. Clarify language.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Count change — and blessings. You will get what many talk about — that proverbial "second chance." Make the most of it. Don't repeat past mistakes.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Cycle is such that you overcome odds, gain enlightenment from partner, mate and rise above what is petty. The potential for spiritual growth is present. Be a self-starter.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Flexibility is keynoted. You may not get exactly what you asked for, but neither are you left out in cold. Make do with material available.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Romance, affection, feeling that you are needed and secure — this tends to dominate. You are able to build on solid base.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Dialogue occurs with one you respect but who may hold views opposite your own. Now you can detect motives, goals and discover the "why" of recent actions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Delay in communications need not be a major setback. Adjustment is necessary and also could prove beneficial.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Avoid seeing only as you wish — instead, perceive situations, persons as they actually exist. Accent is on general health, basic issues.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Organize priorities. Don t give up something of value for mere gesture or whispered implication. Message will become increasingly clear.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You may feel you are slightly off target. You could be right, too. Key is to know when you're missing without giving up — you can make corrections, adjustments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Love, involvement, creative endeavors are highlighted. New contacts, fresh starts, added independence — these command attention.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You may find that tangle of red tape is akin to quicksand. Key is to extricate yourself in manner which does not leave too many bridges burned behind you.

If Today Is Your Birthday your voice is unusual, you are a natural teacher, you comprehend music, drama and you are loyal to family. If single, this could be marriage year. If married, there might be an addition to family. You go into business. You invest.

Steward just completed a term as sports editor for the Daily Emerald, the University of Oregon newspaper. The Daily Emerald was judged as one of the top 14 collegiate newspapers in the nation.

County Helps Itself

Loan Given to Make Water Bond Payment

One pocket of Orange County government will loan $5,400 to another to pay the annual installment on the bond debt of a Saddleback Valley water district that no longer exists.

The Board of Supervisors was told this week that because of two key factors not enough tax money was available to meet the regular payment on the 12-year old Sanitation District 12 bonds.

THE REASONS CITED by County Auditor-Controller V.A. Heim were that three major property owners in the district are delinquent in tax payments and a big revenue-producer for the area is no longer on the tax rolls.

The result was that the district coffers came up $5,400 short of the $114,000 needed to pay the annual bill. The extra money will be loaned to the district by the tax collector-treasurer's office in the form of a "tax anticipation note."

The situation is even more involved because the sanitation district operation hasn't existed for several years, ever since the area was incorporated into the Moulton-Niguel Water District.

THOUGH THE OPERATION of the sewer and water lines shifted into new hands, the bonded debt stuck with the county, which is considered the debtor in this case.

Heim explained that the problem arose when the old district came up with a tax payment delinquency rate of 8 percent the last fiscal year — about four times the county average.

THE BIGGEST contributors to that were Avco Community Developers, Kaiser-Pacific Company and Wayne Reeder, who didn't pay taxes due totalling about $8,000, Heim said.

In addition, the federal government purchased the Rockwell International "Ziggurat" during the year, thus removing it and its $11,000 annual tax contribution from the rolls.

Saddleback Valley

Trash Collection Rates Going Up

Orange County supervisors have granted a 55-cent rate hike to the Toro Disposal Company, which provides garbage collection service to Mission Viejo, El Toro and other Saddleback Valley communities.

Effective immediately, the cost to residential customers of the firm will increase from $2.25 per month to $2.80.

SUPERVISORS WERE told the original request was for an increase to $3 per month but County Road Commissioner L. Ted McConville said his study of the situation proved that hike was too much.

He said the company has been operating at a loss because it costs $2.69 per customer in overhead and labor costs according to the latest inflation-related figures.

Chuck Waltman, co-owner of the disposal company, said his trucks serve about 12,000 customers, primarily in Mission Viejo, part of El Toro and Laguna Hills.

HE TOLD SUPERVISORS that although his rates have been held constant at $2.25 over the past several years, his labor costs have increased 40 percent and the cost of operating his trucks has doubled.

Waltman also noted his drivers were the only ones in the Saddleback Valley who didn't join in the recent nine-day strike by refuse workers around the county.

Civic Group Due Laguna Park Plans

Plans for development of a park at Catalina and Monterey Streets in South Laguna will be presented at a meeting of the South Laguna Civic Association at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the hearing room of the South Coast County Water District.

Lang and Wood, a landscape architecture firm of South Laguna, has prepared several proposals for the park. The object of the meeting is to determine which is favored by residents. The meeting is public.

Vegetable Yield Brings Pioneer Spirit

By BILL SCHREIBER
Of the Daily Pilot Staff

What do you do when your home vegetable garden goes bananas and produces a crop that seems big enough to feed the world's starving millions?

Confronted with this situation recently, I weighed some alternatives. I could:

— Open a little stand in front of my El Toro tract home in violation of every county code.

— Give it away, thus defeating the purpose for growing it in the first place.

— Stop using my near-miraculous liquid fertilizer.

— Throw it in a pile and make compost.

— Plow up some of my 800 square feet of victory gardens and plant dichondra.

— Go back to the pioneer spirit and try a little home canning and preserving.

DEEMING THE first five options less than logical, I chose the final one, though it fostered a lot of apprehension.

I've read the warnings by health officials that improper home canning and preserving can breed evil bacteria and cause all kinds of horrendous palpitations of the digestive tract.

So I compromised. The strawberries and fruit would become marmalade and jam and the vegetables would become frozen food.

Following cookbook recipes and directions that came with store-bought pectin (a fruit preservative and jelly concentrate), my wife and I converted about four quarts of home-grown berries, some lemons and a few oranges into two-dozen jars of marmalade and preserves.

DESPITE ALL our fears, the process was simple and not overly time-consuming as long as the directions were followed. Our only adjustment was in the amount of sugar. We put in a cup or two less than the recipes called for because we like our preserves tart.

We implemented one shortcut in the marmalade, which involves use of both lemons and oranges. Rather than go through the meticulous process of peeling the fruit and scraping the skins before use, we sliced the fruit, removed the seeds and ground up the slices in a blender.

New-model, self-sealing home canning jars have eliminated the messy and time-consuming step of pouring a layer of paraffin over the preserves before capping and storing. Any other type of container (old pickle or mayonnaise jars) requires the wax seal.

ALL TOLD, the fruit canning cost about $5 for the 24 jars (available at any supermarket), the sugar and pectin. The fruit was free and fresh.

The vegetables were a different story. So far, the garden has produced only broccoli and zucchini in abundance though the tomatoes, carrots, peppers, cucumbers, corn and cantaloupe aren't far behind.

We picked two shopping bags full of broccoli and squash in one day. Fearful of the complex process required to can vegetables in a safe and sterile manner, we chose the more modern method — freezing.

The vegetables were boiled for a few minutes until about half-done. Then we separated them into serving-size batches and mixed several with our sauces and cheese.

THE NEXT STEP was a little more costly than I might otherwise have liked. We bought one of those "Meals in Minutes" machines that enables you to seal just about anything into a leak-proof plastic bag. It cost $16.95 but was well worth the expense.

We now have 20 packets of fresh-frozen vegetables that can be cooked in minutes in boiling water or in our micro-wave oven.

Minus the cost of the sealing machine, which will last through many crops of vegetables, we got our frozen vegetables for about 17 cents a pack — compared to 49 cents in the market.

Gardening Classes Scheduled

A seven-week course called "How To Grow a Green Thumb" begins Wednesday in a new Costa Mesa Department of Leisure Services summer program emphasizing something special for the 13 to 19 set.

Teenagers may register through Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Room 305 at city hall and classes will be held seven Wednesdays from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Community Recreation Center at the Orange County Fairgrounds. A $4.50 fee is required.

Instruction will include herbology, kitchen gardening, hanging plant care, greenhouse construction and includes a field trip to the Whittier Narrows nature preserve in San Gabriel.

First Lady Loves Roses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It takes "an especial amount of care" to raise roses, according to Betty Ford, who finds gardening a form of relaxation.

Mrs. Ford accepted the "Golden Rose" award and 50 golden wave roses from a florists' delivery group Wednesday at a ceremony in the east garden.

Weekend Gardening Checklist

• A good selection of vegetables can be planted now for fall, many of them are available as easy-to-transplant seedlings from nursery flats.

• Planning a party? Why not pick up from the nursery some pots of bright blooming Marigolds — they're unique and spectacular decorations.

• Selective controls are available for crabgrass in lawns; your nurseryman can outline procedures to follow to eliminate this pesty problem.

• Delphiniums that have bloomed should be cut back to about six inches, then fed and watered — toward a second flush of bloom.

• Cana Lilies liven up the color scheme in the summer garden. Now is a good time to select them — and the dwarf types excel in sunny borders. Plants are available in containers — in many colors.

Taiwan Looks to Itself

By DIANE YING
United Press International

TAIPEI — The Mood in Taiwan is quietly changing after the Indochina debacle.

The United States, referred to as "the ally we trust" for the past 20 years, has gradually shifted to "the ally we have to trust."

For the more emotional young nationalists, the standard line nowadays is, "The United States is unreliable. We have to depend on ourselves."

Self-reliance, a mere slogan pasted on walls in streets and broadcast on the air ever since Taiwan's expulsion from the United Nations in 1971, suddenly became a real common goal for the people and the government.

THIS ATTITUDE, slow in forming after Washington launched its rapprochement with Peking in 1972, gathered momentum with the collapse of Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Nationalist Chinese watched the last days of Saigon and the plight of the fleeing refugees with a mixture of painful sympathy and bewildered detachment, as though watching a replay of the loss of mainland China in 1949.

To some, the political infighting in Saigon until the very end looked like the same mistakes they had made 26 years ago.

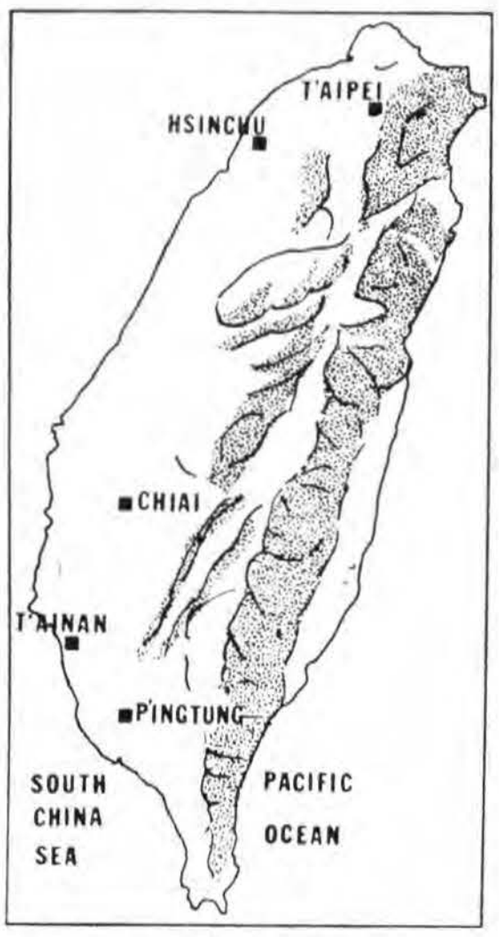
To others U.S. refusal to provide military aid to Saigon was bitter proof that "almighty America has once again abandoned a friend in need."

But the people in Taiwan are steadily building up their self-confidence.

Saigon's fall apparently made them realize, by comparison, the gains they have made since 1949, and appreciate what they now have: internal unity and a peaceful, prosperous life in a stable and relatively open society.

PREMIER Chiang Ching-Kuo recently said in a major policy statement:

"The fall of Vietnam and Cambodia taught us that internal unity is the most essential factor to a nation's existence. Political stability and national defense are the two sides of the same coin. We dare say that internal unity in this country is far greater than in any other country."



The uneventful and smooth transition of power after the death of President Chiang Kai-shek in April and the genuine grief showed by millions of people during his funeral are considered a sign of that unity as well as a vote of confidence in the government.

"The unanimous reaction towards the passing away of President Chiang has swept away whatever suspicion we might have had before about the differences and gaps between mainlanders and Taiwanese," a high ranking official of the ruling Kuomintang party said.

"It was a concrete test which demonstrated that we all support the leadership and the national policy."

IN THE WAKE of Saigon's surrender, many even began to praise the farsightedness of the late president in steadfastly refusing to cut down Taiwan's 500,000-man armed forces, despite constant criticism and pressure from foes and friends alike to trim it.

Taiwan has devoted yearly almost half its national budget to defense, and now maintains one of the best trained and equipped armies in the region, a sizable navy and an elite air force.

The sheer size of Taiwan's defense force provides a comfortable safety blanket to fall back on in the days of reduced Asian confidence in the United States.

"It is inevitable that Taiwan's confidence in the United States has wavered," the Kuomintang official said. "But the important thing is we have confidence in ourselves, because we have good qualifications for existence."

HE MENTIONED strong leadership, internal unity, sound economic base, a relatively small gap between the rich and the poor, a built-in self-reliance after a series of diplomatic setbacks, plus regional military superiority over China.

Although China has a much bigger army, the spokesman said, its bulk is stationed on the Sino-Soviet border for fear of military conflict with Russia.

After the U.S. failure in Indochina, he said, there are even hopes that the "appeasement trend" in America will be dampened, the U.S. process of normalization of relations with Peking might slow down, and the importance of Taiwan's defense position in the Pacific increased.

"Even though we emphasize self-reliance and the concept that only those who help themselves can be helped by others, we do not exclude the opportunity of group security and defense cooperation with allies," he said.

For the cool-headed officials at least, the United States is still the most important ally that Taiwan has, and an ally Taiwan has to trust.

Any Rebate On Giants?

By HERB CAEN

SAN FRANCISCO: "Trustee Robert Lynch has invited ex-Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam to apply for the $46,000-a-year job as district superintendent of the Los Rios (Sacramento) Community College District." If anybody wants to start a petition to recall Brother Lynch, I can guarantee one signature.

. . .ON TASTELESSNESS, I'm an expert. Don't ask me, ask something called the Pride Foundation, whose members are circulating petitions to protest this column's "anti-gay" cracks and jokes. For the record, I am not anti-gay (some of my best friends, etc., etc.,) but I am against humorlessness, regardless of race, creed, color, choler or sexual preference. Check one.

CYNICAL Sid Janowski: "Gee, how exciting that the Giants are for sale — how much of a rebate are they offering?"

AS FOR THE continuing debate over a suicide barrier on the Gate Bridge, Dr. Martin J. Steinbauh suggests a relevant bumper sticker: "GG: Love It Or Leap It."

IN THE columnists' lexicon, if any, the only thing more embarrassing than running a retraction is correcting a correction. The schlemozzel began when I nitpicked Golfer Arnold Palmer as ungrammatical for saying "Those are my kind of numbers!" Then I heard from a dozen high school English teachers and retired proofreaders who said, in essence, that "numbers" is plural, "those" is okay. Nokay! Now we are hearing from college-level instructors, their message being "You were right the first time." Here is Prof. William Robinson of S.F. State's English Dept. to sum up: " 'Those' must agree with 'kind,' not 'numbers,' hence the sentence should read, 'Those are my kinds of numbers' " . . . Jeeze, Arnie, shape up, willya?

ENTRE NEWS: I WAS properly amused that some of Pres. Ford's aides thought his new swimming pool at the White House would be "controversial" since he has called for "a tight rein on spending." How about his "rock bottom budget" for the Defense Dept., including $13.9 million to maintain 300 military golf courses in 19 countries, including ours? Think tennis!

WHAT'S NEW at the Sierra Club? Well, the Colby Crapper, a completely self-contained recycling toilet, was demonstrated in the Club's handsome Colby Library in the Mills Tower before an overflow crowd. "It performed nicely," reports Club Exec Denny Wilcher, sounding self-contained.

Slow Down, Governor!

By KEN PATTERSON JR.
Capitol News Service

SACRAMENTO — The "new spirit" that Governor Brown brought to the California Capitol has been a most evident thing over the period of the past few months, keeping much in line with some ambitious campaign promises.

The passage of farm labor legislation was a trick that had eluded governors and legislatures for decades. Jerry Brown did it, it might seem, with the waving of a wand.

Comprehensive legislation on the subject of collective bargaining rights for public employes, another campaign promise, is coming together in an unprecedented flurry of lobbying, amending and compromising by the governor and his work-late-again-tonight staff.

THERE IS no wand waving going on, however. The governor is making a habit of working until the small hours. His staff and consultants are also getting in the habit, much to the weariness of many.

Jerry Brown is getting a reputation for marathon legislative conferences on matters of his choice. His style appears to be one thing at a time, with all forces and energies concentrated on one area for that period, and then off to another when it becomes more interesting.

The whirlwind administration cannot continue as it is. The governor still insists on personally interviewing every single appointee that he puts to work. There are hundreds of appointments that he is required to make.

One thing he will have to learn to do is delegate some authority. He simply cannot make every single decision by himself.

THE GOVERNOR chooses his staff from the competent people he can find, in the state and in the nation. If he is not able to trust the people to whom he has given authority, it shows very little confidence in his own judgment.

One simply cannot be the chief executive of a state of 20 million people and see to every little decision himself.

One appointee to a major state agency noted that the pace the governor has chosen to keep won't allow him to last for two years. Eight years is out of the question. No human being can go without sleep from 8 in the morning until 2 in the morning and continue that way for eight years.

There are offices in the state's bureaucracy with people in them hoping to be appointed as the heads of agencies. One in particular has already moved in with his staff, replacing his predecessor. He is on the payroll of the state as being the chief of his particular bureau.

WHEN ASKED how long the governor spent with him before the appointment, he replies, "What appointment? I've not been appointed officially to this post yet. Why, I haven't even met the governor."

Governor Brown has not appointed him, officially, yet, because he wants to make a personal interview. But, Jerry, there are too many things like that to do. You are going to have to trust some of the people who work for you. You do trust them, don't you?

In any case, the new spirit is definitely in Sacramento. The fire is going for sure. But only if this track star learns to pace himself will he ever make it to the four-year finish line.

A Changing Press: The Truth Is Coming Out

By HARRY BERNSTEIN

There have been many changes in the newspaper business in the last few years — both mechanical and philosophical. I am astonished at how little knowledge the average person has of these changes — or of the newspaper business.

Even the basic foundation of our business is not well understood — how we acquire the stories in the first place. Some stories just evolve, such as a happening on a certain day. The story is then written as a series of thoughts by the individual reporter.

As an example of this process, some time ago I heard President Nixon speak when he said, "All work has dignity." He said this very forcefully and continued, "Those who scrub floors and empty bed pans have worked with as much dignity as that of the President of the United States." It did not seem quite accurate to me. I really do not believe these people have as much dignity in their profession as the President of the United States.

This incongruity led me to do a story on the work ethic in the United States. So you see, it is not really mysterious as to why or how reporters develop news stories. First, there are the happenings of the day and, second, the reporter's mind as it reacts and functions.

OFTEN IT is a haphazard thing that leads to news stories, particularly feature stories.

That brings us to "confidentiality." The important aspect here is whether the reporter can keep a secret. If I am told a story and the person states that he would not like to have a particular aspect of the story made public but is filling me in for background, I respect his wishes. The reporter must do this or he will not be "backgrounded."

Another news situation arises from a different motive: stories that come from people who want to get their names in the paper. This is where we get most of our information. Not through "leaks."

Many of us in our profession do make mistakes. Some "mistakes" have been deliberate, and sometimes we cloak our errors or misconduct in a mantle of self-righteousness. But the profession is changing.

The journalist of today is almost uniquely in the business of selling the truth. This is not as ridiculous as it sounds. I can think of no other profession with such a stated public mission. Of course, I must quickly add that the failures to achieve our mission possibly outnumber our successes.

"SELLING the truth" may sound self-serving, but it is truly the heart of our job.

How do we think of ourselves? You may not agree with our self-image, but it might be constructive if you knew what we think of us rather than what you think of us.

For instance, I am persuaded that newspapers are, for the most part, no longer personal instruments of power for a few wealthy men. Yet, many people still view them in this light. For some, they are still "suspect," as in the days of the "yellow journalists." I submit that there is less cause today for such mistrust in our media than at any other time in history.

LAPEL BUTTON

Of course, there are a few inadequate, inept or unethical reporters who deliberately "report" a story that they know is a lie. There are also editors who will kill a story they know to be accurate and interesting.

Such reporters and editors are now being scorned by a rapidly growing army of young reporters. These young reporters, and a core of older ones, have a sense of idealism that is eliminating the inept.

I am defending my profession, of course, because it makes me feel better. It will also enable you, who do not know much of our profession, to at least deal with us in a different manner, rather than at arm's length and with suspicion.

I feel it is time to abandon the "plot theory." The charge of a "plot" has been made against our country's newspapers. There is no plot. I have often had intelligent men or women insist when I have made an error that it was not an error but was due to an order from higher up. Or we are accused of not printing or of withholding an important story.

My own complaint is quite to the contrary — that there is too little overall direction given to our newspapers. We shovel stories into our giant metropolitan dailies with too slight an effort to distill and digest, to interpret and explain.

There are very few publishers of reputable newspapers today who personally try to slant the news to suit their political and economic philosophies.

Our mistakes might even be due more to looseness in planning rather than too much. Yet, this willingness of top management to loosen the reins of their authority is having a profound effect on our newspapers.

EDITORS are complaining that, while they still have the final voice in the use of a story, their authority is now diffused throughout the staff to a degree never before imagined. Reporters are more vital in the production of a story now than in the days when they simply were assigned a story by an editor, wrote the story and then sat around waiting for another assignment.

Now the trend is to allow the specialist reporter to make up his own mind as to what is an interesting story. The result, in this age of specialization, is a diffusion of control and certainly makes the "plot theory" all the more outdated.

I submit that, with some exceptions, those persons being hired today for newspaper jobs are men and women whose general attitude is one of concern for the truth.

A well-run newspaper will usually flourish financially, which could well be the reason for giving us reporters more and more freedom to write the truth as we find it. Sometimes I even wonder if some publishers are motivated idealistically by their dreams of a better society.

THOSE OF us who are dissatisfied with the current state of journalism in America should look at, if not dwell on, the alternatives. Imperfect as the current system is, it must stand because no suitable alternative has yet been found for it.

Many reporters no longer talk in terms of complete objective reporting. I contend that those who insist they report stories objectively simply do not understand the realities. At every stage in the preparation of a story subjective judgments are required to decide what makes news. To pretend there is no subjectivity is ridiculous.

Only one-tenth of all the stories that come into the newsroom each day are published. This presents a tremendous selection problem, and obviously there will be mistakes or misjudgments as to what should be published.

TODAY newspapers are hiring more specialists. I suspect the increased use of specialists, who have a large degree of autonomy in our professional work, is helping to add fuel to this newsroom revolution among general assignment writers whose competence is no less, of course, than our own but who have less autonomy.

Many people insist that these dramatic changes are so gradual that they should be called evolutionary instead of revolutionary.

Has journalism failed the test in adequately meeting society's needs for a mass means of communication?

Are the news media truly a weak reed that bends too often in the wind of controversy?

We would probably have several different opinions, but journalism — electronic and printed — while falling far short of its potential, nevertheless is the institution that most nearly succeeds in preserving this nation's freedom by striving so hard in searching for the truth.

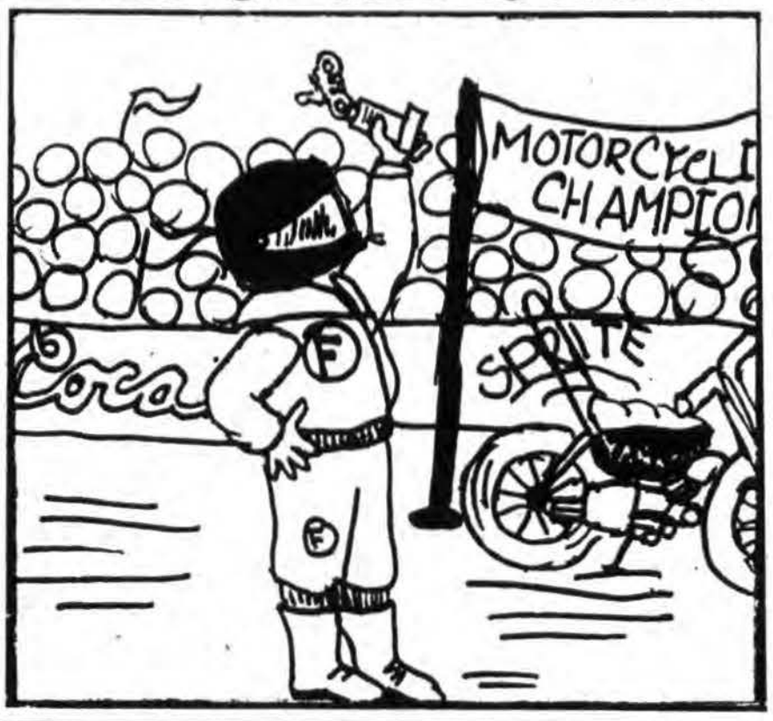
UNCLE LEN'S CORNER



Hi there girls and boys.

Are you all excited about the Motocross Contest?

Uncle Len sure is. Maybe it's because I just bought a Honda motorcycle to drive back and forth to work on because of the current rise in gas prices.

At any rate, this is a wonderful contest for all the artists to participate in.

Again this week, there were not too many entries. The ones that did enter were very good, however, and will be considered for the prizes.

Did Uncle Len tell you what great prizes we have? Well, the top winner will receive a set of combination tickets. Three $5.50 tickets for the High School Championships on Friday and three $10 tickets for the Oly Superbowl on Saturday.

Second place winner will receive three $10 tickets for Saturday night.

Third place winner will receive three $7 tickets for Saturday night.

And last, but not least, the fourth place winner will receive three $5.50 tickets for Friday night.

HONORABLE MENTION this week goes to Julie Wahlstedt of Newport Beach, Mary and Lisa Isom and Chery Conrad of Huntington Beach; Greg Nylen of Irvine; Amy Arnold of Fountain Valley; Janice Tomei and Donald Hempstead of Costa Mesa; and Kristi Coale of Corona del Mar.

My pal, Donnie Hempstead, included a note with his drawing which said: "Last week, Nancy forgot to put the safety helmet (which is very important) in her display of clothing."

You are very right, Donnie, and Uncle Len wouldn't think of getting on that Honda of mine without wearing a helmet.

And that's quite a coincidence, since the contest this week is to draw a motorcycle helmet. You can make all sorts of designs on them. There are helmets with stripes and helmets with stars, and even helmets with animals and birds drawn on them.

So put on your thinking caps and send in your drawing of a helmet and you might win tickets to the Motocross.

Until next week then, Uncle Len wishes all his friends the very, very best of everything.

★ PRIZE WINNER ★

Paige Oder, 12, 1714 Plaza Del Norte, Balboa

Any child 14 or under, can enter Uncle Len's Contest. Here's all you do: (1) Draw picture on piece of plain, white paper 4½ inches wide and 4 inches deep. Use black ink and make lines black. (2) Do not copy or trace picture. It must be your own work. (3) Put your name, age and address on back of drawing. Mail it to Uncle Len's Art Contest, Box 1560, DAILY PILOT, Costa Mesa 92626. Entries must be received by noon on Thursday for production on the following Saturday. Winner will receive Kennedy half dollar.

Bull Buck Takes Top Tree Title

FRESNO (AP) — Everyone thought the General Sherman Sequoia tree was the biggest tree in the world until somebody took Bull Buck's measurements. Now, they're not so sure.

Buck is a little bigger around the middle, but Sherman is taller and has a bigger head.

So the American Forestry Association, which keeps records on such things, is arranging to have a survey team measure both trees in the Sierra this fall to decide which should have the world's title.

THE SURVEYORS probably will also measure the General Sherman's neighbor in Sequoia-Kings Canyon National Parks — the General Grant Sequoia. The Grant tree, listed as slightly smaller than the Sherman in past measurements, still claims a fair share of fame as the nation's official Christmas Tree.

The Bull Buck Sequoia, in a grove of fairly inaccessible giant Sequoias near Yosemite National Park, wasn't considered in the running until a survey crew checked its dimensions last fall.

Those statistics showed Buck's 85-foot circumference at chest height beat the Sherman by two feet. However, the Sherman stands 14 feet taller — stretching 272 feet into the sky.

THE FINAL measurement — the crown spread or size on top — again had the Sherman slightly ahead, and it kept the over-all title in a complex compilation of the various factors.

But the forestry association wants measurements made of both by a single survey team to provide a more uniform comparison.

"There's a lot of room for error in measuring these trees," explaines Steve Beck, information officer for Sierra National Forest, home of Bull Buck.

"Even a minor error in measurement can make a big difference."

OFFICIALS at Kings Canyon-Sequoia parks about 75 miles south say they are willing to have experts compare their trees with Buck.

None of these huge trees, each perhaps 4,000 years old and containing up to 50,000 cubic feet of lumber, is in the running for the title of world's oldest or tallest tree, however.

A redwood on California's north coast is considered the tallest at 364 feet and a Sun Tree on Taiwan reportedly has been around the longest — an estimated 6,000 years.

Flying High

This is just part of what you will experience July 18-19 at the 4th Annual Oly Superbowl of Motocross at 8 p.m. in the Los Angeles Coliseum. More than 50 of the top Grand Prix riders from around the world will compete for a share in $30,000 prize money. Winners in the Uncle Len contest will receive tickets to this thrilling event. Read Uncle Len's column today for details.

Red Sky at Sunset

Gulls glide in the heavens,
Sea sprays the wind blows.

Waves breaking into whitecaps
Seashells carpeting the ocean floor
Scattered feathers of aged fleece,
Scraps tossed on the damp sandy shore.

Sun falling behind a distant island
The evening light will succeed
While birds make a "V" in the heavens.
Strongest at the tip, to home he will lead.

Silence overcomes the surroundings
Only breaking of waves can be heard
The surrounding beauty comes back to mind
Your love and devotion again reassured.

Letters From Ellie

(c) 1975 Jean E. Heywood

Dear Ellie,

Can animals get contagious diseases from people? Could they die from these?

Karen K.

Dear Karen,

The closer a species is to man, the more likely it is to suffer from human-type diseases. Primates, for example, and particularly the anthropoid apes, are susceptible to many of the ailments common to man. And of course, it is possible that they could die from the illnesses.

And there are a number of animals in addition to the primates which can get diseases from us. One such ailment, for instance, is fungal infections of the hair since hair in both composition and growth is similar in most species. Ringworm can spread from people to the lower animals, and of course, from them to people.

It is important to consider the role man plays in spreading diseases common only to the lower animals. Many contagious animal illnesses are spread unknowingly by people. For example, one might pet a dog that has some infectious respiratory ailment, then spread it to another dog by carrying the germs on his hands or even shoes.

Much has been written on the spread of disease between man and the lower animals. It is a highly scientific subject and one of the concerns of Public Health.

Ellie

Dear Ellie,

Why are most wild animals born in the spring.

Cathy R.

Dear Cathy,

They are born in the spring in this climate, but in other parts of the world where the seasons are reversed, so is the arrival of the baby animals.

For the survival of a species, the birth of its young must occur in a season that gives the baby the best chance of living through the period of infancy during which there are so many dangers. This is especially true for animals that live in severe climates, for their time of mating and their gestation period (the length of time that it takes for the baby to develop) are of the greatest importance.

Birth must occur at a time when food is plentiful so that the female will be able to nurse the young. This time is so critical in polar regions that the fertilized egg sometimes remains in the uterus for a long time before hormone signals in the female's body cause it to attach itself and begin to develop into a new life. This delayed implantation assures that the infant, regardless of the time it is conceived, will be born when the food supply is best.

The same principle applies to creatures that lay eggs. Baby birds arrive at the time of year when food supplies are greatest; baby sea turtles hatch when the tides are just right as well as when plenty of food is present; baby snakes arrive when other young creatures are available. The birth of wild animals is governed by a very accurate "biological clock" which assures the survival of the species.

Ellie

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S QUESTION: How can birds drink salty sea water? A number of sea birds can drink sea water without harm to their systems. There are, in fact, some birds which will die from drinking only fresh water. These birds all have special glands in the nasal passage which excrete the excess salt.

QUESTION: How were the coral reefs formed?

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the Merit Students Encyclopedia to Dale Steven Robinson, age 13, of Asheville, N.C., for his question:

HOW DO FISH DIGEST BONES?

The average fish, as we know, is full of sharp little bones, and horrible things happen when we swallow one by accident. Yet this same fish dined mostly on other bony fishes, plus crusty mollusks. Surely he must have special internal organs designed to cope with these tough digestive problems on his daily menu. And so he has.

The 20,000 or so different fishes come in a vast variety of sizes and fantastic shapes. Most of them are hungry meat eaters who gulp down fishes smaller than themselves, bones and all. A few species feed on plankton and floating seaweed, and a few are scavengers who clean up decaying plant and animal food.

ONE WOULD expect the plant eaters to make do with a digestive system suitable for coping with fairly soft foods. However, some of these types have a muscular gizzard suitable for grinding up tough fibers. As a rule, the fish-eating fishes have no gizzard. Yet somehow they manage to cope with bones and the tough shells of crusty mollusks. This is possible because all parts of the digestive system are tough and strong, and some parts are stretchable.

The average fish has a mouthful of sharp teeth, anchored firmly in his jaws. He has more teeth in his throat and maybe more on his tongue or on the roof of his mouth. However, he does not use them for chewing. They are for biting off large, swallowable helpings, which go down his toothy throat to his stretchable gullet.

SOMETIMES the larger bones and tough shells are crushed or partly crushed in the muscular throat and gullet. Otherwise the whole mouthful passes to the stomach. Here it is mashed to a pulp and various juices are added to extract some of the usable food elements.

From the stomach, the mixture of crushed bones and partly digested pulp passes to the intestines. There more juices are added to complete digestion. The undigested wastes, including bits of bone, pass out through the anus, which is on the underside in front of the last lower fin.

Actually the digestive system of a fish-eating fish is not very different from the human digestive system. However, obviously it must be made of tougher material with extra-strong internal walls — otherwise his insides would be pierced and scraped by sharp bones and shells.

Andy sends a 7-volume set of the Chronicles of Narnia to Chase Vokrot, age 8, of Lancaster, Pa., for his question:

HOW MANY KITTENS IN A LITTER OF CATS?

A young house cat may bear only two kittens in her first litter. Later, the average female bears four or five kittens at a time. She may have two or even three litters a year — and continue this private population explosion until the age of 25. These figures apply to the ordinary house cat. They vary for special breeds. For example, the gentle Abyssinian cat usually bears two kittens per litter. The remarkable Siamese may bear eight or nine furry little smarties.

Naturally there is not room for all the possible kittens in the world. Hence, unless good homes are promised, kindly owners have their adult cats neutered to prevent the birth of unwanted kittens. These cat operations are done by an animal doctor. They may seem costly — but surely this is the kindest way to cope with the surplus cat population.

To Speak Sunday

Lt. Cmdr. George Coker, former POW in Vietnam for nearly seven years, will speak on "Stand Up for America" at 10 a.m., Sunday, at Central Baptist Temple, 7661 Warner Ave., Huntington Beach. Dinner on the church grounds will follow the service.

Pressure On Church Magazines

NEW YORK (AP) — Church publications, which have gone through some jolting and sometimes fatal shakeups in recent years, are trying new approaches to keep going.

Some of them are making headway and gaining wider circulation. But the pressures still are on, and another major publication has been added to the toll of casualties.

With the death this June of the monthly magazine "United Methodists Today," the 10-million-member denomination, second largest among Protestants, is without a general church magazine for the first time in 150 years.

THE MAGAZINE was ordered terminated on grounds that in a time of economic recession and world starvation, it was not responsible to keep "spending so much to reach so few," says John Procter, head of the church's publishing house.

Costs and deficits had mounted and circulation fallen.

These were the triple hazards of church publications these days in which survival often depends on denominational subsidies or other supplemental means of shoring up magazine income.

Dennis E. Shoemaker of Chicago, executive secretary of Associated Church Press, an agency serving Protestant and Orthodox publications with a total readership of about 16 million, told a recent meeting of church communication specialists:

"We are now in a 'red alert' where the rule is 'subsidize or perish,' and with that, all the hazards and tensions that come when such assistance must be endured."

St. Andrews Concert Set For Sunday

Barry McGuire, former lead singer for the New Christy Minstrels, will be presented in concert Sunday at 7:30 p.m. by St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Newport Beach.

Performing with Barry is the popular Second Chapter of Acts, one of the hottest groups on the contemporary Christian music scene today. A capacity crowd is expected for the event in Newport Harbor High School Auditorium, Irvine Avenue and 15th Street, Newport Beach.

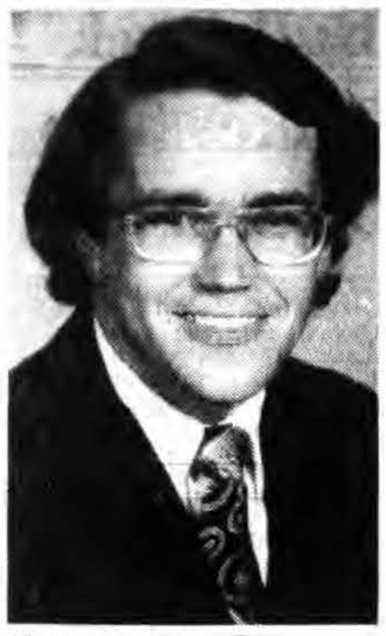
McGuire is known for his songs "Green Green" and "Greenback Dollar," and the landmark hit "Eve of Destruction." The Second Chapter of Acts, a brother and sister trio, are known for their vocal work and have a best-selling album.

Tickets for the concert are available at St. Andrews Church office, 600 St. Andrews Road, Newport Beach; or at Maranatha Village, 2400 Sunflower, Santa Ana.

Newport Temple Selects Cantor

The board of directors of Temple Bat Yahm of Newport Beach (Reform) has announced the appointment of Josef German of Hollywood as cantor for the congregation.

A native of New York, German currently serves Temple Israel of Long Beach and has been associated with Temple Beth Hevah of Fullerton and Hollywood Temple Beth El. He will receive his master's degree in Hebrew Education from the Hebrew Union College in June.



Appointed

The Rev. Dennis B. Holway of Glendale has been named associate minister to Mesa Verde United Methodist Church, 1701 Baker St., Costa Mesa. Mr. Holway has been minister of youth at the Glendale First United Methodist Church for the past five years.

Beautifying Program Set By Adventists

Making the community more beautiful is the main purpose of a bicentennial program beginning this week by the local Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Called "FOUR C'S FOR CENTURY THREE," this program has received official approval from the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration of the U.S. Government. The four C's will include Community Beautification, Campus Beautification, Camp Beautification, and Character Beautification.

"We will be searching for a local project that the church can involve itself in," Pastor Joseph F. Jeffreys says. "We will be looking at our own church plant and making sure it represents the community in the best way possible. Then we want to find something in the community that our church can do to make it a better place to live in."

"Our young people are really enthused about the four C's program. They are already thinking about clean-up projects and other numerous ways in which they can be of help."

'Feeding Hungry'

UCI Chancellor To Speak Sunday

Dr. Daniel G. Aldrich, Jr., chancellor of University of California, Irvine, will speak at the Sunday Forum at 9 a.m., at First United Methodist Church, 19th and Harbor, Costa Mesa.

An international expert in agriculture and world food-population problems, Chancellor Aldrich will speak on "Feeding a Hungry World." The Forum will be open to the public at no charge.

Dr. Aldrich was named first chancellor of the new University of California, Irvine, by the UC Board of Regents Jan. 19, 1962, with responsibility for developing the campus from bare ground to a fully operating institution. He now ranks first in seniority among the chancellors in the nine-campus university system.

FIRST JOINING the University of California as a junior chemist in the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside in 1943, Dr. Aldrich progressed rapidly to professor of Soils and Plant Nutrition on the Davis and Berkeley campuses. In 1958 he was named dean of UC's Division of Agricultural Sciences, from which position he was elevated to that of the Irvine campus chancellorship.

Recipient of many distinguished honors and awards, Chancellor Aldrich is active in both professional and volunteer service organizations of local, state, and national status. He is chairman of the Commission on Academic Affairs, American Council on Education, a director for Stanford Research Institute, president-elect of National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, and chairman, National Academy of Sciences and National Science Foundation Committee on World Food-Population. In this last capacity he recently edited a special commissioned report, "Population and Food: Crucial Issues," which was used by the U.S. delegation to the World Hunger Conference.

The Forum is a summer experiment in adult education being offered by the Commission on Education of the Costa Mesa church. Pastor is Dr. Earl W. Isbell.

WILL ADDRESS FORUM
Dr. Daniel G. Aldrich Jr.

Teachers Sought By Beach Temple

Temple Bat Yahm of Newport Beach is interested in hiring Jewish religious school teachers for their innovative team-teaching approach to Jewish religious education.

Applicants must be well versed in Bible, ethics and history. Classes meet on Sunday mornings. Those interested in teaching in the Hebrew School should apply Wednesday afternoons. Classes begin in September.

All interested and qualified persons are asked to call Rabbi Melvin Silverman, 644-1999.

Summer Slate Set By Israel Academy

Activities at Israel Academy will continue uninterrupted throughout the summer months, according to its dean and rabbi, Robert Jeremiah Bergman.

Academy families will conduct the Sabbath eve services for the remainder of the month of July. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cohen of Long Beach and their family will lead the congregation on July 11. The Joel Gallin family of Mission Viejo are scheduled for July 18, and the family of Dr. and Mrs. Larry Wayne of Irvine on July 25. All services will start at 8:15 p.m. at Academy quarters in the old Irvine School on Sand Canyon Road.

Saturday morning services during July will be conducted by Rabbi David Bouganim, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

A PROGRESSIVE dinner with a Polynesian theme is being planned for Saturday, July 19, ending with a pool party. In charge are Mrs. William Colmer and Mrs. Allen Coen of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Daniel Hayman of Fountain Valley.

Donations Rise

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Giving to the Southern Baptist Convention's national program for the first six months of the church's 1974-75 fiscal year has reached $20.5 million, 8.4 percent ahead of last year, church officials have reported.

Further information and reservations may be secured by calling the Academy office, 552-5556.

Prospective members are being invited to a coffee on the evening of July 23, at the Laguna Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Garfin. Those interested in learning about Israel Academy's program of religious, cultural and social activities are asked to call membership chairman Mrs. Sol Sloan, 497-2978.

Enrollments are still being accepted at the Academy's summer day camp, operating from August 4 through August 29 at University High School in Irvine. Parents wishing to register their children may call Mrs. Joel Gallin, 830-4835, or Mrs. Daniel Hayman, 842-2943.

Pope Considers Trip to America

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If Pope Paul VI attends the 41st International Eucharistic Congress here in 1976, it will be his first official visit as Pope to this country. He visited New York in 1965 but it was an official visit to the United Nations, which is international territory.

In endorsing the congress and its selection of the City of Brotherly Love as its site Aug. 1-8, 1976, Pope Paul indicated that he hoped to be in Philadelphia for the event.

'Summer Adventure' Scheduled

The annual "Summer Adventure" program at First Christian Church, 1207 Main Street, Huntington Beach, is planned for the week of July 28 through August 1, and will be held from 7 to 9 nightly.

The whole family is invited to participate in this year's program which carries the theme "Adventure is Family Enrichment."

DR. MAURICE Wagner, family counselor, will be leading the adult sessions each night. Dr. Wagner had held family enrichment seminars all over the United States and will be including in his discussions such topics as "Husband and Wife Relationships," "Parent and Child Relationships," "Communication in the Home," and "Discipline." There will be a question and answer time each night.

SESSIONS for children and young people through high school age are also being planned. "Jesus Touch Me" is the theme for the week and included will be Bible lessons, crafts, and special mission projects. Five consecutive nights of concentrated Bible teaching will be held.

The program is being planned under the leadership of Mmes. Barbara Biddle and Marvin Garrett.

For additional information and reservations, call the church office.

Back Again

Youth minister Fred Pettet and his talking bear, Gina, will be featured again this year at the second annual Newport-Mesa Christian Center's camp for kids, ages 9-12. From July 28 through Aug. 2, children can participate in scheduled activities ranging from horseback riding and swimming to puppet shows at a mountain camp in northern San Diego County. For information about the camp, dial 645-6627.

Mateo School Drug Use Drops Slightly

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Use of drugs, alcohol and tobacco has begun to drop here slightly among high school and junior high school students, according to a survey.

The survey, conducted in high schools and junior highs throughout San Mateo County, a suburban area south of San Francisco, showed that, for the first time in eight years, there was a slight drop in most categories of drug use.

However, Mrs. Lilian Blackford, who carried out the study, warned that heroin use continues at a high level and remains a serious problem.

She said the slight drop in drug use statistics this year follows some indication in last year's survey suggesting a leveling off of drug use by high school and junior high school students.

USE OF marijuana and alcoholic beverages dropped in 1975 for the first time since the survey was started in 1968. Other substances, such as tobacco and heroin, also were used less this year, according to the study.

Kenneth Graham, of the San Mateo High School District, said there was no apparent reason for the reduction unless the use of these substances was "reaching a saturation point."

THE QUESTIONnaires were separated into 36 categories by age, sex and grade level. In 27 of them, declines in use were indicated in the new survey.

For example, those who said they used alcohol 10 or more times during the year dropped from 54.5 percent in 1974 to 54.3 percent this year. For those using alcohol more than 50 times a year, the percentage declined from 29.2 to 27.5.

"This is, to say the least, one of the most hopeful findings we have been able to report from the entire set of eight surveys," Mrs. Blackford said.

Jail Term

King Easy Winner; Connors Favored

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean King won the Wimbledon tennis crown for the sixth time Friday and bowed out of major tournament singles play on an all-time high.

She battered 1971 winner Evonne Goolagong Cawley of Australia, 6-0, 6-1 in the most one-sided women's final since 1951 when Doris Hart defeated Shirley Fry 6-1, 6-0.

"That's it," said King, 31, who has thrilled Wimbledon crowds since she came here as Billie Jean Moffitt 15 years ago. "I will not play singles at Forest Hills. When I say I'm quitting, I mean it.

"I may come back here for doubles. And I shall go on playing in World Team Tennis."

Many of the 17,000 fans spent the night on the sidewalks outside the All-England Club to get a standing place for King's farewell. But it was anticlimactic.

About all they could say was that they were there when King equalled an all-time Wimbledon women's record by collecting her 19th title, including singles and doubles. Another Californian, Elizabeth Ryan, won 19 doubles crowns between the two world wars.

Perhaps today's men's final will provide the excitement they seek when defending champion Jimmy Connors, 22, and Arthur Ashe, at 31 a 12-year veteran of Wimbledon but never a winner, meet. Connors is a 3-1 favorite.

Cawley could not put two good shots together. She managed only 10 points in the first set and 14 in the second. King could do no wrong. She served and volleyed and hit passing shots and lobs and had it wrapped up in 39 minutes.

Channel 4 at 9:30, 2

"I played with my brain," said Billie Jean, "Plus, I don't think she knew what hit her. Every shot was so close to the net she couldn't read it."

Cawley threw away one point after another. The crowd thought something was wrong with her. But her past record was true to form. When she is good, she is very good, when she is bad, she is awful. She is known for lapses in concentration, "walkabouts," as they are known in the Australian outback.

Her husband of three weeks, British businessman Roger Cawley, said: "There was nothing wrong with her. When she went on court she was no less confident than for any other match. It was just one of those things."

Evonne began the match with a double-fault and lost her service at love. In the next game she forced Billie Jean to three deuces, but that was the only time she got into the match until she won her only game — the fifth of the second set.

Billie Jean has become as much a part of Wimbledon as the ivy on the walls and the boxed hydrangeas around the tea tents. She first played in the final, and lost, as an eager 19-year-old in 1963.

Then she began winning the title — in 1966, 1967, 1968, 1972 and 1973. The crowd got tired of seeing the same champion so often and turned against her.

"I've seen the fans turn full circle," she said. "They loved me at first, then they disliked me, and now I feel they've come back on my side."

Receiving the trophy was routine for King. She curtsied to the Duke of Kent, Queen Elizabeth's cousin, who presented the plate then said: "Ah, you've done it again."

Here is a list of Billie Jean King's 19 Wimbledon championships:

Borzov Sparkles

Soviets Dominate American Spikers

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Soviet track stars, led by Olympic gold medalist Valery Borzov, dominated a weary American men's team and Soviet women blasted American and Bulgarian opponents on the opening day of a two-day track and field meet.

Soviet men won six of the nine events and led 55-39, while Soviet women won all but one of seven events and had 49 points compared with 24 for the Americans.

The meet, cancelled and later rescheduled after a squabble over television rights, was hastily assembled and some U.S. competitors, including Bill Shuff, arrived in Kiev only four hours before the start of the meet.

Both the hammer throw and the pole vault were delayed until today, the latter because the Americans' poles had not arrived.

U.S. coach Lee Calhoun had asked that the meet be termed "friendly" with no points tallied, but the Soviets declined.

American Joni Huntley won the women's high jump at 6-0½ for the U.S. women's only victory. Kathy Schmidt of Long Beach managed 197-10 in the javelin to finish behind Svatlana Babich at 203-4.

Otherwise, the Soviet women almost swept the board, also taking the sprints and the 400-meter relay.

In the men's competition, Borzov tied his national record in the 100 meters at 10.0 and came back to anchor the Soviet team to a meet record of 38.7 seconds in the 400 relay.

A bright spot was provided by American Mike Shine who stepped off a plane less than 24 hours before the meet began and won the 400-meter hurdles on the surface slickened by a day-long downpour. The 50.0 clocking was his best of the season.

Russians swept the javelin, 100 dash, 10,000 meters and the triple jump.

But Ken Popejoy brought the U.S. men's team back with a victory in the 1,500, winning in 3:42.6. Steve Heidenreich, another late American arrival, took second.

In the 400, the American men swept, with Stan Vinson the winner in 45.8. Robert Taylor fought off Soviet Semyon Kocher for second.

The Bulgarian women were entered in the meet, to the surprise of the Americans, but their best placing was by Rositsa Pekhlivanova, who took second in the 1,500.

U.S. Leads Russia In Juniors Meet

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Three Americans, including sprint sensation Houston McTear, got in on four of the six records broken Friday on the first round of the two-day fourth annual Russian-American junior track meet.

At the end of the first day's competition, the U.S. men's team led 64-53 and the American girls were ahead 36-26.

McTear, 18, of Baker, Fla., who had tied the world 100-yard dash record of nine seconds flat two months ago, dominated his two events and claimed hushed attention from the crowd in the moments before his races started.

He took the 100-meter dash in 10.2, tying the meet record set by Michigan State's Marshall Dill in 1972.

McTear was leadoff runner and gave his 440-yard relay unit a 10-foot edge at the first baton pass. The team of McTear, Dwayne Strozier, Joel Andrews and Lamar Preyor was clocked in 39.6, tying the old standard set by an American team in 1972.

Brenda Morehead, 17, of Toledo, Ohio, ran the women's 100 in 11.4, toppling the record of 11.54 by Russia's Ludmilla Yushatik in 1972.

Morehead was leadoff runner on the record-breaking 440-yard relay record, timed in 44.8. The old mark was 45.25 by an American team last year.

In the men's 400 hurdles, Zhasiliy Arkhipenko was timed in 51.5, tying the standard by America's George Haley in 1973.

Russia's Vladimir Kiselev tossed the shot a record 61-1, bettering the previous mark of 60-10¼ by former Newport Harbor High standout Terry Albritton in 1973.

Paul Jordan, 18, Philadelphia, had a 53-9 effort in the triple jump, breaking the 53-5 record by Russia's Milikail Syegal in 1972.

Sixteen-year-old Nancy Kindig, one of the youngest contestants, claimed the first victory for the American girls' team.

Kindig, one of four contestants in the five-event pentathlon, was clocked in 14.3 in the 110-meter hurdles, nipping Russia's Aili Alikso by a stride.

Some 6,000 fans watched the opening-day competition in the University of Nebraska's Ed Weir Stadium under a bright sky, temperatures in the 90s and little wind.

Holtzman Baffles Angels, 6-0

OAKLAND (AP) — Lefthander Ken Holtzman pitched a four-hitter and Bill North singled home two runs to lead the Oakland A's to a 6-0 victory over the California Angels Friday night.

Holtzman, 9-7, posted his sixth victory in the last seven games. He gave up singles to Mickey Rivers in the first inning and Lee Stanton in the fifth, a bunt single to Jerry Remy in the seventh and a single by Dave Collins leading off the ninth.

The A's took a 2-0 lead against loser Frank Tanana, 6-5, in the fifth inning. Sal Bando led off with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice by Phil Garner. One out late, Bert Campaneris singled to put runners on first and third. Campaneris then stole second. North singled to left field to score two runs.

On TV Today

Channel 5 at 1:30

The A's made it 3-0 in the sixth inning when Stanton dropped Joe Rudi's fly ball to right field. Rudi went to third on a long fly by Gene Tenace and scored on a single by Ray Fosse.

The A's added two runs in the seventh on Tenace's single and another in the eighth on a run-scoring hit by Claudell Washington.

Campaneris led off the Oakland seventh with a single. North sacrificed and Washington beat out a hit to shortstop. Reggie Jackson grounded to short but the ball was booted for an error to load the bases. Rudi struck out but Tenace singled to center to score two runs.

Gregory Picks UCI

Hurdler Wilbur Gregory, a graduate of Mission Viejo High, has signed a letter of intent to attend UC Irvine. Gregory was the CIF 2-A champion in the 120 highs and finished fourth in the state meet. His best time was 13.6.

Sun Faces Texas Foe At Big A

The name is still Southern California but the nickname is Sun instead of Trojans.

That's the case for three of the World Football League's newest offensive stars from the University of Southern California — as they make their debuts tonight when the Sun opens the 1975 WFL exhibition season against the San Antonio Wings at Anaheim Stadium.

A crowd of about 15,000 is expected for the 7:30 kickoff.

The three University of Southern California offensive stars are expected to see plenty of action in the game. Quarterback Pat Haden, receiver John McKay and running back Anthony Davis are all slated to play.

However, Haden may only play in the second half because Daryle Lamonica, formerly of the Oakland Raiders, will play the first half. Lamonica will be starting his 13th year in professional football.

That sort of backfield indicates the Sun won't have trouble moving the ball, and it wasn't offense but defense that coach Tom Fears was worried about. But he said things look better than he expected.

"We're much stronger both offensively and defensively," he said. "I had my doubts about the defense when we lost linebacker Cleveland Vann but we're much more physical up front and that's where the battle is won." Vann signed with the Miami Dolphins.

The Sun defensive line of Charles DeJurnett, Rick Kukulica, Dave Roller and Neal Skarin averages 6 feet 3 and 265 pounds. Roller led the WFL in quarterback sacks last year.

Davis, the muscular but shifty halfback, and 240-pound fullback Greg Herd start with Lamonica in the backfield.

Former Sun quarterback Gary Valbuena may play for the Wings. He was traded to San Antonio for Paul Miles, a running back. Miles, at Memphis last year, gained more than 3,000 yards in three years at Bowling Green University.

Yanks Sign 14-year-old Canadian

THOROLD, Ont. — The New York Yankees signed 14-year-old catcher Mark Plantery of Thorold to a contract Friday.

Bill Wray, a scout for the American League team who first spotted Plantery in a youth tournament last year, said the catcher is "probably the youngest player ever signed by the Yankees."

Wray said he was impressed by the "physical and emotional maturity" displayed by the 6-0, 185-pound Plantery.

Wray said he was convinced Plantery "has the potential to be a better-than-average major league catcher." Plantery will attend the Yankees' instructional headquarters at Oneonta, N.Y. during August. He plans to return to Oneonta next spring after completing his senior year of high school.

Cycle Winners

Bob Schwartz of Santa Barbara captured the handicap main event and Jeff Sexton of Montclair won the scratch main to highlight motorcycle racing at the Orange County Fairgrounds Friday night.

Schwartz defeated Wayne Lewis of Huntington Beach and Mike Curoso, also of Huntington. Sexton downed Van Nuys' Mike Bast, Huntington's Rick Woods and Redondo Beach's Steve Nutter.

Fred Sidner of Stanton won the third division main event.

A crowd of 4,615 viewed the action.

Petty Triumphs

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Richard Petty shed his summertime jinx at Daytona International Speedway Friday and outdrove former teammate Buddy Baker for a three-second victory in the Firecracker 400 stock car race.

The winner's red and blue Dodge averaged 158.381 miles per hour to capture his first Firecracker victory. Baker led most of the race in a Ford, but couldn't hold up under a finishing charge by Petty in an exciting see-saw battle through the race's final 20 miles. Petty and Baker were the only drivers to finish in the same lap.

Double Winner

INGLEWOOD — Fernando Toro, the 34-year-old Chilean-born jockey, rode the winners of both divisions in the American Handicap at Hollywood Park Friday when he brought in Pass The Glass in the first and 19-1 shot Montmartre in the second.

Pass The Glass, a 4-year-old Buckpasser colt, captured the $87,550 first division by a neck over Big Band with Against The Snow third, three-quarters of a length back.

Pass The Glass paid $8.20, $4.20 and $3.60, Big Band returned $4 and $3.60 and Against The Snow was $6 in the field of 11.

Montmartre returned $43.20, $17 and $6.40 Top Crowd, an even longer shot, paid $46 and $12.60 and Ancient Title returned $3.

Harvard Loses

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England—Harvard University's JV boat, which defeated Orange Coast College Thursday, was defeated by an English crew from Isis Club, Oxford, in the Henley Royal Regatta Friday.

Dodgers Take the Count

Giants' Montefusco Beats LA, 1-0

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Derrel Thomas raced home on Willie Montanez' fifth-inning grounder and John Montefusco made the run stand up with an eight-hitter that gave the San Francisco Giants a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night.

Montefusco, called "The Count," beat the Dodgers for the third time in four decisions this year. He struck out 10 batters en route to his third shutout of the season.

With one out in the fifth, Dodgers pitcher Andy Messersmith, 12-5, hit Thomas with a pitch. Bobby Murcer singled to right, sending Thomas to third. Montanez then grounded to second baseman Dave Lopes, whose toss to shortstop Bill Russell got the forceout. But Murcer's slide broke up the attempted double play and Thomas scored.

Rustlers In 9-0 Victory

NORWALK—Doug Moll and Dwayne Douglas combined to toss a four-hitter, sparking Hawaiian Gardens to a 9-0 baseball win over Wreidt Boats in Coast Connie Mack League play at Cerritos College Friday.

Moll pitched the first five innings, striking out three and allowing the four hits. Douglas tossed the last two frames, fanning one.

Rick Hibbard and Tim Richards drove in two runs each for Hawaiian Gardens, a team composed of Golden West College players.

Hibbard had a single and a sacrifice fly while Richards stroked a double and a single. Tom Freman also had a double for the Rustlers.

The victory was Hawaiian Gardens' 9th in 13 games. The Rustlers return to play tonight, facing Coletto Ford at 6 at Long Beach's Blair Field.

Seacliff

Five teams tied for first place in a mixer tournament with the men's club at Huntington Seacliff Country Club recently.

Jim Thompson and Alice Acklin were on one squad at 63. Others included Jim Crawford and Geri Hege; Pat Galvin and Juliene Adams; Dan Tannehill and Connie Lonergan; and Bill Hanes with Middie Benner.

All alone at 64 were Bill Noack and Stu Dudley. Larry Jacobs and Karen Ewall were next at 65.

Four other teams tied at 66 including E. P. Corntassel and Corrine Richardson; Leroy Gae and Ann Lewis; J. Gibson and Irene Pare; and Si Williams with Freda Silverman.

Closest to the pin honors went to Mary VanderSommen who shared her prize with partner Whitey Sprague.

Irvine Coast

In a mini-guest event at Irvine Coast Country Club, winners were determined by matching scorecards in case of ties.

Low gross honors went to Sally Cohn and Brenda King of Braemer Country Club with a 78. Second gross went to Dory Amen and Maxine Duggan of Santa Ana CC at 80.

In net action in A flight, Gloria DaRos and Norma Thompson of Red Hill CC posted a 63 for top honors.

Other winners included Bobbie Smith and Billie Segrist (Santa Ana CC) at 65; Cay Halberg and Kathleen Meyer (Big Canyon CC) at 66; Janise Whiteside and Billy Tomlinson (Arrowhead CC) at 67.

Also at 67 were Bette Cathcart and Joyce Hopton (El Niguel CC). In at 68 were Barbara Limacher and Inez Stansbury (Santa Ana CC).

At 69 were Dody Grant and Patti Hoyt (Santa Ana CC); Rose Sleight and Nadine Maze (Mission Viejo CC).

Also at 69 were Nancy Barnes and Mary Varley (Santa Ana CC) along with Carolyn Gray and Ada Hallett (Big Canyon CC).

In B flight, Mary Sork and Maxine Poyas of Big Canyon CC finished with an 87 for gross honors after matching out Jean O'Skea and Mary Doupe of Big Canyon CC.

Marion Paris and Dorothy Lazier of Big Canyon CC won net honors with 65. Bea Freebairn and Pat Ifverson (El Niguel CC) won over Pat Morris and Virginia McCartney (Santa Ana CC) at 66.

Three teams tied at 67 with June Rushforth and Ginny Boardwell (El Niguel CC) matching out ahead of Kay Jennison and Barbara DeFranco (Big Canyon CC) and Babs Hesik and Jean Yardley (Big Canyon CC).

Four others finished at 68 and were placed in this order: Gloria Mallory and Ellie Schmidt (El Niguel CC); Rosalee Wine and Joan Smith (Mission Viejo CC); Ernestine Valdez and Mrs. Glen Bradwell (El Niguel CC) and Dorothy Bowen with Rosalee Hart (Santa Ana CC).

In a medal play tournament, Dorothy and Carolyn Gray tied for first in A flight with 70. Jean O'Skea was next at 73, followed by Katie Gardner (74) and a tie at 75 between Helen Valentine and Bobbie Smith.

Maria Dusti won B flight with 70, followed by Miss Erle Martin (72), Jackie Brown (73), D. J. Swangon (73) and Shirley King (74).

Mary Turner won C flight with 70. Betty Henderson finished second at 73, followed by Betty Grubb (75) and a tie at 77 between B. J. Johnsen and Jewell May.

Margaret McKenzie and Kay Wright finished at 70 to tie for D flight honors. Margaret Howard was next at 75, followed by Eleanor Nelson (79), Mary Burke, Lillian Musich and Chris Vernon at 81.

Betty Burnett was the winner of a three blind mice event with a 52 score in A flight.

Other A flight winners included Margaret Rife (54), Dorothy Gray and Carolyn Gray (55) and Gloria DaRos (56).

Jeri Mirams was the B flight victor with 51, followed by Jenda Horne (52), June Rushforth (53) and Jean Taylor (54).

Betty Henderson captured C flight with 49, followed by Gloria Mallory and Nudie Wright at 50, Bea Freebairn, Joyce Norman and Elaine Rush at 53 and Pat Clarkson at 55.

Sonia Kelley won D flight with 50, followed by Shirley Pobe (51), Lillian Mufich (52) and Olive Wiggenhorn (53).

Laguna Beach

In a low net tournament for the women's golf club of Laguna Beach recently, Diane Stys was the A flight winner with a 72.

Margie Davison won B flight with 61 with Martha Beaumont second at 62.

Jean Abajian won C flight with 65 with Ruth LaPorte second at 71.

Alamitos Favorites Qualify

As expected, Pass Over and Timeto Thinkrich, two of the three richest active quarter horses in America, each won a division of the Vessels Maturity Trials Friday night at Los Alamitos to unofficially qualify for next week's $100,200 Maturity.

Pass Over, a loser of her first nine West Coast starts, finally broke that winning streak by winning a head-bobbing contest with She's Precious in the first division of the trials and moments later Timeto Thinkrich made it look easier, winning by a half length, although slower.

Pass Over, a winner of more than $450,000 during her racing career, led from start to finish while carrying 124 pounds to her narrow nose victory over stablemate She's Precious. She officially ran the distance in 21.77 seconds. She paid $5.40 as the 8-5 favorite and combined with She's Precious for a 3-6 exacta worth $46.50.

In the second heat, Timeto Thinkrich had little trouble getting away from the gate but raced only head-and-head with Smooth Me for much of the quarter mile dash before drawing away under hand urging to win the second heat.

John Watson handled the riding chores on the 1-2 public choice who paid $3.

Wall Leads Tourney

MILWAUKEE (AP) Veteran Art Wall, who had not shot a competitive round in the 60s until two days ago, fired his third consecutive five-under-par 67 Friday for a three-stroke lead going into today's final round of the $130,000 Greater Milwaukee Open golf tournament.

Wall, 51, who amassed 13 victories in 26 years on the tour, but none since 1966, showed a 201 total, 15 under par for three rounds on the 7,010-yard Tuckaway Country Club course.

Gibby Gilbert was second at 204 after a third-round 69.

Newport Beach's Alan Tapie fired a 68 Friday and trails Wall by six strokes. Tapie had previous rounds 69 and 70.

Leading scores after Friday's third round of the $130,000 Greater Milwaukee Open golf tournament:

Art Wall	67-67-67—201
Gibby Gilbert	69-66-69—204

Kennedy's Garcia

North Linebacker Headed for Ohio St.

Kennedy High School is one of three schools with four players on the North roster for the 16th annual North-South Orange County all-star football game to be played at Orange Coast College Saturday night, July 12.

The others are Servite with two prep All-Americans, and El Dorado, the school that also has the entire coaching staff in tow for the North squad under head man Glen Hastings.

Joe Garcia, a linebacker, has looked good in recent practice sessions and is one of two players in this year's game with full scholarships to Big-10 schools.

Garcia has been accepted by Ohio State and the South's Jim Wigmore of Mater Dei High, will attend Illinois.

"Garcia is probably the biggest linebacker at 220 that we have had at Kennedy," his coach John Hangartner says.

"He has good speed and he's very agile. He's also a good reader on defense which is very important in that position. He played some fullback for us, but was used mainly on defense. He was ready in case of an injury but we didn't use him there very often."

Hangartner is also high in his praise of tailback Bob Terranova.

"He's very compact and hard to bring down because he's low to the ground," Hangartner says. "He's an excellent blocker as well as an outstanding runner and last year he gained just under 1,000 yards—it was 996, I believe."

Mike White is listed as an offensive guard on the North roster and is a three-year letterman at Kennedy. "He was co-captain of our team last year and he's an outstanding student," Hangartner says.

White, along with Garcia and Terranova, is an all-league selection. He will attend UCLA but will not play football for the Bruins.

The fourth member of the North team from Kennedy is Don Costantino, a tight end who is listed on defense by Hastings.

The North squad has today and Sunday off and will resume full drills Monday evening at 5 at El Dorado High.

TRANSPAC YACHTS GET AWAY TO LIGHT WIND START
Huge Spectator Fleet Hampers Starting Fleet First Leg of Race to Catalina

Transpac Start Ragged

By ALMON LOCKABEY
Daily Pilot Boating Editor

Light, fluky winds from the south-southwest got the 65 yachts in the Transpac race off to a ragged start Friday, and an uncontrolled spectator fleet of hundreds of power and sailboats didn't help matters.

A light fog continued to hang over the shore from Point Fermin to Point Vicente as the crack of a small cannon sent the racers off on a beat to the west end of Catalina Island, the first and only mark of the 2,225-mile course.

RAGTIME, THE 1973 elapsed time winner, was first across the line at the leeward end, followed by the red-hulled Sunset Boulevard at the windward end. Conception crossed the line on port tack at the leeward end but was soon left astern by Ragtime which had flopped over from starboard in crossing the line.

But by the time the race was an hour old, Jacob Wood's 61-foot sloop Sorcery had picked up clear air near the beach and overhauled Ragtime.

WHEN LAST SEEN at 2 p.m. Sorcery was leading Ragtime by about 100 yards. Both boats were close-hauled, and well to weather of the rest of the fleet. A few hundred yards behind Ragtime was the 50-foot sloop Warrior, sailed by Bruce Hedrick of Seattle. Warrior was the Class A handicap winner in the 1973 race.

Meanwhile, such glamour yachts as Windward Passage, the elapsed time record-holder for the race; Sumner A. Long's Ondine, New York, and the Australian entry Ballyhoo were struggling through the spectator fleet down to leeward. All three of the big Class A favorites got buried in the middle of the line at the start.

LAST BOAT ACROSS the line, 9½ minutes behind the gun, was the 39-foot sloop Concubine, skippered by Richard Daniels, Huntington Beach. The two big schooners, Serena and Constellation, engaged in a last-minute tacking duel to see which crossed the line first — eight minutes behind the gun. They crossed about even.

The big double-stickers such as Windward Passage, Ondine Serena and Constellation were expected to make their presence felt if and when the wind fairs and increases during the night on the other side of Catalina.

BUT LATE WEATHER reports gave little indication that the wind would increase in the early stages of the race as the Pacific high pressure area was moving in a southeast direction toward the course.

Some 1,200 miles to the south, however, hurricane winds up to 100 knots were reported moving north-northwest from the Mexican coast. It is doubtful if the racing fleet will sail far enough south to feel the effects of the tropical disturbance.

Thunderboats Rev Up

MADISON, Ind. (AP) — Picture a 30-foot boat flying over the waves at 200 miles an hour, spraying its wake 75 feet into the air.

That's a thunderboat.

The unlimited hydroplane fleet is made up of a handful of the monster boats that travel around the United States each summer, racing on some of the nation's roughest waters.

THIS WEEKEND they're here for Sunday's 24th annual Indiana Governor's Cup Race on the Ohio River course.

Thunderboats are the largest and fastest racing boats in the world, weighing a minimum of 4,000 pounds and measuring at least 28 feet long. They're required to have an internal combustion or turbine engine that turns a propeller.

Those are the only specifications, hence the name "unlimited."

IT'S A DANGEROUS sport, one in which the fickle turn of a wave can turn a speeding thunderboat into a capsized raft and send the driver from the open cockpit into the often unyielding water.

At racing speed, only the trailing edges of the two pontoon-like sponsons at either side of the boat and the bottom blade of the special forged-steel propeller touch the water.

Most of the boats are powered by 12-cylinder aircraft engines which were all the rage in World War II. They were all made by Allison and Rolls-Royce Merlin. And they get the big boats moving faster than 200 m.p.h. on the race course straightaways.

THE ENGINES, originally devleloped to put out about 2,200 horsepower, actually deliver 1,000 to 1,500 more horsepower than that at racing speeds.

They were designed to turn at a maximum of 2,800 revolutions per minute — but internal modifications and the push of competition has consistently raised that to as much as 4,500 r.p.m.

In fighter aircraft, these engines were overhauled every 300-400 hours. An unlimited hydroplane engine cannot be operated for more than one hour without being completely disassembled. Many of the hard-working engines last less than one 15-mile heat due to the terrific strain.

THE PROPELLERS IN these boats are a surprisingly small 13 inches in diameter. They are hand-forged in Italy and cost about $1,000 apiece.

A tremendous degree of pitch in the propeller gives the boat its speed and, when the propeller dips into the water, sends up a "rooster-tail," a spray 75 feet into the air and 100 yards long.

Several owners have tested the turbine engines but none has been successful enough to cause a mass change in the fleet. The big problem has been finding a hull design to withstand the power of the stronger turbines.

Newport's Clark Heads Boat Show

Horace Clark of Newport Beach has been elected president of the Southern California Marine Association which annually sponsors the Long Beach Sailboat Show and the Southern California Boat Show.

Clark is president of Fox Marine Specialties of Long Beach and has been active in the pleasure boating field most of his life. He was elected to the board of directors of SCMA in 1973 and served as vice president in 1974.

Bill Kettenburg of Kettenburg Marine, San Diego, was elected vice president; Joe Carver, Carver Craft, Newport Beach, secretary; Bid Aronis, Boat and Motor Sales, treasurer, and Ed Nichols, assistant treasurer.

The sailboat show is scheduled Oct. 24-Nov. 2 at the Long Beach Arena, and the general boats show will be held Jan. 30-Feb. 8 at the Los Angeles Convention Center.

U.S. Grant

SAN DIEGO (AP) — San Diego County has received a $1.42 million federal grant to expand paramedical services, says county paramedical director Sylvia Micik. The grant will also benefit communities in neighboring Imperial County.

Julia: No Fear of 'Fear of Flying'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Said Julia Phillips to the Columbia Pictures brass: "I would like to propose an idea whose time has come — me."

She was making a bold proposal: that she direct as well as produce the film version of Erica Jong's sensational novel, "Fear of Flying."

Only a handful of women, notably Dorothy Arzner, Ida Lupino and Elaine May, have succeeded as directors of American movies.

MRS. PHILLIPS recalled the reaction over lunch by Columbia Pictures President David Begelman: "After compulsively consuming 14 rolls, he agreed that it might be a good idea."

She discussed the new adventure at her Benedict Canyon home where she was pausing briefly from preparation of six films. Only a summer flu could slow her down.

She lives on a quiet street with her daughter Kate, 2. The most noticeable features of the house are a pool table in the middle of the living room and an Oscar on the hearth.

JULIA WON it for coproducing "The Sting" with her estranged husband, Michael, and Tony Bill.

"Some people are saying that I had it in mind all along to direct 'Fear of Flying,' " said Mrs. Phillips, a plain-talking, curly haired woman of 30. "Not true. I certainly would prefer to direct something smaller for my first picture.

New Cop on the Policemen Writing for TV Beat

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Ex-Sgt. Joe Wambaugh, meet Capt. Art Deutesh of the 70th Precinct in Brooklyn. He's your newest competitor in the Police Who Write About Police Dept. Television Division.

True, he's still a writing rookie, despite his rank. He has just one TV credit — a mounted police story used on NBC's "McCloud" this season.

By contrast, Wambaugh, a former member of Los Angeles' finest, has written several successful police novels and created NBC's "Police Story" series.

But Deutesh plans to keep at his off-duty writing in hopes of making another TV sale. He's even gotten an agent, Lucy Kroll, whom he says is trying to sell his "Stable 11" series idea to Hollywood.

He says that idea, like the story he sold Glen A. Larson executive producer of "McCloud," draws from his experiences in 1973 as commanding officer of New York City's horse-borne police unit.

Deutesh, 42, a decorated veteran of 19 years on the force here, most of them as a detective, said he's written some short fiction stories based on his experiences as a cop. But none ever got published.

He said he decided to try his luck with TV after watching "McCloud" one Sunday: "I guess I've probably got more nerve than brains, but I called up Universal Studios and asked to speak to Larson."

Larson, who'd been looking for new plots for the show, says Deutesh mailed him a story idea with notes on how the year might go. Mike Gleason, a professional writer, composed the actual shooting script.

Movie Set On Career Of Flynn

LOS ANGELES (AP) Universal Pictures continues delving into Hollywood's past. Next in line for the film biography treatment: Errol Flynn.

President Sid Sheinberg announced that Bob Merrill will write an original screenplay based on the adventures of the late Flynn, who starred at Universal in the waning years of his career. The studio is currently filming the life of W. C. Fields and the romance of Clark Gable and Carole Lombard.

Merrill wrote lyrics for the Broadway musicals "Funny Girl" and "Sugar" and both lyrics and music for "Carnival."

New Robin Film Cast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert Shaw and Richard Harris have joined the cast of Richard Lester's new account of doings in Sherwood Forest, "Robin and Marian."

Shaw, currently appearing in "Jaws," will portray the sheriff of Nottingham in the Columbia Picture, and Harris will be King Richard the Lionhearted. Sean Connery has already been cast as Robin Hood, with Audrey Hepburn as Maid Marian.

"Robin and Marian," an original screen play by James Goldman, starts filming on European locations next month.

?Trivia??? By T.T.

New champion Bobbi-Jean Alicat didn't let up a bit in the final triviathon for the first half of 1975. She, along with runner-up and 1974 titleholder Max Fraley, Chris Trela and the young but resourceful D.D.T. boys all turned in perfect scores of 1' points.

Tracy Godfrey and John Dough deadlocked for second place laurels with 10 correct answers each while the Howard Roark All Stars solved 9½. Tied for third at nine apiece were Ed Schmerler, Nancy Prior Lotta Motta and Trina Williams.

Thus, Bobbi-Jean wraps up the second trivia tussle by a good 10½ points, with Max, John, Ed and Tracy rounding out the top five. Now it's back to the starting blocks for a brand new contest, which will run through December.

TRIVIA STANDINGS

1. Bobbi-Jean Alicat (11)	254½	13. Diana Behl	136½
2. Max Fraley (11)	244	14. John Russell (5)	130½
3. John Dough (10)	241	15. Lenette Romanosky (8)	130½
4. Ed Schmerler (9)	236	16. Dennis Jeffrey (5)	105½
		17. Lotta Motta (9)	73½
5. Tracy Godfrey (10)	228½	18. Maryk Baurucker	64½
6. Howard Roark All Stars (9½)	222½	19. Dennis Wilhoit	63½
7. Nancy Prior (9)	191	20. Lynne Trujillo	57½
8. Chris Trela (11)	179½	21. Randy McIntire	32½
9. Trina Williams (9)	175	Roger Odil	32½
10. Barbara Delgado (8)	167	22. Harry Finch (3)	31
11. Shawn Layden	158	23. Harold Rapel	7½
12. D.D.T. (11)	156½	24. Kendrick Korp	5

THIS WILL GIVE our newer triviaddicts a chance to start out on an even footing with those who have been part of the column for its first two years. And some who have dropped by the wayside can rejoin the pack this week.

If you miss a week without notifying the triviaeditor in advance, your score will be half of your most recent card. Advance notification will allow you to receive the questions in the mail so that you may compete equally with the rest of the field.

Number nine is worth the two-point bonus as we launch our third long-range contest today. Good hunting.

1. NAME THE MOVIE made by Rowan and Martin at the peak of their Laugh-In popularity.
2. In what Marx Brothers movie did Lucille Ball appear?
3. Identify the creator of the comic strip Harold Teen.
4. "You're not a kid anymore" was the introduction to what pop music hit of the early 1960s?
5. Van Heflin sat on one side of Helen Hayes in the movie "Airport." Who sat on the other?

6. WHAT WAS PAUL Newman's pet name for Brandon DeWilde in the movie "Hud?"
7. Name the real-life admiral to whom naval officers Johnson, MacMurray and Francis nearly took their gripes about Captain Queeg in "The Caine Mutiny."
8. "Claude Horribly" was a radio character played by what well-known comedian?
9. Ed Platt's "Chief" character in TV's Get Smart had a first name which he rarely used. What was it?

10. IN WHAT MOVIE and stage comedy of recent years would you find the character of Bartholomew Smuts?

Last Week's Answers

1. The Tropicana (Ricky's night club)
2. "Anchors Aweigh" (Kelly and Jerry)
3. Nancy Kelly (radio Dorothy)
4. "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered" (Pal Joey lyrics)
5. Mickey Rooney (Bridges of Toko Ri)
6. "I'll Cry Tomorrow" (Conte, Albert and Danton)
7. The Illustrated Press (Big Town)
8. Porifiro and Panchito (Gordo worms)
9. "My Zelda" (Matilda parody)
10. Moon Lake Casino ("Streetcar" club)

Japan's Best In 'Midway'

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Japan's premier movie actor, Toshiro Mifune, was in the black uniform of the Japanese Navy, with three gold symbols on his collar.

MIFUNE

"They are not stars but cherry blossoms; that's why we lost the war," he joked.

Mifune was on the bridge of a battleship — actually a set at Universal Studio — posing for publicity pictures with Adm. Chester Nimitz in the person of Henry Fonda. Mifune is portraying Nimitz' foe, Adm. Isoroku Yamamoto, in the film "Midway."

After the photographs, Mifune presented Fonda with an ornate Japanese officer's sword and belt. The American actor was deeply impressed, and he asked for Mifune's signature on a "Midway" script printed entirely in Japanese.

MIFUNE HAD JUST reported for his scenes in the naval epic. It is his first Hollywood movie, although he has appeared in such American-backed films as "Grand Prix," "Hell in the Pacific," "Red Sun" and "Paper Tiger."

Chatting with a reporter, he apologized for his English, which isn't bad at all. But he preferred to speak through an interpreter, who happened to be Miko Taka, Marlon Brando's leading lady in "Sayonara."

For his role as Yamamoto, Mifune had acquired a crewcut hairpiece. "A beautiful job; it's hard to find good short hairpieces," said Fonda admiringly. Mifune also steeped himself in naval history.

"Mr. Mifune always does enormous research for his roles," explained the California-born Miss Taka. "He even sent the script to Minoru Genda (air operations officer at Midway) and to Yamamoto's son so they could authenticate it."

"THE SCRIPT IS good," added Mifune. "It is not really a documentary, because some fictional characters are used, such as Garth (Charlton Heston) and his son (Edward Albert). But the facts of the battle are true, and I think it is important for the new generation to know them and to understand the stupidity of war."

Mifune has played Yamamoto before, in a Japanese-made biography of the admiral, and he was scheduled to repeat the role in 20th Century Fox's re-creation of the Pearl Harbor attack, "Tora Tora Tora!"

The director of the Japanese portion was to be the famed Akira Kurosawa, who directed Mifune in 16 films including "Rashomon," "Yojimbo" and "The Seven Samurai."

But when Kurosawa withdrew from the Fox film amid some acrimony, Mifune also left.

"Out of loyalty," explained Miss Taka. "That is a very Japanese concept."

MIFUNE SEES YAMAMOTO as a sympathetic figure who opposed the bombing of Pearl Harbor, reasoning that Japan could enjoy only six months of victories before the tide turned. The Pearl Harbor operation was masterful, but as he predicted, the turning point came at Midway in June 1942. Yamamoto died in action in 1943.

Chayevsky Movie About TV Slated

LOS ANGELES (AP) — United Artists and MGM have joined for a coproduction of "Network," a movie about the television industry written by Paddy Chayevsky.

A leading figure of television's golden age of drama, Chayevsky has won Academy awards for his writing of "Marty" (1955) and "The Hospital" (1972).

"Network" marks the fourth coproduction of major companies in recent times. Previous films were "The Towering Inferno" Warner Brothers and 20th Century-Fox, "The Wind and the Lion" MGM and Columbia and "The Man Who Would Be King" Columbia and Allied Artists.

We got a Newport Beach home, Porsche and a boat for what our friends paid for their Newport Beach home.

You love Newport. You're doing pretty well and it's time your home reflected your success. But lets face it. You've got a lot of living to do and you don't want to tie up every dollar in a home. And Newport Beach homes don't come cheap.

Surprise! Take a look at Newport Terrace, where you can divide the usual price tags by about two. So you don't have to give up the good things in life your success deserves.

Live first class in the fun style you've always wanted. With a private 15 acre meadow, pools, sauna, jacuzzi, vollyball, game courts and a list of other adult playthings you probably wouldn't find at any price.

Newport Terrace means a home in Newport Beach you can own with pleasure and show with pride. Luxurious 2 & 3 bedroom townhomes with fireplaces, beamed ceilings, dual master bedroom suites and the quality appointments you've come to expect from a Newport address.

Newport Terrace near the sea in Newport Beach. When you live here, you've arrived.

And it won't take every nickle you own to do it.

PUBLIC NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 75-37
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF COSTA MESA AMENDING PROVISIONS OF THE PLANNING, ZONING, AND DEVELOPMENT LAWS, TITLE THIRTEEN, REGARDING EXCEPTIONS OR VARIATIONS TO LAND USES ALLOWED AS TO HOME OCCUPATIONS IN RESIDENTIAL AREAS AND REPEALING INCONSISTENT PROVISIONS.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF COSTA MESA DOES HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: The City Council of the City of Costa Mesa hereby finds and declares that the existing procedures regarding regulations of land use in residential zones within the City require updating and improvement compatible with our Citywide efforts to upgrade the living environment of our community while allowing the citizens of our City the fullest scope to engage in private enterprise consistent with the rights of their neighbors.

Further, the City Council of the City of Costa Mesa hereby finds and declares that residential zoning is intended primarily for residential uses but that certain secondary uses of a business or commercial nature may be engaged in so long as they are compatible with a residential environment and regulated accordingly for the general health, safety, and welfare of the public.

Accordingly, the Costa Mesa Municipal Code is hereby amended by adding to Title 13, Chapter X, Article 1, commencing with §13-740 as follows:

SECTION 2: "Title 13, Chapter X — EXCEPTIONS OR VARIATIONS TO LAND USES ALLOWED

Article 1 — HOME OCCUPATIONS

§13-740 INTENT AND PURPOSE

The City Council of the City of Costa Mesa hereby finds and declares that the residential use of residentially-zoned property is the primary use thereof. That subject to regulation and control, said property may have a secondary use of a business or commercial nature so long as said secondary use is compatible with a residential environment.

§13-741 PERMIT REQUIRED

No person shall engage in a home occupation, as defined in this Title, within any residentially zoned area of the City without first applying for and securing a permit for same. No business license shall be issued by the Director of Finance until a home occupation permit has been approved and issued by the Planning Director.

§13-742 APPLICATION PROCEDURES

(1) Application for home occupation permits shall be filed with the Planning Director upon forms provided by him and must be accompanied by an application for a business license for the work anticipated and the required fee.

(2) The Planning Director, or his staff, shall review all such permit applications within four (4) days of proper filing thereof to determine if same complies with the purpose and intent of this Article and the standards herein. The Director of Planning may require additional information from the applicant in order to make such determination.

(30) The Planning Director, or his designee, shall approve, approve with modifications, or deny any such application for a permit based upon his findings and determination in accordance with the standards set forth herein.

§13-743 PERMIT FEE

(1) A single fee shall be paid for each home occupation permit applied for. Thereafter, fees due, if any, shall be under the business license provisions of this Code. The permit fee shall be Ten Dollars ($10.00).

(2) Any home occupation permit issued hereunder shall remain valid unless revoked and shall not be transferred, assigned or used by any person other than the original permittee, nor shall such permit authorize any home occupation at any location other than the designated one for which the permit was issued.

(3) Any permit issued hereunder shall remain valid unless and until same is revoked as herein provided.

§13-744 EVALUATION STANDARDS

The Planning Director shall apply the following standards in evaluating such application for a home occupation permit to determine if the anticipated home occupation may be allowed:

(1) There shall be no employment of persons other than the members of the resident family who permanently reside on the premises.

(2) There shall be no direct sale of products, either wholesale or retail on the premises.

(3) There shall not be more than one room in the dwelling used for the home occupation.

(4) No building or space outside of the main building shall be used for a home occupation. No garage, attached or detached, shall be used for the home occupation. Storage of necessary supplies or equipment used in the home occupation may be permitted in a garage provided said storage does not diminish the usable parking space in the garage.

(5) There shall be no use of utilities or community facilities beyond that normal to the use of the property for residential purposes.

(6) No use of material or mechanized equipment not recognized as being associated with a normal household use or hobby is permitted.

(7) In no way shall the structure or appearance of the dwelling be altered or remodeled outside fro home occupational purposes (either by color, materials, construction, lighting, etc.). No part of the inside of the structure shall be remodeled other than the inside of the room where the home occupation is being conducted.

(8) No signs shall be displayed in connection with the home occupation and there shall be no advertising using the home address, with the exception of advertising in the telephone directory.

(9) The use shall not involve the use of commercial vehicles for delivery of materials to or from the premises, other than a vehicle not to exceed one ton capacity, owned by the operator of the home occupation, which shall be stored in an entirely enclosed garage. The storage of equipment (trailers, tractors, trucks in excess of one ton, wheeled construction equipment, etc.) is not permitted.

(10) The use shall not generate pedestrian or vehicular traffic beyond that normal to the district or neighborhood where it is located.

(11) The use shall not result in, or generate parking or storing of commercial vehicles on public streets. As used herein, commercial vehicles are as defined in the California Vehicle Code and in addition, shall include construction equipment or any other mobile paraphernalia used in connection with said use.

§13-745 REVOCATION AND APPEAL PROCEDURE

(A) Any home occupation permit may be revoked by the Planning Director at any time after its issuance; provided that, the Planning Director shall notify the permittee, in writing, of his decision to revoke said permit and stating the reasons for said action and appeal procedures as set forth herein.

The existence of any one, or more, of the following factors shall be sufficient grounds for revocation of said permit:

(1) That any requirement set forth in the "Evaluation Standards" section of this article is being violated;

(2) That the use has become detrimental to the public health or safety, or is deemed to constitute a nuisance;

(3) That the permit was obtained by misrepresentation;

(4) That the use for which the permit was granted has ceased or has been suspended for six (6) consecutive months or more;

(5) That the conditions of the premises, or of the district which it is part, have changed so that the use may no longer be justified under the meaning and intent of this Article.

(B) Any aggrieved person may appeal the decision of the Planning Director regarding an application or revocation for said permit by filing a request for same, in writing, to the Planning Commission, Post Office Box 1200, City Hall, Costa Mesa, California 92626, no later than ten (10) days after the date of said decision or notification thereof. The Planning Commission shall set the matter for a public hearing at its next convenient regular meeting.

Appeals from any decision of the Planning Commission may thereafter be taken pursuant to Title 2, Chapter IX of the "Costa Mesa Municipal Code."

SECTION 3: This Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force and effect thirty (30) days from and after its passage, and before the expiration of fifteen (15) days after its passage, shall be published once in the Orange Coast Daily Pilot, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of Costa Mesa, together with the names of the members of the City Council voting for and against the same.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 1st day of July, 1975.

Alvin L. Pinkley
Mayor of the City of Costa Mesa
