Tainted cheese kills 28 in 2 counties

Health officials flooded with calls after Mexican-style cheese linked to deaths

By TONY SAAVEDRA

Orange County health officials have been flooded with telephone calls from people who have eaten a Mexican-style cheese that was linked to 28 deaths or stillbirths in Southern California since April.

Rex Ehling, program director for the county health department, said inquiries began almost immediately after the news broke Thursday evening that 87 eases of a rare bacterial infection were traced to two popular

"The timing was right during the dinner hour and a lot of people had just eaten the cheese," Ehling said. He said the county's poison center was inundated with calls from the worried consumers.

So far, the bacterial outbreak has been limited to Orange and Los Angeles counties, where the flu-like illness has primarily been found among Hispanics eating cheeses made by Jalisco Mexican Products Inc. according to the Associated

The cheese is distributed to at least nine Western states.

While the infection has only been connected to "cotija" and "queso fresco" cheeses, the state Health Department pulled all Jalisco-brand cheeses from California market shelves Thursday. Other states, including Arizona, were taking similar steps today.

The company also voluntarily shut down its plant in Artesia and is expected to begin running tests, along with federal Food and Drug Administratrion investigators, to determine how the cheese was contaminated.

Health officials said the white, soft, mild-flavored cheeses were apparent-cytogenes, a bacteria that mostly attacks pregnant women and people weakened by disease.

The bacteria, found naturally in soil and in the internal organs of animals, should have been removed by Jalisco's pasteurization process.

Doctors in Los Angeles and Orange counties became suspicious after an epidemic-like outbreak of the rare

Real Coke fan stocks 40 cases—960 cans in her living room

By TONY SAAVEDRA

There was a time when Rhonda Disinger wouldn't drink Coca-Cola from a can.

But now that supplies of the old formula Coke are drying up, Disinger's palate has grown less sensitive to the taste of aluminum. She figures it's better than the taste of the new Coke, a sweeter version of the 99-year-old soft drink.

'This is what you call desperation," says the 40-year-old woman, nodding at the 40 cases of old formula Coke — 960 cans — stacked in the living room of her Costa Mesa

Disinger, who drinks four cans a day, figures she can hold out for several months on her emergency supply. Meanwhile, she has launched a campaign to put the original "Real Thing" back on market shelves.

She says the change in the caramelcolored beverage has left her adrift in a sea of sodas with no pop or

'Save Burke' parents lose round in court

Commissioner turns down their request for restraining order

By ROBERT BARKER

Parents seeking to block the closure of Burke School in Huntington Beach lost an opening round court battle Thursday

Orange County Superior Court Commissioner Ronald Bauer turned down a bid by parents for a temporary restraining order to keep the elementary school from being permanently closed when the school year ends

But another hearing during which a more detailed look at the decision is expected to take place is slated July 8 before Superior Court Judge Judith

Bauer said today there is no evidence that board trustees acted outside their descretion when they voted in March to close Burke to save about $200,000 a year in operating

The court is expected to deal with the legal questions of whether the board acted openly and if it received sufficient reaction from the community before making its decision. The Burke committee also claims that trustees should have prepared an lems it will cause in the transfer of pupils.

In the legal document, the Burke parents claim there was no public discussion on the decision to close Burke School.

'It can only be assumed that discussions took place in private," the legal papers said.

The allegation that the decision may have been reached privately was sharply rebutted today by the school board's president. Brian Garland. "If ever there was a public disclosure," Garland said, "it was certainly the school closure. There can be no thought that anything was done sub rosa. It was wide open. School district officials, in the face of declining enrollment and shrinking revenues, had held lengthy public hearings on school closures after a blue ribbon committee studied the issue and made recommendations. And tonight at 7, in a special meeting at district headquarters at 20451 Craimer Lane, trustees will hear recommendations from Dr. Lawrence Kemper to close either Gisler or Sowers middle schools in the 1986-87 year as a further costcutting move.

Kemper also is slated to discuss possible program cuts in the coming

Ex-union chief gets top college post

By PHIL SNEIDERMAN

Phillis Basile, who led the Coast Community College District's teachers, union during a volatile period marked by faculty layoffs and political confrontations, was named Thursday to a top district post on the other side of the bargaining table.

District trustees appointed Basile, a 61-year-old Laguna Beach resident, as vice chancellor for human resources. She will oversee personnel management and collective bargaining for the district, which includes Orange Coast, Golden West and Coastline colleges, plus public television station KOCE Channel 50.

The one-year appointment is effective July 1. The post has an annual salary of $63,300, plus a $350 monthly mileage allowance.

A district spokeswoman said a screening committee that included teachers, non-teaching employees, students and community members. did initial screening of almost 40 applicants for the post. Four finalists, including Basile, were interviewed

Thursday by the district's board of

Her appointment was approved on 4-1 vote, with Trustee George Rodda dissenting, the spokeswoman Basile has been a district employee since 1964, teaching economics at Orange Coast. Previously, she was a consultant with the U.S. Department

For the past 10 months, Basile has served as acting vice chancellor for human resources. Upon accepting that post, she severed her ties with the ation of Teachers that represents the district's full-time instructors.

As president of the AFT, she was a vocal critic of the district administration, particularly after the trustees. citing budget problems, approved layoff notices for about 100 teachers and administrators in early 1983.

Under Basile's leadership, the AFT supported an unsuccessful drive to recall board members and a successful campaign to elect three new trustees to the board in November

Ailing Laguna Beach baby not abandoned by mom

By LISA MAHONEY

A language barrier led Laguna Beach police to wrongly believe an ailing infant had been abandoned by his mother at a residential hotel last week, officials said Thursday

An inability to understand Spanish-speaking residents who called police when the weeks-old infant became ill resulted in the misconception that the child had been abandoned. Investigator Toni Place said.

"We're not going to take any case of abandonment." she said

The child's mother has been found and the case was referred to Orange County Social Services. Place said.

A woman caring for the unidentified baby at the Hamilton House hotel called police when the child developed breathing difficulties June 6. Taken first to South Coast Medical Center in South Laguna, the child was transferred to Childrens Hospital of Orange County where it was discovered he has a congenital heart

Police thought the child might have been abandoned by its 34-year-old mother because they had trouble understanding residents at the hotel.

It appeared that the mother had not visited the child in nine days when in fact "there had been several visits with food." Place said.

Place said the woman, whose name was not released, left her baby in a friend's care so she could continue working Place did not know where the woman was employed or what she

Coast's high school grads to live it up 'all night long'

Grad night parties scheduled on campuses for Newport Harbor, CdM, Laguna seniors

Orange Coast high schools are planning to celebrate graduation this week with grad night parties designed by parents to keep their children in one place, and in one piece, on a night marred all too often by drinking, driving and disaster.

Graduating seniors at 10 area schools are scheduling traditional celebrations this year at Disneyland. The all-night, carefully-regulated parties at the amusement park following graduation ceremonies have become as much a part of the school year as pep rallies and football games.

But three high schools, Newport Harbor, Corona del Mar, and Laguna Beach, have taken grad night a step further. The three schools are planning on-campus extravaganzas for the night of June 20, including gambling, live entertainment, exotic foods and special activities.

For the 10th year in a row, Laguna Beach High School will hold its grad night party, planned and hosted by an estimated 95 percent of the students'.

parents from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

"A Midnight Ride on the Orient Express" will be the theme for this year's celebration on campus, which is being produced at an estimated cost of about $12,000. Students will enter the campus through a school auditorium completely transformed into a replica of an European train depot, and arrive outside to find the area between the cafeteria and the tennis courts changed overnight into selected sights from cities visited by the Orient Express - the train made famous by author Agatha Christie.

The cafeteria will serve as a gambling casino. Next to the cafeteria will be a Parisian-style outdoor patio with artificial grass, tables with flowers and intimate lighting. A roast beef dinner will be served from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m., and fancy potatoes,

Septuplet breathing on her own

y the Associated Press

One of the three remaining Frustaci septuplets has been taken off a respirator and is breathing on her own for the first time, hospital officials in Orange said today.

On Thursday, Samuel and Patricia
Frustaci buried two of the septuplets next to the infants' brother and sister in a Riverside cemetery.

Private funeral services were held Olivewood Cemetery for James Martin Frustaci, who died June 6, and Bonnie Marie Frustaci, who died

Another septuplet, Christina Elizabeth, was stillborn, while David Anthony, nicknamed "Peanut," died

Patricia Ann Frustaci, first-born of the 31/2-week-old infants, was removed from the respirator Tuesday, according to Sandy Hazeltin, spokeswoman for Childrens Hospital of Orange County. She said the girl's two surviving brothers, Stephen and Richard, remain on respirators and there is no indication if their lungs are developing quickly enough to permit them to begin breathing on their own soon.

All remain on the critical list but are in stable condition today, said a hospital spokeswoman who declined to give her name.
All of the babies weigh less than two pounds. They were delivered May 21 by Caesarean section to Mrs. Frustaci, 30, and her husband, Samuel, 31, an industrial equipment salesman.

The infants were 12 weeks premature. The three deaths were caused by hyaline membrane disease. a lung condition common in premature infants. Meanwhile, a spokesman for Gerber Products Inc., the nation's biggest baby-food maker, said the company had no intention of withdrawing its offer of unlimited food and other baby products for the family, countering a "miscommunication" involving another Gerber spokesman.

At Gerber's headquarters in Fremont, Mich., spokesman Steve Poole said the company intends to abide by its initial offer to give the Frustacis any of the company's products that are sold through supermarkets "for as long as they need it."

Doctors said the "red flag went up" early last month after a critically ill baby was transferred to the Orange County hospital from Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center.

Health officials from both counties immediately launched an investigation, bringing in specialists from the National Centers for Disease Control Investigators sifted through the recent histories of those contracting Listeria poisoning, and found that most were pregnant Hispanics who had eaten the Jalisco-brand cheeses.

Sixteen cases of bacteria infection were reported in Orange County, 14 of them among Hispanics. Seven resulted in deaths.

In Los Angeles, 21 deaths were reported out of the 71 documented cases, 45 of them occurring in the mother, child or both.

Doctors were advising pregnant women and chronically ill people who have recently eaten the cheeses to be medically examined. The infection can be treated by antibiotics.

Disinger is bolstering her bumper sticker by passing out a petition at neighborhood shopping centers and grocery stores, demanding that the old formula be restored. So far she has collected an estimated 1,000 signatures over a four-day period.

This is really upsetting," she tells shoppers. "The company just doesn't care about the old-Coke drinkers."

For Disinger, the first swig of the new concoction was enough to prompt her to withdraw $280 from the family savings account and stock up on old Coke.

"I wanted enough to get me through," explains the mother of two, not the least bit embarrassed by her fanaticism.

In fact, she even wrote a heartwrenching, personal letter to Coca-Cola - the drink, not the firm - and sent it to Coke USA president Brian Dyson.

"You were my best friend," she writes. "I felt secure with you ... I can't understand why you changed.

Disinger admits her offbeat petition may raise as many eyebrows as signatures. But she doesn't mind. 'Coca-Cola is worth it," she says,

Apple Computer to lay off workers in Garden Grove

CUPERTINO (AP) - Apple Computer Inc., the nation's second-largest personal computer maker, announced today that it will eliminate 1,200 jobs — including some in Garden Grove - in the first largescale layoffs in the company's history.

In announcing the cuts as part of a massive reorganization of the company, President and Chief Executive Officer John Sculley also said Apple would report a loss for the third fiscal quarter.

The lavoffs will occur when manufacturing facilities in Dallas, Garden Grove and Ireland are closed, along with the elimination of about 500 other positions. The non-manufacturing jobs will be eliminated immediately, while the others will be phased out over the next 90 days, said Kathleen Dixon, an Apple spokeswoman. Apple will continue to make their computers and peripheral products at facilities in Fremont, Singapore and Cork Ireland. 'The slump in the personal computer industry is significant and Apple has taken aggressive steps to bring our organization in line with these conditions," said Sculley. Sculley said the cost of the reorganization will create a loss in the current quarter, but would not say how big the loss might be. Eugene G. Glazer, an analyst with Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. in New York, said he expects a pre-tax writeoff of "at least $20 million" associated with the shakeup. Analysts have been predicting the layoffs all week. They are the latest tion of the company that has shaken

Apple's power structure to the core.

The man who has emerged as victor in the power struggle is Sculley. Defeated, for now, is Steven Jobs. Apple's youthful chairman and co-general manager of the company's Macintosh Computer division on At the same time Jobs was forced to step down, Sculley announced a reorganization of Apple that would unite the Macintosh and Apple II founder, and the company's biggest stockholder. He was removed as divisions under one corporate structure. The units had operated independently, leading to what many sources called an unhealthy competitiveness. Reorganization would eliminate 'the redundancies that exist in the current organization between the Apple II and the Macintosh

Apple managers were reportedly in meetings all week hammering out details of the reorganization and layoffs. Apple currently has about 5,600 employees, with 2,400 of them in Silicon Valley.

COAST GRADS GET ALL NIGHT PARTIES...

throughout the night from 9 p.m. to 3

A live elephant ride and a real tiger will also be on hand to greet the graduates. The New Marines rock band will perform in one of the three "big top" areas - otherwise known as the Girls' Gym. And next door, the Boys' Gym will form the third big top area, as a functioning gambling casino with black jack, craps and roulette tables staffed by parents. Popcorn, cookies, hot pretzels, cotton candy, snow cones, soft drinks and the entire menu of Del Taco will be available as well. The total cost for the Grad Night production is esti-mated at roughly $25,000.

Twenty-four parents have planned "An Evening in Paris," the theme for Newport Harbor High School's own grad night party, from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Backdrops of the Eiffel Tower, the Arch de Triumph, a Parisian nightclub and other sights of Paris have been specially designed for the occasion by George James, head of the Cal State Fullerton Art Department.

The Rave, a Santa Barbara band, will perform in the "Moulin Rouge" night club followed by a disc jockey and then the local band, The Jets. A French jazz band, mimes, a magician. break dancers and other cabaret entertainers will also perform.

A casino room will complete the night club, with gambling as at the other two campuses. Outside, sidewalk cafes will house arcade games, and French street walkers will roam the campus to amuse guests. Pizza, hot dogs, nachos, fresh fruit and vegetables, Balboa bars, French dip sandwiches and an early-morning breakfast will be available during the festivities.

Ocean View High School gets an early start on graduation festivities tonight, as graduates there head to Disneyland. Nine other high schools will also be taking their graduates to Disneyland, where dancing will be available along with the usual rides and attractions.

Disneyland will host the grad night celebrations from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m., and all students attending must arrive on school buses.

Graduates at Edison, Fountain Valley, Marina, Irvine, and Woodbridge high schools will celebrate at Disneyland on Wednesday night.

Huntington Beach, Costa Mesa and Estancia high schools graduates will be going Thursday night.

Symptoms appear from two days to two weeks after cheese eaten

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A bacteria linked to 28 deaths or stillbirths among consumers of a mild, soft cheese seems to strike randomly, with some cases rapidly progressing from flu-like symptoms to death, public health officials say.

Symptoms appear from two days to two weeks after eating products contaminated by the bacteria, said Dr. Shirley Fannin, associate deputy director of health programs in Los Angeles County.

"Some people who become exposed do not get ill at all," Fannin said. "There is no need for alarm unless they have eaten the cheese and have those (severe) symptoms - nausea, fever, headaches and severe abdominal pain.

Infections caused by Listeria monocytogenes are rare and, if diagnosed early, usually can be treated successfully at early stages with antibiotics, Fannin said.

The disease sometimes moves rapidly from the early stage, characterized by a mild, flu-like illness, to severe symptoms. Some of the victims in Los Angeles died less than a week after the onset of their symptoms, she said.

The Listeria organism is carried in the blood and can be transferred in pregnant women through the blood-rich placenta to the fetus. The baby will get sick, often severely enough to die in the uterus, according to Dr. Jack Sills an assistant professor of pediatrics at the UCI Medical Babies suffering from the infection show symptoms such as breathing problems, lethargy, poor mobility, rash, disinterest in feeding and sometimes blood irregularities.

The worst form of the disease is known as meningoencephalitis, in which the Listeria organism has infected not only the bloodstream but the brain and the lining of the brain.

"Once it gets to the brain, it's very hard to clear up." Fannin said. "Even if you are successful, the people are usually left with brain damage. Listeria monocytogenes has caused four other outbreaks of disease in North America during the past 10

"There was an outbreak in Boston about two years ago that was related to pasteurized milk and an outbreak four years ago in Nova Scotia, which was related to cole slaw," said Dr. Claire Broom, chief of the respiratory and special pathogens branch at the federal Centers for Disease

The Boston-area outbreak was responsible for 14 deaths. Public health officials didn't indicate whether there were any deaths in Nova Scotia, or where the other two outbreaks occurred.

Broom said the bacteria is common, thriving in livestock. It also can be found in fruits and vegetables.

Badham: Whales still endangered

Rep. Robert Badham, R-Newport Beach, is fighting a proposal that would drop the California gray whale from the endangered species list.

In a recent letter he co-authored to the National Marine Fisheries Service, Badham said more study should be conducted on the whale before action is taken to upgrade its status from "endangered"

The proposal, which will be reviewed at hearings in August, calls for the gray whale to be dropped from the endangered list because recent studies indicate its numbers have returned to its pre-whaling population of But Badham noted that the results of those studies may be inconclusive and are in dispute in scientific circles New studies are under way to measure the accuracy of the method by which the whales are counted, Badham "As Californians, we believe it is our responsibility to come down on the side of protection and prevent any change in the status of the California gray whale until further and more in-depth studies are conducted Badham said in the letter to William Gordon, assistant administrator of the fisheries service.

Badham said allowing the gray whale to be removed from the endangered species list would "send the wrong signal relative to maintaining strong protection at a time when the whale's coastal habitat is being subject to Oil drilling and exploration within the migratory route of the whale. Badham said, could have an impact on the Gray Whale popluation. In U.S. waters alone, the Alaska-to-Baja California route crosses at least eight oil and natural gas leasing areas.

Badham said the whale may also be threatened by increased shoreline development, water pollution, boats and harassment by man

Hijackers let 19 of 153 passengers go, beat others, threaten to blow up plane

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) - Hiackers seized an Athens-to-Rome TWA flight today with 153 people aboard, mostly Americans. The pilot said the hijackers had beaten passengers, threatening to kill them and blow up the plane.

The plane was refueled in Beirut and was forced to fly to Algiers, where it landed at 7:30 a.m. PDT

Two American women passengers who were freed from the plane in Beirut reported shots were fired, and one said a man was wounded.

The hijackers, who were reportedly armed with grenades, machine guns and pistols, forced the pilot to fly to Beirut for fuel. After 21/2 hours it took for for Algiers, the capital of Algeria, where the airport was closed to all

In Beirut the hijackers freed at least 17 women and two children, who were then flown on a Lebanese plane to Larnaca, Cyprus.

Initial reports said three hijackers were on the Boeing 727. But Lebanese Transportation Ministry spokesman Ziad Kassem told The Associated Press there were only two. A U.S. Embassy spokesman in Cyprus who talked to freed passengers said they only saw two.

The hijacking was the third this week involving the Beirut airport.

One freed hostage, Irma Garza of Laredo, Texas, said the hijackers had shot a black man, apparently a passenger, in the neck. She said the man did not appear to be in serious condition, adding she did not know why he was shot.

Garza was flown with other freed American passengers to Larnaca, Cyprus. She said two young gunmen ordered passengers to put their hands behind their heads and confiscated their passports.

Frances Reynolds, 67, from the Chicago area, said: "There was some shooting but I didn't dare raise my head to see what was happening. (The hijackers) were beating people on the heads. I didn't see it, but I could hear the thumps.

Dan Howard, public affairs officer of the U.S. Embassy in Cyprus, said the the Algerian government had refused permission for the jet to land there. He said the freed passengers reported two hijackers who had been sitting in the plane's rear seats got up 15 minutes after it left Athens and 'raced to the cockpit

"Then one of them came out and brandishing a gun, he ordered the stewardesses to place their hands on top of their heads," he said.

In a statement to reporters relayed by the Beirut control tower, one hijacker said the "organization of the oppressed in the world" was responsible for the hijacking. He demanded that all Lebanese Shiite Moslem guerrillas held by Israel be released to the Red Cross in Sidon, Lebanon.

Karen Quinlan's funeral private, worldly in scope

MOUNT ARLINGTON, N.J. (AP) — A family priest told about 200 mourners at a funeral Mass today for Karen Ann Quinlan that when technology can no longer enhance the dignity of a human life, they must then "lovingly assist" in the process of dying. Julia and Joseph Quinlan remained composed through the hour-long service at the white-washed Our Lady of the Lake Church, but their two other children hugged and cried as they followed the casket in the procession to the cemetery. Miss Quinlan, 31, died Tuesday at the rest home where for 10 years she lay comatose, a worldwide symbol for the right to death with dignity. "When popes and kings die the world somehow becomes reverently silent ... How incredible it is that the whole world should have been at the death bed of an ordinary young woman from Landing, Karen Ann Quinlan," said Monsignor Thomas Trapasso. He was the family's religious adviser through their battle to disconnect Miss Quinlan from a life-supporting respirator. Religious readings were given by Paul Armstrong, the lawyer who fought the Quinlans' case and won the historic right-to-die court decision, and Virginia Culp, a high school friend of Miss Quinlan.

Honor student killed in police shooting

NEW YORK - Police say a 17-year-old honor student was shot and killed by a plainclothes officer after trying to rob him, but a lawyer and the youth's mother called it part of a pattern of brutality against minorities. Edmund Perry, a June graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, N.H., was shot Wednesday night by Officer Lee Van Houten after Perry and another youth had tried to rob the officer, police said. Perry died Thursday morning.

Reagan doubling U.S. aid to Jordan

WASHINGTON — President Reagan is asking Congress to more than double U.S. economic aid to Jordan over the next 15 months, but he is taking no action on King Hussein's request for new American anti-aircraft missiles and jet planes. Reagan decided Thursday to request $250 million in grants or gifts — for the next 15 months on top of a $228.8 million mixture of military and economic aid Jordan already was due to receive. The action was a gesture of support for King Hussein, who has offered to hold peace talks with Israel in an international conference.

Detectives seize $7.3 million worth of coke

LOS ANGELES - Narcotics detectives seized 53 pounds of cocaine worth $7.3 million and arrested seven Cubans and two Colombians in the culmination of a six-month investigation, sheriff's officials said. The nine in custody were believed to be members of a drug ring selling cocaine in southeast Los Angeles County. Sheriff's Deputy Joe Garza said officers found less than four ounces of cocaine at an apartment in Bell, but they discovered a 53-pound cache of cocaine at a house in Lake Elsinore. They also seized 60 handguns and about $12,000 in cash. Garza said seven Cubans and two Colombians were being held in lieu of $1 million bail.

Energy costs push inflation rate up

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rising energy prices more than offset sharply lower food costs in May and sent the wholesale inflation rate up 0.2 percent, the government said today.

The 3.4 percent gain in energy prices compared with a 5.8 percent increase in the preceding month. Analysts have said the spurt in such costs, which began in March, probably has about run its course. Evidence of softening on world petroleum markets is already evident.

Food, the other major component of the Labor Department's Producer Price Index, fell 1.1 percent in May, the sharpest drop since an identical decline in April 1984. Those prices have not risen since December and have showed declines in four of the last five months.

The largest declines were for fresh egetables and fruits, beef and veal, fish and coffee. Prices rose modestly for bakery goods, pork and poultry.

May's 0.2 percent overall increase followed a 0.3 percent rise in April and a 0.2 percent gain in March. Revised figures issued today showed wholesale prices were flat in January and February

For the first five months of 1985, inflation at the wholesale level was running at an annual rate of 1.8 percent. The May figure, if extended for 12 straight months, would trans-late to a 2.5 percent annual rate.

Wholesale prices for the last 12 months were up 1.1 percent. Most analysts have said that, with the big increases in energy costs mostly over, the rate for all of 1985 is not likely to be much more than that, in part, also, because of continued low farm prices and a steady decline in prices for goods at the crude level, such as Prices for crude materials, for example, fell 0.8 percent in May, the seventh decrease in the last eight months. Most of the crude material price fluctuations eventually work their way into the price calculations for finished goods.

Prices for consumer goods other than food and energy were up 0.2 percent in today's report, following a 0.2 percent decline in the preceding month. One of the sharpest gains was a 1.6 percent increase in alcoholic beverage prices.

Supreme Court's record very clear

By BEN NIELSEN

Earlier this month, the Supreme Court of the State of California, led by the anti-death penalty majority, kept its perfect record intact. The record is easy to remember - 37 times in 37 death penalty cases the Chief Justice has voted to overturn the death sentence and protect the criminal and in 34 out of 37 cases the rest of the court has voted against the death penalty.

Last Thursday, the court allowed four more convicted murderers to escape the death penalty. Two of the murderers chose children as their victims.

The case of Theodore F. Frank involves a murderer who enticed a 2 1/2-year-old girl into his car. He then raped, tortured, and mutilated her before leaving her body in a ditch.

The court in a 4 to 2 ruling overturned his death penalty on the grounds that a notebook, in which he detailed some of his perversions, was seized illegally and should not have been presented

In another case, Harold Ray Memro, in a 4 to 3 ruling, had his death sentence overturned because his confession was "coerced. Memro murdered a 7-year-old boy after first molesting him. That was his third murder, having previously killed two other young

The other two murder cases were overturned, referring to an earlier "intent to kill" ruling, which requires the "intent" be proven during the trial. One of the murderers shot his victim in the back at least five times, while the other murdered a husband and wife as their 8-year-old son watched.

In all of the above cases, the jury had found the criminals guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

The people of California have spoken on several occasions that the California Constitution is very clear on the use of the death

Very soon William Lee Evins, the suspected murderer of a Fountain Valley housewife, will go on trial in Orange County. I hope his case will be decided by a jury of his peers in accordance with the laws of the state of California and, if convicted, that he is not at a later date set free to roam our community again by a Supreme Court more concerned with its philosophical hang-up with the death penalty than the facts of the case.

I urge you to study the records of the Supreme Court Justices up for re-confirmation by the voters in November 1986 and vote your abortions in the United States. I decide what is going to be done to their own bodies - not the state.

Some people say that pro-abortionists are playing God, but aren't prowar and pro-defense build-up (Star Wars) advocates also playing God or at least tempting fate by making "cosmic" war more inevitable?

I also believe that the quality of the unborn baby's life should be a consideration in the issue of abortion. If a child is going to go through life without love and acceptance or the wherewithal to support a decent quality of life, I believe abortion might be the better alternative. Life is already unfair to many children, but this would be making it even more

IN PERSPECTIVE

It's time to bite the bullet and select a new jail site

Supervisors must choose best spot to build — then do it

While none of the issues associated with growth - traffic, airport, housing - are easy to deal with, perhaps one of the hardest growth issues to face is the provision of jails to detain Orange County citizens and visitors who have strayed from the path society deems as right.

At least 20 years ago, while this writer was with the architectural firm of Welton Becket and Associates in Los Angeles, the Becket firm prepared a report for the County of Orange on facilities that would be required by the county as its popu-

While the number of people who have to be incarcerated per population escapes me at this time, I do recall that for every 1,000 increase in population, a given number of people plus or minus - would have to be providing sufficient jail facilities, and now the county is desperately trying to play catch-up. With insufficient prison beds, prisoners have had to sleep on the floor. The court has held this to be a violation of prisoner rights (fortunately, we have come a long way since Devils Island).

The court has ruled, moreover, the county has to pay a fine for every day that every prisoner has to sleep on the floor. So for the short term, threelevel bunk beds and outdoor tents will be utilized.

For the long term, however, Orange County will have to face the continuing need for new jail facilities.

The biggest problem is no different than with other growth issues: No one wants a road, an airport, low cost housing, dumps nor jails near them. And that is certainly understandable. But all of these facilities must be

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

California 4th-ranked state of those with nuke arsenals

Only 22 states and District of Columbia haven't any warheads within borders since the first atomic bomb exploded in the New Mexico desert, the world has rushed headlong down the path of nuclear proliferation. So far, the possession of nuclear weapons by five major powers has acted as a successful deterrent.

But the possibility is growing that the nuclear arsenal is getting out of control. Familiarity seems to have bred contempt for the consequences of a nuclear exchange; officials in Washington — and presumably in the other nuclear-power capitals are thinking what was once called the unthinkable.

Consider the testimony of a top Strategic Air Command general at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee. According to the transcript, classified "secret, made the obligatory bow to "the complex interaction of many elements" that add up to deterrence, but then said ominously

'However, should deterrence fail between strategic nuclear powers, all but one of these factors become irrelevant, and we must then look to the ultimate measure of merit: raw military power. The general then proceeded, through 41 pages of testimony, to plead the case for deploying hundreds and even thousands more nuclear warheads in this country and abroad. We doubt that even the experts of the Strategic Air Command, let alone

President Reagan and his advisers, have a clear idea of just how extensive

WASHINGTON - In the 40 years the world's nuclear arsenal has become. A fresh picture is presented in a new book. "Nuclear Battlefields: Global Links in the Arms Race," by William Arkin and Richard Field-

The book is sure to create an uproar in Congress and the Pentagon, and will probably touch off anti-nuclear demonstrations and an FBI investigation. But the furor should not obscure the serious purpose of the book: to give the public enough facts for an informed debate.

With a minimum of rhetoric and a maximum of mind-numbing facts and figures, the book sets out to list every nuclear warhead and every facility related to the production and deployment of nuclear weapons. Though the amount of classified information on Soviet nukes is impressive, the authors can be faulted for inadequate treatment of other Soviet areas, such as civil defense. Nor is there any mention of Israel's nuclear arsenal.

The greatest shock for most Americans will be the discovery that there are nuclear warheads practically in their backyard. Only 22 states and the District of Columbia have no nuclear warheads within their borders. The greatest contiguous warhead-free zone is a roughly Y-shaped, 15-state cordon-sanitaire stretching from the Atlantic Ocean (Delaware and Maryland) to the Mississippi River, north to the Canadian berder (Minnesota) and south to the Gulf of Mexico (Alabama and Mississippi).

Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta The authors have prepared a chart that ranks the states by the number of warheads and also by nuclear facilities. Surprisingly, the two states with the most nuclear weapons are on the eastern seaboard, not the Great Plains where the intercontinental ballistic missiles are deployed.

South Carolina heads the list, with ,962 warheads. The Navy weapons station at Charleston stores 1,482 warheads, mostly as spares and for submarines being overhauled. Three subs berthed there account for the remaining 480.

No. 2 is New York, with 1,900 warheads, all of them at the Seneca Army Depot in the Finger Lakes region. A secret Pentagon report we have obtained discloses that the Army has been stockpiling warheads for neutron bombs there since 1981. These and other warheads were made from nuclear material recovered from 1,200 "retired" 8-inch artillery shells, which yielded about 78 tons of highly enriched uranium or alloys.

The rest of the Top 10 and the number of nuclear warheads in each are North Dakota (1,510), California (1,437), Washington state (1,172), Michigan and Texas (630 each), Virginia (542), Louisiana (530) and Arkansas (430).

Tax plan sends a message Promotes goal of lessgovernment by shrinking funds political

WASHINGTON - Appearing on 'Meet The Press" recently, Richard Darman of Treasury (sounds like an old radio serial) was asked why President Reagan had not used tax simplification as an opportunity to do other things as well - like reduce the Darman, a deputy secretary and a former White House aide like his boss, James Baker, responded by enunciating the Doctrine of Separability. It's a fancy way of saying the president wants to have things his officially, separability is supposed to mean nothing of the sort. It is meant to endow the tax plan with a sort of retroactive virginity, make it seem so pure and so above political considerations that it would be wrong, maybe even a sin, to suggest that the tax code be reformed for a purpose — like making the poor a little less so. Perish the thought, says Darman and others. The Doctrine of eparability is inviolate. But Ronald Reagan has not written a tax plan that is "separable" from his own political program. Instead, it advances it. It's true Reagan has had to swallow his long-time opposition to corporate income taxes and it's true also that he has taken away the toys of the rich - most tax shelters and $100 expense account lunches. But these concessions to political reality are mere asterisks to what all along has been his larger political purpose - reducing the size of government by starving it for funds. The Reagan tax plan is no departure from that goal. Indeed, aspects of it extend the president's reach: State and local governments will probably now shrink, as the federal government already has.

To this, Democrats and Republicans alike seem to be saying of the president, "He's entitled." Most Republicans share the president's political values. But what about Democrats - especially those who are supposed to differ with the president on the obligation of government to the poor? Aren't they also entitled to have a tax plan to express their political values? In other words, where is it written that only the president gets to play politics with the tax code?

It must be written somewhere because you cannot find five Democrats who will stand up and say they will not crucify Democratic political values on the cross of tax simplifi-

They all seem to think that simplifying the tax code is so important that it takes precedence over anything else - the budget deficit, the rape of the poor, the plight of urban blacks. In fact, when Patrick Buchanan called New York Gov. Mario Cuomo no-account, redistributor of income, no one in the whole Democratic saloon had the nerve to remind Buchanan that that's one of the things the progressive income tax is supposed to do. Not surprising. Almost no one has asked why the tax break that is now going to make the rich richer cannot be used to help those of the poor who have become poorer under President Reagan.

Less than one week after the president crooned his tax plan to the nation via television, a response came in the mail from the Children's Defense Fund. It made awful reading. To be a black child is to be consigned to a special kind of American hell. It means being twice as likely as a white child to die before the age of one, to live in substandard housing, to see a parent die, to have unemployed parents, to live in an institution, to be born to a teen-ager and to exist on welfare programs that have been ravaged by inflation and inattention.

Money alone is not the solution to this festering concoction of social pathologies. But without money without federal programs that cost money - hitting "the number" is about the only hope some poor people have. And yet precious few in either political party point toward these black children and then to the tax bill and ask why people making $200,000 a year should get a $5,000 tax reduction and the kids get nothing.

It's probably true that the more you monkey with the tax bill the less chance it has for passage. That's a shame because there are elements in it that are worthwhile. But there is no separating it from either the fiscal problems of the nation or the plight of Separability is a wonderful doctrine if you're going to get something out of the president's tax program. Otherwise, it's just another word for cruel indifference.

Versatile begonias in demand

Plants selected or flashy foliage, showy blossoms

WADE ROBERTS

The begonia is one of the most ersatile plants available to the home ardener, especially along the outhern California coast.

The variety of interesting foliage, olor, shape, size, and growth habit in he begonia family is almost unmatched. With more than 2,500 ifferent species and cultivars, egonias range in size from tiny plants to large shrub types with leave 8 inches in diameter.

Flowering begonias are very showy; however, many begonias are grown strictly for their flashy or unusual foliage. For instance, "Magic Carpet" has little plantlets that develop on mature leaves, and then there is "Cathedral" with its window-

The rex begonia translates "king egonia," and leaf colors include gold, silver, bronze, as well as light and dark green. Its leaf textures resemble silk, velvet, crepe, and other treasured fabrics. Rex begonias are considered greenhouse plants, which is probably why we don't see very many of them.

Begonias can be broken into several types including angel wing, canestemmed, rhizomatous, fibrousrooted (bedding or wax), tuberous,

"Elatior" also sold as

"Reiger."
The angel-wing begonias are so named because their leaves resemble the wings of angels. "Pink Rubra," a very popular angel-wing variety, can be quite pendulous when young but as it matures it forms erect canes and beautiful clusters of pink flowers.

Cane-stemmed begonias are mostly upright growing and make handsome specimens. The rhizomatous produces a horizontal stem above the ground and blooms in late spring, summer and fall producing beautiful clusters of flowers at the end of long stems. Many of the fibrous-rooted begonias are treated as annuals.

The "Elatior" is definitely a house or greenhouse plant. The blooms resemble those of a tuberous begonia but are much smaller, about 2 inches wide. The tuberous begonia is one of the most spectacular plants grown in any coastal garden. "Non-Stop" is a new tuberous type that is extremely floriferous and hardier than the standard tuberous begonia.

Although the cultural requirements of each type of begonia vary slightly, start with a rich, porous soil mix such as two parts planter mix, one part

A once-a-week watering will probably be sufficient unless the weather is extremely hot and dry. But, remember smaller pots need water more often than the larger ones.

Begonias respond to regular feedings so use a balanced fertilizer every two weeks during the growing season. Begonias are at their best in bright, filtered sunlight. Direct morning sun is okay but protect your plants from the hot afternoon sun.

Should powdery mildew develop, pull off infected leaves and spray immediately with a powdery mildew control. Avoid overhead watering as this spreads the mildew.

More than 100 varieties of begonias are grown at Sherman Library and Gardens in Corona del Mar, and these plants are on display - the showiest during July, August and September.

A complete begonia workshop will be taught at the gardens on Wednesday, from 9:30 a.m. to noon. For the beginner or an experienced begonia enthusiast, this class will cover the many begonia types and their detailed care Affiliates of Southern California Council of African Violet Societies will present an African violet show and sale next weekend at Huntington Center. Displays will include fantasy to star-shaped blooms, pink, tan or green foliage, miniatures and trailing plants. Several thousand plants, reflecting the variety of blooms, foliage and sizes currently available, will be offered by club members during the sale June 21 and 22.

An illustrated talk on methods of propagating plants will be presented at the next meeting of the Horticultural Society of Orange County.

Speaker will be John Lenanton, director of the Agriculture Department of Orange Coast College. The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the California Cooperative Extension, 1000 S. Harbor Blvd., Anaheim.

Newport Hills Garden Club will install officers at 10 a.m. Thursday in Clubhouse II on Port Carlow Place, Newport Beach. Afterward members will lunch at the Ritz, Newport Center.

Officers are Barbara Horne, president; Ruth Fornes and Maxine Ziebelman, vice presidents; Eleanor Norton, secretary; Judy Lisn, treasurer; and Sue Housden, parliamentarian.

Something has been bothering me lately. I was wondering if I might talk it over with you. It's about you and me I remember sometime ago (I think it was Memorial Day, or was it the 4th of July) when people lined up on both sides of the street to watch a parade. When your father saw me coming along, waving in the breeze, he took his hat off and held it against his left shoulder. His hand was directly over his heart. Remember?

And you I remember you! Standing there - straight as a soldier. You didn't have a hat on, but you gave the correct salute. They taught you in school to place your hand over your heart. Remember your little Sister? Not to be outdone, she was soluting the same as you. I was proud, very proud, as I came down that street. Oh. Yes, there were some Servicemen there, standing at attention, giving the military salute. Ladies as well as men, civilians as well as military, paid me respect Now, if I sound a bit conceited ... well ... I have a right to I represent the finest country in the world - The United States of America. More than one aggressive nation has tried to haul me down, only to feel the fury of this freedom loving country. Many of you had to go overseas to defend me. A lot more blood has been shed since those patriotic parades of long ago and I've had a few stars added since you were a boy, but I'm still the same ole flag. Dad is gone now ... and the hometown has a new look. The last time I came down your street, I noticed that some of the old landmarks had given way to a number of new buildings and homes. Yessir, the oid town sure has changed. I guess I have too, 'cause I don't feel as proud as I did back then.

I see youngsters running and shouting through the streets, college boys and girls disrupting our campuses, people selling hat dags and beer while our National Anthern is played ... everything from apathy to riots. They don't seem to know - or care - who I am. Not too long ago, I saw a man take his hat off when I came by ... he looked around, didn't see anybody else with their's off ... so he quickly put his back on.

Now - when I come down your street, you just stand there with your hands in your pockets. Occasionally, you give me a small glance and then look away. When I think of all the places I've been Normandy, Guadalcanal; lwo Jima; Battle of the Bulge, Korea, and now, Vietnam, I wonder - what's happened? I'm still the same ole floa.

How can I be expected to fly high and proud from buildings and homes when within them, there is no thought, love. or respect for me? Whatever happened to patriotism? Your patriotism? Have you forgotten what I stand for? Have you for gotten all the battlefields where men fought and died to keep this nation free? When you salute me, you salute them. Take a look at the Memorial Honor Rolls sometime. Look at the names of those who never came back. Some of them were friends or relatives of yours ... maybe even went to school with you. That's what you've saluting - NOT ME!

Well, it won't be long before I come down your street again. So, when you see me, stand straight, and place your hand over your heart. Do this because I represent you. You'll see me wave back, my salute to you

Volvo's 740s are made for driving

Aimed at those who seek comfortable. durable, reliable car

When the dramatic-looking, wedge-shaped 760 GLE sedans first appeared, they quickly established Volvo as a significant competitor in the prestige family car segment previously reserved for only the most upscale domestic offerings and a few German imports.

Intent on expanding its position, Volvo introduced two new models in 1985 that combine the sophisticated 760 platform with an all new family of 2.3-liter, low-friction, four-cylinder engines.

The 740s are positioned in the Volvo line between the traditional DL and GL models and the top-ofthe-line 760. From a marketing standpoint they are aimed directly at the affluent North American family looking for durability, reliability and comfort in an efficient and contemporary vehicle.

While many car companies have suffered reductions in volume, Volvo has steadily increased sales through the 1980s. In fact, since 1981 Volvo has been the leading importer of European cars to America. The market segment at which the 740s are aimed is sufficiently large to offer Volvo the opportunity for continued and accelerated sales volumes.

On the outside, the 740 GLE has the same sheet metal as the 760. Concern for aerodynamics is obvious, from the low, steeply raked hood through the high and somewhat abbreviated rear deck. The allwelded unitbody of the 740 GLE provides strength, while the large windows and the low beltline provide outstanding visibility and a contemporary look. The car seems longer than previous Volvos but is actually almost half an inch shorter than DL and GL models; the longer appearance stems from its five-inch longer wheelbase.

Along with its smooth and efficient 2.3-liter, four-cylinder engine, the 740 GLE features aero-styled, 14inch light alloy wheels; and comes in either solid or metallic colors.

For some drivers, the appearance and performance of a sports sedan are pure delight. The 740 Turbo, with its bold black grille, blacked-out trim and 10-spoke light alloy wheels, should satisfy the enthusiast. Nor are appearances deceiving in this case, as the 160 hp turbocharged, intercooled engine is capable of delivering performance on a par with the best Europe has to offer.

The front seats, as in all Volvos, are orthopedically designed individual bucket seats with adjustable lumbar support. The driver's seat can easily accommodate almost any size occupant, with adjustments for height, fore and aft travel, seat cushion rake and seatback angle. The driver's seat also includes a heater which automatically turns on at 55 degrees and shuts of at 80

Rich velour upholstery - in the Turbo with a unique pinstripe provides a comfortable seating surface in any weather.

The fully instrumented dashboard leads into a large console which is canted toward the driver for easy access. Air conditioning, full carpeting, tinted glass, a lighted vanity mirror and numerous convenient storage compartments are stan-

On the mechanical side Volvo has not stinted on the 740. Powerassisted rack and pinion steering, with only 3.5 turns lock to lock, and a 32-foot-2-inch turning circle make for easy maneuvering in even the tightest of spaces.

For ride comfort and good handling, Volvo provides a MacPherson strut front suspension with double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and a 19mm swaybar. At the rear the 740 is equipped with Volvo's Constant Track suspension.

This system, developed and patented by Volvo, combines the smooth ride and low noise of an independent rear suspension with the simplicity and reliability of a live axle. Double-acting shock absorbers and a swaybar complete the rear suspension system.

Both 740 models offer a choice of the Volvo M-46 four-speed manual transmission with electric overdrive or a four-speed automatic overdrive transmission. To make sure that the stopping ability of the 740 is up to its accelerating ability, four-wheel power assisted disc brakes are standard, with a design that permits 80 percent of total braking capacity to be utilized with one circuit inoperative - well in excess of any

The 740 Turbo (above) with its bold black grille, blacked-out trim and 10-spoke light alloy wheels, should satisfy dedicated sports car enthusiasts, while the GLE (at left) is aimed at the family looking for an efficient, contemporary vehicle. It is available in solid or metallic colors.

Chevy's counting on its link to Japan to boost new Nova

Car based on Corolla being produced at GM's Fremont plant

DETROIT (AP) - General Motors Corp. looked to Toyota Motor Corp. for help in developing the new Chevrolet Nova and now will try to hitch a ride on the Japanese company's reputation for quality.

Robert Burger, general manager of GM's Chevrolet division. told a news conference Monday that Nova advertisements will stress the Japanese angle.

The reputations of Americandesigned Chevrolet subcompacts of the past decade, the Vega and the Chevette, haven't fared well. Burger said Chevrolet was counting on the "perception of quality" of Toyota products to boost Nova sales after the car is introduced Thursday in 25

A modified Toyota Corolla, the Nova is made at a renovated GM plant in Fremont. The plant is 50 percent owned by each company, but Toyota runs it and supplies 70 percent of the car's parts, including transmissions and the 1.6-liter four-cylinder engines.

The U.S. content of the car rises to 50 percent when labor costs are figured in, GM said. GM also will supply the interiors, sheet metal and radios.

Prices start at $7,195. A Nova fully loaded with options will cost more than $10,000, making it the most expensive of Chevrolet's five subcompact cars.

Corollas start at $6,938. Burger said the Nova, having been based on a more upscale Corolla sold in Japan — called the Sprinter - and carrying more options, is an equal or better value.

"Many tell us they really want to purchase an American car and many tell us they're willing to pay for quality," Burger said.

Chevrolet, GM's biggest division, has been battling low market share, which slipped below 14 percent in 1983. It has edged up, to 15.6 percent so far

Burger said he wants the Chevy nameplate on 20 percent of all cars sold in the United States within a few years. That would give Chevy a bigger share than that currently held by Ford Motor Co. and is deemed a giant task.

Nova production began in December.

Tom McDaniel, director of international programs for GM, said Chevrolet officials were 'quite frankly a little disappointed" when Toyota told GM it would make only 43,000 cars this year. Capacity is 240,000 annual-

McDaniel attributed the slow startup to Toyota's unfamiliarity with the U.S. plant, the "dismantled" workforce and mundane details such as efforts by Toyota managers to learn English.

'This may have been the most difficult obstacle of all," McDaniel said of the language

Mazda, UAW reach agreement on labor relations at new plant

Confirms mutual agreement between them on framework for a subsequent agreement

TOKYO, Japan — Mazda and the United Auto Workers have signed a letter of intent that provides the basis for future cooperative labor relations at a Mazda plant under construction in Flat Rock, Mich.

The letter was signed in Tokyo this week by Osamu Nobuto, president of Mazda Motor Manufacturing (USA) Corp., and Owen Bieber, president of the International Union United Auto Workers.

The document confirms a mutual agreement between Mazda Motor Manufacturing and the UAW on the framework for a complete agreement to be concluded later.

Discussions between Mazda and the UAW began in March 1984. The letter, said Nobuto, bases their relationship on "a non-adversarial spirit of cooperation and harmony to accomplish the goal of steady employment and the creation of a positive working environment.

"Today has significance beyond its mere ceremony," Nobuto said during the signing ceremony Wednesday. "Among other things, it symbolizes the trust we are placing in the UAW and in the workers who will work at the new company.

Though details of the letter of intent were not revealed at the signing, Nobuto said the agreement will establish a team-oriented work environment in which employees help each other. He said the letter of intent provides for flexibility in operations and for a minimum number of job classi-

Construction of the Flat Rock facility officially began with a groundbreaking ceremony held at the plant site last month, with production set to begin in the fall of 1987. Large-scale hiring will start early next year. The plant will ultimately employ 3,500 persons and produce 240,000 vehicles annually.

Honda Civic. Auto engine production is ex-pected to begin by the fall of 1986 in order to supply engines for the Civic, which Honda will begin producing at its Marysville plant in mid-1986.

"I am delighted to join Mr. Irimajiri in announcing the first Honda auto engine production in the United States," said Celeste. "Honda's decision to begin manufacturing auto engines in Ohio represents another significant step in Honda's growing commitment in this country. All Ohioans can be proud that Honda's expansion will take place in our state, showing Honda's continuing confidence in Ohio's workers.

"Honda is very pleased to be making this announcement," said Irimajiri. "When we first announced our intention to build a motorcycle engine plant, we indicated that we would study the

"Due to the cooperation of state and local officials, we have been able to complete our motorcycle engine plant on time, and this makes us feel confident to proceed now with an ex-pansion for auto engines," frimajiri said. Initial operations at the motor-cycle engine plant are scheduled to begin on July 22 for the production of the 1200cc engine to supply the Honda GL 1200 motorcycle. Along with the expanded engine facilty, Honda's Marysville automobile plant is presently undergoing an expansion which will add 700,000 square feet to the existing 1 million square foot

This $240 million plant expansion, along with the construction of a new $42 million plastics plant, will increase Honda's production capacity to 300,000 cars.

At about the same time, R2D2 and C3PO made their debut in Hollywood with the premiere showing of Star Wars. This likeable pair undoubtedly had a hand (or at least a pivotal joint) in personifying the previously impersonal image of their mechanical brethren.

It didn't take long for the robot craze in Hollywood to meet the demand for robots in Detroit, and after a brief courtship the two were wed. It was never clear whether the marriage was made in heaven or Japan, but it was most definitely consummated on Wall Street in a lusty celebration of hot new issues.

Stocks like Prab, Positech and Mobot respectively, doubled, tripled and quadrupled within a year of their initial offerings.

Now that the honeymoon is over it's time to take a thoughtful look at where the industry stands and a prophetic view of where it's going.

It's apparent that the technology needed to produce mechanical bodies, arms and legs has become so prosaic that children now include robots on their annual petitions to Santa Claus. Robotics is still an industry of untapped opportunity, but the new frontier lies not with development of more limbs, but more senses. The future of robotics will be largely dependent upon the future of robotic vision.

Object Recognition Systems, Inc. (NASDAO Symbol ORSI) is a leader in this promising new field. ORSI was underwritten in March of 1981 and since that time both the company and its stock have had their ups and downs. But on March 25, after four years and $10 million in research and development, ORSI introduced their "Flexvision" system to the market Flexvision interfaces state of the ar robotics with a powerful 32 bit microprocessor, their vast library of field-proven software and a multiview video camera to create, in essence, "eyes for robots." The implications of ORSI's technology is staggering, and the applications for Flexvision are numerous.

ORSI has the largest line machine vision products in the industry. Their new joint venture agreement with SAAB-Scania Com-bitech (one of Europe's largest cor-porations) will ensure that those products get maximum market exposure. In addition to penetrating Europe and the United States, ORSI recently appointed several distributors throughout the Pacific Basin; including Japan, Singapore, South Korea and Australia.

The market for machine vision systems is expanding rapidly. Be-tween 1983 and 1984 it grew from $175 million to $250 million. This year it is expected to reach $325 million and mushroom to $1 billion

Typical of a new company with a heavy commitment to research and development, ORSI's financial state-ments leave a lot to be desired. However, the trends that are develop-However, the trends that are develop-ing on those statements are moving in all the right directions and that's what really counts. Gross revenues doubled in 1982, doubled again in 1983 and tripled in 1984. The early indication is that they will triple again this year. Recently reported first quarter revenues for 1985 were 292 percent higher than those of the same period last year. As revenues conperiod last year. As revenues continue to improve, so do the economics of scale giving effect to a dramatic reduction in losses. In 1983 the company lost $1.50 per share. That loss narrowed to $1.26 in 1984 That loss narrowed to $1.26 in 1984 and this year's first quarter loss of $.16 is 37 percent lower than the comparable period last year. In all likelihood the company will become profitable by year end. Product backlog is strong (nearly 100 percent higher than last year's figures), and includes orders from some heavy hitters like AT&T, Ford and Kodak. It's worth noting that at the turn of the century there were more than a hundred automakers. Of course, today there are only a handful left Manufacturers in the aircraft and computer industries experienced essentially the same mortality rate.

Already, the robot vision industry has attracted nearly a hundred high-tech hopefuls. Historical precedents would suggest that fewer than 20 will survive, but ORSI will probably be one of them.

Tze-Chung Chen's 65 includes double eagle on 527-yard second hole BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) - Tze-Chung Chen had never shot a double-eagle and the U.S. Open had never seen one. Not in his 26 years and not in the golf tournament's 85.

But on a Thursday in which lightning flashed across the face of the Monster known more prosaically as the South Course at the Oakland Hills Country Club, Chen ("Just call me 'T.C. It's easier.") caught lightning in a bottle.

In his first U.S. Open, his extraordinary shot on the 527-yard, par-5 second hole started the fifth-year pro from Taiwan on the way to a 5-

It made him the first-round, one-stroke leader at the front of a seven-man squadron of players who broke par.

Fred Couples, whose driving had driven him crazy for the past three weeks, had driven to a 66 and was the leader in the clubhouse when Chen birdied No. 18 to finish off the round and the Mike Reid, Andy Bean, Jay Haas, Tom Kite and Rick Fehr all came in at 1-under 69 and eight others matched par in a 14-hour stretch which, as defending champion Fuzzy Zoeller put it, "showed us all four seasons" with warmth, chill, sun, rain and, through it all, a precocious wind.

Zoeller had a 1-over-par 71. So did Spain's Seve Ballesteros, one of the pre-tourney favorites. So did Curtis Strange, the PGA Tour's leading Tom Watson, the 1982 U.S. Open champ who had said par just might be good enough to win this one, came in 5-over 75. Jack Nicklaus was a stroke farther back, as was Lee Trevino.

Chen, whose best finish in four years on the PGA tour was a playoff loss to Couples in the 1983 Kemper Open, grew up hearing and revering names like Watson and Nicklaus.

For one day, anyway, they can look at him in wonder, and wonder how he did what he'd done. It sounded as though he wondered a bit about it, too. In his broken English, he really couldn't explain how he'd done it, only that it had

"It was a perfect drive," he said of his tee shot at No. 2. "From my ball to the green was 235 (yards) to the front edge, and to the pin was 21. So that's about 255. I took the three-wood. It was perfect. The ball went straight to the pin. I heard the crowd, the people standing behind the green. I knew the ball would be pretty close. I never thought it would go in the hole

He didn't know it had gone in until he actually reached the green and spoke to the two young staes Professional Golf Association tour in 1978, faced a formidable adversary in the cold and wet weather. The temperature peaked at 54 degrees and play was postponed two hours in the morning by an overnight rain.

The slow greens and sodden fairways gave r momentum for the rest of the round. "Oh, yes," he said, not quite comprehending the question. "It was a good start."

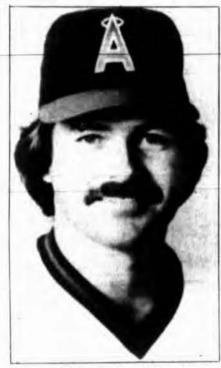

In fact, he was never less than three under after that. He followed immediately with a birdie on the par-3 third hole, birdied No. 6, bogeyed

Then the lightning came and, with it, a 14-minute break in play. Chen said he was worried the delay might hurt his game. It didn't. He closed out the round with birds on 17 and 18.

When he was asked how a young man who didn't take up golf seriously until age 17 had managed to become so good so quickly, Chen's reply was - although he didn't know it - the punch line to the classic joke about how to get to Carnegie Hall:

Slaton, Reggie back in groove

Jackson's hit in 9th gives Angels 2-1 win

By CHRIS MONAHAN

Both Jim Slaton and Reggie Jackson have had some tough going the past month or so.

Slaton, after starting the season 3-0, had lost four of his last five decisions and Jackson, after spending two weeks out of the lineup with a pulled groin, was 2 for his last 21 at the plate.

But Thursday against the Chicago White Sox, both showed that the road may be smoothing out and that easier and better times could be ahead

For Slaton it was a stellar pitching performance, as he went eight innings, allowing just four hits and one run. Only the anemic Angel offense, which only got him one run, kept him from getting the victory.

For Jackson, it was one mere swing of the bat. But that swing of the bat produced a pinchhit, bases-loaded single that drove home the winning run with two out in the ninth as the Angels squeaked by the White Sox, 2-1, before 28,269 at Anaheim Stadium.

Donnie Moore, who replaced Slaton in the ninth, picked up the victory, his fourth against three losses, while White Sox relief pitcher Gene Nelson suffered the loss and is now 3-2

The win moved the Angels back into first place, a half game up on Chicago, with three games left in the series between the teams.

'You just go up there everytime you're asked and once in a while you do something said Jackson of his pinch-hit game winner. "He (White Sox reliever Bob Fallon) threw a fastball out over the plate. It was a good

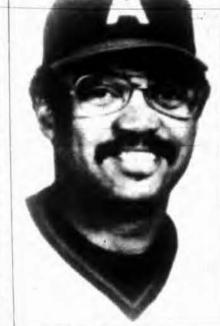

"I talked to Gene (Manager Gene Mauch) before the game and I took some extra batting practice and it looks like it paid off.

"I was getting ready the last couple of innings, because I know Gene will use me no matter how well I've been swinging or how bad I've been swinging. I haven't done much in the last four weeks. I was out for two of them. I'm glad that he has the confidence to put me in that

The situation had been set up by the inability of Nelson to find the plate. With one out, Bobby Grich got aboard on an infield single. One batter later Nelson walked Bob Boone and pinch-hitter Daryl Sconiers. When Jackson was announced for Gary Pettis. White Sox Manager Tony LaRussa made the move to the left-hander

"I motioned to Bobby Knoop to ask if Fallon was warming up and he said 'no'." said Mauch "He must have been warming up behind the screen. It wouldn't have mattered

No Baltimore deal for Wiggins, but others interested

Padres reject trade that would have sent Dan Ford to San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) - The chance of San Diego Padres second baseman Alan Wiggins becoming a Baltimore Oriole apparently is slim, but Padres General Manager Jack McKeon says he has other teams interested in

McKeon said Thursday night the talks, with teams he declined to name, are moving very

The possible deal with the Orioles was downplayed by Baltimore owner Edward Bennett Williams.

"I'm pretty sure it's over. I don't think it's going to happen," he said.

The Orioles apparently offered outfielder Dan Ford, who is currently on the disabled list with a knee injury, for Wiggins. McKeon said

McKeon, nicknamed "Trader Jack" because of his deals that have reworked the Padres roster in the last five seasons, said he's

The inter-league trading deadline is 5 p.m. Saturday, but McKeon said he would deal Wiggins to a National League club, including a team in the Padres division.

"I think a lot of people, when you get close to a trading deadline, think they can get you to give up something for nothing because you have to make a deal," McKeon said. "Some clubs use those kinds of tactics - 'We're not too interested right now' - hoping you'll jump at their first offer. I'm not going to do that. We've got until Saturday.

Wiggins, 27, the Padres' leadoff hitter, ended his drug treatment program May 26, when doctors at the facility projounced him fit to play. It was the second time in three years that Wiggins had undergone treatment.

In 1982, he was arrested for cocaine possession, underwent rehabilitation and was suspended from baseball for 30 days. At the time of the 1982 incident. Wiggins was warned by Padres President Ballard Smith that he would be dropped from the team if he got involved with drugs again.

Under the Joint Drug Agreement signed in May 1984 by major league players and owners. Wiggins was forgiven for the first offense because it occurred before the agreement was adopted.

The agreement specifies that no club can take punitive action against a player who voluntarily seeks help for a drug problem, and the association has threatened to file a grievance against the Padres if they do not move quickly to reinstate Wiggins to the active roster

Despite the union's position and a decision Monday by a drug abuse review panel that Wiggins was medically fit to play. Smith has refused to activate Wiggins.

"Out of the blue (Wednesday), I got calls from two more teams with solid offers. I feel better about the situation than I did, as though I have something to work with." McKeon

Previously, the only club that had expressed serious interest in-obtaining Wiggins was the

"I won't say who the other clubs are because I don't want to blow this," McKeon said. When I got the two other offers, all of a sudden I wasn't in as big a hurry to get the trade done. Right now, we are not close to a deal with anyone. And we're not learning more toward any one of the three teams. We are weighing things.

From AP dispatches

LAS VEGAS - Pinklon Thomas, the ex-heroin addict who owns part of the world heavyweight title, can't stop talking about Larry Holmes even as he prepares for the first defense of his crown Saturday against Mike Weaver.

Thomas, whose World Boxing Council title represents only one-third of the heavyweight crown, says he has changed his opinion of Holmes since winning the title last August against Tim Witherspoon.

"I feel he's a fraud, a fink, a peanut-head contender who is out ripping people off for their money," said the normally soft-spoken Thomas.

The outburst was in sharp contrast to Thomas' comments following the Witherspoon fight that the undefeated Holmes was the only true heavyweight champion in the eyes of boxing fans.

Now Thomas believes it is he, not Holmes or World Boxing Association champion Tony Tubbs, who reigns superior in the division.

'As far as I'm concerned, I hate that I made that statement," said Thomas, who lives in Philadelphia. "The purpose was I felt the people would recognize Larry Holmes as the champion. But the people also have to realize that Larry Holmes has been busy but hasn't been fighting real contenders."

Quote of the day

Phil Bradley, Seattle Mariners outfielder, on playing away from the air-conditioned Kingdome on a hot, humid day in Cleveland: "I felt like whipping out a beach towel, a cold drink and a radio. The temperatures on the field were in the mid-90s. I was sweating like a horse."

Lynn leads Orioles to win, 8-3

The Baltimore Orioles, who earlier in the day rehired Manager Earl Weaver to replace the fired Joe Altobelli, broke a five-game losing streak Thursday night as Fred Lynn's two-run homer capped a four-run rally in the fourth inning that helped beat Milwaukee, 8-3. Weaver ended 21/2 years of retirement to rejoin his old team, but a prior personal commitment kept him away from the park and third base coach Cal Ripken Sr. handled the club . . . Elsewhere in the American League, Rich Gedman's two-run double keyed a four-run rally in the seventh inning that lifted Boston over Toronto, 8-7 ... Kirby Puckett, who homered earlier in the game, doubled to key a three-run Minnesota rally in the sixth inning as the Twins defeated Texas, 7-5 ... Darryl Motley hit a three-run homer and Jim Sundberg added a solo shot as Kansas City held on to defeat Seattle, 4-3. Mark Gubicza, 3-4, struck out a career-high nine batters in 51/3 innings.

Goukas new 76ers coach

PHILADELPHIA - Matt Guokas, an assistant coach for the Philadelphia 76ers, was named head coach of the National Basketball Association team Guokas succeeds Billy Cunningham, who resigned on May 28. Cunningham, who coached the Sixers to the NBA championship in 1983, said he was tired from the rigors of coaching the 76ers for eight years.

Guokas has served as assistant to Cunningham since December 1981.

The 76ers' front office, looking for a successor, also had been interested in the Pistons' Chuck Daly, but balked when Detroit wanted a first-round draft pick in return for their head coach, who has a year remaining always grinding. "I was nervous most of the game. I seemed to be in trouble a bit, but I made the pitches when I needed to,' said Slaton. "I made a bad pitch to Carlton (Fisk) in the fourth, but I made a good pitch to him in the first, a breaking ball, with the bases loaded." The bad pitch in the fourth cost Slaton and the Angels a chance at a shutout as Fisk hit a towering home run, his league-leading 15th of the year, over the left-center field wall.

low to Fisk, but he's a good low ball hitter," said Slaton. In the first with the bases loaded and two outs, Slaton induced Fisk to ground into an inning-ending force at second.

"My breaking ball was more consistent tonight than it has been in the last month and I've had one win in the last month-and-a-half," said Slaton.

"It was a fastball and I got the ball

ANGEL NOTES - With the ninth inning RBI single, Reggie Jackson moves into sole pos-session of 23rd place on the all-time RBI list with 1,538, surpassing Joe DiMaggie. Jackson is now just two shy of Willie Stargell announced Thursday that they had signed both of their first round picks in the recent free agent draft. Right-handed pitchers BM Fraser and Michael Cook have agreed to contracts, according to Larry Himes, director of Scouting and Player Personnel. The two signings bring the total of picks under contract to 22 of the 33 players the team selected. A day before the Angels signed Fountain Valley High pitcher Bob Sharpnack to a contract believed to be in the neighborhood of $75,000 (which includes ex-penses to college) As the June 15 trading deadline approaches and the deals get todoher to We are eternally optimistic Port "I don't think we are out of business on all fronts. NOTICE OF SPECIAL TAX AND BOND ELECTION WITHIN COMMUNITY FACILITIES DISTRICT NO. 85-1 (NORTHWOOD) OF THE IRVINE UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a special tax and bond election shall be held in Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood) of the Invine Unified School District ("Community Facilities District No. 85-1") on July 16, 1985 on the propositions of incurring bonded indebtedness District No. 85-1 for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds. The rate and method of apportionment of the special tax are into one ballot proposition. The ballots for the special election shall be distributed by mail to the landowners within Community Facilities of the Board of Education of the Invine Unified School District. The propositions are combined District No. 85-1. The particulars of the ballot proposition are set forth in the texts of Resolution No. 84/85-20 and Resolution No. 84/85-21 of the Board of Education of the Irvine Unified School District which follow.

Dated: June 11, 1985

A.E. Olson Registrar of Voters of the County of Orange

RESOLUTION NO. 84/85-20

RESOLUTION OF FORMATION OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE IRVINE UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT ESTABLISHING COMMUNITY FACILITIES DISTRICT NO. 85-1, AUTHORIZING THE LEVY OF A SPECIAL TAX WITHIN COMMUNITY FACILITIES DISTRICT NO. 85-1 AND CALLING ELECTION

WHEREAS, the Board of Education of the Irvine Unified School District (the "Board"), has heretofore adopted Resolution No. 84/85-09

WHEREAS, the Board of Education of the Irvine Unified School District (the "Board"), has heretofore adopted Resolution No. 84/85-09 stating its intention to form Community Facilities District No. 85-1, of the Irvine Unified School District pursuant to the Mello-Roos Community WHEREAS, a copy of Resolution No. 84/85-09, setting forth a description and map of the proposed boundaries of Community Facilities to be provided, the cost of providing such facilities and the rate and method of apportionment of the special tax principal and interest on bonds, proposed to be authorized within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 to pay for the facilities and other costs including tease payments and to pay the of Education and incorporated herein by reference; and WHEREAS, a copy of Resolution No. 84/85-18 of the Board of Education making certain changes in the proceedings relating to the levy WHEREAS, on June 4, 1985, this Board held a noticed hearing as required by law relative to the proposed formation of Community, WHEREAS, at said hearing all persons desiring to the heard on all matters and the burdens of the persons desiring to the heard on all matters and the proposed formation of Community, WHEREAS, at said hearing all persons desiring to the heard on all matters and the burdens and persons desiring to the heard on all matters and the latest to the proposed formation of Community, WHEREAS, at said hearing all persons desiring to the heard on all matters and the latest to the proposed formation of Community, WHEREAS, at said hearing all persons desiring to the heard on all matters and the latest to the proposed formation of Community.

Facilities District No. 50-1; and
WHEREAS, at said hearing all persons desiring to be heard on all matters pertaining to the formation of Community Facilities District No.
85-1 were heard and a full and fair hearing was held; and
WHEREAS, at said hearing evidence was presented to the Board on said matters before it, and this Board at the conclusion of said hearing

NOW, THEREFORE, the Board of Education of the Irvine Unified School District DOES HEREBY RESOLVE, DETERMINE AND ORDER as Section 1. A community facilities district to be designated "Community Facilities District No. 85-1 of the Irvine Unified School District" is hereby established pursuant to the Act.

hereby established pursuant to the Act.

Section 2. The description and map of the boundaries of Community Facilities District No. 85-1, as described in said Resolution No. 84-85-18 and incorporated herein by reference, shall be the boundaries of said Community Facilities District.

Section 3. The type of public facilities ("Facilities") proposed to be provided within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 include the following: elementary school facilities including land, buildings, furnishings and appurtenances.

Section 4. Except where funds are otherwise available, it is the intention of the Board to levy annually a special tax sufficient to pay for the principal of and interest on the bonds proposed to be issued to finance such Facilities and to make such other payments on indebtedness incurred such as lease or other payments. The rate and method of apportionment of the special tax is described in detail on Exhibit "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference. The special tax is based on the benefit received by parcels of real property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 include the facilities and to make such other payments not indebtedness attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference. The special tax is based on the benefit received by parcels of real property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 include the facilities are constant to section 53325.3 of the Government Code and such tax is not on or based upon the ownership of real property.

is x is further basedupon the cost of making the Facilities available to each parcel in the area. The special tax is apportioned to each parcel on the foregoing bases pursuant to Section 5325.3 of the Government Code and such tax is not on or based upon the ownership of real property.

Section 5. In the event that any parcel within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 undergoes a change of zoning so that it is no longer zoned for residential development, the rate and method of apportionment of the special tax specified on Exhibit "A" will be applied to such parcel as if it were still zoned for residential development at the densities shown on such plan.

Section 6. In the event that a portion of the property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 shall become for any reason exempt, wholly or partially, from the levy of the special tax specified on Exhibit "A" the Board shall, on behalf of Community Facilities District No. 85-1 increase the levy to the extent necessary upon the remaining property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 which is not delinquent or exempt in order to yield the required debt service payments or other payments.

Section 7. The Board finds that the proposed facilities are necessary to meet the increased demand put upon the Irvine Unified School District No. 85-1 for the exclusive purpose of paying principal of or interest on bonds or other indebtedness incurred to finance construction of capital facilities to be financed and constructed by Community Facilities District No. 85-1.

Section 8. The Board finds that there is a dislorem property tax currently being levied on property within proposed Community Facilities District No. 85-1.

Section 9. Written protests have not been filled by fifty percent (50%) or more of the registered voters or property owners of one-half (1/2) or more of the area of land within proposed Community Facilities District No. 85-1.

Section 10. The special tax proposed to be levied in Community Facilities District No. 85-1.

Section 11. The facil

proposition is attached hereto as Exhibit "B".

Section 13. The date of the special election for Community Facilities District No. 85-1 on the propositions of incurring bonded indebtedness and the rate and method of apportionment of the special tax shall be on the 16th day of July, 1985.

Section 14. It is hereby found that there are less than twelve registered voters within the territory of proposed Community Facilities District No. 85-1, and pursuant to Section 53326 of the Government Code, the ballots for the special election shall be distributed by mail with return postage prepaid to the landowners within Community Facilities District No. 85-1. Each landowner shall have one vote for each acre or portion thereof that he or she owns within Community Facilities District No. 85-1, as provided in Section 53326 of the Government Code.

Section 15. Notice of said election shall be given. Notice is hereby given that written arguments not to exceed 35Q words in length for or against the measure shall be flied not later than 5:00 p.m. June 25, 1985, at the office of the Registrar of Voters, 1300-C So. Grand Avenue, P.O. Box 11298, Santa Ana, California, 92711.

Section 15. Section 25. Section

Section 16. Said Community Facilities District shall constitute a single election precinct for the purpose of holding said election.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF IRVINE UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

By Gordon Getchel

ATTEST:

Helen Cameron Clerk of the Board of Education of Irvine Unified School District

RATE AND METHOD OF APPORTIONMENT

The Special Tax Based Upon Current Plans for Development

The tax rate and method of apportionment of the Special Tax, based upon the current plan for development of the property. specifically detailed in the Density Plan submitted to the Board of Education, a copy of which shall be placed on file at the offices of the Board of Education of Irvine Unified School District, entitled "Density Plan for Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood) of the Irvine Unified School District" is as follows:

Except as hereafter provided, the herein authorized tax shall only be levied upon property zoned for residential uses for which during the year preceding the deadline for placement upon the secured assessment role of Orange County an escrow has closed for the sale of such property by the developer thereof to the first purchaser or, as to apartments, for which a certificate of occupancy has been issued.

The Special Tax, except where funds are otherwise available, for planned or existing residential units shall be levied and collected according to the designated class of the unit as described below at an annual rate shown below for the 1985-86 fiscal year which rate shall increase four percent (4%) per year compounded annually unless the Board of Education subsequently determines that rental and/or debt service payments may be met with the levy of a lesser tax. The rate in effect for the class of unit during the fiscal year a unit is first subject to the tax shall be the rate initially applicable to such unit. Such rate shall continue to increase four percent (4%) per year compounded annually unless the Board of Education subsequently determines that rental and/or debt service payments may be met with the levy of a lesser tax

Class	per Acre	Amount per unit
1	15 and above (apartments)	$ 334.45
2	12 and above (attached single family)	374.58
3	7 to but not including 12 (detached single family)	414.72
*	6 to but not including 7 (detached single family)	481.61
5	0 to but not including 6 (detached single	649.08

In the event that any parcel zoned for residential use within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood) undergoes a change of zoning so that it is no longer zoned for residential development at the densities shown on the Density Plan placed on file in the office of the Clerk of the Board, or no longer zoned for residential development, the rate and method of apportionment of the special tax will be applied to such parcel as if it were still zoned for residential development at the densities shown on such plan. In the event that a portion of the property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood) shall become for any reason exempt, wholly or partially, from the levy of the special tax. the Board shall, on behalf of Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood), increase the levy to the extent necessary upon the remaining property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood) which is not delinquent or exempt in order to yield the required debt service payments or other obligations incurred by or for Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood).

in determining the density for residential units, all open space areas, public property, property owned by a community association, public or private utility company, or any public agency shall be excluded. In determining the amount of special tax to be levied within an assessor's parcel, the density designation of a residential unit shall be determined in accordance with the Plan, unless at the time building permits are obtained for such residential units the density is different than as indicated in the Plan, in which event the Special Tax may be proportionally adjusted as provided below

II. Special Tax Based Upon Change in Current Plans for Development

In the event that at the time either Final Maps are recorded on the property or building permits are issued, the density or use of property within an assessor's parcel changes from the density or use of the property established in the Plan, the Board of Education may proportionally adjust the Special Tax according to such change in accordance with the rate and method of apportionment set forth in Section I A above.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE IRVINE UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT DETERMINING THE RECESSITY TO INCUR BONDED INDESTEDNESS IN THE AMOUNT OF $15,000,000 WITHIN COMMUNITY FACILITIES DISTRICT NO. 85-1 (NORTHWOOD) OF THE IRVINE UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT AND CALLING ELECTION

WHEREAS, on April 9, 1985, the Board of Education of the Irvine Unified School District (the "Board"), adopted Resolution No. 84/85-09 stating its intention to form Community Facilities District No. 85-1 (Northwood) of the Irvine Unified School District ("Community Facilities District No. 85-1") pursuant to the Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act of 1982, as amended, (the "Act"); and WHEREAS, on April 9, 1985, the Board also adopted Resolution No. 84/85-10 stating its intention to incur indebtedness in the amount of

WHEREAS, on April 9, 1965, the Board also adopted nestigation of the purpose of financing certain public facilities ("Facilities"), to serve the area within Community Facilities District No. 85-1; and "WHEREAS, on June 4, 1985, this Board held a noticed hearing as required by law relative to the determination to proceed with the formation of Community Facilities District No. 85-1 and the rate and method of apportigiment of the special tax to be levied within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 to pay the principal and interest on the proposed indebtedness; and

WHEREAS, at said hearing all persons desiring to be heard on all matters pertaining to the formation of Community Facilities District No. 1 were heard and a full and fair hearing was held; and WHEREAS, the Board subsequent to such hearing adopted Resolution No. 84/85-20 establishing Community Facilities District No. 85-1;

WHEREAS, on June 4, 1985, this Board held a noticed hearing as required by law relative to the necessity for authorizing the bonds, the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued, and the amount of the proposed debt, the maximum term of the bonds and the maximum annual rate of interest to be paid.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Board of Education of the Irvine Unified School District DOES HEREBY RESOLVE, DETERMINE AND ORDER AS Section 1. It is necessary to incur bonded indebtedness in the maximum aggregate principal amount of $15,000,000 within Contilities District No. 85-1.

Facilities District No. 85-1.

Section 2. The indebtedness is incurred for the purpose of financing the costs of designing, constructing, acquiring or leasing the Facilities, as provided in Resolution No. 84/85-10 and the report prepared by District staff, copies of which are on file with the Clerk of the Board, the acquisition of necessary equipment and property therefor, and to fulfill contractual commitments and carry out the powers and purposes of Community Facilities District No. 85-1, including but not by way of limitation, the costs of selling bonds to finance such costs of acquisition and

Section 3. The special tax is based on the benefit received by parcels of real property within Community Facilities District No. 85-1 derived from the right to access the facilities necessitated by development in such area. The tax is further based upon the cost of making the facilities available to the area. The tax is apportioned on the foregoing bases pursuant to Section 53325.3 of the Government Code, and such tax is not available to the area. The tax is apportioned on the foregoing bases pursuant to Section 53325.3 of the Government Code, and such tax is not on or based upon the ownership of real property.

Section 4. That the maximum term of the bonds to be issued shall in no event exceed forty (40) years.

Section 5. The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates established at such time as the bonds are sold in one or more series at a fixed or variable interest rate, however not to exceed any applicable statutory rate for such bonds, payable semiannually, the actual rate or rates and times of payment to be determined at the time or times of sale thereof.

Section 6. The bonds issued by Community Facilities District No. 85-1 may bear a variable interest rate, provided that such variable rate shall not exceed the maximum rate permitted by any applicable provision of law limiting the maximum interest rate on the bonds. To the extent permitted by law, an amount equal to the interim variable interest rate which from time to time may exceed the maximum interest rate permitted by law, may be added to the principal amount due under the bonds.

Section 7. A special election is hereby called for Community Facilities District No. 85-1 on the proposition of incurring the bonded indebtedness and shall be consolidated with an election on the proposition of levying special taxes, pursuant to Section 53353.5 of the Government Code. The proposed proposition relative to incurring bonded indebtedness in the maximum aggregate principal amount of $15,000,000 within Community Facilities District No. 85-1, and the rate and method of apportionment of the special tax are combined into one ballot proposition pursuant to Section 53353.5 of the Government Code. The proposed combined proposition is attached hereto as Exhibit "A".

Section 8. The date of the special election for Community Facilities District No. 85-1 on the propositions of incurring the bonded indebtedness and the rate and method of apportionment of the special taxes shall be on the 16th day of July, 1985.

Section 9. It is hereby found that there are less than twelve registered voters within the territory of proposed Community Facilities District No. 85-1 and pursuant to Section 53326 of the Government Code, the ballots for the special election shall be distributed by mail with return postage prepaid to the landowners within Community Facilities District No. 85-1. Each landowner shall have one vote for each acre or portion thereof that he or she owns within Community Facilities District No. 85-1, as provided in Section 53326 of the Government Code.

Section 10. Notice of said elections shall be given. Notice is hereby given that written arguments not to exceed 300 words in length for or against the measure shall be filled not later than 5:00 p.m. June 25, 1985, at the office of the Registrar of Voters, 1300-C So. Grand Ave., P.O. Box 11298. Santa Ana. California 92711.

Box 11298, Santa Ana, California 92711. Section 11. Community Facilities District No. 85-1 shall constitute a single election precinct for the purpose of holding said elections.

Section 12. Except as otherwise provided in the Act, said election shall be called, held and conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Uniform District Election Law of the State of California. ADOPTED, SIGNED AND APPROVED, this 10th day of June, 1985.

Ailing Laguna Beach baby not abandoned by mom

By LISA MAHONEY

A language barrier led Laguna Beach police to wrongly believe an ailing infant had been abandoned by his mother at a residential hotel last week, officials said Thursday

An inability to understand Spanish-speaking residents who called police when the weeks-old infant became ill resulted in the misconception that the child had been abandoned, Investigator Toni

"We're not going to take any case of abandonment." she said. The child's mother has been found and the case was referred to Orange County Social Services, Place said.

A woman caring for the unidentified baby at the Hamilton House hotel called police when the child developed breathing difficulties June 6. Taken first to South Coast Medical Center in South Laguna, the child was transferred to Childrens Hospital of Orange County where it was discovered he has a congenital heart problem

been abandoned by its 34-year-old mother because they had trouble understanding residents at the hotel.

It appeared that the mother had not visited the child in nine days when in fact "there had been several visits with food," Place said.

Place said the woman, whose name was not released, left her baby in a friend's care so she could continue working. Place did not know where

Coast's high school grads to live it up 'all night long'

Grad night parties scheduled on campuses for Newport Harbor, CdM, Laguna seniors

Orange Coast high schools are planning to celebrate graduation this week with grad night parties designed by parents to keep their children in one place, and in one piece, on a night marred all too often by drinking, driving and disaster.

Graduating seniors at 10 area schools are scheduling traditional celebrations this year at Disneyland. The all-night, carefully-regulated parties at the amusement park following graduation ceremonies have become as much a part of the school year as pep rallies and football games.

But three high schools, Newport Harbor, Corona del Mar, and Laguna Beach, have taken grad night a step further. The three schools are planning on-campus extravaganzas for the night of June 20, including gambling, live entertainment, exotic foods and special activities.

For the 10th year in a row, Laguna Beach High School will hold its grad night party, planned and hosted by an estimated 95 percent of the students' parents from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.
"A Midnight Ride on the Orient Express" will be the theme for this year's celebration on campus, which is being produced at an estimated cost of about $12,000. Students will enter the campus through a school auditorium completely transformed into a replica of an European train depot, and arrive outside to find the area between the cafeteria and the tennis courts changed overnight into selected sights from cities visited by the Orient Express - the train made famous by author Agatha Christie. The cafeteria will serve as a gambling casino. Next to the cafeteria will be a Parisian-style outdoor patio with artificial grass, tables with flowers and intimate lighting. A roast beef dinner will be served from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m., and fancy potatoes,

FOCUS ON THE salads, ice cream and Belgian waffles will also be available during the evening. Students will dance in a Viennese ballroom constructed on campus, to the music of the band Brand New World. Other assorted features will include a Turkish bazaar with games, a fortune teller, a caricacaturist, a hand-writing analyst, and guitarist/math teacher Gary Shapiro.

At Corona del Mar High School, parents will build an entire three-ring circus on the school grounds. In the 'Center Ring," dog acts, jugglers, high wire acts, tarot readings, and other attractions will be featured (Please see COAST/A2)

Jury sees bloody evidence in trial of El Toro man

By JEFF ADLER

An Orange County Superior Court jury Thursday was shown sections of blood-spattered wood-panel wall taken from the Laguna Hills home of a 49-year-old Saddleback Community Hospital nurse who was beaten to death last year.

Timothy David Russell, a 27-yearold former orderly at the same hospital, is charged with first-degree. murder with special circumstances in the slaying of Marilyn Haugh Lyon, who died following a violent struggle on July 4, 1984 in her three-bedroom Wilkes Street home.

The wall panel was introduced as evidence as Russell's trial on the murder charge got under way in Santa Ana. The trial is expected to conclude late next week.

If convicted of first-degree murder as well as robbery and attempted rape during the commission of a murder. Russell could be sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole, Deputy District Attorney Bryan Brown said.

In his brief opening statement to jurors, Brown said the motive for Lyon's slaying was sexual. Russell, an El Toro resident, became acquainted

While the infection has only been connected to "cotija" and "queso fresco" cheeses, the state Health Department pulled all Jalisco-brand cheeses from California market shelves Thursday.

The company voluntarily shut down its plant in Artesia on Thursday and is expected to begin running tests, along with federal Food and Drug Administration investigators, to determine how the cheese was con-

Health officials said the white, soft, mild-flavored cheeses were apparently tainted with Listeria Monocytogenes, a bacteria that mostly attacks pregnant women and people weakened by disease.

The bacteria, found naturally in soil and in the internal organs of animals, should have been removed by Jalisco's pasteurization process.

Doctors in Los Angeles and Orange counties became suspicious after an epidemic-like outbreak of the rare bacterial infection, which is usually seen only once or twice a year.

At UC Irvine, three babies were stillborn and four more were born suffering from the food poisoning apparently passed on by

Apple Computer to lay off workers in Garden Grove

CUPERTINO(AP) - Apple Computer Inc., the nation's second-largest personal computer maker, announced today that it will eliminate ,200 jobs - including some in Garden Grove - in the first largescale layoffs in the company's history.

In announcing the cuts as part of a massive reorganization of the company, President and Chief Executive Officer John Sculley also said Apple would report a loss for the third fiscal quarter.

The layoffs will occur when manufacturing facilities in Dallas, Garden Grove and Ireland are closed, along with the elimination of about 500 other positions.

The non-manufacturing jobs will be eliminated immediately, while the others will be phased out over the next 90 days, said Kathleen Dixon, an Apple spokeswoman.

Apple will continue to make their computers and peripheral products at facilities in Fremont, Singapore and Cork, Ireland.

"The slump in the personal computer industry is significant and Apple has taken aggressive steps to bring our organization in line with these conditions," said Sculley.

Sculley said the cost of the reorganization will create a loss in the current quarter, but would not say how big the loss might be. Eugene G. Glazer, an analyst with

Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. in New York, said he expects a pre-tax writeoff of "at least $20 million" associated with the shakeup. . Analysts have been predicting the layoffs all week. They are the latest tion of the company that has shaken Apple's power structure to the core. The man who has emerged as victor in the power struggle is Sculley. Defeated, for now, is Steven Jobs, Apple's youthful chairman and coture. The units had operated independently, leading to what many sources called an unhealthy competitiveness. Reorganization would eliminate stockholder. He was removed as

At the same time Jobs was forced to step down, Sculley announced a

Apple managers were reportedly in meetings all week hammering out details of the reorganization and layoffs. Apple currently has about 5,600 employees, with 2,400 of them in Silicon Valley.

COAST GRADS GET ALL NIGHT PARTIES...

throughout the night from 9 p.m. to 3

A live elephant ride and a real tiger will also be on hand to greet the graduates. The New Marines rock band will perform in one of the three 'big top" areas — otherwise known as the Girls' Gym. And next door, the Boys' Gym will form the third big top area, as a functioning gambling casino with black jack, craps and roulette tables staffed by parents. Popcorn, cookies, hot pretzels, cotton candy, snow cones, soft drinks and the entire menu of Del Taco will be available as well. The total cost for the Grad Night production is esti-mated at roughly $25,000.

Twenty-four parents have planned "An Evening in Paris," the theme for Newport Harbor High School's own grad night party, from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Backdrops of the Eiffel Tower, the Arch de Triumph, a Parisian nightclub and other sights of Paris have been specially designed for the occasion by George James, head of the Cal State Fullerton Art Department.

The Rave, a Santa Barbara band, will perform in the "Moulin Rouge" night club followed by a disc jockey and then the local band, The Jets. A French jazz band, mimes, a magician, break dancers and other cabaret entertainers will also perform.

A casino room will complete the night club, with gambling as at the other two campuses. Outside, sidewalk cafes will house arcade games, and French street walkers will roam the campus to amuse guests.

Pizza, hot dogs, nachos, fresh fruit and vegetables, Balboa bars, French dip sandwiches and an early-morning breakfast will be available during the festivities.

Ocean View High School gets an early start on graduation festivities tonight, as graduates there head to Disneyland. Nine other high schools will also be taking their graduates to Disneyland, where dancing will be available along with the usual rides

Disneyland will host the grad night celebrations from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m., and all students attending must arrive on school buses.

Graduates at Edison, Fountain Valley, Marina, Irvine, and Woodbridge high schools will celebrate at Disneyland on Wednesday night. Huntington Beach, Costa Mesa and Estancia high schools graduates will be going Thursday night.

Crosby, Stills and Nash 'help feed the hungry'

By SCOTT HAYS Datebook Editor

David Crosby, Stephen Stills and Graham Nash, famed rockers of the 60s and 70s, are starting an eight-week concert tour that will help feed the hungry of America.

On June 28 in Sacramento, the trio will kick off a 32-city, 41concert tour promoting the theme of "helping those in you own backyard.'

That tour will come to the Costa Mesa Pacific Ampitheatre on Tuesday, July 2. According to Roy Lubovsky, director of operations at the South Coast Food Share food bank in Long Beach, concertgoers will be asked to bring cans of food to the concert, which will then be donated to food banks in Orange County, including Food Distribution Services in Orange, local churches, alcohol rehab centers and other non-profit organization that service the needy of the surrounding communities.

The CSN concert will end on Sept, 4 in Atlanta, Ga. Performing with the trio will be Mark Williams on drums, George "Chocolate" Perry on bass, Joe Lala, and Mike Finnegan, Craig Doerge and Kim Bullard on keyboards.

According to Lubovsky, the Pacific Amphitheater concert should raise in excess of 10,000 pounds of cans, or enough food to feed 6,000 people for five days. The South Coast Food Share food bank of Long Beach also hopes to be working with local corporations who choose to contribute to the cause by matching the canned food pound for pound: "We have several leads in Orange County of corporations willing to help, but no one has committed yet," said Lubovsky.

In Fort Wayne Indiana, for example, Kroeger Company has offered to donate one loaf of bread for every person attending the concert there on July 20. "We'd like to find the same type of deal somewhere in Orange County," said Lubovsky.

Crosby, Stills and Nash were picked to represent the hungry because their music "has always expressed social concern with local problems," said Lubovsky. South Coast Food Share originally approached the trio for the three Southern California appearances only, but the musical group "wanted to do something on a national level."

Further information on the food sharing program may be obtained by writing South Coast Food Share, 1444 San Francisco Ave., Long Beach 90813, or by calling Roy Lubovsky at (213) 435-3577.

CONCERT NOTES: David Lindley and El Rayo X will perform at 8:30 and 11 p.m. June 28 and 29 at the Golden Bear, 306 Pacific Coast Highway in Huntington Beach. Formerly with Jackson Browne, David Lindley is truly an incredible performer and one of the more brilliant musicians today. Further information at 960-5436.

But until then, The Bear keeps things hoppin' with the debut of Radio Active, featuring lead vocalist Cherie Currie, tonight for two shows, Ronnie Montrose Saturday, Shawn Phillips June 21 and Jimmy Riley and the original Wailers June 22.

Sounds Great!

COOL FASHIONS...AND A FALL SNEAK PREVIEW...... 11

BY VIDA DEAN - "The 'cool award' of the week goes to the model who walked right out of her shoes not once, but twice, with an audience of more than 750 watching. She continued to smile and stayed with the beat of the music," writes Vida Dean, who reports on the All Guild (The Center) show at the Irvine Marriott last Friday. The 'hot award' goes to the Hot Fashions & Styles the crowd could warm up to...this fall, because that's when they'll be available at Nordstrom, which presented the fall sneak preview.

QUALITY CUISINE, 'GRACIOUS RE-COVERY' AT LE CHARDONNAY.....14

BY BEVERLY BUSH SMITH - "We considered putting our heads down on the table, to see if that might attract some attention,' Datebook restaurant columist writes. "We'd enjoyed a fine dinner at Le Chardonnay in the Registry Hotel. But now, 50 minutes after our entrees were cleared, no one had approached us, other than to serve coffee." That's what happens when you're one of the finest restaurants in the area. But the captain recovered when, informed of Beverly's plight, he apologized profusely and brought her check, along with complimentary mini pastries.

A few months later he learned of a vacancy in the final scene of "Camelot" at Sebastian's West Dinner Playhouse and promptly filled it, launching a career that would become the envy of his Young Conservatory classmates — capped by playing a featured part in one of Hollywood's biggest blockbusters and originating a role in a stage drama that later would be presented at South Coast Repertory.

Robert Macnaughton is back at SCR now, this time as the star of the Costa Mesa theater's mainstage production, "Master Harold...and

Although he created the part of Buddy in New York for the Circle Repertory Theater premiere of "The Diviners," and reprised it a year later, he was not able to play the role at South Coast Repertory in 1982 because of California's strict child labor laws which required a costly tutor for any youngster under 18.

"That really makes it tough for young actors to break into the profession here," he said. "What it amounts to is forcing a theater to hire a baby sitter at $40 an hour."

Now, however, he's attained the "magic age" and just in time for "Master Harold," Athol Fugard's riveting story of a white youth who, at a point of emotional crisis, succumbs to inherited prejudice and savagely berates the black man who has been his friend and mentor for years.

It is a scene of shattering impact, of simmering rage over the course of the afternoon's events bursting in white-hot fury as young Hally shows his contempt for the black servant (skillfully portrayed by Sydney Hibbert) by spitting in his face. It's equally shattering to Macnaughton as an actor, he Macnaughton accords his director, Martin Benson, a large share of the credit for the impact of "Master Harold."

"He's the best director I've ever worked with on stage," the young man declared. "I had heard he was great before I got into the show, but I didn't realize just how great. He notices everything, and if you've got a problem with a scene he senses it and works it out with you."

his movie debut as the older plot. "A Boy's Life" turned out brother in Steven Spielberg's to be "E.T." and the rest, as "E.T." That film rewrote most they say, is history.

box office records in 1982 and will be back to lure more moviegoers this summer.

He's made only one other movie, playing the starring role of Adam in the lesssuccessful "I Am the Cheese" with Robert Wagner and Hope Lange. On television Robert has been seen in the CBS movie of the week, "Angel City;" a pilot film, "Big Bend Country," and two young peoples' specials, "The Electric Grandmother" and "Hear Me Cry.'

The bulk of his work has been on the stage. After his professional debut in "Camelot," Robert quickly landed the juvenile roles in "A Thousand Clowns" at San Diego's Fiesta Dinner Theater and "Critic's Choice" for the Center Theater in Long Beach.

Then came a trip to New York with his father, Bruce, in Easter Week 1980 on what the young actor describes as "a lark." By the week's end he'd landed the "Angel City" TV role and auditioned for a new play at a small Greenwich Village theater — and started rehearsals the next day. The play was "The Diviners," which attracted talent scouts who recommended him for two more TV movies and brought him to the attention of Steven Spielberg, who was casting for young performers for his new project, tentatively titled "A Boy's Life."

That was the film's working title when Robert was first Macnaughton, of course, interviewed by the Daily Pilot can speak with authority on early in 1982, and he was good directors, having made under orders not to discuss the Sydney Hibbert, Daryl Roach and Robert Macnaughton in a scene from SCR's Mainstage production of "Master Harold...and The Boys.

Macnaughton lives with his parents, Bruce and Millie, brother Craig, 17, and sister Kathleen, 14, in Irvine. Craig's interests run to athletics and photography, but Kathleen may be following in her older brother's footsteps; she's already done several plays, including the role of Helen Keller in the Gem Theater's production of "The Miracle Worker."

As for Robert, he'll be heading back to New York after "Master Harold" closes next weekend for a key role in the Circle Rep's production of "A Tale Told," the third play in Lanford Wilson's trilogy which includes "Talley's Folly" and "The Fifth of July." He may stay on for a sixmonth stint in a repertory company, depending on the plays selected and the roles available.

He's not one to let time weigh heavy on his hands. He auditioned for several Hollywood projects after "Master Harold" opened, and would have had a role in the new "Twilight Zone" series, except for the planned shooting schedule — the producers couldn't guarantee he'd be finished by 6 p.m., in time to get to SCR for "Master Harold" performances.

"I get more tired when I'm not working," he said. "I just feel better when I'm doing a play or a movie. Outside my schoolwork (he's finishing his senior year at Irvine's SELF alternative school), there's not much to do. It's nice to have a little free time — but not too much.'

He may not have heard the last of "The Diviners" either. Playwright Jim Leonard Jr. is writing a new script with a part earmarked for Macnaughton. There's also talk of a movie

"Robert Altman owns the movie rights," he said, "but he's looking for a real braindamaged boy to play Buddy." That, of course, would eliminate the young actor who first performed the role, if indeed he doesn't outgrow it first.

For the future, Macnaughton would like to concentrate on movies and television, graduating eventually into writing and directing.

What about a sequel to his mega-hit picture "E.T.?"

I really don't think they should do one," he said, "and I know Steven (Spielberg) is against it. I saw a story treatment and wasn't impressed.

"It's not the kind of thing you can continue, like 'Star Wars' or 'Raiders of the Lost Ark.' It would be very hard to capture that kind of magic again."

Cool fashions...and a Fall sneak preview

By Vida Dean

The "cool award" of the week has to go to the model that walked right out of her shoes, not once but twice, with an audience of more than 750 watching. She continued to smile and stayed with the beat of the music.

The "hot award" goes to the fashions shown at the All Guild (The Center) show at the Irvine Marriott. Hot items for the outside temperatures of the sunny day, but styles the crowd could warm up to this fall. That's when they will be available at Nordstrom, which presented the fall sneak preview...look for lots of pants, interesting jacket styles, colorful sweaters and styles in leather.

"This is the first time all of the guilds (10) have ever been together under one roof for a fundraiser," said Chairman Carolyn DeWald during the trying "get seated" period at the start of the luncheon. Some last minute changes had been made in the positioning of the ramp and table numbers causing guests to roam about.

DeWald stayed cool and collected saving. "Look around and find a spot. There's lots of empty seats and this gives you a great opportunity to get acquainted."

The gathering was a celebration of all that has been accomplished thus far. Shae Gazzaniga and Patricia Rowley co-chaired the event.

Carol Wilken, outgoing chairman of the guilds, was praised along with her predecessors Georgia Spooner, Elaine Redfield (who was in Kentucky checking out another Center) and Betty Belden. Roses were presented to all past board members as they paraded on the ramp and posed for pictures.

The position of all-guild chairman went from Wilken to Rowley, who promised to carry on guiding the support groups. (DeWald was in line for the chairmanship, but instead is moving to Chicago where she and husband Maury will live on the 14th floor of a downtown apartment building — one floor down from Ann Landers).

Others on the new board introduced were JoAnn Boswell, Barbara Terry, Ciel Woodman, Shari Esayian, Pat Strehlow, Marcie Lemmon, Susan Stahl, Hope Nordwall, June Williams. Barbara Steinberg, Helen Fromlath, Lee Ann Leithem, Mary Johnson, Gay Krpan and Wilken (as parliamentarian).

WINE&SPIRITS

The role of California dessert wines

BY JOHN P. BORIOLO

The role of California dessert wines in today's market is miniscule, when compared to the more popular dry table wines. This wasn't always the case. In fact, when in its infancy, the industry was comprised almost entirely of sweet, fortified wines. This was due largely to the fact that the missionaries adhered to the practice of arresting a wine's fermentation by the addition of distilled spirits.

This had two distinct effects on the young wine: first, it left a percentage of residual sugar, enough to render the wine decidedly sweet, secondly, it boosted the alcoholic contentto as much as 20 percent. The finished wines, because of their higher alcoholic content, were less susceptible to contamination and therefore more suitable for transport than their drier counterparts.

The trend toward sweet, highalcohol wines continued until just prior to the turn of the century, when California producers shifted dramatically to the production of dry table wines. The increasing availability of fine Spanish and Portugese fortified wines had relegated the California products to a place in the market based on price, rather than quality.

The first dessert wines to reappear would be of the lateharvest type, made from fruit that was allowed to remain on the vine for an inordinate period of time. Often the fruit was infected with Botrytis Cinerea, a naturally occurring mold that pierces the skin of the grape, thereby allowing some of the juice to evaporate and further concentrate the sugars.

Produced predominately from White Riesling, Gewurztraminer, Sauvignon Blanc, and Semillon, wines of this type have been produced for hundreds of years in both Germany and France, and were the inspiration for their California counterparts. In contrast to fortified dessert wines, these wines can often times be as little as nine percent alcohol, and it should be pointed out, that even though California law describes dessert wines as being over 14 percent alcohol that these are indeed dessert wines.

Today California winemakers are fashioning dessert wines in both fortified and late-harvest styles, and, while it's true that the dominant force in the market is table wines, there is no shortage of quality dessert wines. Whether you need the perfect complement to poached pears, a chocolate souffle or simply Stilton and walnuts, a trip to your local wine merchant will provide an ade-

THE QUADY WINERY—
The 1975 harvest effected a dramatic surplus in red wine grapes. In fact many grapes were literally discarded. Andrew Quady, then a resident enologist at Lodi Vintners, saw this surplus as an opportunity to produce a premium quality Zinfandel Port. The 1975 Quady Port was so well received that Andrew and his wife, Laurel, set a goal to establish the Quady Winery as an ongoing enterprise.

Today the Quady Winery is an institution in California Dessert Wine production. After establishing his reputation for rich, full-bodied Ports made from Amador County Zinfandel, Quady began to experiment with the virtually unknown grapes, Orange Muscat and Black Muscat. These Muscat Wines are truly Quady's most exciting contributions to the California dessert wine scene — QUADY 1983 Elysium (Black Muscat), $11; Quady 1984 Essensia (Orange Muscat), $11; Quady 1982 Vintage Port, $9.

CHATEAU SAINT JEAN Richard Arrowood, winemaker Chateau Saint Jean. Winer produces his dessert wines in the late-harvest German style. In fact Chateau St. Jean makes Rieslin in every sweetness catego known in Gerniany exceeiswein. More recently, A rowood has experimented with late-harvest, Sauternes sty Sauvignon Blanc. The Chates Saint Jean Winery sets the standard in California white dessewines.

BALBOA THAI CAFE — Opens with Host Opaso

If you aren't already aware of it, part of the Balboa Peninsula is getting a face lift. The Balboa fun zone is undergoing re-development with new shops and restaurants going up.

One of the newest is the Balboa Thai Cafe and your host Opaso achirachatchot has come from his restaurant in Orange for the celebration. Opaso comes from a Bangkok restaurant family and started his first place in Long Beach is 1973. Thai food is a marriage of cuisines of India and China. Pakistanis and Malays also live in Bangkok and contribute their influence. Opasos' food reflects this diversity, being like his native land a crossroads and mixture of all that is best in the Far East. You'll find such deliciously contrasting flavors as hot, sweet, salty and sour tastes, blended with exuberance and subtlety. The result is a riot of fresh basil, lemon grass, ginger root, Kaffir limes, galingale root, coriander, dried cohilis, fresh peanuts, Chinese parsley, fish oil vinegar, salt and sugar. It's all there - nothing pronounced, but all present in glorious combination. The result is not hot and not cool, not weet and not sour, but all at once.

Opaso is offering a spectacular Thai feast as a three day special which is good Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 14 thru 16 from 5:30 p.m. Three appetizers will commence the feast. They are barbeque beef sate, fried egg rolls and fried Kew Tod. Accompanying these is the soup — creamy coconut with chicken and lime juice. Featured are three entrees. They are garlic pepper large shrimp, barbeque marinated pork with honey, and Thai beef curry with special coconut cream sauce. The entrees are served with hot steamed rice. The dessert is an ice cream specialty of the Orient. This special feast will be available for only $7.95, only during the three day

So come out and celebrate the new Balboa Thai Cafe. Reservations are essential, so call 675-0161. They are located at 209½ Palm Street, corner of Palm and Bay.

Quality cuisine, 'gracious recovery' at Le Chardonnay in Registry Hote

By BEVERLY BUSH SMITH Of the Datebook Staff

We considered putting our heads down on the table, to see if that might attract some attention. We'd enjoyed a fine dinner at Le Chardonnay in the Registry Hotel. But now, 50 minutes after our entrees were cleared, no one had approached us, other than to serve coffee. No inquiry about dessert. No opportunity to request the check. Everyone, it seemed, was frantically busy elsewhere.

When at last our captain rushed past, we stopped him and told him our plight. He apologized profusely and brought our-check, together with complimentary mini pastries. To my inquiry, he responded, yes, they were short-handed in the dining room. A captain had failed to show.

As we departed, maitre d' Jean Pierre intercepted us and expressed his concern. It was a gracious recovery — and no one knew I was there to review the restaurant.

An off night, obviously, and a typical, judging from all that I've heard from others about the service. And certainly the problems on the floor could not detract from the beauty of the surroundings or the quality of Le Chardonnay's cuisine.

It is an elegant room in serene blues, with the softness of rounded corners and the gleam of etched glass and glass-enclosed wine storage. Oil paintings and framed mirrors alternate on the walls, and the seating, at banquettes and in luxurious chairs, is nicely spaced. A harpist soothes with soft melody. Villeroy and Boch china graces the table all through the meal.

And such a meal! It began with a complimentary appetizer (a delightful idea) which the waiter described as a poached scallop. It was, however, unlike any we'd experienced before — buttery in textuand graced with a brilliant oran "arm." Food and beverage manage Maurice Staehle later explained the this indeed is not your ordina scallop, but one with the "cora attached. A magnificent disenhanced by a dollop of caviar attarragon sauce.

We also ordered from the menuhors d'oeuvre of terrine of smoksalmon, flavorful with green pe percorns. An emerald herb sauce le both color and flavor contra ($6.50).

For a salad, we might have order heart of bibb lettuce with julienne fresh mushrooms ($3), but we lo walnut oil and instead chose a salad "seasonal lettuce," which includ radicchio, Belgian endive and wate cress. Rounds of grilled goat cheet topped with finely chopped walnut crowned the salad, which was fished with a delectable walnut dressing ($5.25). "Best salad since Cuisine," declared my partner.

There is great practicality, as well superb drama in entrees which arri at the table under a cloche, as they at Le Chardonnay. Tah-dum! And t waiter lifts the cloche to reveal t beautifully composed plate.

My entree, sauteed veal sweetheads ($18), was moist, richly tend and beautifully accented by a who grain mustard sauce. I'd have said was my best ever, if I'd not experienced David Wilhelm's wizard with sweethreads when he was Pave

The only flaw in the meal was n partner's filets of seabass ($17.50 The fish itself was, frankly, rubber But one could almost forgive, for the braised fennel and pastis sauce we splendid. Both entrees, served on the popular very large plates, were a companied by five lovely vegetable including spaghetti squash and delicate timbale of broccoli. Portion were much more generous than many a la carte restaurants.

Puffins

By CHRIS CRAWFORD Datebook Correspondent

dofe of drees, n-il

Puffins, Corona del Mar, is unique for its full array of natural cuisine, from pure, filtered water to fructose-sweetened desserts.

"All of our ingredients are natural," says general manager Francoise Lou, daughter of owners Louis and Sophie Lou. "We don't use any canned food, and we don't use salt or sugar. For our desserts, we use fructose except for our French pastries on the weekends, and we do tell our customers about the sugar content."

The restaurant serves breakfast, lunch, and dinner seven days a week, 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays, 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. weekends. As an unusual feature, breakfast or lunch may be ordered daily up to 5 p.m.

The Lou family took over the existing restaurant last December, and continued the existing cuisine. "The first owner developed this whole concept," says Francoise. "He was very much into health food, he knew a lot about it, and he taught us quite a lot."

The Lous are no newcomers to the business, however, since they have previously owned restaurants in both West Africa and France. Puffins is their first restaurant in this country, along with Francoise's first involve-country, along with Francoise's first involvement as general manager.

Born in Taiwan, Francoise, along with her family, spent most of her early years in France or the French-speaking countries of West Africa. Ten years ago, when the family moved to the U.S., she attended high school in West Bend, Indiana, spent one year at Georgetown University, and graduated from UCLA where she earned degrees in economics and law.

"I didn't take the bar exam, though, because my big love is fashion design. I'm a partner in a company that designs on Melrose in Los Angeles, and I design all the uniforms

Although she has managed Puffins since last January, "eventually I will go to France to do fashion design. Until then, I'll be here."

Sophie Lou, who learned from cooks in the various countries where the family lived, "is a real gourmet cook," says her daughter. "She doesn't cook here, but she makes up some of our recipes. We have a very extensive list of specials every night, and half of them come from my mom." Her specialties include Coquilles a la Puffins, Sophie's Eggplant, Pastry Puffs, and Spinach Greek Pie.

Louis handles the business aspects of the restaurant, plus all the landscaping. "At one time he was a landscape designer," says Francoise, "and he has owned plant nurseries. Here he has upgraded all of the landscaping, with lots of geraniums, impatiens, begonias, and flower baskets. He added all of the flower baskets outside, and the hanging ferns."

The inside of the restaurant has been

The inside of the restaurant has been upgraded as well, she says, to create a more elegant setting. "Some people still think of it as a coffee shop," she adds, "so I'd like people to know that its changed, and we've made it much better quality."

The Puffin bird theme and decor has been retained, however, with paintings and statuettes of the bird throughout. Why Puffin birds? "I'm not sure why," she says, "except that the original owner did a lot of research on the birds, and I guess he was fascinated by them." Many of the paintings were done by an artist who lives on Puffin Island.

Within a year, the Lous plan to open another restaurant in the area. It will offer "very good quality, naturally based cuisine," says Francoise, but it will be in the style of a French sidewalk cafe, she adds.

Recipe— OF THE WEEK

SOLE BRETONNE

- 4 filets of sole (6 % ounces each)
- 2 teaspoons butter
- 's cup sliced mushrooms

1/2 pound raw baby shrimp

2 ounces white wine

1/2 teaspoons fresh minced dill

1/2 teaspoons chopped parsley Salt and pepper to taste

Flour sole and saute in oil until done. Place to side on a serving platter.

In another pan, saute mushrooms and shrimp in butter until done. Add wine and simmer one minute. Add dill, parsley, salt, and pepper. Pour sauce over sole and serve. Serves 4:

PEACH BLUSH ROYALE

2 canned cling peach halves

1 1/2 ounces Meyer's Rum 2 ounces cranberry juice

1 cup ice

Combine and blend. Pour into a tall tulip glass and garnish with a sprig of mint.

These recipes were submitted by Le Biarritz Restaurant of Newport Beach.

Only the finest, driest and most delicate of white wines are produced from the Chardonnay grape. In tasting these wines, the senses are rewarded with a body, bouquet and flavor so distinctive that the experience is treasured worldwide. It is from this tradition of uncompromising quality that we draw our inspiration and our name, serving only the linest in classic French and nouvelle cuisine.

sauteed morsels of lobster with a Sauternes sauce and tiny fresh vegetables ($23); loin of lamb stuffed with a chicken mousse, served with tarragon sauce; sauteed mignons of veal with sweet red bell pepper sauce. Uncommon a la carte fare, uncommonly well prepared. But, as you can see, it is pricey

Unfortunately, I can't tell you about the desserts. We lost all desire during our long wait. However, from a past lunch, my partner fondly recalls the assorted sorbets on a puree of fresh red berries. Also listed on the menu are assorted French pastries, bayarois of fresh fruits on a puree of raspberries, Grand Marnier souffle and a feuillete of apples with creme

Speaking of lunch, many of the dinner items are available at noon, including the desserts, the smoked salmon terrine, crayfish bisque with morel mushrooms and other dinner soups. Luncheon salads vary from seasonal lettuce with foie gras, caviar and mustard walnut dressing ($9.75) to avocado, scampi, and medallions of lobster in a creamy tarragon dressing ($11.75). My personal favorite is the supreme of warm duck on a bed of lettuce with Zeres vinegar dressing ($10.95).

Lunch entrees include sauteed medallions of veal in lemon sauce and thin slices of salmon, dry steamed, with a sorrel sauce ($13).
